1949 Is Record Road Year For Kentucky

The year 1949 was a record breaking road year for Kentucky and brought the state national recognition for an expansive highway program, Highway Commissioner J. A. Keck said today.

During the year just passed Kentucky placed 2,926 miles of highway and bridges under contract at a total cost of $38,233,802. A Bureau of Public Roads report in October ranked the state second in the nation in the number of miles of road under contract and sixth in the dollar value of contracts awarded.

"This is an all-time high for road money spent in one year in Kentucky and is more than twice the value of contracts let during 1948," Commissioner Keck said. Roadwork for 1948 totaled $16,500,000 and for 1947, $23,000,000.

"Although 1949 was a record year for the Department of Highways we are out to break that record in 1950," Commissioner Keck stated. "Passage of the salary amendment to the Kentucky Constitution will make possible the employment of the necessary technical help and increased use of Kentucky highways will mean more revenue. Kentucky's progress depends upon more and better highways. Our program calls for many major improvements," the Commissioner said.

They're all back—the Senators and Congressmen from Kentucky and elsewhere. The halls and corridors of the Capitol looked like a hotel lobby in a college town on the night of the big game. And, of course, the big topic of conversation was the game of politics. With all of the House and a third of the Senate up for election, lawmakers were fearfully talking about campaign tides and trends.

Last Time:
This coming election (November) will be the last one under the present District setup. It seems to be a foregone conclusion that the state will lose a seat in Congress. Kentucky has failed to keep up with the average growth of the nation.

There was a time when the Blue Grass state ranked way up there when it came to numerical strength in Congress. Back there in 1850, Kentucky had 13 Congressmen. Only New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Ohio had more. Since then, the trend has been down. Today, we have nine. In 1932 that figure may be reduced to eight—or even seven.

A Big Part:
Kentucky, in spite of its numerical decline, still plays a big part in legislative affairs.

For example, Senator Withers is on the Senate Labor Committee and that committee will handle proposals for a National Health Insurance program as well as Civil Rights. There's bound to be fireworks.

Senator Chapman will be no less busy. His committee on the Armed Forces will consider a Draft extension and his committee will tackle the job of keeping the nation—and the free democratic world—well armed.

Committee Boss:
To Congressman Spence will fall one of the toughest jobs in the Lower House. As Chairman of the House Banking Committee, he'll handle rent control legislation. In addition he'll be in charge of export-import controls, a mighty ticklish subject these days.

Matters of tax reduction fall to the House Ways and Means Committee. Here Congressman Gregory will get a chance to use his influence.

When it comes to economy, Congressman Bates will be consulted. He's on the House Appropriations Committee. In the field of federal aid-to-education, young Congressman Perkins will play a part. He's a member of the House Committee on Education.

All in all, Kentucky makes up in influence and prestige what it may lack in numbers.

Do You Know:
The House and Senate chambers look a lot better. All those unsightly steel girders that held up the roof are gone. . . . Northern Kentucky officials are expected to come to Washington soon to consult on flood control appropriations. . . . Fred Vinson, although on the Supreme Court, still is in demand as a guest at parties. . . . and Washington radio people, headed by NBC's Bill McAndrew, formerly of Covington, are preparing to entertain President Truman next month.

All was quiet till the close of the service when the pastor and wife were invited to the basement where refreshments were served and fifty to seventy-five dollars' worth of presents were presented to the pastor and wife, with best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Richard McKinley underwent a minor operation last Friday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mrs. Dan Hoffman has been suffering with a heart ailment.

New Year's parties were given in the homes of Miss Velma Loudermilk and Miss Pauline Williams. In the church circles, the folk are still talking about how well the Baptist young people did in their Christmas play. The house was filled.

The Church Dynamic

Lesson for January 5, 1950

THE CHURCH is not meant to be a club, a lecture-hall, a debating society, a rest home, a music hall, an entertainment bureau or a burial association. It has something to do along all these lines, of course. But the Church is meant to be a place and channel of power. One of the last things Jesus, the Founder of the Church, said to his friends was: "Ye shall receive power when the Holy Spirit is come upon you." Not—you shall receive com-

Dr. Foreman fort, or wealth, or insight, or any other good thing, though all of them have their place. What Jesus highlights is power.

Dr. W. M. Horton, in his little book on the Christian faith, asks: When is a church not a church? His answer is: When it has lost the Holy Spirit. That is a good New Testament answer.

The early Christians could not have imagined a church without the Holy Spirit, because in fact there had never been one without him. It was the coming of the Spirit on that summer day in Jerusalem that actually made the church, in the first place. True, it was not made out of nothing.

But suppose the Spirit had never come? What would have happened? Sooner or later the little band would have grown tired of waiting, would have given up faith in Jesus' promises, would have drifted off one by one, and the Christian church would have died before it was born.

Tongues of Fire
THERE SEEMS to be something mystic, mysterious and unreal about the Holy Spirit, to most people's minds. We read in Acts about the flaming tongues of fire, about the rushing mighty wind, about Christians talking in strange languages; and then we go to our own church and find there no fire, no wind; only ordinary English is spoken by everyday people, the same people we have been seeing all week.

We get to thinking the Holy Spirit is just something in the Bible, some experience they could have away back yonder, but not here and now. After all, looking over the church from that day to this, and around the world at the present day, how many cases, authentic genuine cases of fire-on-the-head or storm-in-the-church-house, do you find? Not many! Does that show the Holy Spirit is not here any more?

We must remember that St. Paul met with much the same questions. Did a man have to speak in strange tongues to be sure he had the Holy Spirit? Fortunately, Paul stated in so many words what the fruits of the Spirit are: Love, joy, peace . . . Look up the rest of it in Gal. 3:22-23.

You may take St. Paul's inspired word for it: If you ever see a church, a Christian group, that is notable for love, joy, peace . . . gentleness, goodness, faith . . . you may be sure the Holy Spirit is there. We do not gather grapes from thorns nor figs from thistles, Jesus says.

You don't have the fruits of the Spirit without having the Spirit. And that is Power. Said a great Australian preacher: Show me a church where the members treat one another with more real love than the people outside the church treat one another, and you will find men crowding the doors of that church to get in.

How Can We Get the Holy Spirit?
WE CANNOT GET the Spirit by wishing ourselves back in the first century. We can have the Holy Spirit now, on the same terms as always. There are no new conditions, no complicated rules, no application blanks to fill out. Jesus said: God will give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him; Paul said: Covet earnestly the best gifts.

In any church, if there is even a small group who want the power of God in their lives, who want his power for the church, that little group can change that church and change the community. Power passes through a wire when one end of it is attached to a dynamo and the other end to a machine that is doing some work.

Prayer—that is the touch with God. Service—that is the link with man.

Pines in Winter

Among the many kinds of trees in existence, very few retain their foliage during the cold winter months. Only a few withstand the driving winds and storms and still maintain beautiful green branches.

The graceful scene below shows a remarkable characteristic in the pine tree. Some miraculous element within the pine enables it to display its lush greenery amid the whiteness of fallen snow.

Such are the amazing qualities of nature—the millions of wonders in God's creation. In order to understand more fully the God-given powers within ourselves, we must study the Holy Word and attend regularly the services of the Church. By doing this we will come to realize our potentialities and talents and will learn to live a fuller more useful life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

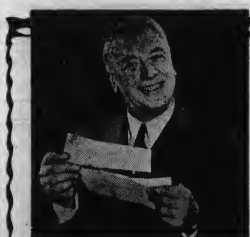

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) for his own sake, (2) for his children's sake, (3) for the sake of his community and nation, (4) for the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Benaker Miller and Miss Allee Sayers were quiet dinner guests of Miss Ruth Best at the hotel Sinton, Cincinnati. Miss Best is a well known soprano and radio star.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Denham, Sr. were host and hostess with a turkey dinner Christmas for their son, Sam and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dolwick, Jr. were host and hostess with a family dinner party Christmas day. The menu consisted of turkey and all the accessories, and guests included Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Graham of Park Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hogan, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Naney, all of Covington, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Eads and daughter Sally Jo of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Our town was very resplendent with decorations for the holidays. The large, brightly lighted tree in front of the Fire Hall attracted much attention, as did the chimes that rang out from the Methodist Church belfry and Adeley's Drive-In.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stephenson and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Stephenson entertained with a Christmas dinner party, including as guests Clayton Brown and family, Dave Wingate and family and Sydney Ambrose and wife.

DAIRYING NEAR TOP ON KENTUCKY FARMS

Dairying now ranks second only to tobacco as a source of income on Kentucky farms, according to the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington. Total state income from dairying may exceed $150,000,000 in 1949.

Increase in alfalfa, clovers and other hay crops and more and better grass are encouraging dairying. With restricted acreages in tobacco and other cultivated crops, most farms have labor to milk a few cows or keep other livestock. With home-grown feeds, and often home-produced stock, profits are almost assured.

Farmers in more than half of the counties in Kentucky are now using artificial breeding to improve their herds.

SHORT STORY Lovingly, Temple

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"DEAR TEMPLE: I was indeed glad to learn that you had obtained such a satisfactory position. I am sure that you will make a most efficient secretary. Frankly, I have been entertaining some misgivings about your future. Serving in the capacity of guardian to modern young ladies is, after all, hardly in my line, although I was only too glad to look after the daughter of my close friend, Tom Creighton, when he so unexpectedly passed away. I imagine you are quite a grown up young lady now, though it is hard for me to visualize you in any other form than a girl in pigtails and short dresses."

3-Minute Fiction

Aaron Bell, 34, looking 10 years younger, abruptly ceased dictating and stared hard at his stenographer. The stenographer, Miss Daniels by name, was small, dark, vivacious and exceedingly attractive. She had come to work in the law office of Attorney Aaron Bell two weeks, previous. She was a capable girl, yet for some unexplainable reason Aaron hadn't been able to get used to her. That is to say, he felt nervous whenever he was dictating letters.

During the next few days Aaron began to get an inkling of why it was that he felt uneasy when dictating letters to Miss Daniels. He began to wonder if he had been attempting to evade an issue. He asked himself, secretly, if Miss Daniels was becoming to mean more to him than just a secretary.

TWO DAYS LATER Aaron was rudely swept out of the realm of ecstasy (a state of mind brought about by his dinner date with Miss Daniels), by receiving another letter from his ward.

"Dear Guardian: My boss is really quite lovely, and has been displaying an unusual amount of interest in me since my last letter.

"I am not a little flattered by his attention and very much thrilled. In fact, I believe I could fall in love with him very easily."

Aaron rang for Miss Daniels. "Dear Temple: I demand that you resign from your present position at once. It's silly and absurd to think of a girl your age falling in love, especially with a man who makes love to every stenographer he employs."

That night Aaron suggested a drive through the country and was delighted when Miss Daniels accepted. It was a beautiful June evening, with a full moon and a cooling breeze blowing off the ocean. It might have been the atmospheric conditions which stirred to life the smothering romance that lurks within the breast of every man, or it might have been the simple desire of a man for a mate. At any rate Aaron took Miss Daniels in his arms and kissed her and whispered nonsensical things that somehow seemed to fit the occasion.

At any rate, Aaron took Miss Daniels in his arms and kissed her . . .

NEXT MORNING he found another letter from Temple Creighton on his desk. "Dear Guardian: I'm sorry, but commands and demands from folks like you don't mean a thing when a girl is in love. And your little Temple is certainly in love. I expect she'll be proposed to in the very near future."

Aaron buzzed for Miss Daniels. "Dear Temple! This thing has gone far enough. It's a pity you couldn't have been endowed with at least a fraction of your father's good sense. It is my wish that you immediately send me the name and address of this boss of yours. I shall write to him at once."

Aaron had hoped that that night he would find himself courageous enough to offer a proposal of marriage to Miss Daniels. Yet when again they were seated on the cliff watching the moon come up out of the ocean, his courage failed.

Heavy-eyed he went to the office next morning to find a letter awaiting him from Temple Creighton. "Dear Guardian: You were right. He isn't the man I thought he was. Apparently he has just been amusing himself, with no idea of asking me to marry him. I do wish you'd talk to him, his name is Aaron Bell. Lovingly, Temple."

Burley Demand Strong — Price Change Slight

Demand for Burley tobacco continued strong when sales were resumed on January 4th. The Federal State Market News Service reports average prices for grades showed only slight changes as compared with averages established during the last three pre-holiday days. The fluctuations, mostly around $1.00, were considered normal. Volume of offerings was heavier because of the added one-half hour to daily selling time. For the three day week ending January 6, gross sales amounted to 61,445,000 pounds for an average of $47.69 per hundred. The poundage was around 44 million more than for the previous three days. The average was 45c higher. Season gross sales were brought to 384,458,000 pounds for $46.64 per hundred.

Changes in average prices were mostly for leaf and tip grades, with losses and gains nearly equally divided. Lugs and flyings were about steady. The majority of heavy volume grades were unchanged.

Some improvement in quality was reflected in slightly larger proportions of fair and good leaf and good flyings and lugs. There were less low tips, flyings and nondescript. Most sales, however, continued to consist principally of low and fair leaf, tips and lugs, low to good flyings and nondescript.

Receipts of the Associations, under the Government loan program, were estimated at 2 to 3 percent of baskets offered. Through December 21, Association deliveries were about 13 million pounds or slightly over 4 percent of gross sales reported before Christmas.

Deliveries to warehouses were reported to have slowed up considerably this week. This was partially attributed to weather conditions, but many are of the opinion that some markets, especially in middle Tennessee, are about out of offerings and have almost completed their selling season. Some markets may close next week. It is anticipated that a number of small markets will be closed by January 20.

C. N. Taylor Speaks To Kiwanis Club In Tennessee

Rev. C. N. "Deac" Taylor of Walton, Ky., who is a ministerial student at the Temple College of the Bible in Chattanooga, was the guest of his brother-in-law, Chas. Powers at the Waynesboro (Tenn.) Kiwanis Club meeting last Friday and made an address to the club that was greatly appreciated.

Mr. Taylor was a native of Somerset and visited here some years ago as a ball player on the Somerset high school team. He attended Georgetown College for some time with the intention of becoming a minister, but dropped out and later became a whiskey merchant in Walton. When his small son began visiting the saloon and wanting to stay there, he realized he was in the wrong business and got out; became a member of the church, and then began studying for the ministry. Since then his son died and he realized more than ever that he did the right thing when he quit the whiskey business and began his studies for the ministry. It was a splendid address and a probably would have had a great deal more effect if 400 men of Wayne county could have heard it instead of the 40 members of the club.

We do not think very much of the street preaching. We think it is just a money-making proposition in most cases, but if Rev. Taylor could have made that talk from the Dough-bury Park, Saturday, when the town was full of people, we can't but think it would have done some good. —Wayne County News.

County Red Cross Expresses Thanks For Contributions

The Boone County Red Cross wishes to thank all those throughout the county who sent in clothing and toys to be distributed to the less fortunate at Christmas. We are grateful to be considered as the agent to give out these things to those who need them and we are also grateful to be considered a part of the wonderful Christian spirit which prompted those who gave. As one man said in Florence, "we can't prevent trouble, but we can help when it comes." Sincere thanks goes to those organizations who gave baskets of food and came to us and asked what families we knew who needed these baskets. No public or general appeal was sent out, and for that reason, it is doubly wonderful how people gave.

One church had each child in the congregation bring a wrapped toy and put in on the Christmas tree at the church for needy children in the county. These gifts, wrapped toys were put into a huge box and brought to the office of the Red Cross for distribution. All things have been given and we want every one to know how much pleasure they afforded the receivers, especially the little children and their parents, for every mother and father want their children to have a happy Christmas, and through your generosity many children will remember this Christmas all their lives.

In order to give the best possible help Boone County Red Cross would like to ask that anyone needing the services of this organization in any way, apply directly to Mrs. Elizabeth G. Nestor, Executive Secretary, Florence, Telephone Florence 94. It has come to our notice that messages have been given others to deliver to us and valuable time has been lost because of this. We ask Mrs. Nestor. For best results to yourself and the Red Cross, please come directly to the office, which is located in Florence.

Boone Quota For March of Dimes Set at $2,000

Boone County's quota for the 1950 March of Dimes has been set at $2,000. Ben F. Zimmer, Jr., county campaign director, announced the quota. The state quota for the campaign is $500,000.

The annual drive for funds to fight infantile paralysis will run from January 14 to 31.

"Never has the need been greater," Mr. Zimmer declared. He added that with the heavy 1949 case load and its "terrible" drain on the National Foundation's epidemic aid fund, the need "actually surpasses the quota."

Kentucky and the nation has just witnessed the worst year in the history of the disease the director said. He pointed out the large number of "carry over" iron lung cases as an example of the need for increased funds. "Since the Kentucky Chapter was founded in 1940, there has been only two iron lung cases that were carried over from one year to the next. But in 1950 the Chapter will be caring for 15 cases."

His words were echoed by Gabe Taylor, State March of Dimes chairman. "We are counting on the people of Kentucky to answer before," he said, "to give us the necessary funds to carry on the fight against this dread disease. If all our people knew the rapidly mounting costs of fighting polio I'm sure they'd open their pocketbooks as well as their hearts," Mr. Taylor said.

Farm Bureau Opens Office

The Boone County Farm Bureau has rented the two-room building in Burlington, owned by Albert Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Georgia Walton, for the office of the county extension agent, according to John E. Wa-Na Club Meets Monday Evening In McElroy Home

The Wa-Na Club, of Walton and Verona community, met Monday evening, January 9th in the home of Mrs. Lillian Davis, with Mrs. Albert Hunt as co-hostess.

Miss Lillian Davis, president, was in charge of the business, which consisted of reports from various committees.

Mrs. Clayton Jones reported she had sent her friend, Miss Mary Sleet, to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, a Christmas package. Each member drew a month in which they are to be personally responsible for sending Miss Sleet cards and special gifts, throughout the year. A Christmas package was also sent to Mrs. Ollie Williams in Verona. A package of clothing was sent to Burlington to the Black sisters, residing in the County home.

The program committee announced the February meeting is to be a theatre party at the Cox Theatre. Miss Davis asked for a call meeting January 31st in order to give a presentation of the Henry Art Fund. Mrs. Clayton Jones extended an invitation to come to her home.

The program was one of Citizenship, ably presented by Mrs. Fred Hamilton, her subject, "Marriage Counseling." Mrs. Clayton Jones, "Sex Education In Schools." Mrs. Matthew Flynn reviewed Edna Ferber's short story, "That's Marriage." Spiritual guidance was given by Mrs. Leo Flynn, reading "Look to This Day," from the Sanskrit—Thomas Moore's four lines "on taking a wife" and also an anonymous article "to husband and wife."

A delightful salad course was served to the following members: Miss Lillian Davis, Mrs. Leo Flynn, Mrs. Matthew Flynn, Mrs. Fred Hamilton, Mrs. Clayton Jones, Mrs. Clayton Renaker, Mrs. Charles Hayes, Mrs. Geo. W. Houston, Mrs. T. P. Strittmatter, Mrs. Albert Hunt, and Mrs. Gayle McElroy. Two new members were added to the membership. Mrs. J. B. Johnson and Mrs. Irwin Gaines. Mrs. Chester Armstrong was a welcome guest.—Pub. Chm.

The Walton Fire Department answered 19 calls during 1949, with a total damage estimated at $385.00. Of these 19 calls, 10 were automobile fires caused by short circuits in the wiring and careless smoking. The Department urges every motorist to check the wiring on his car for loose connections and worn insulation, and to be sure to use a fire. The remaining calls were burning trash and grass fires caused from various sources.

The Department has grown very efficient in the past few years, with the purchase of new and better equipment for the protection of Walton and vicinity. To list a few of these purchases, made possible through the financial support of the people of the community: Rain coats, helmets and boots; additional fire hose; foam and foam nozzle for large petroleum fires; collapsible stretcher; Scott's first aid kit; a three-hundred-gallon-a-minute portable pump for rural fires, and the latest in chemical extinguishers, a 15-pound dry powder fire extinguisher.

Last summer firemen attended a three-day Kentucky Fire School at Lexington to learn new techniques of fire fighting. An instructor from the State Vocational Training School spent a week in Walton showing the department and individual members ways of improving their work as volunteer firemen. The Fire Department is a competent organization, so let's remember the statement that has been made many times—"When you have a fire, call the fire department first." It's those little fires, so many try to extinguish by themselves that get out of hand and do real damage. The fire department is for your protection and convenience and if there is any little service you wish, just contact any member of the department.

On Wednesday night, January 4, the Department elected officers for the new year, and James R. Allen was named chief for the fifth consecutive year; Russell Groger, Deputy Chief; Guy Carlisle, First Assistant Chief; Paul Simpson, Second Assistant Chief; Jack Rouse, Engine Captain; Cecil Osborn, Hose Captain; Morgan Campbell, Hose Lieutenant; Charles Holder, Ladder Captain, and Jesse W. Thornton, Ladder Lieutenant.

Don't forget the square dance tomorrow night, Friday, Jan. 13 at the Legion hall. Music by Freddie Fields and the Foolish Fellows. Stop in and dance awhile. Music starts at 9 p.m.

How is your memory? Is it fairly long, or all too short? See if you can remember this past summer. Try to recall the number of times you read in your paper of some unfortunate child or adult who was stricken with polio. Try to recall the fear, the anxiety you felt when you realized how near to your own home polio had struck at its latest victim.

Remember what you said and thought then? Sure, you were like everyone else, you said, "Why can't our doctors find a cure? Why can't our medical men develop something to wipe this dread disease from the face of the earth?"

They will, you can bank on that. When and how soon depends a lot on us. It takes money for research work—lots of money. The more money, the more research work, and the sooner the cure.

The American Legion will sponsor its annual dance for the benefit of the polio fund on Saturday, Jan. 28. Let your heart determine your admission price—fifty cents or fifty dollars—it will all go to the polio fund.

Let's help fight this dread disease, this crippler of children, this harbinger of death. Do your part this winter and hope that next summer, polio will be on its way out.—Pub. Chm.

Fellowship

Lesson for January 15, 1950

THE FIRST CHRISTIANS didn't have everything we have, but on the other hand they had one thing seldom to be seen nowadays. They did not have the New Testament, only the Old; they were not surrounded by an even partly Christian civilization; they had no centuries of Christian tradition; they had no world-wide Christianity, only a small knot of people in one small and out-of-the-way city, Jerusalem. On the other hand, for all they Dr. Foreman lacked, they had one great thing: Fellowship. We have it too, but too often in a week and watery fashion as compared with what they enjoyed.

Family Living
THE VERY FIRST Christians lived literally like a big family. This is all the more extraordinary when you think of the variety of their backgrounds. (Look up the list of places mentioned in Acts 2:9-10 on a map of Asia, Africa and Europe.) A good family is a unit.

If little Willie comes down with appendicitis, his parents don't get out the family account book and figure out how much Willie has been worth to the family, in dollars and cents, in his eight years of life.

Suppose they calculated that his services, such as they are—carrying in the wood, feeding the chickens, or what not—had been worth about $23.75 since the last time he was sick, they wouldn't send little Willie to the hospital with the note to the doctor: "Please give our Willie $23.75 worth of operation. That's all he has put into the family budget and that's all we're going to let him take out!"

Not by any means. Little Willie is taken to the hospital and whatever operation he needs, that is the one his parents want him to have, even if it costs 20 times what Willie has been worth in cash. The family give Willie what he needs, and they also expect him to help out in all the ways he can.

Church Living
ONE TROUBLE with our churches today is that so many of them have actually lost this family-feeling. The early Christians, we are told, "were of one heart and soul." Could you say of your church that all its members are of one heart and soul?

The early Christians, feeling thus close to one another, "had all things in common." What do the members of your church have in common? They meet in one place once a week. But what else? Do they even speak to one another? If one member of the congregation falls sick, do the others find out about it quickly, and when they find out, what do they do about it? If trouble comes to a member, do the other members rally around him?

Does the church say to its members, as the Salvation Army does of hard-pressed men, "You may be down but you're never out?" Some churches have a pastor's or deacon's fund, to be used in cases of need.

Contributors to the fund are as anonymous as are those who are helped by it. The idea is for those who are blessed with large income, or those who may have special windfalls, bonuses, extra dividends, big crops, and so on, to chip in for the aid of all who may run into trouble.

Not All Troubles Are Financial

NATURALLY, not all troubles are financial. Some of the most serious troubles have little or nothing to do with money. There are many other kinds of needs. For example, in any church there will be lonely people, and you can't cure loneliness with a check, no matter how big.

The minister is the key man, he can locate the needs, but he can't supply them all. Lonely people, those who have been through deep sorrow, men trying to find the right jobs, young folks in danger of serious temptation—a church which is like a family will not let these people fight their battles alone.

Thirty-six 4-H club boys in Johnson county are raising chickens this year, most of them starting flocks of 100 chicks.

You Ought to do it!

You ought to put into real action that long-felt desire to do something that will help others. We all have that desire—all but the very selfish. We would like to serve. But where? How?

One of the contributions which our churches make to the life of this community is in providing countless opportunities for valuable service.

Can you sing in a choir? Teach a class? Lead a youth group? Visit a shut-in? Pack a gift basket? Paint a Sunday School room? Mend a choir gown?

These are humble, yet valuable services. They won't make you famous, but they'll make you a better person. And they'll help others discover the true riches in life.

You ought to do it! You ought to join a church . . . and find the service that you can render!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SHORT STORY

Great Man

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

3-Minute Fiction
IF PROFESSOR AARON CESHWICK was famous he was not aware of this fact. He was too busy with his experiments in the field of chemistry, with teaching the undergraduates of Mapleridge College the rudiments of elementary science, with writing papers and books in which he set forth (in an almost apologetic style) the results of his experiments, and with reading avidly the works of such great scientists as Mons. Oliver Davillier and Senor Alfredo Valle Indan, both of whom had long ago won his respect and admiration.

He was an unpretentious looking little man, this Professor Ceshwick, with pale blue eyes and horn-rimmed glasses and a pasty complexion. He wasn't one to attract attention or to assert himself. He went about with a perpetual far-away look in his eyes.

There came a time when a problem presented itself that challenged his skill and knowledge. He labored over it for days. They days became weeks and the weeks months. At last, worn and haggard, the little man was ready to admit defeat.

Time after time he returned to it, only to find himself defeated. He visited every library within miles, read every book by Davillier and Indan, as well as other great scientists that was available, but without finding the answer.

In the end Professor Ceshwick had an idea. It was summer. He needed a vacation. Why not take a month off, visit Europe and perhaps call on Davillier and Indan and ask them personally to clear up the matter that so burdened his mind?

A week later Professor Ceshwick sailed for France. The little school teacher was a lonely figure. He struck up a few acquaintances. He wasn't the type to attract people. But he enjoyed the trip. This was something he had never done before.

He was glad when the boat docked. Eagerly he looked ahead to his meeting with Mons. Davillier. But alas! The next day Professor Ceshwick learned that Mons. Davillier had gone to America for his summer holiday and was not expected to return for another month.

The little scientist was depressed and disappointed. His time was short. Madrid, where lived Senor Indan was a long way off. It could be reached, he thought suddenly and excitedly, by plane in a very short while.

HE WAS DELIGHTED to learn that Senor Indan was in Madrid. Yes, it was difficult to obtain an interview with the great man. He was constantly being pressed for interviews. What was it the American wanted to see him about? A problem? Ah, yes, Senor Indan was requested to solve so many problems. It was very, very doubtful if he would grant an interview for such a slight matter. However, if the American would care to take his chances, Senor Indan was to appear at a reception on Tuesday night. Possibly there would be an opportunity to ask his question...

Professor Ceshwick attended the reception. He stood in line for hours, a quiet, unassuming, unimportant looking little man, waiting for his chance to speak to the great Senor Indan. It came at last. At last the Mapleridge school teacher and scientist stood before the man he respected more than anyone else in the world.

He was so overcome by awe that for a moment he just stared. Senor Indan frowned impatiently and Professor Ceshwick found his voice. He stated his question. The Senor's brows arched in surprise.

"An unusual question, Senor," he said. "Frankly, I cannot answer it. There is only one man in the world with enough knowledge and learning to find the answer. He is one of your own countrymen. My good friend Mons. Davillier is at this moment in America seeking an interview with this wizard whom the whole scientific world respects and admires, yet who is so absorbed in his work that it is difficult to persuade him to appear in public. I refer to Professor Aaron Ceshwick of Mapleridge college."

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingsbury

Each day the House and Senate are in session, Divine Guidance is asked before lawmakers get down to work.

On the day President Truman addressed the joint session, Dr. Edward G. Latch, pastor of the National Methodist Church, said the prayer: We believe all people—in and out of Congress—could well heed these words:

"Save us from unworthy disorders, keep us from perpetual motion, restrain our unruly desires. Make us worthy of high positions we hold, give direction to our desires, develop within us understanding minds and loving hearts that the influence of our lives may always be for Thy good. Grant us wisdom, grant us courage that we may not fail Thee."

Moving Times

This is the time of the year when Congressmen and Senators change offices. Painters, carpenters and electricians are busy as lawmakers move to better quarters.

Senator Withers, the junior senator from the Blue Grass, is one of those who has obtained a new office. It's on the third floor of the Senate Office Building not far from the headquarters of the senior senator, Virgil Chapman.

The Withers' office now overlooks the north plaza of the capital with a beautiful view of the Supreme Court Building and the dome of the Capitol itself.

The Spotlight: The new Mrs. Barkley has taken the spotlight away from the other ladies of the Congress.

Take the day the Senate opened. Mrs. Barkley was the center of all eyes as she took her seat in the gallery. Her distinguished husband was almost forgotten until he banged down the gavel and called the Senate to order.

Mrs. Barkley was accompanied to the first session by her step-daughters—Mrs. Max Truitt and Mrs. Douglas McArthur III. It looks like a happy family.

Back Home:

We had an enjoyable visit to Northern Kentucky recently to present a gavel to the Christopher Gist Historical Society. The gavel was made from wood obtained at the Maryland farm of General Covington for whom Covington was named.

During the visit we had occasion to drive through Wansau and La Grange late one night, too late to stop and see friends. But the quiet and charm of those two Kentucky communities reminded us of the English countryside. We were disappointed at not being able to take time out and spend several days at home from the rush of Washington.

While visiting the Fifth District we heard many complimentary things about Boone County's Judge

Ryland Homemakers

A message for the New Year was given by Mrs. J. A. Rich at the January meeting of the Ryland Homemakers Club which convened at the home of Mrs. William Damon, president of the club.

Mrs. William Dickman opened her program with a song, "Bless Be The Tie," and Mrs. Shelby Martin read a poem entitled, "The Old Year and New." The devotionals were given by Mrs. W. H. Bagby.

The lesson on Wood finishes and their application was explained by Mrs. Shelby Martin and co-worker, Mrs. R. B. Frakes. A special work shop day will be held later this month.

Now is the time to order flower seed for good selection, advised Mrs. Bagby, garden leader. A beautiful flower garden is one that is carefully planned, she stated.

A study of foods will be the supplementary program for February. Members will discuss the value of vitamins.

Members responding to roll call with their pet peeve, were Mesdames William Dickman, J. H. Frakes, Shelby Martin, J. A. Rich, O. J. Williams, F. B. Hermes, W. H. H. Bagby, R. B. Frakes, William Damon, new member, Mrs. W. P. Schwall, and Miss Zelma Byerly, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. J. A. Rich will be hostess for the February meeting.—Pub. Chm.

New Plymouth Special DeLuxe Four-Door Sedan

The Plymouth Special DeLuxe four-door sedan, one of nine new models, is shown above. The car contains important styling changes and improvements for safety and comfort. Its high compression engine and many mechanical features provide lively, economical performance.

Plymouth Has New Look Both Coming and Going

The 1950 Plymouth car, with important styling changes and improvements for safety and riding comfort, will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the country January 12.

There are new lines in the silhouette which give the new Plymouth a longer, lower, more streamlined appearance. The changes are readily apparent whether viewed from front, rear, or side.

Rear fenders, which are bolted on for economical removal in case repairs are necessary, have been restyled and lengthened. A larger rear window on club coupes and four-door sedans, slightly greater over-all width, and alterations on the rear deck provide a longer, heavier, road-hugging appearance for all models. The grille has been simplified and made more massive. It consists of two large horizontal bars with a curved-down top member and a single vertical bar at the center. Above the grille the Plymouth name plate appears in larger block letters, and a bigger, more colorful medallion has been placed over the name plate.

Described as "Packed with value and ready to prove it" the new Plymouth was characterized by D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, as "The greatest car value we have ever offered the public."

"When we speak of value," Eddins said, "we mean that we have combined beauty with sensible styling that we have achieved big-car performance with small-car economy, and that the mechanical excellence of which we have always been proud has maintained its high level."

The front and rear tread have been increased, a factor which increases stability, eases tire loading stress on curves, and enhances the car's general appearance. Thirty-two per cent larger than on previous models, the new rear window increases visibility and its lines blend into the car's new streamlining motif. The window is set in a newly designed locking rubber seal.

There are larger bumpers on both front and rear. In addition to providing greater protection for the grille, rear deck and fenders, the bumpers add materially to the general appearance of massiveness. The theme of simplicity which has been carried out in the medallion and name plate on the front has been continued in the ornamentation of the rear deck. The block-letter name plate, the license plate ornament, the license plate recess and the T-shaped luggage compartment handle are styled to accent the car's low, sleek lines. Combination tail lights and stop lights are set into each rear fender.

The redesigned instrument panel provides new backgrounds of transparent gunmetal on spun aluminum for the gauge dials, speedometer, radio dial, and clock. The gunmetal finish is also used on the radio grille switch. There are larger rotary switch knobs which are easier to operate.

Features for performance, comfort and safety which were previously introduced in the Plymouth line have been retained. The car has characteristic interior roominess, a ample head and leg room, and wide, deep chair-height seats. The six-cylinder, 97-horsepower engine has a 7 to 1 compression ratio. The combination ignition and starter switch, automatic electric choke, super-charger, safety electric hydraulic brakes and safety-rim wheels are among the "high-priced car" features contained in the new Plymouth.

SHORT STORY

Lovingly, Temple

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"DEAR TEMPLE: I was indeed glad to learn that you had obtained such a satisfactory position. I am sure that you will make a most efficient secretary. Frankly, I have been entertaining some misgivings about your future. Serving in the capacity of guardian to modern young ladies is, after all, hardly in my line, although I was only too glad to look after the daughter of my close friend, Tom Creighton, when he so unexpectedly passed away. I imagine you are quite a grown up young lady now, though it is hard for me to visualize you in any other form than a girl in pigtails and short dresses."

Aaron Bell, 34, looking 10 years younger, abruptly ceased dictating and stared hard at his stenographer. The stenographer, Miss Daniels by name, was small, dark, vivacious and exceedingly attractive. She had come to work in the law office of Attorney Aaron Bell two weeks previous. She was a capable girl, yet for some unexplainable reason Aaron hadn't been able to get used to her. That is to say, he felt nervous whenever he was dictating letters.

During the next few days Aaron began to get an inkling of why it was that he felt uneasy when dictating letters to Miss Daniels. He began to wonder if heretofore he hadn't been attempting to evade an issue. He asked himself, secretly, if Miss Daniels was becoming to mean more to him than just a secretary.

TWO DAYS LATER Aaron was rudely swept out of the realm of ecstasy (a state of mind brought about by his dinner date with Miss Daniels), by receiving another letter from his ward.

"Dear Guardian: My boss is really quite lovely, and has been displaying an unusual amount of interest in me since my last letter.

At any rate, Aaron took Miss Daniels in his arms and kissed her . . .

I am not a little flattered by his attention and very much thrilled. In fact, I believe I could fall in love with him very easily."

Aaron rang for Miss Daniels. "Dear Temple: I demand that you resign from your present position at once. It's silly and absurd to think of a girl your age falling in love, especially with a man who makes love to every stenographer he employs."

That night Aaron suggested a drive through the country and was delighted when Miss Daniels accepted. It was a beautiful June evening, with a full moon and a cooling breeze blowing off the ocean. It might have been the atmospheric conditions which stirred to life the summoning romance that lurks within the breast of every man, or it might have been the simple desire of a man for a mate. At any rate Aaron took Miss Daniels in his arms and kissed her and whispered nonsensical things that somehow seemed to fit the occasion.

THE NEXT MORNING he found another letter from Temple Creighton on his desk. "Dear Guardian: I'm sorry, but commands and demands from folks like you don't mean a thing when a girl is in love. And your little love is certainly in love. I expect she'll be proposed to in the very near future."

Aaron buzzed for Miss Daniels. "Dear Temple: This thing has gone far enough. It's a pity you couldn't have been endowed with at least a fraction of your father's good sense. It is my wish that you immediately send me the name and address of this boss of yours. I shall write to him at once."

Aaron had hoped that that night he would find himself courageous enough to offer a proposal of marriage to Miss Daniels. Yet when again they were seated on the cliff watching the moon come up out of the ocean, his courage failed.

Heavy-eyed he went to the office next morning to find a letter awaiting him from Temple Creighton. "Dear Guardian: You were right. He isn't the man I thought he was. Apparently he has just been amusing himself, with no idea of asking me to marry him. I do wish you'd talk to him. His name is Aaron Bell. Lovingly, Temple."

J. L. HENDRIX

Services for J. L. Hendrix, a lifelong resident of Gallatin county, were held at 1 p. m., Tuesday at the Carlton funeral home, Warsaw, with burial in Highland Cemetery. A member of Ten Mile Baptist Church, Mr. Hendrix died Sunday at his home in Glenoe. He was 81 years old.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Pearl Hendrix; a son, Leonard Hendrix, Warsaw; four daughters, Mrs. Ben Blythe, Mrs. Walter Stanford and Mrs. William Gibbons, all of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Earl Spencer of Warsaw.

J. W. Spencer, cashier of the Dixie State Bank, Walton, is a grandson of Mr. Hendrix.

Notice to Telephone Users

The sleet storm on the night of January 4th did a great amount of damage to the outside plant of the Telephone Company. Trees fell on our lines breaking many poles and thousands of wires.

Other wires were broken by the sheer weight of the ice that collected on them. We have been working from daylight to dark and when practical into the night, every day since the storm struck. We have brought experienced men and equipment into this territory and we have employed all the local inexperienced help we can use. We have had material shipped from the factory by airplane. We are doing everything possible to restore service without unnecessary delay and we sincerely appreciate the fact that our customers realize that the extent of the damage makes it impossible to avoid some interruptions in service.

It will be appreciated if all customers whose service is not restored by Friday of this week will report their telephone at that time although a previous report may have been made.

Dairy Tips From the County Agent's Office

The profit derived from milking cows can be greatly increased by following a few simple rules, according to Bill Davis, Boone County Agent.

1—Cows respond to kindness—rough handling, vicious dogs, ill-fitting or irritating milkers, and loud noises around the barn all help to cause a cow to hold up her milk. Keep dogs, cats and strangers out of the barn when milking.

2—Milk at the same time every day—cows are creatures of habit and regular milking, feeding and caring for the dairy cows is an important factor in getting the most milk and profit.

3—Stimulate the milk let-down by washing the udder and feeding grain just before milking.

4—Milk quickly—when the milking is started it should be done rapidly. If a milking machine is used do not leave it on the cow after the milk flow has ceased. The milk machine will creep up on the teats causing damage to the delicate membranes of the udder which may result in mastitis and in causing the cow to become a stripper. Too much stripping develops strippers, decreases production and has a tendency to dry cows off.

5—When first milking a heifer, do so gently so the heifer will not dislike milking and become a kicker or poor milker.

WHAT A WALLOP!

That ice storm last week really dealt me a paralyzing blow!

Falling tree limbs and heavy loadings of ice pulled down my lines in scores of places, snapped off poles and cross arms by the dozen, and disrupted my service throughout this entire area.

All available linemen and servicemen were called out immediately and emergency repairs were pushed with all possible speed, despite constant rain and severe weather handicaps.

Linemen worked early and late, scarcely taking time out to eat or sleep, but unfortunately they couldn't be everywhere at once. Transmission lines had to be repaired first, and then primary, secondary and house service lines, in that order.

It was a tremendous undertaking because the damage was so widespread, but the biggest part of the work is now finished, and our men will stay on the job until service is back to normal for everyone.

All of us at Community Public Service Company wish to thank you for your patience and understanding of our difficulties during a most trying time.

We especially wish to thank those who reported fallen lines, gave our men food and hot coffee and otherwise helped during the emergency. Your cooperation is sincerely appreciated.

Thanks a lot!

STAFFORDSBURG

The wonderful weather enjoyed over most of the holiday week was conducive to much visiting among relatives, friends, and neighbors, which all adds up to a better community spirit.

This year, for the first time within the memory of most of the folks in this neighborhood, a watch night service was held at the church. We did not have a large number present, but the program was very much enjoyed by all present. After singing a few songs, a prayer or two and some fitting remarks by Rev. John Wheary, several persons took part in reading the first six chapters of the gospel of Mark. At eleven-thirty a wonderful spread of sandwiches and cookies, with coffee or cocoa, was enjoyed. At 12 all joined hands and sang, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and after a few prayers all left for home, having made a good start on the New Year. Let's plan for a larger, Watch Night service next year.

Paul Keeney, who was home for a three-day Christmas weekend, returned to Hudson, N. Y., on Dec. 26.

Mrs. Wm. Brooks joined her husband, who has been here several weeks, for the holidays. They plan to make their home here. We are glad to see them back.

Several letters and cards have been received from the travelers from our neighborhood, telling of the fine time they are having. We will be glad to welcome them back and trust they will be pleased to return. Among those away are Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Folmer and son, Mrs. Daisy Richardson and Miss Helen Richardson, who are in Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. D. Ballinger who are in Arizona.

Having spent ten days visiting friends and relatives, Miss Hope Keeney returned to Washington, D. C., where she is an Occupational Therapist at Walter Reed Hospital.

TREFOIL DOES WELL IN FLEMING COUNTY

A half-acre planting of birds-foot trefoil on the C. E. Gorman farm in Fleming county has been observed with interest, notes Farm Agent J. I. Stephens. It was seeded on frozen rye ground last February. A good stand was obtained and by November it had made as much growth as alfalfa would have made on the same land. The plants were sturdy and well branched after being rather heavily grazed. Mr. Gorman plans to sow 15 acres next spring.

Burley Prices Drop; Some Grades Off $5

Volume Heaviest Of Current Season

During the sixth week of sales for Burley tobacco average prices for a large number of grades showed declines. According to the Federal-State Market News Service, losses were as much as $5.00 as compared with averages for the week before but most were $1.00 to $3.00. Volume of offerings was the heaviest for any week this season. Gross sales for the period ending January 13th amounted to $5,616,748 pounds for an average of $4.55. The over-all average was $3.14 less than for the three days making up the previous week. Season gross sales were brought to 480,324,690 pounds for $46.22 per hundred. The season's average was reduced 42 cents from that reported last week.

Losses were general. Some better grades of flyings and lugs were unchanged but these were offered in relatively small volume. The number of grades displaying slight gains was negligible.

The general quality of the tobacco was also lower. There was an increase in the proportion of low quality leaf, tips and nondescript. Most sales consisted of baskets containing fair and low grades of all groups, good flyings and nondescript.

Receipts of the Associations, under the Government loan program, showed a sharp increase this week. It was estimated that in the area as a whole around 7 percent of the baskets were pooled. Season receipts, through January 6, amounted to slightly over 154 million pounds or about 4 percent of gross sales thru that date.

Final sales were held on the following markets: Carthage, Fayetteville, Hartsville, Mt. Pleasant and Sparta, Tenn., and Pennington Gap, Va. The following markets have officially announced their closing dates: Scottsville, Ky., Jan. 18; Lebanon and Springfield, Ky., Jan. 19; Gallatin, Tenn., Jan. 17; Sweetwater, Tenn., Jan. 18; Franklin and Springfield, Tenn., Jan. 20. Other markets will close next week but official announcements have not been made.

Farmers In Dudley Pike Community Study Problems

Farmers in the Dudley Pike and Standardtown section of Kenton county met at the farm of Leonard List, Turkeyfoot Road, Friday, Jan. 13, to study farm problems for '50. County Agent C. A. Wicklund used charts to illustrate the importance of hay crops and pasture improvements over livestock. Projects to be studied and put into practice during 1950 have to do with alfalfa, fertilizing, use of lime, phosphate and potash, seeding of broom grass in alfalfa. Pasture improvement through use of improved seedling practices and use of limestone, phosphate and fertilizers, rotation and clipping of pastures.

The following leaders are cooperating in the program: Leonard List, Joe Kahman, Albert List, Jr., Joe Kahman, Jr., Paul Kahman and Carroll Merriman.

Soil testing work will also be taken up during the year. Field meetings are planned at local farms.

Fifth District Gets $17,872 To Aid In Polio Fight

The nine counties in the Fifth Congressional District received $17,872 to aid in their fight against polio in 1949. Gabe B. Taylor, Greensburg, Kentucky, chairman of the 1950 March of Dimes, declared this week.

Taylor said the District suffered 76 cases of the disease. Among the nine district counties, Campbell was the hardest hit, with 47 cases, while Trimble county had no cases.

In the entire state, $235,511.85 was spent on patient care, compared with $134,686.28 raised in 1949.

Taylor released the figures in his plea for increased funds to fight the disease in 1950 and declared:

"The Kentucky Chapter required $28,900 in addition to the money realized from the 1949 March of Dimes to fight the disease last year and we dare not hope that the cost will be any less in 1950."

Taylor said the Kentucky Chapter will go into 1950 striving for more than 200 polio patients stricken in 1949, in addition to the large number that has accumulated through the years.

Hazard Was Rated 10th in State

Coach Charles Hayes and the local high school basketballers went to Southeastern Kentucky last weekend for a pair of games. They played at Hazard Friday night and at Hyden, Saturday night. The Bearcats upset the dope bucket in the Friday fray by defeating Coach Homer Lee Osborn's Hazard Bulldogs 43-41, in a close game, throughout, but in the "bath night" tilt were defeated by the Leslie County boys 51-47. Here is what The Hazard Herald had to say of the Friday game:

"A deliberate smooth moving five from Walton bested the Hazard high school Bulldogs by two points last night, 43-41, at the Hazard high school gymnasium.

"Except for Kay Greer, who led the Hazard attack with 22 points, the Hazard offense was kept at bay last night by the Walton five, as they themselves displayed a smooth and deceptive passing attack to work the ball into the basket. Walton made very little use of the fast break.

"Kay Greer accounted for more than half of the Bulldogs' points as he hit 10 times from the field and added two foul tosses for the total 22. Walton added nine points in the second half, but the Bulldogs came, Greer carried the load, especially in the second half as he hit seven of his field goals.

"It was a close game all the way with Hazard scoring at the quarter and half. Walton had a one-point edge at the three-quarter mark. Little scoring was done in the initial period as each team scored but four points, and then not until the latter part of the period.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN
SCRIPTURE: Acts 8:1-24
DEVOTIONAL READING: 1 Peter 1:3-9
First to Fall
Lesson for January 22, 1950

TROUBLE IN THE CHURCH can start anywhere. Sometimes it starts with the women. That was the way the early church found it. The experiment in fellowship which they tried ran into snags, for not even the first Christians were perfect. The church of Jerusalem was in a sense inter-racial. Some were born and bred in Palestine, and there were others from the outside, with Greek names, speaking Greek as their native tongue. Hellenists they were called. There was argument: Were the Hellenist widows getting their share of the church's help?

Committee Chairman
THE APOSTLES, being called on, refused to straighten the tangle themselves. Let the church elect a committee, they said. First on the list was a man named Stephen. He turned out to be most famous for being the first Christian martyr, but when he fell unconscious beneath that shower of stones, there died no ordinary man.

To begin with, he filled the bill as chairman of that Committee on Grievances. Not many men, then or now, could fill all three qualifications the Apostles required: reputation, spirituality, and wisdom. It takes a very tactful man to settle a difficulty in which women are concerned; it takes tact to handle any committee; it takes tact to manage an inter-racial situation; it calls for wisdom to handle funds.

Debater
SOME MEN THINK themselves bigger than their jobs. Some men really are bigger, and Stephen was one of these. He spilled over, so to speak; he had even more energy and ability than the job called for. We hear of him debating around the synagogue circuit particularly in the synagogues which were used by Jews from other parts of the world.

We have no details of those debates, but we know how they always came out: Stephen got the decision. We can guess, from his great speech in the hour of his death, what his general line must have been.

Many Christians in Jerusalem at that time had little or no idea that Christianity was actually a new religion; even the name "Christian" had not been thought of. They considered it a form of the Jewish religion.

Scholar
STEPHEN'S SPEECH at his trial (Acts 7) may sound dull to some now, but it was not dull to the audience. No man makes a dull speech on the brink of death. Further, it was that speech that got him killed. His listeners may not have liked it, but they certainly did not think it dull! The beauty of the speech is that it reveals Stephen's keen insight into the religious history of his people.

Speaking without notes, he reviews the history of close to 2,000 years in a 10-minute talk, and yet brings out the main points. Only a real scholar can do that, a man who is both historian and prophet. The most important peaks in Israel's history were God's revelations to them; and Stephen shows that these revelations had never been tied to a house or a book.

No institutions and no place is indispensable to God. The same God who had wrought new things in the past had now wrought a new thing in Christ.

Martyr
STEPHEN'S AUDIENCE was not convinced. Seeing murder in their eyes, Stephen knew his time was short. In a few stinging last words he reminded them that murder was an old story in that Temple. They had killed prophets, they had killed Jesus the "Just One." And now—Now they dragged Stephen out and stoned him till he died.

Well, you can stop a voice but you cannot stop an idea. Stephen was first to fall, but not the last. To this very year Christ has his martyrs, men and women who will die rather than deny him.

THE LONG ARM OF THE CHURCH

The Church reaches far in touching the lives and hearts of men everywhere. Its arm is long. Its protection is sure.

The Church is responsible for thousands of hospitals, colleges, and other service institutions. Its missions extend into city slums and to the distant corners of the world. As an agent for the relief of suffering, promoting spiritual education, and contributing to better living, it has no equal.

Can you afford not to have a part in what the Church is doing to spread truth, promote good citizenship, stem the tide of juvenile delinquency, heal the sick, and minister to destitute peoples.

No short-range view of the Church can do it justice, for each separate congregation is one link in a vast chain of enterprises for human betterment.

It is fine to have a part in such a project. It is a duty to one's family and to God to accept a part of this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a stewardship of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Bible study.

NOTICE TO TRUCK OPERATORS!LOAD LIMITS:

In order to protect and save the roads of Boone County during the winter months, the Boone County Fiscal Court feels that it will be necessary to set a weight limit on loads carried by trucks over these roads during the wet winter months, and the load limit has been set at a wet not to exceed three tons over, and above, the weight of the truck.

It is, therefore, ordered by the Court that no truck shall carry a load in excess of three tons over and above the weight of the truck on any of the roads maintained by the Boone County Road Department during wet and soft times from this date to April 15, 1950.

The above restriction applies to all Rural Blacktop Roads and other County Roads, but does not apply to State or Federal Highways in the County.

INDEPENDENCE R. 1

This community was saddened on Sunday morning of last week to learn of the passing of Mrs. Walter Moffett at her home on the L.L.L. Highway near Nicholson.

The one week's revival at the Staffordsburg Methodist church closed Sunday night of last week. We were very sorry indeed to see Rev. Ryan have to leave as the church was being revived and souls reclaimed. We pray much that the revival will go on in our hearts just the same and that our members will remember their vow and keep on coming and praying. If the churches ever needed a revival it is now. We hope to have Bro. Ryan back with us again in the near future.

We were glad to see such a good attendance at Sunday school Sunday. Let's begin the New Year right and keep on coming, and bring your neighbors.

Also come to prayer services every Wednesday evening at 7:30. All are welcome, any time.

Mrs. Daisy Richardson and daughter Helen and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Folmer and little son have returned home from a ten days tour to Texas and some other points of interest. They missed the icy roads by getting back home a little ahead of it.

Miss Rosemary Binder spent the weekend with her cousin, Mrs. Earl Armstrong, and family of Ohio. We have received cards from Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger that they are enjoying the beautiful sunshine in Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barnett and son Howard entertained for dinner recently Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnett and family of Latonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Losey and sons enjoyed New Year's day with the latter's sister, Mrs. Hill House, and Mr. House.

We are very glad to report little Jerry Binder much improved, and we hope it won't be so long until he will be able to be up and around again.

Jed Thornton of Latonia spent Sunday with his son, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Thornton and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney and daughter Hope spent a couple of days during the holidays with their daughter, Mrs. Morris Wharton, of near Dayton, Ohio.

Burley Prices Lowest Of Season, Avg. $41.29

Markets Beginning To Close for Season

Average prices for a large number of grades sold on Burley tobacco markets this week were the lowest since the season began. Most were $1.00 to $4.00 under the previous week. A few grades were unchanged. The weekly average was $32.35 less and the lowest of the season.

According to the Federal State Market News Service, volume of offerings continued heavy. For the period ending January 20, gross sales amounted to 744 million pounds for $41.29 per hundred. Season gross sales were brought to 554.7 million pounds for an average of $45.56.

Declines were general with heavy losses for low and fair leaf, and some fair lugs. Prior to this week all lugs had been in good demand. Some better grades of flyings and lugs were unchanged.

Reduced proportions of good and fair lugs and good leaf lowered the quality slightly. There was an increase in the percentage of nondescript. Bulk sales, however, continued to consist of fair and low grades of all groups, nondescript and good flyings.

The percentage of baskets consigned to Associations was the largest reported this season. It was estimated that 10 to 12 percent were pooled under the Government loan program. Through January 13 deliveries had amounted to 21.9 million pounds or slightly over 4.5 percent of gross sales as of that date. During the week the following markets closed: Bloomfield, Glasgow, Greensburg, Horse Cave, Lebanon, London, Scottsville and Springfield, Ky.; Columbia, Franklin, Gallatin, Rogersville, Springfield and Sweetwater, Tenn.; Asheville, Boone and West Jefferson, N. C. In Kentucky, markets that have announced closing dates are: Bowling Green, Hazardousburg and Somerset, Jan. 24; Richmond, Jan. 25. In Tennessee, Knoxville, Jan. 24, and Greeneville, Jan. 25. Morris Store Is Open For Business As Usual

The Morris Department Store, Erlanger, which had a $5,000 fire in their stock room recently, is open for business as usual, according to the manager. The store part of the building was not damaged nor the merchandise in the storeroom. They promise that as soon as possible they will make a special announcement for their customers. Morris has been a regular advertiser in this paper for the past five years.

Income Tax Man Here

Collector of Internal Revenue, S. R. Glenn, announces that a deputy from his office will visit Walton on February 6, 7 and 8, and Burlington on February 20, 21 and March 14, for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in filing their final 1949 returns and their estimated returns for the year 1950. Their returns should be filed by March 15, 1950.

Mr. Glenn says that his deputy is familiar with the laws and is being sent here to be of service to the tax-paying public. The service is absolutely free. Collector Glenn urges the taxpayers of this county to see the deputy and let him help them with their income tax problems.

Thanks Expressed For Support In Xmas Seal Sale

Officials of the Boone County Tuberculosis Association wish to express their sincere appreciation to the people of this county for their generous support of the recent seal sale.

Your contribution is helping to support Boone county patients who are now being cared for in the sanatorium at Hazelwood and it is helping to fight TB through education and research.

It is the plan of the local association to have an X-ray unit in the county early next summer to furnish free X-ray examinations for all. This is the only sure way to detect tuberculosis.

Boone county can be proud of the fact that it stands at the top of the state in the seal sale per capita and in order to maintain this splendid record we urge those who have failed to make their contribution to do so now. It is still not too late to help in this great cause.

Remember that eighty percent of all donations stay in the county and that none of it is spent for salaries—but for support of sanatorium patients, education and research.

Again we say "thanks" to the generous people of our county.

MALCOLM C. COX

A 65-year-old farmer, Malcolm C. Cox, committed suicide Monday by firing a .22-caliber rifle into his forehead in a bedroom of his home on Independence, Route 1, according to Mrs. Tressa Riffe, Kenton County Coroner.

Mrs. Riffe said that Cox's wife, Mrs. Nellie Cox, found her husband's body slumped in a chair in the morning. She added that Mrs. Cox summoned Dr. Robert Kratz of Independence, who pronounced him dead. He left no note, but the Coroner said Mrs. Cox indicated that her husband had been despondent over ill health.

Mrs. Riffe recalled also that Cox's nephew, Clifford Holcomb, Louisville, who lived with him, had taken his own life with a .38-caliber revolver in 1946.

Cox is survived by his widow; a son, Warner C. Cox, George Cox, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cox of Independence; a sister, Mrs. Irene Murphy of Lexington, and a grandchild. A veteran of World War I, he was a member of Moon Brothers Post, American Legion, Independence.

Funeral services are to be held today (Thursday) at 2:30 p. m. in the Cox residence, with Rev. R. C. Scholl officiating. Burial will be in the Independence Cemetery.

Warsaw Comes Here Next Tuesday

The Walton-Verona Bearcats posted wins 12 and 13 the past week when they defeated Simon Kenton and Bellevue. Last Friday night on the Independence floor the Cats edged the Pioneers 53-51, and Tuesday, on the home floor, took the measure of the Tigers 67-61.

The Simon Kenton game was a battle all the way, with the Cats having to come from behind in the final period to win. The Pioneers led 19-15 at the end of the first period, 28-27 at the half, and 42-39 at the close of the third quarter. Don Rice scored the winning two points in the final seconds of play, after the lead had changed hands several times during the final period.

In Tuesday's game, the locals, except for the final few minutes, played hot-notch ball in defeating the Bellevue Tigers. The visitors took the lead in the first period and at the end of the quarter were in front 11-9. However, the Cats took over in the second quarter and led 26-19 at intermission. In the third stanza they really burned up the nets, outscoring the Tigers 23-15 to lead 49-34 as the quarter ended. The Cats coasted some in the fourth period and as a result the Tigers were closing the gap as the game ended 67-61 in Walton's favor.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingsbury

Few—if any—developments here in Washington on the 1950 senatorial race in Kentucky. There's a report that former Governor Keen Johnson is interested. But Mr. Johnson was in Washington this week and made no announcement.

There's been nothing but silence from Congressman Noble Gregory on his senatorial plans. Some had expected him to make an announcement on his return to the capital. But he has said nothing. A few observers now feel that the First District Democrat has decided not to make the race.

That Big Budget

The big budget submitted by President Truman has created no little discussion. As you know, it calls for a five billion dollar deficit. And some members of congress are planning to cut down on government spending if at all possible.

This week Congressman Bates of Kentucky came forward with his plan to help save money. He is chairman of the Appropriation Committee for the District of Columbia.

All Washington officials have requested 119 million dollars, almost as much as it takes to operate the entire State of Kentucky. But those city officials have reckoned without Mr. Bates. In one short sentence, the congressman from Greenup said this:

"They aren't going to get that much!"

Which means Congressman Bates plans to help balance the budget.

A Visitor

John Young Brown, the former congressman from Kentucky was a recent visitor to Washington. We found him in the corridors of the capitol talking to Chief Justice Fred Vinson.

Naturally, when two such Kentuckians get together, we were interested in the subject of their conversation. So we asked:

The two, long time political friends, were talking about developments at Frankfort and the opening of the General Assembly. And both men agreed that a legislative steamroller is a fine thing—if it is your steamroller.

New Committee

Senator Garrett Withers has received another committee assignment. Last year, the junior senator was a member of the Senate Labor committee which handled a bundle of important measures.

Today, however, he is on the Senate Judiciary Committee. It looks as though he will not be entirely relieved of labor problems, in spite of the change. The Judiciary Committee may investigate labor union monopolies.

Do You Know?

Congressman Bates has renewed his opposition to the Falmouth dam. Attempts are being made to close the flood gates at Dewey Reservoir in Floyd county and thus create another great artificial lake for Kentucky sportsmen. . . . Congressman Chelf, an expert with the mouth organ, is going to take part in an amateur night in the capital. Its all for charity. . . . And Kentucky congressmen are pushing Camp Breckinridge as the site for the new Air Force Academy.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to all our friends and neighbors who helped in any way during the illness and death of our loved one, Johnny Poole. Especially do we wish to thank Fr. Carline, Fr. Busenmeyer and Fr. Poole for their services; the altar boys; the choir; the pallbearers; those who sent flowers, cards and food; those who prepared the grave, and Fred Hamilton, funeral director, for the efficient manner in which the services were conducted.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Poole and Family.

Unto All Men

Lesson for January 29, 1950

"MARK TIME, Christian Soldiers!" is not a Christian hymn. The word is "Onward, Christian Soldiers!" The command was given by no less a person than Jesus himself. "Go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them . . . teaching them . . ." (Matt. 28:19). Do you know some one in the church who says he doesn't believe in missions? Such a man does not take Christ seriously. If you do believe in Christ, then his commands are for you to obey, not to ignore.

When Men Delay

UP TO NOW, the church has been playing around with Jesus' command. Very few denominations are actually putting any large amount of money or manpower into obeying Christ's command to go into all the world.

One fairly typical American denomination contributed last year to all benevolences, that is to all causes not in their own local congregations, the sum of $9,137,063. That sounds like a lot; but divided by the total number of members it boils down to $14.03 per member for the year, or less than five cents a day.

And of course not all that big sum of five cents went to missions of any sort. Yet that denomination gives more than $100,000,000 to missions than most others do. When a man who gives less than five cents a day to carry the good news of Christ into the wide world sings "Onward, Christian Soldiers!" or prays "Thy Kingdom come!" how much does he mean it? Not a nickel's worth!

Or take the question of manpower. The same denomination sends out as missionaries, every year, as many men and women as are sent by some denominations three times its size. And yet, even so, the total number of ordained ministers in that denomination who are foreign missionaries is only 4 per cent of their total number of ministers.

"Go into all the world," said the Master. "Four per cent of us will," we reply, "the rest of us will stay at home."

When Men Obey

AS A MATTER OF FACT, even the earliest church was slow to pay real attention to Christ's command. Forward! Men are strange creatures. And one of the strange things about us is that we often have to be scared into doing our duty.

It took the persecution set off by the death of Stephen to move the Christians in Jerusalem out along the roads south, north, east, anywhere to get away from the city of death. Everywhere they went, they told the story of Jesus.

But at first it was all rather breathless and informal. "Why are you here?" one of these DP's would be asked, as he was passing through Samaria or Antioch or Alexandria, perhaps in the bread-line, perhaps looking for a place to work and settle down. "I'm a refugee from Jerusalem," he would say. "But why?" "Well, I'm a Christian." "What's that?"

So the story would be told all over again, the good news about God's grace in Christ. So the church spread. Today, though an enormous part of the world's population is still unwon, there are Christians in so many lands that the Bible—all or parts of it—has had to be translated into more than one thousand different languages and dialects.

Unto All Men

ONE OF THE MOST interesting and surpassing little books of recent years is called "They Found the Church There," by H. P. Van Dusen. It is the dramatic story of how the American GI, in his great astonishment, found Christians in the most unexpected places.

It is a tremendous mistake to think that the Christian religion is only for English-speaking peoples, or for Europeans, or for white people. It began among people whom most readers of this column would set down as "foreigners."

The lad in this picture has been into some kind of mischief, and his dad has called him "on the carpet." His drooping head and downward gaze suggest a consciousness of wrongdoing.

These are always tense moments in parent and child relations, because they involve a meeting of personalities in a situation which might easily serve to strengthen or weaken the parental tie.

This is no occasion for parental anger, arrogance, or bluster. The situation calls for a sympathetic understanding, a calm appraisal, and good judgment based on the moral and spiritual elements in human conduct.

Parents need the wisdom of God and spiritual guidance in dealing with the behavior problems of their children. Mistakes made in these circumstances often lead to unfortunate results.

The counsel of the Church and the inspiration of the Scriptures is offered to every parent who seeks divine guidance in meeting the responsibilities of parenthood.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Missionary Speaks At Piner PTA Meeting

The Piner PTA was most fortunate to have as a speaker at the January meeting, Miss Esther Kuhn, Missionary to Africa. Miss Kuhn, who was a teacher at Piner school in 1942-43, is on furlough after four years of work in Africa. Since Miss Kuhn was visiting Mr. and Mrs. William R. Brown, she consented to tell the PTA about her experiences on the Mission fields. She also showed a number of very interesting, attractive picture slides. These pictures were made while Miss Kuhn was in Africa.

The PTA wishes to express its heartfelt thanks to Miss Kuhn for her fine talk.

The February meeting of the Piner PTA will mark the end of the membership drive for this year. The organization gave $60 to the school to be used to purchase library books—some for each of the six grades. Maps of Kentucky are to be bought by the PTA also, to be used in the school's geography classes.—Pub.

The Lancaster Negro 4-H club in Garrard county has a membership of 65 boys and girls.

Beechgrove Homemakers

The January meeting of the Beechgrove Homemakers club was held at the Latonia Gun Club, with the president, Mrs. Wm. F. Meyers, in charge of the business session. Members answered roll call by giving their favorite radio program. Mrs. H. Works and Mrs. Geo. Schadler were co-hostesses. Mrs. Works gave the lesson on Exterior Beautification. An interesting program, conducted by Mrs. Joe Brunck, program chairman, was enjoyed by all, starting her program by reading the 23rd Psalm. A poem written about the Licking River, was read by reading chairman, Mrs. F. M. Powers.

Each member is to give something interesting about Kentucky at the next meeting.

Mrs. Bryan Armstrong volunteered to go to Lexington to represent the club during Farm and Home Week, Jan. 30 through Feb. 3.

Miss Elma Byerly, Home Demonstration Agent, talked on shopping, giving the club some very good points and stressing economy. Mrs. Powers and Mrs. Clinkenbeard gave the last lesson on Refinishing Furniture.

Howard-Ammon

In an air of sweet solemnity two hearts were made to beat as one when Miss Shirley L. Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Howard of Florence, became the bride of Mr. Richard L. Ammon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ammon, also of Florence. The very impressive double ring ceremony was performed in the Elanore Baptist Church, Tuesday, December 27, 1949 at 7:45 p. m. by Rev. W. H. Lodwick. Prior to the ceremony, Miss Beverly Markesbery, soprano, and cousin of the bride, sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Helen White, who also played Lohengrin's Wedding March, as the bridal party entered the church. Attending the bride were Miss Billy Jean Dahlenburg, maid of honor, and Misses Martha Ammon, cousin of the groom, and Lois J. Howard, sister of the bride, as bridesmaids. The best man was Paul Ammon, eldest brother of the groom. Ushers were Robert Ammon, brother of the groom, and Freeman H. Giles, cousin of the bride. They are now residing in Florence. Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. John Beck, aunt of the bride, and an uncle, Elroy Rove, and wife of Dayton, O. We join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ammon health, happiness and prosperity as they embark upon the sea of matrimony.

Rev. William E. Burke

(Former Roman Catholic Priest)

WILL SPEAK AT THE

GOSHEN CHRISTIAN CHURCH

PINER, KENTUCKY

Sunday, Feb. 5th 11:00 A.M.

Rev. William E. Burke, Field Representative, for Christ's Mission in the Eastern States, received his education at State Teachers' College Preparatory School, East Stroudsburg, Pa., the University of Scranton at Scranton, Pa., and St. Bonaventure's College and Seminary, Allegany, N. Y.

Ordained to the priesthood in the Cathedral in Scranton, Pa., May 30, 1931, Mr. Burke served as a Roman Catholic priest in several parishes in that diocese for ten years. In October, 1941, he became disillusioned with the teachings of Roman Catholicism and resigned.

After four difficult years of readjustment and various occupations, Mr. Burke was converted to Evangelical Christianity and joined the staff of Christ's Mission. He has traveled since that time extensively, preaching in Churches, Missions and Tabernacles. His messages are praised for their illuminating illustrations and apt practical applications drawn from his wealth of personal experiences in the Roman Catholic priesthood.

Mr. Burke also offers counsel to those having problems concerning the Roman Catholic Church and urges them to contact him at Christ's Mission offices, 756 Seventh Avenue, New York, or following any of his speaking engagements.

Mr. Burke, who has been a member of the Catholic Church on a high level, completely omitting any sensationalism. With the other converted priests at Christ's Mission, he desires only to strengthen the faith of Protestants and to help Roman Catholics into the light of the glorious Gospel of Jesus Christ.

4-Year-Old Boy Reminds Mother About Hadacol

Leslie S. Ladd, Jr., is only four years old but he knows his B vitamins and minerals and knows that he, his mother and his grandfather get these valuable dietary supplements through HADACOL. "Mamma, we haven't taken our HADACOL," says Leslie when his mother has forgotten. Mrs. Ladd, who lives at 34 Cleveland Avenue, Nashville, Tenn., explained that her folk will always be a HADACOL family, not only because of little Leslie's reminders, but because of the wonders that HADACOL has done in relieving her of gastric disturbances, creating an appetite and bringing back color to little Leslie's pale cheeks and in helping her father overcome the rheumatic pains of neuritis.

Mrs. Ladd and Leslie, Jr.

"I have taken 10 bottles of HADACOL," said Mrs. Ladd. "I have been run down since my oldest son was born. I am 23 years old. I have had very little appetite and had weak spells every morning. I would almost faint, and, thanks to HADACOL, they are gone for good and I stay hungry all the time. "My four year old son had little appetite and his cheeks were pale. He now takes HADACOL and when I forget it he says 'Mamma we haven't taken our HADACOL.' His cheeks are rosy and he has a wonderful appetite. I also had headaches and gastric disturbances. They are now gone. My father now takes HADACOL for rheumatic pains of neuritis. He is much better now."

There are countless thousands of HADACOL families in the country where all or most of the members of the family take HADACOL to get well and then more HADACOL to help stay well.

The folks in the Ladd family were suffering from a deficiency of B vitamins and certain minerals, which HADACOL contains. A lack of only a small amount of the B vitamins and certain minerals will cause digestive disturbances . . . Your food will not agree with you . . . You will have an upset stomach . . . You will suffer from heartburns, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of the B vitamins and minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the vitamins and the minerals which your system lacks.

HADACOL contains not only one, but 5 of the B vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but 4 of the necessary minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have already been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL. So, it matters not who you are . . . it matters not where you live . . . or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering! Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years, even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the vitamins and minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial. Demand the genuine HADACOL. Accept no substitutes.

Average net income of Adair county calves fed by 4-H club members was $33.43.

SHEEP KILLERS ARE CALLED "WILD DOGS"

Seven "coyotes" trapped in Woodford county the past year were identified by U. S. Department of Agriculture experts as crosses of Collie and German police dogs, and were called "wild dogs." Packs of nine and 12 were seen in the county.

C. M. Perkins reported four raids on his flock in one week, with a loss of 74 sheep worth $2,200.

The $750,000 sheep industry of Woodford county is threatened by the dog menace, County Agent H. R. Forkner said. Flock owners fear to put sheep on small grain or grass at considerable distance from farm buildings. Thus feed that should be used for sheep goes to waste and the cost of sheep-raising is increased.

4-Hers RECEIVE MANY COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarships totaling $9,250 were awarded last fall to 42 young men and women now enrolled in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. Although only three were limited to members of 4-H clubs, 33 of the recipients were members of that organization. Awards were made on the basis of scholarship, leadership and need, and ranged from $75 to $500 an individual.

Donors of scholarships were Farm Underwriters Association, $600; J. H. and Mary Gibbs Jones, $500; the Kroger Foundation, $800; Mason County Farm Bureau, $150; Ralph E. Milla Foundation, $500; and Sears Roebuck Foundation, $2,200.

SUGGESTS WAYS TO GROW BETTER CORN

Corn acreage in Boyle county is reported by Farm Agent John Brown to have been reduced from 22,649 in 1920 to 10,000 to 12,000. Land once in corn now grows pasture for livestock.

Brown has five suggestions on the growing of corn—Select the best land and land that will not wash; grow adapted Kentucky hybrids; plow, adapt and cultivate on the contour to save moisture and prevent erosion; plant corn thick enough to get top yield for the fertility of the soil, and reduce damage from cornborer by early planting and use of poison sprays.

Cost of fattening Fayette county 4-H club calves in 1949 was 28 cents a pound, compared to 35 cents in '48. Seven years ago, there were less than 15 acres of vetch in Hart county; now there are approximately 10,000 acres of vetch with grain or crimson clover.

Boyd and Lawrence counties have organized a joint dairy herd improvement association.

February 15 is Last Day To Report Farm Practices

Most Farmers Are Eligible for Aid

Wednesday, February 15, is the last day for farmers to report conservation practices carried out under provisions of the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program in order to qualify for program payments.

Reports, along with seed tags, receipts for conservation materials, and other evidence are to be submitted by farmers to the county PMA office. The 1949 ACP closed with the calendar year on December 31.

All farmers participating in the program, except those who used their entire allowance for conservation materials, are eligible for cash contributions to the cost of practices adopted.

Farmer who received soil-building materials, such as lime, phosphate and cover crop seeds, in place of payments, should report to the county PMA office on the use made of these materials. Reports on the use of these materials are required whether a payment is due the farmer or not.

Successful Restaurateur

The following story came to us from St. Augustine, Fla., and concerns Mr. and Mrs. Amos Pennington, who own a restaurant in Florida city. Mr. Pennington is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington of Walton.

"Amos and Mrs. Pennington

"To be a consistent and persistent booster of the home community, very often takes courage and plenty of optimism. It is because of their unflinching faith in the future of St. Augustine and their unflagging efforts to promote its development that Mr. and Mrs. Amos Pennington are now selected for this high position in the public's favor.

"They have proved very ably that they are restaurant operators of unusual ability, for it is largely due to their ideals of service, coupled with the determination to serve only the very best of food that the Penningtons' Chicken N Basket holds its high position in the public's favor.

"They are people of sound business judgment, whose ideas have been the inspiration of many who know them. Their personality and energy in directing the operations of their restaurant are important factors in their well earned success.

"We are glad to pay this deserved tribute to the Penningtons and to point out to our readers that theirs is the guiding influence behind the splendid service and delicious food to be found at the Penningtons' Chicken N Basket in St. Augustine."

Call Meeting Of Wa-Na Club Held Monday Evening

The history of the Penny Art Fund was presented through an interesting skit at a call meeting of the Wa-Na Women's Club, on Monday, January 30th. The history of the project was traced from the original idea of Mrs. Alvoni Allen, a New Jersey club woman to its adoption by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in 1930. Gardner's Circular Is New Guide In Gardening

A complete guide to gardening is Circular 376, "Our Vegetable Garden Month by Month," published by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

Written by John S. Gardner, author of a weekly series on gardening in Kentucky for the past 25 years, the Circular deals with every operation in the production of a successful garden. There is a wealth of information about soils, how to handle them, what and when to plant, cultivation, fighting insects and diseases, and finally just what can be done in the garden each month.

Dr. J. S. Gardner left bare last fall should be plowed before the end of January is possible, with a heavy coat of manure turned under.

Freezing and thawing after winter breaking will loosen the soil, and the manure will have time to rot. The broken soil surface also will absorb more of the late winter rains and snows, the moisture on which the vegetables may have to depend later in the year. For this season, the deeper the plowing the better."

Copies of Circular 376 can be had at offices of county farm and home agents or by writing to the college at Lexington.

The Walton-Verona Bearcats played two basketball games the past week—one away at one at home. They lost the away game and won the home stand.

Last Friday night the Cats went to Owingsville, Ky., where they met a strong five—a team that has lost only to Clark County. Paris and Mayville, this season, and the locals dropped a one-point decision. However, the Blue and White played a top-notch game of ball and the defeat was no disgrace. Owingsville led throughout, being in front 13-9 at the first quarter, 25-24 at the half and 40-39 at the third period. The final score was 58-57.

Where We Came In

Lesson for February 5, 1950

A CIRCULAR LETTER came in the other day from a stranger who is hot and bothered because he has discovered that Jews and Negroes can belong to Christian churches along with white Americans. The astonishing thing is not that that should be true, but that any man should get excited over it. What a spoiled child the Apostle Paul was not that Jews were in the Christian church but that anybody else could be! We must recall that Jesus was a Jew; that all the apostles were Jews; that the first Christian church at Jerusalem was composed exclusively of Jews.

New Type
THE CHURCH AT ANTIOCH, one of the great commercial cities of the Roman world, was where we Gentiles came in. The writer is indebted to his former teacher, Dr. Charles Erdman, for noting four ways in which the church in Antioch was something new.

They had no Old Testament, they knew nothing of the Old Testament sacrifices, they had no interest in the Temple or in the history of Israel. Like most Gentiles, they had usually thought of the Jew as a quaint but unimportant minority group. Now that these Gentiles were in the same church with Jews, there would be plenty of room for trouble.

Could a church made up of such different races become a true Brotherhood? So the old mother-church at Jerusalem sent up Brother Barnabas to look around. Barnabas was not the church's most brilliant mind, but he had a heart full of faith.

New Leaders
GOD DOES NOT ALWAYS give the greatest successes to the "big names." Nowadays every one who knows his Bible knows Paul and Barnabas; but in Antioch both men were unknown at first, and untold.

When God wants a Reformation he calls forth a Luther, an obscure man who never fitted any of the existing priestly molds. When God wanted to open up Africa he called David Livingstone; when he wanted men for the far interior of Asia he called Hudson Taylor. When he wanted light to shine down into the slums he called William Booth.

These were all peculiar men by the standards of their times, but it takes peculiar men to break away from tradition's hearth-fire and break out new roads for the Gospel.

New Center
FOR SOME TIME Jerusalem was the capital of the Christian world. All roads led out from there, so to speak. With the rise of the Antioch church, however, a new center took the place of the old. Jerusalem withered away. In later times Alexandria led, and then other cities.

For a thousand years Rome and Constantinople were the acknowledged centers of the Christian world. Now we have also London—New York—Geneva... Many such centers have small beginnings. In America's early days the churches of Scotland sent over missionary offerings for the help of the struggling little church of New York.

In future years, who knows? Some church in Yunnan may be sending missionaries to the feeble folk left in the war-devastated ex-white world.

New Name
ANTIOCH is no longer a city of any importance. Missionaries go to it, not from it. But old Antioch left us something still cherished, a new name for believers: Christian. That name itself proves something.

It proves that the church in Antioch was something more than an organization of "churchmen." It was a family of Christ-men and Christ-women. These "believers" must have talked and lived some thing better than mere vague "religion." They talked of Christ, they loved Christ, and they lived Christ, even their busy neighbors took notice.

NOT DEAD... BUT SLEEPING.

We know a man who says, "When you're dead, you're dead." Wonder what he would think of this picture!

This is a picture of things that seem dead. Barren trees, shrubs laden with snow, and a million blades of grass buried beneath the winter's mantle.

But we know these things are not dead... just sleeping. Waiting for another Spring... waiting to blossom and flourish again.

And it is that knowledge that enables us to see beauty in a winter scene; how morbid our picture if we didn't know that Spring would come again.

The Christian belief in a life hereafter is vital to man's happiness and courage. It is one of the many truths our Churches teach which can enrich your life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hadacol Helps Folk Music Fiddle Player

James William Martin, of route 4, Lewisburg, Tenn., has been a familiar and popular figure at thousands of old fashioned entertainments throughout Tennessee since he was just a boy because the oldtimers claim that young Bill can really make a bull fiddle talk "sweet music."

These fans really missed Martin's music when he did not appear in his regular program on the great 50,000 watt WLAC radio station in Nashville, Tenn., recently. In fact, they missed him for the two weeks that he suffered the horrors of nervous indigestion and kindred ills.

James William Martin

They will be happy to know now that Bill is back with the bull fiddle and it seems to some that the music is just a little sweeter because Bill feels better now than he ever did before because he has learned the blessings of HADACOL.

Here is Martin's own statement about the blessings that HADACOL brought to him:

"I am only 24 years old but have suffered with the horrors of nervous indigestion. No food I ate digested well. I suffered severe headaches. I had difficulty sleeping. I have played with radio bands and nervous indigestion effected my work. I was run down and nervous and for a time thought I would have to give up my work."

After the second bottle of HADACOL I felt better and now after five bottles of HADACOL I feel like I am a new man. I am going to continue to take HADACOL to help keep well."

Martin is just one of countless thousands who suffered because of a deficiency of B vitamins and certain minerals, which HADACOL brought him.

A lack of one or a small amount of the B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances. Your food will not agree with you. You will have an upset stomach. You will suffer from heartburns, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of the B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder there is no known cure except the administration of the Vitamins and the Minerals which your system lacks.

HADACOL contains not only one, but 5 of the B Vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but 4 of the necessary Minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have already been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL. So, it matters not who you are... it matters not where you live... or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering! Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the Vitamins and Minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial. Demand the genuine HADACOL. Accept no substitutes.

FLORENCE

Services for Joseph T. Higgins, 77, who succumbed Wednesday at his home on Burlington Road, Florence, were held Monday from the Allison and Rose funeral home, Covington. Mr. Higgins was a former resident of Carlisle, Ky. He was a member of Madison Avenue Christian Church. He leaves a brother, Columbus C. Higgins, Glencoe, and a sister, Mrs. Sally Wharton, Covington. Burial was in Highland Cemetery. Sympathy is extended the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Howard and daughter Lois and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ammon recently motored to Dayton, Ohio to visit Mrs. Howard's brother, Elroy ReVore, and wife, Mr. ReVore is confined to a Dayton Hospital.

Mrs. Geo. B. Miller and Mrs. W. R. Miller were callers on Blayne Miller and Barbee Simpson of Park Hills.

Ben Myers, Al England and friends of Sayler Park, Ohio were business callers here Wednesday evening. Many years ago, when the Florence fair was organized, Mr. England was the teamster who hauled logs to the mill located on the fair grounds, which was a part of the late Perry Carpenter farm, to be sawed into lumber with which to construct the large amphitheatre and other necessary buildings. The late Frank Russell was contractor for the hauling.

Mr. and Mrs. Mat Horton of Ludlow, friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tanner, were their guests Thursday. Harris Carpenter of Kensington, was the dinner guest of his uncle, Eldridge Carpenter, and wife Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Marshall and young son are at home after having enjoyed a pleasant vacation in Fla. We wish to clear up a little misunderstanding concerning the new location of Mr. and Mrs. Cam Kennedy, which is in Walton, on Beaver Road, about one square from the Dixie Highway.

Mrs. George Miller spent Wednesday in Covington, shopping and visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hogan.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Carpenter were entertained by their daughter, Mrs. Richard Keyer, and Mr. Keyer of Latonia, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Arnold and Verne Arnold and family called at the home of John Klopp of Petersburg for whom funeral services were held Sunday. Burial was in the Petersburg Cemetery.

Wedding bells will be ringing on Price Road in the near future.

Elmer Moore of Madison county got an average of more than 25 eggs per hen in one month from his flock of 516 crossbred Hampshire-Barred Rock birds.

CONCORD ROAD

Mrs. Stella Collins of Ellison Station was calling on Mrs. Della Braun and Mr. Braun, Saturday afternoon.

Sallie Whitson, Althea Craft and Iris Hughes attended the W. M. U. quarterly meeting at Vine Run Church last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamm and Lizzie Noel were visiting at the W. E. Waller home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. H. D. Edgington was visiting her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hughes, Thursday.

The W. M. U. of Concord will meet at the church February 8th. Be there by 1:30, EST.

Sorry to hear of Mrs. Ethel Webster being sick. Hope for her early recovery.

Quite a few attended the sale of Miss Nannie O'Hara's at Verona on Saturday afternoon. We are sorry to lose Miss O'Hara, she having sold her house to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rich. Miss O'Hara is going to make her home in Covington.

Billy Mac Waller and Ralph Adams spent the weekend with their parents. They returned to school Monday.

Mrs. Fionnie Edgington was calling on Mrs. Pattie Willeford, Wednesday afternoon.

The dinner is an annual event and brings out the cream of official Washington from the president down.

Pity The Lawmaker:
Someone once said the Congressmen and Senators are a combination of lawmakers and errand boys. Maq legislators' time is consumed with petty jobs. For example, this week a lady wrote Senator Withers. It seems that she is making a quilt and to complete her work she needed two ties.

"Would you be so kind," she wrote, "as to send me two of your neckties?"

We know of another Congressman who was asked to get a pencil from each member of the lower house. A young son of the family makes a hobby of collecting pencils, the writer explained.

Kentucky On Top:
Kentucky came out all right in the president's budget—as far as flood control is concerned.

The biggest item in the entire Ohio Valley is a $22,000,000 appropriation for Wolfe Creek Dam down in the southern part of the state. When the project is complete, Kentucky will have another great man-made lake for hunters and fishermen.

There was money included, too, for Dewey Reservoir, another big project in Floyd county. And the president also recommended $50,000 to continue the survey for the Fairmount Dam.

Do You Know:
A Kentuckian, Paul Keen, is about to be named assistant superintendent of the largest hospital in Washington.

Mr. Keen is vice president of the Kentucky Society of Washington. . . Msgr. C. A. Towell of Louisville was a recent visitor in the capital. He is interested in the progress of Kentucky's hospitals. . . Ed Seiler, former state treasurer, is moving into a new home in Virginia. He is now deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration. . . Congratulations to Boone County's Ben Zimmer for his selection of Clarence West to be his publicity officer for the infantile paralysis drive. He's got a good man.

Dan Broady, 4-H'er in Hart county, sold 506 pounds of tobacco for $285.94 or an average of $56.51 per cwt.

Ninety-three tobacco crops grown by 4-H'ers in 11 central Kentucky counties totaled 76,515 pounds, selling at an average of $50.32 per cwt.

By G. Kingsbury

Three wartime heroes held a reunion in Washington last week and their talk turned to a Kentucky comrade, now dead.

The three were among the six boys who raised that flag on Iwo Jima and were immortalized in that famous picture.

They talked about Pfc. Franklin R. Sousey of Ewing, Ky., who is now departed. And they talked about two other comrades who died in the Pacific War.

Of the three who came to Washington, one, a full blooded Indian, is a farmer. Another is studying to be an airline pilot; and the third is an undertaker.

And above every thing else, all three want to forget and enjoy the peace and quiet of civilian life.

The Veep will perform on Saturday when the Radio Correspondents Association give its annual dinner for President Truman.

Twelve Boone-co. Delegates Attend Farm-Home Week

Farm and Home Week for 1950 added many thoughts to the minds of the 12 delegates from Boone county attending the meetings in Lexington, last week. Much of the information gained by the delegates will be shared with the clubs during the month.

The program was started each day with a grand community sing, led by Miss Mildred Lewis, Department of Music, University of Kentucky. Miss Myrtle Weldon of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, greeted the delegates and gave information, which would make the visit more enjoyable. Her message Tuesday morning was, "Let's Make the Most of It."

Charles P. Taylor, Educational Director, American Cancer Society, Louisville, gave a very realistic and understandable talk on what we as individuals can do to defeat cancer. "Every Woman Can Be Beautiful," by Miss Mary Stuyvesant, certainly led the audience spellbound. Dr. Regina Escott sent forth many ideas for community action. Mrs. James Wyker, from the Ohio Council of Churches, added much to the week's program under the topic, "The Rural Home, America's Bulwark." Food, fun and fellowship were enjoyed by all during this inspiring week at the University of Kentucky.

Boone County Homemakers were represented at the convention by the following: Mrs. Vernon Pope, Burlington; Mrs. John Kyle and Mrs. Joe Northcutt, Burlington Road; Mrs. Richard Kottmeyer, Constant; Mrs. Roy Lutes and Mrs. Victor Benham, Florence; Mrs. Henry Fisher, Union; Mrs. John Ayler, Petersburg; Mrs. Matthew Flynn, Walton; Mrs. Earl Morehead, Taylorsport; Mrs. S. Several others attended the meetings just for a day, among these were Mrs. Pearl Johnson, Mrs. Mildred Taylor, Mrs. Elmer Goodridge, Mrs. Gilbert Dolwick, Mrs. J. P. Dolwick, Mrs. Virgil Kelly, Mrs. Dolph Seebree, Mrs. Robert Seebree, Mrs. Walter King, and Mrs. Grant Maddox.

He was a member of the Covington Lions Club and Walton Lodge, No. 719, F. & A. M.

Services were held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Florence. Burial was in Highland Cemetery, Ft. Mitchell.

Application For Corn Allotments Due by Feb. 15th

Operators of farms where no corn was produced in 1947, 1948, 1949, but who wish to apply for a corn acreage allotment for 1950 have a week in which to apply for these allotments. Joseph A. Huey, chairman of the county FMA committee announced this week.

The deadline for accepting applications for 1950 corn acreage allotments from operators of farms with no production history during the past three years is Wednesday, February 15, 1950.

Boone County is one of 55 Kentucky counties designated in the commercial corn area of the state, Mr. Huey said, and allotments will be in effect throughout the county.

Corn growers in the county who have not yet reported their production in the years 1947-49 to the county FMA office, should do so at once, Mr. Huey said. A report should be made for any farm where corn was produced in any one of these years.

Farmers' reports on their corn production for the past three years will be used to establish individual farm allotments for 1950.

County Historical Society Proposed; Meet Feb. 17th

What do you know about Boone County? Do you know when it became a county? Do you know that it was once a part of Campbell County and that its earliest records are in the Court House at Alexandria? Did you know that the location of the state capital in Boone County was once considered? Do you know how the first settlers came into Boone County, and where they came from? Did you know that the streams of Boone County have been panned for gold? Can you picture the county when prehistoric animals lived here? Do you know about the bones of these animals found at Big Bone? Did the glaciers come into Boone County? Do you know why Florence is not called Connersville as once named? Do you know that a family once lived in a tree in the county? It is reported that General Lafayette once spent the night in the county and that the fifty-cent coin with which he paid for his lodging, meals and care for his horse is still in the county. Do you know when the Burlington Court House was built? Do you know of the famous men and women Boone County has produced? Do you know of the clock invented by a Boone County? It tells much more than the time of day and it is still in operation in the county. The same inventor mechanized his farm so that he could

Simon Kenton Youth Center To Open February 11

On Saturday evening, February 11 from 7:00 to 1:30, the teen-age boys and girls of the Simon Kenton Youth Center will gather at the Simon Kenton High School cafeteria for the festive opening of the Youth Center.

A lively band has been engaged to add to the fun. There will also be ping-pong, checkers, jigsaw puzzles and other games to help the youngsters spend an enjoyable evening.

Due will be 50 cents a year per person. Youngsters from 13 years to 22 years may become members (Those who are married are ineligible).

The Youth Center is a challenge to the people of the community. Its success depends, not upon the youth of the community, but upon those to whom boys and girls turn for advice, leadership and love—their parents and friends.

If you would like to help make this undertaking a success, please write or phone Mrs. Harry Rubbe, Independence, Ky. Phone 51593.

County Historical Society Proposed; Meet Feb. 17th

feed and water his stock without getting out of bed on a cold morning. Do you know that a man in Boone County erected his own monument before he died? Do you know why Florence is called Stringtown-on-the-Pike? Do you know why the railroad runs through Erlanger instead of Florence? Do you know that about 1840 most of the squires in Boone County migrated into Ohio? Did Indians live in Boone County or just use it as a hunting ground? Was there any fighting in Boone County during the Civil War? Did Daniel Boone kill his "bar" in Boone County? Were he and Simon Kenton ever in Boone County? Do you know that grave robbers once operated here? Do you know that one Boone County man caught a horse-thief and literally "nailed his hide" to the side of his barn? Did the "underground railroad" operate in Boone County?

Whenever a few of the older residents get together tales are told of happenings in the past. Sometimes fact is flavored with fiction. As the years go by these tales are lost to the coming generations and unless some effort is made to preserve them the history of the county will be lost. Family burying grounds are a valuable link between the past and the present and their inscriptions

Burlington Friday; Hebron on Tuesday

The Walton-Verona Bearcats posted victories fifteen and sixteen the past week when they disposed of St. Henry (58-49) last Friday night at Erlanger, and Warsaw, for the second time (57-49) Tuesday night at the losers' gym. The Cats have lost three games.

The Crusaders, last Friday night, showed unexpected strength and it was a ball game all the way. However, the locals were on top throughout, quarter scores being: First, 19-12; second, 30-26; third, 40-37, and the final, 58-49.

Dike Vest was again top scorer for the Bearcats, with 18 markers. Second was Johnny Maddox with 14 points, and Tommy Johnson and Layne Cheeseman had 11 each.

In the second team contest, the St. Henry reserves eked out a one-point (37-36) victory over Walton.

The locals ran into stiffer opposition Tuesday at Warsaw than was had here last week. At least a part of this added strength was due to the return of Coomer to the Gallatin County line-up.

In the first quarter Walton took a 13-point lead and were never headed by the home team, against being 21-8. At the half, the score was 33-21, at the third period, 45-32, and the final, 57-49.

Vest and Bonnie Cleek divided scoring honors for Walton, with 12 points each. Maddox, Johnson, and Cheeseman with eight markers apiece. Back was top man for Gallatin County, with 16 tallies and Coomer was next with 11 points.

In the preliminary fray, the Warsaw reserves won an easy 34-11 contest from the Walton reserves.

Burlington and Hebron Next

The coming week will see the Bearcats taking part in two Boone County Conference tussles. On Friday night of this week they go to Burlington, and on Tuesday night of next week they go to Hebron.

The final three games of the season will be played at home, against Florence (Feb. 17), Crittenden (Feb. 21), and New Haven (Feb. 24).

The annual agricultural community planning meetings in the following communities have been set for the coming week, according to Bill Davis, county agent.

Gospel Goes West

Lesson for February 12, 1950

SO YOU DON'T BELIEVE in foreign missions? Then you can't read the New Testament with any comfort. Every book in it was written either by a missionary, or about missionaries, or to missionaries, or to be used in mission work. Chapters 13 and 14 of Acts tell us about the first organized foreign mission project in the history of the Christian church. It is the story of how the Gospel was taken out of the narrow strip of coastland along the eastern shore of the Mediterranean, where it was born, out into the western world.

The Best They Had

THE FIRST missionary party were not raw untamed men. They were Barnabas and Saul, the top leaders of Antioch. These men had done a great work in Antioch; their usefulness there was not at an end by any means. But the church sent them away to win souls elsewhere. It is a mistake to suppose that just anybody will do as a missionary.

Ignorant people who suppose that missionaries are only the "crazy" of the church don't know the facts. A few years ago a scientist, Ellsworth Huntington, made a study of the graduates of Yale and Harvard who were successful enough to be written up in "Who's Who in America." He found that missionaries' sons furnished the largest proportion of these successful men.

The reason for this, he believed, is that only in missionary families do you find that both parents, and not just one, have to go through a rigid sifting process. Only the best—mentally, morally, physically—are accepted by the church today as missionaries.

Strategic Centers

SAUL, or Paul, who came rapidly to the front in the missionary team, was all for efficiency. He never did a thing the hard way if an easier way would save his energy. So we find him heading for the great centers of population.

In the synagogues he would find the most religious people in the city, people who already believed in the One God and who took seriously the Law and the Prophets.

Barnabas and Saul stuck to cities for another reason also. Not that they despised small-town folk, but they knew that cities are where the crowds are. For every dozen people they could reach in a village, there were hundreds to be reached in the cities. So today, mission work has generally concentrated first in the most heavily settled regions.

The Follow-Up

SAUL and BARNABAS also set the example for later generations in their use of the "follow-up." They did not suppose that simply converting people was enough. There had to be second visits. Some churches Paul visited as many as five times. They would appoint officers in every church. They knew that organized religion is more likely to last than disorganized religion.

They were not fly-by-night evangelists, leaving behind them only an ebullient wave of emotional excitement. Every rose grower knows that it is better to put a 10-cent rose in a 50-cent hole than to put a 50-cent rose into a 10-cent hole.

So Paul did not stick little seedlings of new Christians into barren ground at random; he took pains to see that they were solidly planted in good rose-beds.

The Holy Spirit

THERE IS ANOTHER, and most important, way in which this first missionary effort has set the pace for all since: From beginning to end, they depended on the Holy Spirit. It was the Spirit who first suggested the idea; it was the Spirit who gave the power, and furnished the guidance. Not that the Spirit was or is a substitute for human effort.

But to this very day, if you want to find persons who know about the Holy Spirit at first hand, who know what it means to depend on the Spirit and to be used by Him, then get acquainted with your church's missionaries.

SON The Father of His Country

Meet George!

George wasn't present the night his illustrious namesake crossed the Delaware. Nor did he arrive in time to "winter" with his countrymen at Valley Forge. As a matter of fact, it was one hundred sixty-six years after Cornwallis surrendered that George became an American citizen—by birth.

George is old enough now to carry a flag. And he's old enough to carry in his heart the principles for which that flag stands.

One of those principles is Religious Liberty—the right of every American to worship and serve God in his own way.

George goes to Sunday School. That's part of carrying the flag.

For the sacred rights and privileges which the Father of His Country helped us to win, the son of his country must learn to love and to defend.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest institution on earth for the building of a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingsbury

This is not to say the Barkley honeymoon is over. But according to the Washington society writers, the Barkley household is following the traditional pattern of married couples.

The other day, so they say, the Barkleys were invited to an ultra-swank affair, something pretty important. And so, just like thousands of other wives, the new Mrs. Barkley is supposed to have told the Veep: "This means I'll need money for a new dress."

Party Problems:

There was a minor mystery in Washington the other day, following a party at the White House.

President and Mrs. Truman entertained in honor of the Vice President and Mrs. Barkley. Sixteen guests were invited to dinner. The next night, Miss Margaret Truman entertained. And she had 18 guests.

Reporters—not having much else to do—asked the White House social secretary how come the difference in numbers. And the embarrassed lady, after flushing deep scarlet, replied that the older folks, broad of beam, just have to have larger chairs than the young fry.

Lots of Lights:

Do you have any idea about the number of Kentucky farms now wired for electricity?

The figure would startle you. According to the REA, about 65 per cent of all the farms in the Blue Grass State have electricity. And each week more rural homes are connected. Kentucky is just about average, considering the nation as a whole. Connecticut, which is more suburban than rural, is at the top of the list with more than 99 per cent. At the bottom is North Dakota and her wide open spaces with 36 per cent.

Helpful Bills:

Kentucky communities will be interested in several bills introduced the other day.

Senator Lehman, the new Senator from New York, offered a bill to permit Uncle Sam to lend any community up to five million dollars to improve or build sewage plants. Right now the limit is about $250,000 and most communities need more than that to build a first rate plant.

Another bill before the House would help those areas in Kentucky not having library facilities. Uncle Sam would help out with an appropriation of $40,000 a year for the next five years.

But here is one thing to remember. These bills have a long way to go before passage. And the accent is on economy.

Do You Know:

A recent visitor to Washington was Joseph Healy, Covington attorney. Chief Justice Fred Vinson was one of the honored guests this past week at the annual dinner given by the Washington Radio Correspondents Association. . . . Kentuckians are amazed at the Washington weather. Here is February and not a drop of snow yet. . . . The dumping of 50 million bushels of potatoes has increased demands for a change in the price support program. . . . Congressional mail from Kentucky is heavy with demands for federal economy and excise tax reductions.

Cecil Shepersen of Boyle county produced a third more tobacco per acre where Ky. 35 (formerly F-17A) was grown than Ky. 22.

Mrs. L. E. Martin of Hart county made 51 aluminum trays, after learning about them in her home-makers club.

Fourteen 4-H clubs have been organized in Elliott county with a membership of 617 boys and girls.

Jim Bouldin of Todd county estimates that his 40-acre field of fescue saved him about three-fourth ton of hay per day for 60 days on 92 head of beef cows.

"George" doesn't do it for us!

Of all the forms of commercial transportation, only the railroads don't say, "let George do it."

Unlike their competitors... who have outgrown the "infant industry" stage, but who still rely on help from the people's tax dollars... America's self-supporting railroads pay all their own costs of doing business. And that is good news for "George."

For after all, who is this fellow "George" who is building and maintaining the highways, waterways and airways that other carriers use as a "place of business" for private gain? He is every taxpayer in America. "George" is... you!

But you don't do it for us, "George." The Southern Railway pays its own way... in the time-tested, traditional American way. It isn't easy... especially when we have to compete for business with subsidized carriers. But it's easier on you and your pocketbook, "George"! And it's better for our country, too. Because in the long run, private industries... like private citizens... must be independently self-reliant if America's greatness is to endure.

Historical Society

tions bear messages that the future will need. Many of these have been allowed to go to ruin before the inscriptions on the stones had been recorded in some safe place. Not so long ago an estate could be settled because of a name and date found on a partially buried grave stone. Family Bibles are sometimes discarded with little regard for the births, marriages and deaths recorded in them.

There are many people throughout the county who are aware of the great wealth of information that is being lost to the future, and they are making an effort to help preserve facts, legends and folk-lore of Boone County.

With this in mind a Boone County Historical Society is proposed. A meeting has been planned for Friday, February 17th at the Florence Town Hall at 8:00 p.m. Everyone who is interested in knowing more about Boone County or who is willing to pass along some of his knowledge of the county, is invited to attend.

Do you have some article of historic value, such as an old history, a family Bible, a newspaper clipping, a relic with historic connection? Bring it along so that others may see it. Come prepared to tell some little-known story from out of the past. The teller of the best tale will be awarded a prize.

M.Y.F. Sub-District Meeting

The Sub-District meeting was held at Williamstown January 23rd. The program on the subject of "Faith" was given by Fairmount.

A business meeting was held with Mattie Miller as presiding officer. The total attendance was eighty-seven.

The attendance at mid-winter Institute, Grace Methodist Church of Newport, on January 27, in co-operation with two other M.Y.F. Sub-Districts, urged by President and Counselor, Rev. V. V. Hill.

Our next meeting is to be held at Big Bone, which is a part of Boone County Parish. This program will feature magic acts, to be given by Rev. W. E. Garriott, who is pastor of Grace Church, Newport. We should all try to attend.

Uncle Sam Says

You are now at the half-way mark of this 20th Century. The past 49 years have witnessed momentous strides in science, medicine, engineering, in short, all phases of human endeavor. These have provided unlimited opportunities for my nephews and nieces, with openings galore for the practice of their skills and inventiveness. In addition, your government offers a simple, safe and sure method which insures future security for home and family through the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds. By enrolling now for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank, you will receive $4 for every $5 in ten short years. Make the 1950's your goal for that future security.

Invest every possible penny in U. S. Savings Bonds, then every $5 you plant today will yield $4 in 1960. Bonds are just as important a part of a well-managed farm as is land, livestock or machinery. With U. S. Savings Bonds, your financial reserves are in the safest possible form and readily available. Your bank offers a simple Bond-A-Month Plan for your convenience.

...to BETTER LIVING!

PROBABLY no other man in history did more to raise living standards in his lifetime than Thomas Alva Edison.

Through his invention of the incandescent lamp and his many other discoveries in the field of electricity, Edison brought better light and better electrical living to all the world.

Today, electricity is serving more people in more ways at lower cost than ever before. You have only to imagine life without electric service to realize what Edison's achievements have meant to mankind.

Small wonder then that Edison lives on in the hearts and minds of a grateful humanity. His genius has made life brighter and work lighter for everyone.

James T. Cheeseman Killed Early Sunday

In Auto Accident Near Nicholson

James Thomas Cheeseman, a 31-year-old truck driver of Walton, was killed instantly early Sunday morning when an automobile in which he was attempting to pass another car turned over in a ditch on the Walton-Nicholson Highway, about 3/4 mile from Nicholson, Kenton County police reported.

Mrs. Tressa Riffe, Kenton County coroner, said that Cheeseman died of a crushed skull and internal injuries. She added that he was pinned beneath the machine, with his head pressed between the body of the car and one of the doors.

The driver of the automobile, Cheeseman was trying to pass, Robert Bell, 17, of 1225 Banklick St., Covington, was said by police to have been cited on a technical charge of manslaughter.

The coroner said that three other occupants of the Cheeseman car suffered no serious injuries. One, Charles C. Richardson, 28, of Burlington, a cousin of the driver, received a cut over his eye. The other two passengers, Gene Markersberry, 18, and Roland Markersberry, 17, of near Crittenden, were uninjured.

Cheeseman is survived by his widow, Mrs. Grace Morris Cheeseman; a son, James Cheeseman, Jr.; and a daughter, Jo Ann Cheeseman; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cheeseman, Walton; four brothers, John, Robert, Morris and Ray Cheeseman, and three sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Collins and Miss Helen and Tillie Cheeseman, all of this county.

The Rev. Burton Garrett officiated at funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Walton Baptist Church. Burial was in the Independence Cemetery.

Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Walton, was in charge of arrangements.

Miss Geneva Armstrong of Independence, was united in marriage to Mr. Mason Schadler, Saturday, February 11th at the home of Rev. R. F. DeMolisey in Walton. Mrs. Palmer is a sister of the bride.

Their many friends wish them a long and happy life together.

Three Florence Men Arrested On Charge Of Breaking-Entering

Two Boone County robberies were solved this week with the arrest of three young men by Boone County Sheriff Wendell Easton.

One of the trio, Sheriff Easton said, had confessed to the burglary of the Burlington International Harvester Store near Burlington on Feb. 4th. He registered, according to Mr. Easton, as Norman Stephens, 19, of Florence, and is being held in the Burlington Jail under $2,000 bond on a charge of breaking and entering.

It will be recalled that the break-in at the International Harvester store resulted in the theft of $344 in addition to a $20 toaster and an electric iron worth $12.

The two other men arrested were said by Sheriff Easton to have admitted robbing a camp near Rabbit Hash belonging to George Betz of Covington.

The men are charged with breaking and entering and like Stephens, are being held in Burlington Jail under $2,000 bond for the April term of Boone County Circuit Court. They were listed by Sheriff Easton as Kenny Bradshaw, 22, and Jess Miller, 30, both of Florence.

Sheriff Easton added that both had confessed after questioning by Wm. P. McEvoy, Boone County Attorney. Deputy Sheriff Byron Kilmann of Boone County and State Troopers Robert Gordon and Renaker Miller participated in the arrests.

No clues of any kind were left in the International Harvester store burglary, but Sheriff Easton heard of a change had been scattered on the road in an automobile accident, the same night, near Pleasure Isle on Madison Pike, Kenton County.

A bag full of nickels had been stolen in the International Harvester burglary and Sheriff Easton quietly made some inquiries. He observed also that the story of the wreck had not been reported to Kenton County Police.

All the threads of evidence, the Sheriff said, pointed to Stephens, who was recognized as he returned to the scene of the accident to pick up some of the money scattered on the highway.

Of the proceeds of the robbery about $70 in cash together with the toaster and the electric iron were recovered. A shotgun was recovered in the Rabbit Hash robbery, though several cases of beer, a pony jacket and some field glasses have not been located.

Large Auction Held

One of the largest crowds to attend an auction around here for a long time was present at the All-nutt and Cox sale at Independence, last Saturday. Everything brought a good price. The sale was conducted by the late F. Johnson Auction Co., who wishes to thank everyone coming out and making this sale a success.

Baptist WMS to Meet

Verona Community Club to Meet

Monday; Movies, Guest Speakers

The Verona Community Club will meet Monday, February 20 at eight o'clock in the Verona school building, all members are urged to be present. Also they are asked to bring anyone interested in wild life conservation, as there will be wild life movies shown by a representative of the Sports Affair magazine. In addition to the wild life movies the program will feature guest speakers from the Fifth District Federation of Sportsmen. Club members will also hear Dr. Boltz, general manager of this district, and Clarence Craig, Vice President of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen. Stanley Shelton, District Supervisor, will represent the State Wild Life Conservation Department and John Murphy, President of the Fifth District Federation of Kentucky Sportsmen, will be making his first appearance at the Community Club, and along with the rest of the sportsmen mentioned, will be glad to meet personally all of the club members who can possibly attend.

Club House Project

Other important business expected to come up at this meeting will be of great interest to persons living in this community regardless of whether they are club members or not. For some time several club members have been discussing ways and means of building a club house. At the last meeting considerable interest was shown in the possibility of building a type of club house just across from the school building that would also serve as a gymnasium for the Verona Grade School. At present they have no play room due to inclement weather. The small space used for that purpose in years gone by is now used as a lunchroom. A physical education program for grade school children is considered highly important by all leading educational authorities. The present facilities at the Verona school will not permit much in the way of supervised physical education, other than outdoor activities when the weather permits. By the time a boy graduates from the eighth grade at Verona and enters High School at Walton, he should be well on his way toward mastering some of the fundamentals of basketball. If he is expected to compete on even terms with boys of his own age. Lacking this much needed experience gained in supervised grade school physical (Continued on Page 7)

Walton Cagers Win Two, Have Best Win Record in N. Ky., 18-3

By defeating Burlington and Hebron the past week the Walton-Verona Bears have latched onto the crown in the Boone County Conference for this season, and also have the best win and lost record of any team in Northern Kentucky, which include wins over Hazard, Bellevue, Simon-Kenton, Beechwood and a 1-point loss to Owensville, which is rated 6th.

The locals went to Burlington last Friday, and without the services of Pike Vest, who was injured during practice last Thursday, found the going a bit tough—working against a zone defense. However, the locals were in front all the way, leading at the first quarter 11-9; at the half 24-19; third quarter 42-8, and as the game sounded 51-49. Johnny Maddox topped Walton scorers with 17 points, and Cleek and Cheeseman added 15 each.

Walton-Verona scored its fifth victory without a defeat in the Boone County Conference by downing the Hebron Cardinals, 43-33, Tuesday night at Hebron.

The Bears were held to a 11-10 margin in the first period, but spurted to a 32-19 lead at half-time. The third period was a defensive affair, with the winners scoring six points, while the losers got four, for a period score of 22-23. In the final period the Cats outscored the Cardinals 14-10.

Walton also copped the preliminary contest by downing Hebron's reserves 28-22.

Interest Shown In Many Parts Of County Over Historical Society

Last week an article was printed suggesting that there was sufficient interest in the history and folklore of Boone County to justify the formation of a Boone County Historical Society.

Reports during the past week indicate that there is interest in many parts of the county and a number of persons have indicated their intention to attend the meeting at the Florence Town Hall, Friday, Feb. 17 at 8:00 p. m.

One gentleman tells that his family has tired of hearing his stories of the glorious past and that he plans to be present in hope that someone will be willing to listen to him.

These stories are the history of Boone county. They are being lost and before long we will know nothing of the pioneers who fought, bled, and died in carving our homes out of the wilderness.

It is reported that there is a Winston graveyard in the county and that these Winston are connected with Winston Churchill's family. This report should be investigated, the graveyard located and the facts recorded.

A Geologist from Cincinnati has offered to come out some time to talk to the group about the geologic history of the area and of the animals living here before the glacial invasion.

Do you know about Hangman's Tree? Do you have any copies of old Boone county newspapers? Be present at the meeting Friday. You will enjoy the evening.

Coiffure Wins Again

Masonic Meet Feb. 23

The regular meeting of Walton Lodge, No. 719, F. & A. M., will be held on Thursday, February 23 in the Masonic Hall. All members are urged to be present as plans will have to be completed for the District meeting to be held here March 24th in the Walton High School gym.

Red Cross Meeting At Florence On February 22

On Wednesday evening, February 22nd, the Boone County Chapter of American Red Cross and the Florence P. T. A. will join in sponsoring a jitty supper and an evening of entertainment. This event will take place at the dinner held annually by the Red Cross.

A short business meeting at 6:30 will be followed by the supper at 7:00 p. m. Immediately after supper an interesting and entertaining program will be presented.

E. E. Newman, Lockmaster at Dam 38, will give an address, "What Red Cross Has Done On the Ohio River During Floods." Music will include numbers by the choir of the Burlington Baptist Church, a group from Florence, instrumental numbers and a vocal trio, Mary Fresser, Vera D. Scott and Howard D. Blose, pupils of Dean Blose.

Mr. Newman is 1950 Food Chairman for the annual Red Cross Food Drive, which opens March 1st. He will announce preneed tickets for a later issue of the Advertiser. Rev. Roy Johnson of Burlington, is chairman of church activities, and ministers of the county will participate.

Plan now to enjoy a good supper and assist the Florence P. T. A. in their efforts on behalf of the school. Enjoy the program following. Your only cost will be in evening meal and you will be lending your support to two worthy organizations.

The Rices Have A Son

Mr. and Mrs. Ward R. Rice (the former Goldie Robbins) are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a 6-lb., 5-oz. son at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Monday, Feb. 14. This was a birthday present for Mrs. Rice, a birthday being her 44th date also.

The little one will be named Ward Richard. Both mother and son are doing nicely.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Robbins of Florence, and the paternal grandfather is M. B. Rice of Pichazo, Ariz.

M. J. Belew to Address NFLA Annual Meeting

M. J. Belew, farmer and educator, will speak at the annual meeting of the National Farm Loan Association, according to Carl Sheriff, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Belew will talk on "Giants in the Land."

The meeting will be held in the Courthouse at Williamson, beginning at 1:00 o'clock, fast time, on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 23rd.

Dividend checks will be distributed to members at the meeting. Two directors will be elected to succeed Chris H. Beck, Kenton County, and A. J. McNeese, Pendleton County, whose terms expire.

Upon adjournment of the meeting, refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

Fight for Freedom

Lesson for February 19, 1950.

THERE ARE TWO KINDS of problems with living things. One is the kind of problem caused by its growing too fast; the other is the problem caused by not growing fast enough. The early church had mostly the first kind of problem, at any rate it was taking in a lot of members.

It is no secret that in the Masonic order there are 33 degrees. It is not possible for a new member to be taken right into the 33rd degree the first night. Everybody has to go through the lower degrees which are called the Blue Lodge. Now many persons in that early church thought of the Jewish faith as a sort of Christian Blue Lodge.

All the very earliest Christians had been members of that lodge; why shouldn't every one else be the same? So when Paul and Barnabas came back from that historic missionary tour of Cyprus and points north, telling about the large number of new Christians, these old-style Christians shook their heads.

Paul was by-passing the Blue Lodge; he was taking in members who had not gone through the proper preliminaries, the first degrees.

What Makes a Man A Christian?

PAUL KNEW a real Christian when he saw one. So did Barnabas. And the two of them knew, right down in their souls, that they had seen real conversions, genuine cases of persons coming out of pagan darkness into Christian light, without being Jews at all, even for five seconds.

The vital question was simply this: What makes a Christian? The old-style Christians, who had been Jews themselves and still were, for all their Christian faith, said: Unless you are circumcised and keep all the laws of Moses, you cannot be saved—you cannot even begin to be a Christian. Paul and Barnabas—not alone, but as spokesmen for many others in the church—said: You are saved by faith.

The Jerusalem Christian said: Yes, you are saved by faith, AND by keeping the law of Moses. Paul said: you are saved by faith, period.

How They Settled It

THE WAY that problem was settled is a model for all Christian churches with problems on their hands. First of all, the argument was brought out into the open; it was not a whispering campaign. Second, it was settled after giving both sides plenty of opportunity for full discussion in public. Third, it was settled not informally but by a church council, a group of representative leaders, not by a simple majority vote of all church members indiscriminately. Fourth, it was settled (as the reader of Acts 15 may see) by appeals to fact and to Scripture.

Finally, once the leaders had made up their minds, the church at large accepted their decision promptly, without further hickering. This has been the pattern for the Christian church ever since, though alas! it has not always been followed.

There would have been fewer church splits if the example of the early church had been more seriously taken.

Faith and Obedience

ESSENTIALLY, that first great church council decided on the side of Paul and Barnabas. But they did not throw the Old Testament overboard. The moral law was as good as it ever was. But the council showed, once and for all, the true relations between Christian faith and obedience to the law of God.

There is just one doorway to the Father's house, the doorway of faith. We do not have to keep the law of Moses, or any set of laws, first. We are saved BY obedience.

We are not saved FROM obedience. But we are saved FOR obedience. A Christian's obedience to God is not a way of earning God's good-will. It is a grateful response to God's grace. And that makes all the difference in the world.

THE LION'S SHARE

The fellow who can roar the loudest and bite the hardest usually gets what he wants. That's the way it is in the animal kingdom, and sometimes the system creeps into man's world too!

Most of us have too much religious awareness to believe that such a system is the best one. We would rather live in a world in which kindness and peace and unselfishness were the rule.

Our Churches can help us build such a world. They can turn our religious awareness into spiritual growth.

On Sunday morning, the man in the armchair knows just as well as the man in the pew what is wrong with the world. But the man in the pew will be busy doing something about it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. Why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) children's souls. (2) For his own soul. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Bible duty.

Kentuckians would have been proud the other day to see the head table at the dinner given President Truman by the Washington Radio Correspondents Association. Kentuckians had places of honor right next to the chief executive.

Seated at the side of the President was the second citizen of the land, Vice President Barkley. On the other side of the President was Justice Stanley Reed of Maysville. And acting as host was Bill McAndrew, formerly of Covington, who is soon to be elected president of the correspondent's association.

Hope vs. Barkley

Bob Hope was the master of ceremonies during the entertainment and he and the Vice President kept the audience in an uproar with their exchanges. Hope told the crowd that he knew the Vice President was still in love because he had seen him smile at a Republican.

A little later, Hope introduced a magician who promptly pulled a rabbit out of a hat.

"I had a call this afternoon from the Republican National Committee," the magician announced. "They want me to pull an elephant out of a hole."

Barkley vs. Wherry
Senator Wherry, Republican leader in the Senate, also exchanged barbs with the Veep. But the Vice President scoffed when he heard about a Kentucky farmer who had an old clock to a friend.

The farmer told the purchaser that when the hands of the clock point to twelve and it strikes two, it is really half past four.

"And that," said the Vice President, "illustrates how confused the opposition can get."

Others There

A lot of other Kentuckians were on hand. There was Colonel William Arbogast of Ludlow, an AP newsman; Rep. Tom Underwood of Lexington; Paul Porter of Winchester; Happy Chandler, Emory Frazier of Whitesburg, clerk of the Senate; William Vaughn of Glasgow, aide to the Veep; Victor Sholls of WHAS, Morgan Beatty, formerly of Danville; Julian Goodman, an NBC newsman whose home is in Glasgow, and Joseph Callahan of Bellevue, Sergeant at Arms of the Lower House.

ROAD CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT UK

A statewide conference of all persons interested in the construction and maintenance of roads and streets will be held at the University of Kentucky, March 2 and 3, under auspices of the U. K. College of Engineering and the Kentucky Department of Highways. Purpose of the conference, inaugurated last year by the sponsoring organizations, is to bring together state, county and city engineers and officials, contractors and others interested in highway and city street construction. The program features addresses by authorities in every phase of design, construction and maintenance.

education he soon loses interest in trying to make the team because he himself realizes he is so far behind the other boys of his own age. This will also tend to lessen interest in the entire school career of many boys, and could possibly be the basic reason for dropping out of school entirely.

In the beginning, the Community Club did not expect to build a building large enough to provide a basketball court, however, if a reasonable amount of rent could be paid by the school board each year, plus what would be donated by the Community Club it is entirely possible. This proposal will be presented to the school board in due time and discussed in detail. Favorable consideration has already been indicated by several board members in a preliminary discussion. The matter was brought up at their last meeting.

Public Invited

A large crowd is expected to attend this fine program, as outlined above, and the Community Club is highly honored in being able to present free of charge, a program of this type. The meeting will start promptly at eight o'clock, and the public is cordially invited.

6,575 STUDENTS ENROLL AT UK

At the close of the regular registration period last week, second semester enrollment at the University of Kentucky stood at 6,575, according to an announcement by University Registrar Lee Sprowles. Breakdown of the mid-year enrollment shows 6,140 students attending classes on the Lexington campus, 204 at the College of Pharmacy in Louisville, and 231 at the Northern Extension Center in Covington. Late registration is expected to push final enrollment near the 7,000 mark, Dr. Sprowles said.

85th ANNIVERSARY

The University of Kentucky will observe its 85th birthday February 22 with the formal dedication of its new $1,500,000 Fine Arts building, the first new classroom building constructed on its campus since the war. Plans have been completed for a week-long program dedicated to the fine arts—music, art and drama—and emphasizing the important contributions Kentuckians have made in these fields. Daily programs featuring University artists and writers as well as out-of-state visitors prominent in literary, music and art circles have been scheduled.

Continental Styling, Large Glass Area, Padded Instrument Panel, And New Engine Mark Advanced Design

Kaiser-Frazer Corp. today presented the completely new line of 1951 Kaiser automobiles—all new from bumper to bumper and from road to roof.

First of three all-new lines to be marketed this year by Kaiser-Frazer to compete in every major price range in 21 body styles, the 1951 Kaiser models are distinctively styled in custom-built Continental fashion.

New Kaiser styling and functional "firsts" offer such features and innovations as 'control tower' vision, with larger passenger car glass area than any other sedan; a new Kaiser "Supersonic" 115-horsepower high torque engine; balanced body and chassis design combining light weight with extraordinary structural strength; a low, 60-inch profile with the center of gravity cradled below the line; the industry's first full-padded crash absorbing instrument panel, and new livable room interiors with lounge-type seats.

A well-balanced blending of body and chassis has given the new models, exceptional headroom, legroom and ease of entry, without resort to depressed floor construction or other design compromises.

The 1951 Kaisers are offered in 12 body types—Special and DeLuxe four-door sedans, two-door sedans, club coupes, business coupes, and two and four-door Traveler utility sedans—each with a customer's choice of conventional drive, overdrive or Hydramatic.

Edgar F. Kaiser, president, described the new Kaiser line as Kaiser-Frazer's answer to "public desire for a truly modern, safety-styled automobile . . . a car balanced in every detail without being radical in any . . . the car of tomorrow, today."

Kaiser said that the 1951 line is the result of nearly five years of creative engineering by K-F styling, body, engine and chassis designers.

Unmistakable Continental styling touches are apparent in the new automobile. They are evident in the "sweetheart curves" in the roof at the top centers of the windshield and rear window, and in the "gull-wing" dips which simulate rear fender lines.

Like-wise of Continental flavor is the "single roll" design of the body, which curves in an unbroken line from base to window level. There is a slight down-sweep to both front and rear fenders, with the overall flowing design theme carried out in the lines of the "cascade" back.

Another identifying note is a protective chrome trim panel, or rub rail, which extends at bumper level for the entire length of the car.

The 3,541-square-inch safety glass area, in addition to providing unmatched vision, also offers the advantages of aerodynamic design. The windshield, which sweeps back at a 51.5 degree angle, presents a total area of 1,096 square inches—by far the largest of any sedan.

The windshield posts, which are rigid structural members of the all-steel body, are set well back from the driver's lateral range of vision. Slimmest in the industry, the slender posts virtually eliminate a "blind spot" particularly hazardous in city driving.

The broad, 1,000-square-inch rear window curves in harmony with the lines of the cascade back, thus contributing to greater all-around vision and reduced wind "drag." New type mounting of the side glass, nearly flush with the exterior body panels, effectively curbs wind noise.

Blending of chassis and body design has resulted in two "plus" performance factors. One is an unusually short turning radius which permits the driver to maneuver the car in a tight circle. The other is exceptional clearance provided for vertical travel or "bounce" of wheels when the car is driven over rough roads.

Safety and ease of handling also stem from the design of the new x-type frame, which acts as a skid in protecting the engine and vital underbody parts from damage.

Other advances include oversize "jumbo" brakes nearly double the efficiency and life of that of the average of the industry; new "Tru-Line" center-point steering with "lock-socket" linkage; new springing which curbs side sway and "squat" and "dip" in starts and stops; new pistol-grip hand brake conveniently located next to the ignition switch; high capacity fresh air conditioning with defrosting across the entire windshield; single-key ignition and lock system; customer-tailored front seat location with an adjustable range of seven inches, as compared to the industry's average of four; freeze-proof door locks and door latches effective against accidental opening, and "tumble-home" doors.

An exclusive Kaiser convenience feature is the "tuck-away" tire well in the spacious trunk, where the spare tire is recessed out of sight and out of the way for scuff-proof luggage storage. When in place, the tire well cover is an integral part of the floor.

New also is the 115 h. p. Kaiser "Supersonic" engine offered for the first time in K-F's 1951 models. The Supersonic is smoother, quieter and more powerful than any previous K-F engine, with substantially better acceleration and fuel economy.

Among the features contributing to its efficiency are a high-capacity sealed cooling system; precision balanced pistons with a flash chrome upper ring; center-of-gravity type engine mounting; a 100 per cent counterbalanced crankshaft; a hydraulic damper; extra rigid block, and new "mushroom" fanpots.

"Our dealers," Mr. Kaiser stated, "are the only new car dealers in America who will have absolutely new 1951 automobiles, with styling and engineering features years ahead of competition. With three new lines of merchandise created to fit every pocket book, Kaiser-Frazer is in a position to make an aggressive bid for a leading place in the industry."

District Census Office Established in the Newport Finance Bldg.

Establishment of a district office for the 17th Decennial Census of the United States in Newport, was announced today by William J. Bornhorst, Census District Supervisor for the Fifth Congressional District. The Census District office is located in the Finance Bldg., 4th and York Sts. The phone number is AX121 1812.

Mr. Bornhorst states that preliminary work on the 1950 Census will begin in April, will begin immediately. This includes organization of the district office, conducting public relations, interviewing and testing applicants for jobs as enumerators. The territory included in the Census District is comprised of the counties of Boone, Campbell, Grant, Gallatin, Kenton, Oldham, Pendleton and Trimble. Enumeration districts will be established for each of these counties and for sections of the larger communities in each county. Approximately 225 enumerators will be employed to take the 1950 Census in this area.

These enumerators will make the house-to-house calls in the work of collecting official Census information regarding the population and housing in urban areas and, additionally, agricultural activities in the rural areas.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States, be in good physical health and of excellent character, and between the ages of 21 to 65. Applicants with veteran preference who meet those requirements will be given priority over nonveteran applicants.

Applicants for enumerator jobs in rural areas must have an automobile available in good operating condition. The method of payment will provide for the cost of operating cars on official Census business.

Most of the enumerators will be employed for a period of from two to four weeks. They will be expected to complete their work within a limited period of time without regard to the customary number of hours worked each day or week. Evening work will be necessary in order to reach occupants of dwellings who are away during daytime calls.

World Day of Prayer, Friday

Community House at Oak Island Scene of Enjoyable Meeting

A rather unique pot-luck supper was enjoyed by some 45 people last Saturday at the Oak Island community house. The occasion was a sort of homecoming for a number of people who had attended school there.

This community house was originally a Kenton County District school building, the successor to an old log structure which was the first school house built in the locality. The present building was erected about 1870 and was used for a school until the Piner Consolidated was built about 25 years ago. The old school was later sold to the Oak Island Baptist Church by the County School Board and is now used as an overflow Sunday school room and a meeting place for the Farmers' Club and the Homemakers.

This was a fitting place for the supper, since 27 of those attending the party had been pupils of the Oak Island school. It was here that many friendships were formed, some of which have survived across the years. These were renewed and strengthened around the table where everyone enjoyed some excellent food. This included roast turkey and beef, dressing, fried chicken, baked macaroni, potatoes, beans, a variety of salads, relishes, pies and cakes, hot rolls, tea, coffee and soft drinks.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keene, Mrs. Anna Barberick, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Stephens, Mrs. Frank Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reckert, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Barberick, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Northcutt, Mr. Ray Beckett, Mr. and Mrs. James Beckett, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Reckert, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Taylor, Misses Elma Taylor, Mary Stephens, Neil Nelthoff, Chris Beck, Leo Beck, C. A. Jackson, Warren VanHorn, Bobby Northcutt, Donal Keeney, Claude Taylor, Jr. and John W. Beckett.

We feel that the time between 6:30 and 11:00 was well spent, since we accomplished our purpose—spent an evening with friends of former years in such an enjoyable way that we think this will prove to be the beginning of an occasional "get-together" for the maintaining of those friendships, which will enrich each of our lives. We are all looking forward to the next time, when we hope to have better weather and a larger group—Pub. Chm.

WMS Hears Former Chaplain

The Walton Baptist W. M. S. met at the church last Thursday for the regular monthly meeting. After the business session, a delicious covered dish lunch was served.

After lunch Rev. Robert Connelley gave an inspiring message. He was a Chaplain in the Army during the war and his work as Chaplain took him to all our Mission fields in the South Pacific and the Far East. He thrilled our hearts as he told of his experiences as a Chaplain, who was a real Missionary to all the natives wherever he went, also winning many of our soldiers to Christ.

Florence and Crittenden Are Latest Victims of The Bearcats of W-V

The W-V Bearcats continued a long victory row the past week, winning two more basketball games, to bring their season's record to 20 wins and 3 losses. Last Friday night, on the home floor, they defeated Boone County Conference victory, and during this week, they mauled Crittenden 68-51, with all hands getting to play.

Tuesday's game saw the return to action of Dike Vest, who has been sidelined for about two weeks with an injured ankle, sustained during a practice session.

In the Florence fray, Walton led throughout, being in front 18-13 at the end of the first quarter; 35-21 at the half, and 47-32 at the third period.

Against Crittenden, the locals took a 27-10 lead in the first quarter and were never headed, being in front 37-25 at the half, and 53-36 at the close of the third quarter.

In these past two encounters the Bears looked pretty sharp at times, and at others didn't look so good. But generally the locals are playing a good brand of ball and should be troublesome for any team they meet during the coming tournament—and a large share of the credit for the showing the Cats have made this year can be placed on the shoulders of Charlie Hayes, their coach. It seems he has learned a lot during the past year and his knowledge is paying dividends. We think he deserves a little pat on the back—how about it?

INDEPENDENCE

Sandford Lee Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Roberts of Independence, died Tuesday of last week in Booth Hospital. The funeral services were held at the Swindler funeral home, Independence, Thursday. He was only 27 years of age, but Hodges disease worked fast to take him away. He was a very popular, intellectual young man. The local Masonic lodge had recently installed him as Worshipful Master. His friends were many, as indicated by the wails of the two rooms of the funeral parlor being banked with flowers. The burial was made at Erlanger. The sympathy of the community is extended to the family.

The W. M. U. of the Independence Baptist Church will hold their Week of Prayer program at the church on Tuesday, February 28 and Friday, March 3 at 11:30 a. m. All women of the church are urged to be present and to eat before they come, as no time will be taken for lunch. It is desired that the entire time be given to prayer and study.

Mrs. Wiley E. Sims is home from the Jewish Hospital and doing very well after a major operation.

Billy Collins, Junior, has been down with the influenza, but is better.

Clifford Lipscomb, who has been suffering from sciatic rheumatism, is down again.

The local department ambulance was again last week to the home of Walter Beck, a farmer on Petty Road. He was found dead with a pistol wound in his heart and in his temple. His wife reported that her husband had been in poor health. The coroner pronounced it suicide. This father leaves five children from the age of seven to college age. The son was taking a course at U. K. The funeral was held in the Swindler funeral home at Independence and burial was at Alexandria. The community extends sympathy to the family.

Socialism won in New York state in a recent Senatorial election. The issue was defined as "Dictatorship under the 'Welfare State' versus the 'American' form of government." Dictatorship, i. e. the Welfare State won. Bible news flashes of December 1949, issue, make this comment: "It is getting so no one can be elected any more except the fellow who promises to take from the 'producer' all he earns and has and give it to the shiftless, squandering 'parasites.'" People have sunk to a low level when they will sell their liberty for a free handout. Such people are "ripe" for dictatorship and will follow anybody, whether it be big Hitler and Stalins or their little imitators.

Marion Collins, Jr., of Flensburg, was looking quite happy last Saturday morning at his home in Silver Grove. He was a tolling mill worker. He leaves a home wife, twins of eleven, and one grown son.

Funeral services were held at the Silver Grove Baptist Church last Tuesday, with burial at Independence. Sympathy of the community is extended to the family.

The parsonage committee of the Independence Baptist Church has divided itself into teams of twos and are planning to visit the membership for a donation of cash. The committee is as follows: George Riley, chairman; Frank Cox, Alf B. Hymer, C. E. McGraw, E. B. Swinford, J. C. Armstrong, Tom Elam and Clyde McVey. George Riley has been doing a little preliminary work. He told one of his friends that he was coming out to see him but he said, "Oh, I do not have any money, don't come!" The Irish was not to be defeated and responded, "That doesn't make any difference, tie one of your old cows to a locust tree and I'll be out to see you!"

Much interest was taken in the messages of the two Home Missionaries, who visited the Independence Baptist Church last week. A book on missions is being taught each Sunday night from 7:00 to 7:30.

Which philosophy of government is better? Washington said, "It is impossible to rightly govern the world without God and the Bible." Lenin said, "Religion must be abolished! The best country is a Godless country. If religion will pass out quietly, our attitude will be one of benevolent tolerance, but if it resists, we will hasten its exit by violence, proportionate to its resistance."

Rev. A. B. Colvin, pastor of the South Side Baptist Church, Covington spoke to the Men's Brotherhood meeting last Tuesday night on the subject of "The Sunday School." A hot lunch supper was enjoyed before the meeting.

One of the members of the St. Cecilia Church reported that due to crowded quarters of their school, they are going to build a new home for the priest and use the present home for the teachers, thus relieving congestion in the church building.

Elmer Wayman of Richardson Road is critically ill with heart trouble.

Eugene Schadler and Miss Geneva Armstrong were married recently and have started housekeeping near the F. H. Daugherty home here. These are excellent young folk and congratulations are in order.

Last Sunday night our local fire department made a follow-up run about 9:30 to the Taylor Mill fire house. The fire was on Edes Road, but our department did not have to go into action.

Satan's Throne

Lesson for February 26, 1950

"I HOLD NO BRIEF for him" is a lawyer's expression often borrowed by other people. A lawyer who holds a brief for a man has been employed to represent him. It is his duty to present the man in the best light possible. Now we know about the early church at Corinth from two sources: Luke and Paul. The book of Acts was written, among other reasons, to show that the Christian church, far from being a subversive movement as its enemies claimed, was a benefit to the world. Of course this was Luke's purpose; he naturally omitted as much of the church's shortcomings as he could, and played up the good features.

Church with the Lid Off

Paul, on the other hand, writing to the church at Corinth (and to others as well), held no brief for them. He was not trying to praise them or to tell anybody how good they were.

He knew them intimately; he had indeed converted most of the members.

His letters to Corinth, from which our lesson gives a small sample, shows us a church "with the lid off."

Where Satan's Throne Is
YEARS AFTERWARD, another Christian writer said of another church that they lived "where Satan's throne is." You might almost have said the same thing of Corinth. It was a large commercial city; people from everywhere funneled into it. Like any city of this sort it had earned a reputation for wickedness of every kind—drink, liquor, gambling, women, cut-throat business, rotten politics—it was all there. Even in the easy-going Roman world, Corinth was notorious.

Corinth was a sort of man-made jungle, like our own great cities today. It made a sort of test case: If the church could succeed in Corinth it could succeed anywhere.

If the power of Christ could make new men and women out of the denizens of that great city, there was no jungle, man-made or nature-made, where Christ could not go. Can men and women be Christian in the midst of a non-Christian, even anti-Christian world?

Our Pagan World

PAUL'S ANSWER, of course, is Yes: on one condition. You must take your pattern for living from Jesus, not from the world around you. The big problem at Corinth, which included all other problems, was the fact that the Christians there were acting too much like the people outside the church. Christians must be different! Insisted Paul. This is not an echo of a bygone time.

Our own world is a new Corinth. Even into the remotest village, the most isolated farm, the world of our time pushes in, by radio, movies, magazines and papers and advertising, even by schools and clubs.

And it is a pagan world. Take the movies alone, that fertile source of most young people's ideas. Hollywood's idea of marriage—a temporary affair till boredom does us part; Hollywood's idea of a good time—liquor flowing free; Hollywood's idea of success—an immense house with an even bigger swimming pool.

Not that there are no good moving pictures; but in general what is made glamorous on a thousand screens is anything but a Christian world.

And Be Ye Separate

PAUL KNEW it is not practical to have no contact with evil. He would not approve of Christians going into monasteries where they would henceforth see none but top-grade saints. Christians have to live in the world, even if they live where Satan's throne is. But Christians ought to be different.

The world says: Drink makes no difference; men of distinction all do it. The Christian knows better: Christ's man of distinction will keep himself clean. The world says: Let yourself go, follow your impulses, look out for yourself. The Christian knows better: he is one bought with a price. We that are strong ought to help the weak and not to please ourselves. The world says: Do as other people do!

The simple faith of this child is written all over her beaming little face. The awed expression, the clasped hands, and the prayerful eyes show without a shadow of a doubt that this small girl has been taught truths of the Christian Faith.

Already she has been taken regularly to the services of the Church, habits which she will not likely break as she grows older. At night Mother tells her stories from the Bible, and at bedtime she kneels reverently to pray before she falls asleep.

A child with such training has been given the greatest insurance of happiness that parents can bestow. No matter what course her life may lead, she will always be able to rely upon her early teachings as her greatest source of comfort and direction.

Only by giving your children the benefit of Christian training can you hope to bless them with security and happiness in the future. It is never too early or too late to begin. Take your children to Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CONRAD HARDWARE

and this is going to be a great year. Just as the years we have left behind us while living in and around Walton. It is a small, country town, but I like it, don't you? We want you to visit Conrad Hardware this year every time you want to loaf or buy something or even borrow. We try to keep a good fire, plenty of seats, and lots of ice water. We, I mean Ray, Chick and Powers, do now and always try to give the best of service.

We have added a drill press to our work shop to drill holes in steel for you, as we carry flat, round and angle soft steel bars. We also have an electric pipe threading machine and carry all sizes of galvanized pipe and fittings, 1/4" to 2". Do you want to wire your barn or house or put in some extra floor plugs? We have all the material. Do you need some new window shades, any size? We cut them off for only a dime. You always need to replace the worn linoleum rug with a new one, either 9'x12', 12'x12' or 12'x15'. Every person on a rural road needs their name on the mail box. We will put it on one side for $1.00 or both sides for $1.75. This name plate is an aluminum strip with baked black enameled letters, to bolt on your box—or we will sell you a new box and put letters on it.

When you need a new range to cook on, we have some of the best. In electric it is Perfection and Gibson; in gas it is Perfection, Maytag and Westa; in kerosene it is Perfection, Boss or Quick Meal. When you need a coal range, always buy Knox Mealmaster, Brown or Red Mountain.

We have added a small line of farm tools, such as Cobey all-metal tractor mowers, Massey-Harris horse drawn disc harrow, rubber tired wagon tractor hitch, Massey-Harris, Bemis, Tiger and New Holland tobacco setters. Chicken raising is a profitable business this year with Jamesway oil and electric brooders; also those sanitary Jamesway feeders and fountains. If you raise chickens profitably, you have to keep them warm and have clean food for them. For those who do not want to work or do not have to, we have a good stock of fishing tackle, guns and rifles.

For the ladies, who will soon start housecleaning and redecorating, we have that good Bolce paint and enamel; also Floxotone casine water mix paint and that fine finish Interior Gloss paint for walls and woodwork. We also have Cincy and Wallwet wallpaper cleaner, Magic-Foam, Old English cleaning powder, and Sollox powdered cleanser. Do you need venetian blinds? We have stock sizes or we can measure your windows and have them made, very reasonably.

We cannot have everything for everyone's needs and wants, but we try to have the most of them, at reasonable prices, and try to give you a little extra service at a little or no charge. Come in and look around—we are always glad to have you whether you buy or not.

Crittenden Baptist Church to Celebrate Centennial March 5th

The Crittenden Baptist Church will celebrate its centennial on March 5. Several former pastors have been invited to take part in the day's activities, which will begin in the morning and continue through the afternoon and evening. The afternoon service will begin at 2:30, EST.

The church was organized March 2, 1850, in the Presbyterian Church. The Moderator of the council was David Lillard, who pastored Ten Mile Church for 40 years.

The 45 charter members were originally members of Mt. Zion and Walnut Hill churches.

The Crittenden Association was organized at the Crittenden Church on October 12, 1860. The pastor of the Crittenden Church, Martin Loomis, was elected the first moderator of the association, and the clerk of the Crittenden Church, Thomas Cunningham, was elected the first associational clerk.

The present building was erected in 1903, during the ministry of Dr. Samuel Adams. Sunday school rooms and other improvements were added in 1947.

Three preachers have been ordained by the church: J. M. Shelburn, 1896; Harold Seaver, in 1932, and Wendell Belew, in 1947.

The church, for several years, received $100 per year from the State Mission Board. In 1948, the total contributions of the church amounted to nearly $10,000.

A complete history of the church has been written by the pastor, Raymond Lawrence, and can be had by sending $1.00 to Fred Trump, Crittenden, Ky.

Fourteen Tax Hearing Conferees Named By Commissioner

Commissioner of Revenue H. Clyde Reeves has announced the appointment of fourteen tax hearing conferees to hear appeals from the county boards of tax supervisors on property assessments.

The hearing conferees will be: Boone, Kenton, Grant, Gallatin and Owen Counties, is James Ford of Owensboro, Ky.

These hearing conferees were authorized under an act of special legislative session of 1949. It is their purpose to give the taxpayer an opportunity to make his appeal and to be heard in his own county. This saves him the expense and inconvenience of a trip to Frankfort, which was required for appeals under the old law.

Any taxpayer who is dissatisfied with the assessment on his property after action of the county board of supervisors, may appeal to the State Tax Commission. This appeal must be made in writing and may be done by letter addressed to the Kentucky Tax Commission in Frankfort. The appeal must be accompanied by a certified copy of the assessment made by the county board. Such cases will be referred to the appropriate hearing conferee who will take the evidence and report it to the Kentucky Tax Commission for action.

Any taxpayer who wishes to appeal the action of the Kentucky Tax Commission may then take his case to the circuit court in his own county.

National 4-H Club Week Observance Set For March 4-12

"Better Living for a Better World" is the theme for National 4-H Club Week, this year. The dates for this event have been set for March 4 to 12 and during that week, Kenton County 4-H members and 4-H boys and girls all over the country, will be "getting set," with that theme in mind for another successful year of 4-H Club work. The theme is not just a high-sounding phrase to the Kenton County 4-H youngsters. It's a real practical motto for work and effort in their clubs, communities and in their daily lives.

Kenton County 4-H members in observing this special week, will have a window display in the Union Light, Heat and Power Co. building in Covington. Four-H posters will be displayed, radio programs will be given and special programs will be conducted in their clubs and communities.

The 4-H Club program provides opportunity for activity, adventure and achievement. Each 4-H member does one or more phases of project work, under supervision of the County Extension Agents and local volunteer leaders, that will demonstrate or teach better ways of homemaking and agriculture. Four-H boys and girls are practicing democratic procedures and developing in their 4-H clubs a deeper appreciation of life in the country and the democratic way of life.

There is opportunity now for my boys and girls in Kenton County, who wish to join the 4-H club, who are and principals are expressed in their club pledge.

I pledge—
My head to clearer thinking
My heart to greater loyalty
My hands to larger service
And my health to better living
For my club, my community and my country.

Lockmaster at Dam 38 Dies of A Heart Attack

Everett E. Newman, 48, one of the best-known lockmasters on the Ohio River, died last Wednesday night in St. Elizabeth Hospital, after being stricken with a heart attack while attending a Red Cross rally in Florence.

Lockmaster for 17 years at Dam 38, near Bellevue, he was chairman of the Red Cross fund-raising drive for 1949. He was master of ceremonies at the rally in Florence High school, but shortly after the meeting started, complained of pains and consulted a doctor. Death occurred at 11 p. m., after being taken to the hospital.

Mr. Newman was well known for his work in converting the Dam 38 reservation into a picnic area. He had been employed by the U. S. Engineers for 30 years.

Born in West Virginia, Newman was vice president of the American Federation of Government Employees Lodge 354, at Parkbank.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Ethel Newman, and three small children, Sharon, Robert and Daniel, who live in quarters on the dam reservation, he also leaves a son and daughter by a previous marriage, Charles and Mrs. Violet Fraithair and Mrs. Florence Horton of Sayler Park, Ind.

Funeral services were held Sunday at Bellevue, with the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Florence, in charge.

PLAN 4-H CLUB CAMP

Camp Ernst will be taken over by 4-H'ers from June 26 to 30, 1950. County and Home Agents met in Covington, February 24 to set up plans for the camp program this summer. Counties represented in this meeting were Boone, Campbell, Grant, Kenton, Owen and Pendleton.

Cornrobes were found in Livingston county for the first time in 1949.

Succeeds the Late Everett Newman

"Upon the death of Everett Newman, who was Chairman of the Red Cross Drive, I was asked to accept chairmanship for the completing of a job, well begun. I accepted in this way, because I believe in Red Cross, and second, because I want to complete a job begun by a good friend of mine, who looked forward to a great victory in the drive this year."

"I am urging every worker to put their best into the drive this year, and also asking the public to answer their visit with a worthy contribution. The Red Cross has and is doing a great work in rendering service to those in need. It is an agency of mercy to all that ask for help."

"I wish it were possible for me to visit every one of you in person, but we know that is impossible. So it is in this way that I am asking Boone County, one of the greatest in the State of Kentucky, to get in back of the drive as never before and make this year one of our best, for this worthy cause. Again I ask that you do your best."—R. A. Johnson.

"As publicity chairman of Boone County Red Cross it was my job to make public through the medium of the newspapers the appointment of Everett Newman as Fund Chairman of the 1950 Drive. It is now my task to try, in words, to express the great sense of loss and shock well experienced when we learned of Mr. Newman's untimely death."

"About fifty of us enjoyed dinner with Mr. Newman and heard him nominated and elected to the Board of Directors of this organization. We then assembled for a program he our enjoyment. During the program Mr. Newman became ill and quickly left to see a physician. Our memories of Mr. Newman are of the best, enjoyed a good fellowship with him, working in a worthy cause."

"Our heartfelt sympathy is extended Mrs. Newman and family. May you know we shall strive to live up to the example he set before us. Mr. Newman, long-time friend of Mr. Newman, knowing of the sincere effort he had made to have a successful drive, volunteered to take over this unfinished work. This is a fine tribute to Mr. Newman and we are grateful for such a man."

"May we all join Mr. Johnson in a special effort to complete this work and give him the support he deserves."—Pub. Chm.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Acts 19:1-20:15; Eph. 2:1-10
EPHESIAN READING: Isaiah 65:1-3

Base of Operations

Lesson for March 5, 1950

THERE IS NO RULE in the Bible forbidding Christians to have common sense. You are not supposed to lay aside your mind when you become a Christian. This has had many illustrations: let us take Ephesus for one. Put yourself, in imagination, back to the first Christian century. Ask yourself: Where can we start a church where it will do the most good? Where can we put a church that will spread out, one that is sure to have a daughter church? Where can we reach people in influence? Where can we locate a church where it is certain to be heard of?

As your eye ranged over a map of the Empire, you would have lighted on Ephesus as the very place. It was a true capital, not a merely political one.

Strategy was a master-stroke, selecting Ephesus as a base of operations. It made possible the rapid spread of the Christian faith into the province of Asia. The decision to plant a church there had been matched by other strategic decisions in Christian history since then. One of these was founding the church of Rome. That was an even greater city and capital than Ephesus, and it has lasted much longer.

If the Christian church had been content to be provincial, all right for the smaller towns but afraid to tackle the big ones, if the early church had feared to seat itself in Rome, the whole history of Europe would have been different. When the Roman Empire crumbled, as in time it did, the church rose on its ruins and took its place as the great civilizer of Europe, the strong force that kept a continent from decay for nearly a thousand years.

Our Ancestors FROM THE DAYS of the early Roman church there comes a well-known story which may be true. In the slave market at Rome the Pope saw some handsome small boys, whiter than the average Roman, for sale. Who are you? he asked. "Angli," they said—Angles, from far-off marshes along the North Sea. No, smiled the Pope, who was a bit of a punster, you are too good looking for that; "Non Angli sed Angeli," not Angles but Angels.

Anyway, the church did send some missionaries to far-away Angles and elsewhere in Northern Europe. It turned out to be another strategic base of operations. Eventually France and Germany and England and the other countries in that part of the world were converted to Christianity. The time came when those very nations took the lead in moving into the rest of the world, into the western hemisphere, "down under" to Australia, even into Africa. Where they went, they carried their religion with them.

Suppose the church had not thought of our ancestors as worth converting? Suppose all the colonizing movements of the 16th and following centuries had been waves of sheer pagans?

And Today? THE CHURCH has not always been smart. Sometimes we have missed the boat. There have been strategic centers we might have occupied—and did not. There was a time, for instance, when Russia, that mighty nation, was open to Christian teaching. Many who knew that country were saying about 1918 that it was possible to capture that land for Christ. But the Christian church was little interested. . . . and now whatever Christianity is there has to stay underground.

Farther east, our own General Marshall has been calling for missionaries to Japan, thousands of them. Japan is wide open to Gospel today as never before. But where are the missionaries? Going over in dribsels.

Whenever Christianity has seen a strategic point and taken it, future generations have been blessed; whenever we miss our chance, future generations will wonder how we could have been so blind.

Lifting the Smoke

Smokestacks are essential in an industrial age. Without them we would be choked and blinded by the fumes of our own factories. Our giant stacks lift the smoke where the breeze can blow it away.

Have you sometimes wished that someone would provide a kind of smokestack to lift the cloud that stifles our hopes and happiness?

Someone did!

His name was Jesus. And His gift to humanity was something which, in its original caudal form, was no more beautiful than a smokestack. It was a Cross!

He died on that Cross. But by His Sacrifice He made it the instrument of man's freedom from the cloud that man himself had made.

Our Churches worship Him, and teach the meaning of His Cross . . . lifting the smoke of sin from our lives.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

633 Acres SAT., MARCH 4 In 4 Tracts

The farm will be sold in the following tracts—will not be grouped (the acreage given is approximate, however, the survey was completed by engineer Feb. 28, and prospective buyers may see plaque; land staked and flagged):

TRACT NO. 1—Home tract, 375 acres, 3,000 feet of road frontage, beautiful 8-room country home with 3 halls, magnificent stairways, full basement, furnace, 2 porches. This is really an outstanding country home, all spacious rooms, well kept, workmanship of the best. GLENCOE

Mrs. Blanche Poland spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Liza Carlton.

The Father and Son banquet was well attended at the schoolhouse on Thursday evening, from the Baptist Church.

C. E. Perry, wife and son had a bad accident driving from Warsaw to Glencoe, when he was passed by a Greyhound bus, he gave too much rightofway, got off the highway, and when he got back on the road, was hit by a car. He is now in Booth Hospital.

It seems moving days are here again. A lot of changes being made. Mrs. M. Cooper has a real bad cold and we hope for her early recovery. Sympathy is extended the Scott family in the death of Dub Scott.

Deen Richards, who passed away suddenly last week. Sympathy is extended the family. J. D. Sutherland is improving slowly at his home here.

CONRAD HARDWARE

and this is going to be a great year, just as the years we have left behind us while living in and around Walton. It is a small, country town, but I like it, don't you? We want you to visit Conrad Hardware this year every time you want to loaf or buy something or even borrow. We try to keep a good fire, plenty of seats, and lots of ice water. We, I mean Ray, Chick and Powers, do now and always try to give the best of service.

We have added a drill press to our work shop to drill holes in steel for you, as we carry flat, round and angle soft steel bars. We also have an electric pipe threading machine and carry all sizes of galvanized pipe and fittings, 1/4" to 2". Do you want to wire your barn or house or put in some extra floor planks? We have all the material. Do you need some new window shades, any size? We cut them off for only a dime. You always need to replace the worn linoleum rug with a new one, either 9'x12', 12'x12' or 12'x15'. Every person on a rural route needs their name on the mail box. We will put it on one side for $1.00 or both sides for $1.75. This name plate is an aluminum strip with baked black enameled letters, to bolt on your box—or we will sell you a new box and put letters on it.

When you need a new range to cook on, we have some of the best. In electric it is Perfection and Gibson; in gas it is Perfection, Maytag and Vestar in kerosene it is Perfection. Boss or Quick Meal. When you need a coal range, always buy Knox Mealmaster, Brown or Red Mountain.

We have added a small line of farm tools, such as Cobey all-metal tractor manure spreader, Massey-Harris horse drawn manure spreader, Vulcan 12-16 horse drawn disc harrow, rubber tired wagon tractor hitch, Massey-Harris, Bemis, Tiger and New Holland tobacco setters. Chicken raising is a profitable business this year with Jamesway oil and electric brooders; also those sanitary Jamesway feeders and fountains. If you raise chickens profitably, you have to keep them warm and have clean food for them. For those who do not want to work, or do not have to, we have a good stock of fishing tackle, guns and rifles.

For the ladies, who will soon start housecleaning and redecorating, we have that good Bolex paints and enamels; also Flozonecaine water mix paint and that fine finish Interior Gloss paint for walls and woodwork. We also have Cincy and Wallwet wallpaper cleaner, Magic-Foam, Old English cleaning powder, and Solax powdered cleanser. Do you need venetian blinds? We have stock sizes or we can measure your windows and have them made, very reasonably.

We cannot have everything for everyone's needs and wants, but we try to have the most of them, at reasonable prices, and try to give you a little extra service at a little or no charge. Come in and look around—we are always glad to have you whether you buy or not.

"The Church Serving in a Rural Community," was the topic discussed by Rev. Vilas Hill, of the Boone County Parish, before members of the Happy Helpers class of the Walton Methodist Church, which was held recently in the home of Miss Louise Conrad.

The yearbook committee reported that the books would be ready for the March meeting, which is to be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Roberts. Miss Emma Jane Miller gave a report on the rug fund, however, quite a few more dollars are needed. She was appointed chairman of this committee. The class selected the type rug while they thought would be more serviceable and durable. The class is to be host to the District Methodist Men's Club on March 9th. Please make reservations with Rev. G. W. Hoffman or Mrs. Andrew Penn, who is general chairman for the supper. Mrs. C. O. Carlisle is chairman of the dining room.

Sunday School Meeting at Walton Baptist Church

Boone County Sunday Schools of the Baptist Church will meet at Walton Baptist Church, Monday evening, March 13 at 7:45. At the last meeting there were 271 present; help us to make three hundred, Monday night.

These meetings are proving to be a real blessing to the Sunday school in all the churches. It is an hour when we come together in a great fellowship meeting with great singing by all present, as well as special music. This is all prepared by Joe Rouse, of Verona. There is always a good inspirational message.

Wonder who will take that cup home this time? Big Bone did it again with 78 percent. What do you say if all the churches will bring a greater number than in the past and see if it can go your way. As of the past, so may it be Monday night. A great fellowship service with every church in the county represented, in great numbers.—Pub. Chm.

Sermon Topics Announced For Local Baptist Church

Sermon topics at the Walton Baptist Church for Sunday will be "The Miracles of Calvary," and "The Fountain of Youth." Many ask to day if miracles are still possible? Come and hear this subject discussed. Everyone would like to find the "Fountain of Youth." Many have spent years in looking for it. There is a fountain of youth to be found for every age. The Sunday school at our Sunday school invites you to study God's word, and our B. T. U. offers you an opportunity to train for Christian service. We have a group for every age. The Sunday school at Waltons last Sunday was 281—the goal was 310.

The ordinance of Baptism will be administered at the conclusion of the evening service, Sunday.

Lebanon Aid to Meet

Our Pastor has been with us six long years.

He has shared our joys and our tears. Have we been faithful as we ought to be? If we examine our hearts, I am sure we will see. We should give him our help and prayers, too. For let us remember, he is human, too. Let's try to do our best in the years that are ahead. Then when we each are called, we'll have nothing to dread.

Dayton and Dry Ridge, and after a stiff battle, Dayton was the winner 37-35. Newport and Walton-Verona came together next, and what was expected to be "the game" of the tournament, turned out to be pretty much of a rout of the Bearcats. The Wildcats, led by Moores, assumed a 17-13 advantage at the quarter and were never seriously threatened. At the intermission the Newporters were in front 36-21, and at the third quarter 49-37. In the closing period Newport outscored the losers 19-17, to win 68-54.

Moores led the Wildcats with 22 points, while Sheanshang added 13 and Knapp 15. Vest and Maddox scored 12 each for the Bearcats, and Cleeck had 11.

End Season With 24 Wins, 4 Losses

In many communities throughout the country the basketball season is over, and Walton-Verona can be included in this category. The Bearcats were not extended too greatly in winning the 34th District crown, taking the finals last Saturday night from Erlanger-Lloyd, but the Ninth Regional title Tuesday night at Newport. Public was a different story—but more of that later, the District comes first.

The District

Last Wednesday night at Simon Kenton's gym, the W-V Bearcats lowered the boom on St. Henry, to win 60-31, being in front all the way. Dike Vest tallied 15 points for the winners, and Don Rice added 10, to lead all scorers. Coach Hayes used his entire squad in this victory.

In the other opening-round game, at St. Henry, Burlington whopped Florence to the tune of 62-40. The score was tied at 20-20 at the half. Abdon and Jim Ryle led the attack for the Eagles, with 16 points each, while Roland was best for the losers with 19 tallies. Markesberry added 14 for the Knights.

Thursday night's games saw the Simon Kenton Pioneers out Hebron 54-37, at Simon Kenton, and Erlanger-Lloyd humble New Haven 83-30 at St. Henry's gym.

The Pioneers received unexpected opposition from the Cards, leading at the half only 22-20. High point men for the winners were Henzman and Irvin, who divided 21 markers. The losers were tops for Hebron with 8 tallies.

Erlanger used it's entire squad in downing the New Haven Tigers. The winners were on top all the way, the halftime score being 33-13. Five Juggernauts scored in double figures, with Johnson being high with 13, and Graham and Haven tallying 11 each. Cume led the attack for New Haven with 13 points.

The semi-finals on Friday night, brought about the defeat of Burlington at the hands of Erlanger, and the elimination of Simon Kenton by Walton.

At St. Henry, the Lloyd Juggernauts were never in trouble as they faced to a 11-6 lead in the first period and were never headed. The count at the half was 27-17 in favor of Erlanger. Burlington came out after the intermission and outscored Lloyd 12-11, but the quarter ended with the winners leading 38-29. The Juggs poured in 20 points during the fourth period to win 58-39. Jones registered about 20 points for Lloyd, to lead his team, and McBeir rattled the nets for 25 markers in the cause of Burlington.

At the Simon Kenton gym, the Pioneers battled the Cardinals and for the third time this season, it was the Haynesmen. W-V, took a 12-5 lead in the first period and were never headed, being in front 22-15 at the half; 37-27 at the close of the third period, and 50-33 as the game ended. Vest was top man for the winners with 17 points, followed closely by Layne Cheeseman, who registered 14. Gene Coppage had 15 points for the Pioneers to be top man.

The finals, Saturday night at the Simon Kenton hardwood, brought together the Lloyd Juggernauts and the Walton-Verona Bearcats. The game was close during the first half. Walton took a 2-point lead in the first quarter to lead 13-11 as the period ended. In the second frame each team tallied 15 points, for a halftime score of 28-26 in Walton's honor. The winners outscored their opponents 17-7, to lead at the close of the third quarter, 45-33. The final period was much like the third with the Cats again outscoring the Juggs, this time 20-13, to take the crown 65-46. Vest was again high for the winners with 20 points. John Maddox had 15, Johnson 11, and Cheeseman 10. Haven was best for Lloyd with 13 markers and Jones was next with 10.

The Regional

Walton-Verona Bearcats - 34th District Champions

Church Leadership

Lesson for March 12, 1950.

"WHAT'S in a name?" Different churches have many different names for the persons who hold office in them. But whatever the churches have had, few of them are about these names. The thing is more important than the name. All of us agree that churches do need organization. Some people would have us go back to the New Testament for our pattern of organization. We cannot quite do this, for one important reason. Where in the New Testament Dr. Foreman would you dig in to find the letters to Timothy and Titus as your guide? There you find bishops (overseers, superintendents) mentioned, also elders and deacons, but you do not find their duties laid down. Go back into the story of Acts and you will find a place where elders are first mentioned in the Christian church (11:30); go still farther back and you come to the first election of deacons (Acts 6). In your first Utopian Church, will you model it after the three-officer plan, or two, or one, or (going back before Acts 6) none at all? (Apostles, of course, are not now available. Scholars in most churches today are pretty well agreed that what we have in the New Testament is not a rigid pattern of organization, but rather certain principles on which any successful church must be built. Let us see what some of these are.

The Job and the Man
ALL CHURCHES are agreed on one point: A church must have leadership. What is everybody's business is nobody's business. Some one must draw up plans, think ahead. No organization in the world is self-starting and self-operating, not even the church of Christ. The early church knew this. But they elected officers only as the need for them arose. In Jerusalem there was not a deacon in the place until that emergency came up in the matter of relief.

In St. Paul's first missionary church (Acts 13, 14) he did not get the elders first, and then find churches for them. On the contrary, he founded the churches first and then appointed elders for them. It would be a good idea for a church today to take stock of its officers once in a while. Are they necessary? For example, do you elect a deacon to "take the place" of one who has moved away, or do you elect a deacon to a job that can't otherwise be done?

Sweetness No Substitute For Skill
NOT ALL CHRISTIANS are qualified to hold office in the church, and very few, if any, would be equally good in any office. A Sunday school superintendent, for example, might make a poor showing at a prayer-meeting talk. A man who can conduct a successful financial campaign and keep the church up to a high level of generosity the year round, may not be just the man to plan the educational program. A lovely sweet lady might turn out to be a stupid Madam Chairman.

Paul knew all this and in fact insisted on it. Each separate kind of job in the church calls for distinct qualifications. —Just being a good Christian was never enough to insure a man's (or a woman's) being a good officer.

Personality
AFTER ALL, however, personal character means more than technical skill. A man may have such flaws in his character that his influence does more harm than good, so that even if he is an accomplished musician, you still would not want him as "Minister of Music," or even as choir-leader.

A man whose own home is always at sixes and sevens (as Paul pointed out) is no one's candidate for any executive post in the church. A man who can't keep from quarreling in everyday life is no man to entrust with responsibility in the church.

A man of good character can, and will want to, learn the skills his job calls for; but a man of easy character just does not care. Be careful of the sort of man you elect to office, in church or out; for the rank and file are not going to rise above their leaders.

ONE GREAT HOUR of SHARING

These are days of many and serious world problems, which America cannot ignore. Cold war, strikes, revolution, conflict are the phrases that make today's headlines. Numerous are the theories advanced for solving these problems. Statesmen, economists, and diplomats have tried and failed to achieve their goal of world peace. But there is another force at work that promises greater success. This is the power of love, fellowship, and understanding—and it takes its banner under the name of Christianity.

On Sunday, March 12, Christians the nation over will gather together to pool their wealth, talents, and faith in ONE GREAT HOUR of SHARING. Only through such united efforts as this can the world come to know the peace that it desires.

Come to Church this Sunday morning and share with others the peace and security that you know will come from Christian living and Christian faith.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a schoolhouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. (4) For the sake of his soul, which needs his regular attendance and his regular reading of the Bible daily.

Just Wanted To Know

A rather smallish man was hailed into court charged with picking a man's pocket. The complainant was very near-sighted and didn't seem very sure of his facts. He couldn't positively identify the other man as the one who stole his watch.

"The judge, with the lack of evidence, was forced to discharge the alleged pickpocket. When the man stood there, as if he didn't comprehend the meaning of the justice's words, the judge repeated the words which dismissed him.

"All right," he said, "you're free to go. You may leave. You are judged not guilty. Go on."

The man still wasn't sure. "Does that mean," he asked, "that I can keep the watch?"

Gr-r!

Dentist's wife—"Have you been able to collect that bill Mr. Jones has owed you for so long?"
Dentist—"No, darn it. I met the guy on the street yesterday and he had the nerve to snap at me with the teeth I made for him."

First Choice

A prospective father had become so keyed up with the waiting that he staged a premature celebration. He managed to break away from his drinking companions soon after midnight and headed for home. He was helped through the door by the nurse.

"Is my son here yet?" he demanded, and without waiting for a reply, continued, "Oh, he must be. Show him to me, will you, please?"

The nurse, without a word, pulled back some covers and revealed triplets. He blinked his eyes several times, counted them again to make sure it wasn't the alcohol multiplying for him, then seemed to brighten all of a sudden.

"I'll keep the one in the middle," he announced.

DAIRYING IN STATE SECOND TO TOBACCO

Dairying provides about a fifth of the farm income in Kentucky and ranks second only to tobacco, according to a new circular called "Feeding Dairy Cows," published by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. The number of dairy cows in Kentucky could profitably be increased in step with the expansion in the production of pasture and hay, it is stated. Dr. D. M. Seath, head of the college's dairy section, is the author of the circular.

The publication deals with everything about feeding, which is the most important part of dairying. Copies may be had at county agent offices or by writing to the college at Lexington.

Diesels for Dixie!

Diesel locomotives... like dollars... don't grow on trees. Those 603 powerful Diesel units the Southern Railway System now has in service and on order cost about $80 million!

That's a lot of money. But it bought a lot of modern horsepower... to give a modern fast-growing Dixieland the best in transportation service.

These "Diesels for Dixie" are just one indication of our determination to keep pace with the increasing transportation needs of the South.

To do that takes a lot of money. And it takes FAITH. Faith in the bright future of Dixie. Faith that some day soon our country will insist, in the public interest, that all forms of commercial intercity transportation must stand independently on their own financial feet... without support from the taxpayer... as only the railroads now do.

PLAN NOW TO COMBAT EUROPEAN CORNBORER

Since the European cornborer has been found in 79 Kentucky counties, the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington suggests that farmers do whatever they can to avoid damage by this pest.

One thing they can do is to plant only hybrid corn known to be adapted to the locality. Hybrid corn usually makes a fair yield despite the borer.

Then it is a good idea to confer with the county agent about the time of planting. The past year, the most borers were found in corn planted about May 20 around Lexington. Corn planted early in May suffered the least damage.

Destruction of cornstalks and other refuse in which borers overwinter is considered desirable. This is best done by clean plowing, that is, burying the stalks well.

Spraying with DDT and other materials has been done with considerable success.

Hancock county farmers growing two varieties of tobacco found in most cases that Ky. 35 was as good, and frequently better, than the other variety.

In Garrard county, 458 boys and girls have enrolled in 12 organized 4-H clubs.

Here's what BUTTER
would cost you today

...if it had come down from its 1939 price
like the unit cost of ELECTRICITY

Other prices have soared in the last 10 years, but your electricity is one thing you buy that actually costs less per unit now than pre-war.

Your electric rates have not been increased, and as use has gone up the average price per kilowatt-hour has come down. It is now 30% less than in 1939.

If creamery butter had followed the same trend, the pound that cost you 27c in 1939 would cost 19c today, instead of the 65c or more you are now paying.

True, your electric bill may be higher, because if yours is the average household you're using 68% more electricity than in 1939. But the price you pay per kilowatt-hour was never lower than it is today!

Raising of Adapted Hybrid Corn Will Increase Profits

The planting of adapted hybrid corn will retain profits to the producer by saving labor, increasing yields, lowering production costs and promoting better farming practices. Hybrid corn will have labor because (1) it is not generally necessary to thin or replant the crop, (2) the stalks of most hybrids stand up, even against heavy winds, and the corn is therefore more easily handled, and (3) hybrid corn husks easier than open pollinated varieties. Certified seed of hybrid corn is accurately graded and at least 90% of it germinates with strong sprouts. It is therefore safe to plant it at the desired thickness so the crop will not have to be thinned.

In many tests throughout the state, Kentucky hybrids produced more corn than local varieties. Hybrids are more dependable than the open-pollinated varieties, especially in hot, dry seasons and when there are heavy winds. Hybrid corn, by saving labor and increasing yields, lowers the production cost per acre resulting in higher profits to the producer.

Hybrid corn promotes better farming practices because its higher yields will produce the needed amount of corn on fewer acres, leaving less productive land in sod. As hybrid corn matures earlier than open-pollinated varieties cover crops can be seeded earlier and do a better job of protecting land during the winter.

While hybrid corn will average higher yields than other varieties it must be remembered that moist fertile soils increase yields more than any other thing. The plowing under of cover crops, manure and straw do much to build up the humus in the soil and increase its water-holding capacity. The addition of lime, phosphate and complete fertilizer go a long way in increasing yields.

US 13 is the earliest hybrid recommended for Kentucky. It has a low, strong stalk and an excellent root. A yellow hybrid, 125 days to maturity.

Ky. 102 is about 10 days later than US 13. It has a strong stalk, it is leafy and useful for silage as well as grain. A yellow hybrid, 135 days to maturity.

Ky. 103 falls between US 13 and

Ky. 102. It is later and taller than US 13, but earlier and not as tall as Ky. 102. Very dependable under all conditions, one of the most popular hybrids in the state. A yellow hybrid, 128 days to maturity.

Ky. 203 is a high yielding white hybrid, moderately early, with good sized ears, grains are not too hard. It is dependable over a wide area; 128 days to maturity.

The decision of planting white or yellow hybrids depends on the use to which the corn will be put. The higher yielding white hybrids bring more for milking purposes, and are less damaged by earworms. The yellow hybrids are best for feeding, especially where green feed is lacking, as they contain more Vitamin A.

Two new hybrids have been developed that give promise of becoming popular. They are, Ky. 158, a yellow hybrid, and Ky. 405 B, a white hybrid. Both have been tried extensively and compare favorably in yields with Ky. 103 and Ky. 203.

Having pastured sheep on Ky. 31 fescue and Ladino clover since 1946, G. E. Jones of Lyon county sowed 95 additional acres last fall.

During the past month, Union county farmers requested from their county agent building plans for farm homes, poultry houses and tool sheds.

INDEPENDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rogers had as a weekend guest, Miss Mildred Zimmerman of Staunton, Va. Sunday callers were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hensley, John and Mary of Portland, and Freddy Sharon.

Mrs. Allen Rogers and Miss Mildred were in Cincinnati, Saturday, shopping.

Claude Williamson remains quite ill at his home.

The Independence Homemakers will meet with Mrs. J. C. Reynolds on March 9th at her home on Taylor Mill Road.

Week of Prayer Program
On Wednesday night of last week the Woman's Missionary society of the Independence Baptist Church gave a special Week of Prayer program at the prayer meeting house.

Rev. Chase Jennings, city missionary, due to slippery roads, failed to arrive for a special talk. Mrs. Agnes Dorsey and Mrs. Alf B. Hymer made impromptu talks and John Houston and T. J. Cain gave instrumental duet, which was followed by vocal duet by Miss Janet McGraw and Miss Charlene Mills. The pastor, W. E. Maners, brought a special message on prayer from the 5th Psalm. There were several compliments on the program.

The younger children of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Houston, Dorothy, David and Paul, were in bed last week due to the lagrippe.

Mrs. Swinford Passes
E. B. Swinford, deacon and member of the office of the Independence Baptist Church, lost his mother, Mrs. Mylene Swinford, 79, of Cynthia. She died at the Harris Memorial Hospital there Wednesday at 2 a. m. The survivors are the husband, W. K. Swinford; five sons, E. B. and James Swinford, Covington, Route 3, Carl Swinford, Versailles, Alvin Swinford, New York, and Otis Swinford, Albuquerque, N. M., and one sister, Mrs. Clay Berry of Cynthia. Funeral services were held last Friday at 2 p. m. All the children were present.

The Wealthy Widow?
Mrs. Linda Belle Titus Knox, 94, a widow who lived in a small room on the third floor at 150 Jackson Blvd., Chicago, died No. 3, 1949. She was known as a purchaser of antiques.

After her death, the administrator of the estate found a 50-year-old accumulation of valuable chinaware, paintings and unopened crates and trunks crowding the ceiling of more than a dozen, dust-filled unlighted rooms. Also, twenty other rooms full of antique furniture have been found in a River Forest mansion, which Mrs. Knox purchased in 1932. Various desks contained $5,000 in cash and $22,000 in uncashed checks and money orders. The money orders for several hundred dollars had been kept too long to be redeemed. She wrote to Washington to exchange them for a treasury check, but kept the check so long that it can no longer be cashed. Many other checks are older than the ten year statute of limitations and therefore void. The writers of other checks have either died or disappeared. Tom Olsen in "Now," suggests that before criticizing the widow for not making real use of all her riches, if you are a believer in the Lord Jesus Christ, ask yourself this question: "What real use am I making of the room after room of spiritual treasures to be found in the Holy scriptures?" The Bible contains the mind of God, the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, and the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe and practice it to be holy.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale
The Girl Scouts of Kenton county begin their cookie sale March 11th and it will continue through March. The local troops will take orders for cookies and deliver later. Proceeds go for upkeep of the county office and the cause of Scouts.

The Kenton County Girl Scout banquet is to be held at the Elk's Hall, Covington, March 14. Members of the Scouts from Independence are going. Parents of these Scouts are also invited. The county organization of Girl Scouts will be 38 years old on the date of this banquet. The Independence Girl Scouts will be four years old the day after this banquet—March 15. Independence has three troops, Brownies, Intermediates and Seniors.

The Girl Scout Leaders' Association is planning a trip to Washington, D. C., and will leave on the B. & O. March 31st and return April 3. Some of the local girls will be in this group which expects to see Vice President Truman. It has been written that he will be glad to receive them if he is in the city. Other points of interest to be visited are Annapolis, Mt. Vernon and Alexandria. Some of the girls planning to go are: Lavara Deltz, Dorothy Boyd, Nancy Armstrong and some others along with leaders, Miss Madeline Selman, Mrs. Carl Moon and Mrs. Wilma Moore. In previous years the Leaders' Association has visited Lexington and My Old Kentucky Home.

George Riley, sales manager of the Kenton County Motors, was shut in last week due to influenza, but is on the go again.

Benson-Coppage
Congratulations go this week to Donald Lee Coppage and Robelyn Benson, who were married Feb. 25. Mr. Coppage is a former basketball player at Simon Kenton and is now a professional baseball player, being a pitcher with the Detroit Tigers.

Office Brightened Up

The Clerk's office in Independence is brightened up with new, needed files and equipment to the amount of $800, which was a surplus earned in this office and retained for house use rather than being sent to Frankfort. The county's money is being used here as far as possible.

George A. Damon, deputy clerk, reports that of March 3rd, there have been 207 more auto registrations than of the same date of last year. This refers to passenger cars.

Wilbur Stith and family, nephew of local barber, L. M. Stith, left Orlando, Fla., by plane Friday, Feb. 24 after school was out, and visited here and at Sherman and Williamstown, returned Monday morning in time for the children to get back in school.

The WMS of the Independence Baptist Church will have the next program at 10:30, March 16 at the home of Mrs. George Riley.

Those from Independence visiting the funeral home and attending the funeral of Mrs. W. K. Swinford at Cynthia, were: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McGraw, Mrs. John Shaw, Mrs. H. L. Faulkner, Rev. W. E. Maners and Walter Moffett.

Oval Petty, formerly of Taylor Mill community, but now in Covington, is reported in poor health.

Ruth Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox of McMillan Drive, took sick last weekend and is still shut in.

Kenneth Galloway, carpenter, and father of L. M. Galloway, local grocer, fell from a low scaffold while working on the new brick home of his son and fractured his hip. The local fire department ambulance brought him to the office of Dr. Kentz for a hypodermic and then took him on to Covington for X-rays.

Mrs. Wallace Williams has been under the weather with a cold, but is out again.

Claude Reeves of near Banklick Station is back from the hospital and working again.

Mrs. Baldwin of Covington, grandmother of Harold Callen of Maher Road, was buried last week.

New Games

The Independence Baptist church has purchased some new games for the regular Saturday night recreation for young people. A survey was made some weeks ago of the recreational equipment of some of the big churches in the city and it was learned this local church possessed more equipment for physical exercise than any church interviewed.

Mrs. Mary Collins is in charge of this clean wholesome pastime for youngsters, who have been enjoying it about a year. Careful Christian supervision is maintained and nothing is permitted that savors of gambling, dancing or drinking of anything other than soft drinks which are furnished by the church.

Ethel Millbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Millbaugh, who was injured playing with sled last week, came home Friday from the hospital but is to stay in for a week.

In an official rating of all Ayrshire dairy herds in the United States, the herd at Pine Mountain Settlement School was placed in the upper 10%.

The Davis Dairy of Hager Hill, Ky., has installed a pasteurizing plant, making the second in Johnson county.

The Living Faith

Lesson for March 19, 1950

MANY a funeral sermon has been preached over the Christian church, but somehow the corpse never stays put. What keeps it going? All sorts of explanations have been given by unsympathetic outsiders. The church (we are told) is an upper-class hobby, or a lower-class social club; it is a burial society; it panders to pride, or it is a perverse form of self-torture; it is kept alive by a well-run organization. Such explanations do not explain. The Dr. Foreman truth is at heart quite simple: The church is kept alive by faith. What is Christian faith, the faith of the church? A study of the Scripture for this week, or a broader search through the New Testament from end to end, will convince any impartial reader of the falsehood of some of the notions about what Christian faith is.

Some have claimed that it is nothing but faith in the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. Let the reader try to find this in the New Testament if he can. If you had said this to an early Christian, he would have replied along this line: That is just the problem—how can we become sons of God? How can men achieve brotherhood? Others tell us that faith is belief in a series of doctrines.

Let the reader search the New Testament and see if he can find there anything about faith in a creed. Sometimes this notion takes another form—that faith originally was a belief that Jesus' beliefs were true; in other words, that faith is accepting the "religion of Jesus."

Now the church from the beginning believed that Jesus' thoughts were true thoughts; but faith was never a simple second-hand acceptance of any one's creed, not even that of Jesus. The faith we find in the New Testament is none of these things. Still less is it faith in the saints, in Mary, or in an "infallible" church.

Faith: Not About, But In . . .
THE FAITH that broke out in the glorious light in those early days of the church, and has continued shining down through the centuries, was not belief about anything or anybody, it was belief IN Some One; and that Some One was Jesus Christ.

There is a simply astonishing variety of ways in which he is spoken of in the New Testament. He is Son of Man, he is teacher and healer, he is the first-born of many brothers; he is Priest and Sacrifice, he is the Propitiation, the Reconciler of men to God; he is Master and Lord, he is the Word—that is, what God has to say to us; he is the Son of God; he sits on the throne of the universe, he will judge every man; he is the pattern for every man's character.

To put it quite bluntly, the church believed (and still believes) in a supernatural Christ and not only in a human Jesus. They believed in him as a teacher, as the Teacher indeed; but not merely as one whose teachings had been interrupted by an untimely death. They did not "play down" his death, on the contrary they played it up.

Christ crucified for us is always strongly in their minds. But they were far from leaving him as it were on a crucifix. Any form of Christianity that thinks of Jesus chiefly as a Christ-mummy; or a starchy-eyed idealist; or as a pathetic figure hanging on a crucifix is a perversion of New Testament ways of thought. Everywhere in the center is the Christ who "was dead and is alive forevermore."

There Is No Other
A YOUNG MOSLEM who became a Christian and is very happy about it, was asked what it was that changed him, for Moslems are hard to change. It was not an argument, he said, it was the lives of some missionaries in Iran whom he knew.

He wanted what they had—it was as simple as that. And he went on to say this: "Christianity doesn't have much in theology that Mohammedanism doesn't have. There is just one thing Christianity has that we didn't have, nor anything like it; Jesus Christ."

That is what—that is who wins men today, and that was the secret of the early church, and that is the secret today of the living church everywhere: Christ alive by faith in the lives of those who love him.

LEAVING

The beginning OF THE HARVEST

Some folks think that the first day of reaping begins the harvest.
But the farmer knows that the real beginning of the harvest is the first day of plowing. Furrows come before fields of golden grain. Without the labors of Spring there can be no sheaves in the Fall.
The Greatest Teacher taught that. He said His Truth was like seed . . . some of it might fall on poor ground and die . . . but when it was sown in rich, well-plowed soil it would bring a fruitful harvest.
Every Sunday our Churches plow deep furrows in the good soil of humanity . . . so that God's Truth can take root and grow . . . so that the world may realize its long-cherished hope, a harvest of peace and goodwill.
But remember, the harvest begins with the plowing. Worship God in Church next Sunday!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a storehouse of spiritual values. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Home from Navy

Billy Faulkner, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Faulkner, is discharged from the Navy and at home after one year's service. He arrived here last Friday from San Diego, Calif.
Billy says that he has been all over, seeing Japan, Philippines, Pearl Har-

Naval Reserve for six years. "The Navy is all right, but there is no place like home," according to his thinking.

Look what COFFEE
would cost you today

...if it had come down from its 1939
price like the unit cost of ELECTRICITY

Anyone will agree that coffee at 16c a pound would be a bargain today. But that's what it would sell for if it had come down from its 1939 price* like the unit cost of electricity.

Your electricity is one of few things you buy that hasn't gone up during the last 10 years. In fact, due to increased use on the lower steps of your sliding-scale rate, the average price per kilowatt-hour has come down 30% since 1939.

True, your electric bill may be higher because if yours is the average household you're using 68% more electricity than in 1939. But the price you pay per kilowatt-hour was never lower than it is today.

A Wild Duck

A wild duck has come to make her home in the chicken yard of Harry Williams. Mr. Williams says that one day he looked out in the yard and saw this visitor and he and his grandson went out, thinking it would fly away. To their surprise, it was driven in the hen house with the other ducks, ate corn with them and seemed gentle, and is, these days making itself at home at his place.

Golden Anniversary

Mrs. Frank Cox of McMillan Drive reports that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Davis, formerly of Williamstown, but now of Monrovia, Calif., are celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary March 12. The Davis' friends in Independence, Walton, Dry Ridge, and Williamstown will be glad to congratulate them on their long, happy married life, and wish them many more years of happiness.

Skating Party

The young people's choir of the Independence Baptist Church went on a skating party last week to the Ritz Ice Skating Rink at 5th and Madison. Bill Collins acted as chaperone. The Spring must be around the corner for Clyde McVey and J. C. Armstrong broke up some alfalfa sod on Horsebranch Road, last week.

Mrs. Nancy A. Bagby

Mrs. Nancy A. Bagby, 79 years old, died March 7 at her home in Independence. She will be remembered as the teacher of the nursery class of the Independence Christian Church. She taught the class for 21 years. Rev. Tipton, pastor of the church, told Mr. Bagby a few days ago that from now on the nursery class would be known as the Bagby Class. She used to work in hotels in Covington, and later ran the old hotel here. She is survived by her husband, Elbert C. Bagby, and a brother, Charles Davis of Centerville, Ohio. Services were held last Thursday at the Swindler funeral home, Rev. Arthur Tipton officiating. Burial was in the Independence Cemetery.

"National Suicide"

The National Tribune, the voice of Veterans in the United States, on February 23 ran an editorial under the caption, "National Suicide." The article deplored the fact that several proposals are being advanced to form a world government, and that American participation in it would mean the loss of our constitutional freedoms. According to this article, there are known to be more than 70 chapters or groups in this nation made up of reputable business men, educators, economists and statesmen engaged in trying to set up a super-world state in which we would lose our identity and have but one voice in shaping its conduct. The editorial is long, but after stating that these groups claim the support of 150 Congressmen, it ends, "If the people of this land would preserve their present way of life they will fight world government with all they have. If the veterans of the country do not make an issue of it, they will be breaking faith with their honored dead. Democracy and tyranny cannot yoke up and pull as a team. Every sensible person in the world wants world peace as a reality, but seeking it by the surrender of sovereign rights can mean nothing but national suicide."

Special Meeting

Independence Baptist Church has arranged for a special meeting of the church for Monday night, March 20 at 7:30. Rev. H. D. Myers of the Deer Park Baptist Church, Cincinnati, will be guest speaker, who is having an outstanding teaching ministry. He will speak concerning the Christian's acquaintance and use of the Bible in winning the lost.

Red Cross Quota

$39,000 is the Red Cross quota for Kenton County, according to John J. Maloney, chairman of the Fund Campaign, which is the only solicitation to be made in 1950. All are urged to help the Red Cross now!

Armstrong, colds; little Bobby Jean Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Knox, has been in bed for two weeks due to a bracket from a cold, and is now getting X-rays made; the brother of Harry Williams, age 75, is in the hospital.

Religion and Crime Prevention

Protestant Voice states that, "New York Police Department reports that more than 80% of the serious juvenile delinquents have no religious affiliation for either the offender or the parents."

A tract of 39 acres on Goshen and Key West Roads has been purchased by Shelby and Vonnice Cooper from Rel C. Wayman & Sons.

Howard Morris and his mother, Emma Morris, have purchased a 36-acre tract of land on Rich Road from Leslie E. and Clara J. Smith.

America's Number One Killer

Heart disease has been labeled the nation's "number one killer." Dr. Charles Conner, medical director of the American Heart Association, says: "Cardiovascular disease is our most critical problem. Statistics show that it takes a greater toll than the next five leading causes of death combined." The scripture predicts that in the end of age there will be a tremendous death toll due to heart failure. "Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth."—Luke 21:26

Cooperate With Post Office

Robert X. West, Postmaster at Independence, is interested in efficient and speedy delivery of the mail, but states that he could do a better job of it if those living in both other families would report their whereabouts at the local office. Even the new baby's name should be reported, for someone may soon send it a card. He desires a complete file of all persons residing in each and every home, to facilitate delivery.

CONRAD HARDWARE

MARCH 13th . . .

A few weeks ago I wrote a small article about my store and customers. I have increased my number of loafers and customers since writing that article—so here we go again!

Monday, March 13—very bad weather, and we had several customers and lots of loafers. Omer Kite came in to loaf, but bought one of our new Rye-O-Vac flashlights. Ralph Sparks always comes in when in Walton to loaf for awhile—today he bought a roll of fence. Our good friend and customer, James Fisher, who is remodeling his dairy barn and milk house, came after more plumbing and bar iron. Pascal Bush and F. E. (Tins) Fisher came in after a lead sink trap, which I happened to be out of temporarily, but he bought some barrel bolts and said he would come back Thursday after the trap. Forest Marsh and wife from over near Verona, who are some of my good customers, came after tobacco seed and canvas.

Everett Jones, the man who shops for nearly everyone from here to the Ohio River, came in after sewing machine needles, pump tubing and bolts. Kenneth Tomlin from down Banklick Station way, had Brewster set him up a new Jamesway oil brooder today—just watch his baby chicks grow with that regular heat for them. Ab Ryan is having trouble with his hound dogs—he had to buy two new collars and chains. Little Joe Lauderback always stops for caps for his cap pistol. My old friend, Ed Sothers from Williamstown, stopped and bought a new Mossey Harris tobacco setter, as he knew they will be scarce on account of steel shortages. The Simpson boys from Grant County were in after a manure spreader, and we have only two left.

Joe Kennedy, who owns the Gulf Service Station in South Walton and also the Cayuga, 3 miles South, was one of our first customers today—Joe is always improving his property. Arthur Brewster, who operates the R. P. Hughes farm at Verona, is another of our regulars, and looks a little too, came in late. John W. and John R. Sleet, our good customers, are getting ready to spray 2-4-5-T on wild onions, to kill them, came in to get a sprayer. We have the 2-4-5-T and the sprayers. Now is the time to use it. James Wasson, painter and fisherman, comes in every day, looks at the fishing tackle, then takes his seat behind the big stove—would you call him a customer or loafer? Lassing Huey, farmer from New Haven, was here for some plumbing—he also took a look at our fishing tackle.

L. D. Wolfe, on Bracht and Piner road, came in to see if we could move his Siegler oil heater from one side of the house to the other—we do all those kind of jobs. Henry Brooks was here to get some window shades, one was too wide and we had to cut it off—we have a machine for this purpose. I have just mentioned a few of my customers and loafers. I want more of them.

A salesman said he was in a store the other day, the proprietor was in the rear, and a large crowd of loafers was on hand. A lady came in the front door, and he said, lady, wait just a minute and I'll wait on you. He jumped out the side window, went around the store, came in the front door and waited on the lady.

Always come to CONRAD'S, whether you want to loaf or buy!

World-Wide Church

Lesson for March 26, 1950

GOD WORKS his purposes out in ways that not even the wisest of his servants can foresee. A beautiful example of this is the way Paul went to Rome. Long before he saw that city he wanted to preach there. All roads led to Rome, as they do to all world capitals, and people went there from everywhere.

World Horizon
When Paul writes to his "pen-friends" at Rome (15:22-23) of a projected trip to Jerusalem and Spain, taking in the way he was laying out a trip to the east and west ends of civilization, he is jumping-off places. His plan was as ambitious as if a modern evangelist would write to Scotland, India, and Japan, and call on you on the way out.

Bond Voyage
PAUL EXPECTED to go to Rome a free man, his ticket (so to speak) reading on through Spain. Actually that was the end of his run. He went there under military guard, prisoner under sentence. The story is all there in Acts, how first he was jailed for protection from a blood-hungry mob, then kept in jail on general principles (which is to say, the governor kept hoping he would pay well for an acquittal), and finally appealed to Rome, the highest court of the empire. Appeals were expensive and slow, then as now.

But Paul must have come to look at his imprisonment, false as it was, as a heaven-sent opportunity to make that journey to Rome. It was a gift—ed accident insurance. Free, he might never escape the plotters and reach Rome alive. Chained, the efficient Roman army would see that he arrived—and he did.

Four pairs of eyes were on him night and day. No plotter could stick him with a dagger or shove him overboard. So after some hair-breadth escapes to be sure—he was delivered safe and sound in the very city of which he had been dreaming all these years.

The Church at the Hub Of The World

THERE IS NOTHING at all in the New Testament to indicate that the church at Rome was considered, by Paul or any one else, as The Church, or the Mother Church. There is no claim that it was founded by St. Paul, still less by St. Peter.

It grew, as other churches grew, by infiltration. Christians who moved to the big city would get together, and there the church would be. Yet, of course, the Roman church was important.

It was important because it was at the hub of the civilized world. Paul did not seem to mind it in the least, that he could work only inside his prison, or "confined to quarters."

Writing from his jail cell to the Philippians, he mentions converts from the army and from the imperial slaves. ("Caesar's household" in Phil. 4:22 does not refer to the Emperor's family, but to the retinue of palace slaves.) We know from the letter to Philemon that Paul converted at least one "jailbird" named Onesimus.

The True Church Is A Marching Church

PAUL KNEW that a soul is a soul, sitting in the emperor's chair or waiting at the emperor's table. God is no respecter of persons. But he also knew that these Christian soldiers would not always stay in Rome; that even Christian slaves would be sold down the river; that the restless feet which brought their owners to Rome would take them away again. Great cities are like that. Putting down Christianity in Rome was not like putting a single seed into a sheltered corner of the garden. It was like scattering a handful of it to the breeze, to be carried far and wide. Paul's vision is still the vision of the church at its best. The true church marches on, along the high-roads and byroads of the world.

We shall never be content with a narrow, sheltered Christianity. We cannot be satisfied with half-world religion. Only world-Christianity matches the grandeur of the New Testament ideal.

JOSIAH'S MILL

Josiah Harder was a practical business man—almost two centuries ago. So he built his mill down by the stream. Josiah's Mill would have been closer to his customers if he had built it along the turnpike, or at the main cross-roads.

But Josiah built down by the stream . . . and the stream turned the wheel of his mill.

BUILD WHERE THE POWER IS! That was the secret of Josiah's success.

But it's really no secret. For centuries our Churches have been teaching men to build their lives close to God, the Source of All Power. The force of Christian truth, when it flows into our lives, crowns the honest industry of men with joy and success.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a strenuous and good citizenship. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mrs. Harry Daugherty was chairman of the program, which opened with the song, "Holy, Holy, Holy." Mrs. Martha Daugherty gave a scripture reading, followed with prayer by Mrs. Christine Politt. Miss Beverly Markesberry rendered a solo, titled, "Some Day He'll Make It Plain." Mrs. Kay Bowman gave highlights on the subject, "Japan Begins Again," and a fitting and interesting sequel to Mrs. Bowman's talk were picture slides shown by Mrs. W. E. Park, Covington District President, the title being, "Christ's Work in Japan." There were 29 in attendance, including visitors, who are always welcome. Following the program, the business session was conducted by Mrs. Paul Chaney, the president. Reports were heard and the meeting was dismissed by Mrs. Mary Carpenter.

Through the interest of the Big Brushy 4-H Club in Rowan county, interestingly all mail boxes have been painted and stencilled with names in that community.

Kentuckians In Washington

Northern Kentuckians in the capital scored a victory the other day when A. M. Edwards, Jr., better known as Moco Edwards, was elected president of the University of Kentucky Alumni Club of Washington.

Moco, who hails from Boone county, is a former U. K. football player and is now attorney with the Office of the Housing Expediter. He succeeds Lewis Colbert, former Covingtonian, at head of the old grade.

Incidentally, Moco was elected in absentia. He was on a trip to Kentucky when his fellow alumni went to the polls.

Trip Home: Kentuckians in the capital enjoyed a trip home without leaving the Washington city limits.

That colored motion picture of Kentucky was shown at the March meeting of the Kentucky Society of Washington. Many an exile got a lump in his throat as the camera swept from the mountains, across the Blue Grass and down into the Kentucky hills.

The showing was arranged by Governor Clements. Next month the Kentucky Society elects new officers.

Sends High: The other day we met for the first time Senator Alvin Kiddwell, who represents a large part of the Fifth Congressional District down in Frankfort in the state.

Governor Clements introduced us to the Gallatin County lawmaker and gave him high praise as one of the most able legislators in the Upper House. He's been representing his people in Frankfort during some of the most difficult times our State has faced.

Cherry Blossoms: Katherine Miller, the pretty daughter of Neville Miller, former mayor of Louisville, is to represent Kentucky at the Cherry Blossom Festival late this month.

Miss Miller was selected by Kentuckians in Washington. There's a chance she may reign as the queen of the festival. Each princess has that opportunity as the leading lady is selected by a spin of a wheel.

Last year's Kentucky princess was the daughter of Paul Porter of Winchester.

Do You Know: Kentucky congressmen have received thousands of letters demanding the end to those excise taxes on movie admissions. . . Congressman Carl Perkins is still hoping the Lower House will approve a bill to extend federal aid to education. . . There was great disappointment last week when the U. K. Wildcats were snowed under in New York. Scores of Kentuckians cancelled plans for a trip to the big city.

THREE WOMEN WIN IN STATE ESSAY CONTEST

In an international essay contest for "A Country Woman's Day," the names of three Kentucky homemakers were announced as state winners at the annual Farm and Home Convention at the University of Kentucky.

They are Mrs. H. R. Montgomery, Garrard county; Mrs. S. J. Stokes, Fayette county; and Mrs. Ernest B. Williams, Logan county.

The stories written by the contestants will be sent to London, England, for further judging. The best ones from each of the countries affiliated with the Associated Country Women of the World will be compiled into a book, giving a picture of the lives of country women the world over.

COLLEGE SUGGESTS WAYS TO REMOVE GREASE SPOTS

Here is a tip to housewives looking for a way to remove grease spots from wallpaper. Apply a thick paste made with an inflammable cleaning fluid and cornstarch, while talcum powder or fuller's earth. The latter may be bought at drug stores. Home management specialists at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, recommend that you let the paste dry, then brush it off gently. A second application may be necessary. The fresher the spot, the easier it will be to remove. Carbon tetrachloride is a satisfactory cleaning fluid to use.

GRASSES AND HAY CROPS MAKE SILAGE

Legumes and grasses are gaining popularity as silage crops, says Dr. D. M. Seath in Circular 474, "Feeding Dairy Cows," published by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

The first cutting of alfalfa sometimes is made into silage; also excess spring growth of bluegrass. Putting these crops in a silo makes it possible to save them when the weather is too rainy to cure them in the field.

It is usually necessary to let grass and hay wilt considerably or else to mix preservatives with the silage. Such preservatives may be 40 to 80 pounds of blackstrap molasses, 100 to 200 pounds of ground shelled corn or 125 to 250 pounds of corn- and-cob meal to the ton of grass or legume silage. The exact amount depends upon the crop used and its stage of maturity.

Copies of Dr. Seath's circular may be had at offices of county agents or by writing to the college at Lexington.

FERTILIZERS BOOST SMALL-GRAIN YIELD

The importance of fertilizers in getting good yields of small grains is stressed in a new circular of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, U. of Ky.

Where the Agricultural Experiment Station used limestone alone, wheat yields were boosted 20%. Phosphate alone brought 67% more wheat, and applications of limestone and phosphate more than doubled yields. An application of 20 to 40 pounds of nitrogen an acre also was found profitable, except after tobacco.

The circular contains practical information on growing wheat, barley, oats and rye, including their use as a cash crop, for pasture and feed and as green manure crops.

Copies of Circular 476, "Small-Grain Production in Kentucky," may be had at offices of county agents or by writing to the college at Lexington.

33 SCHOLARSHIPS TO AGRICULTURE COLLEGE

The University of Kentucky announces that 33 scholarships are available to boys and girls who would enter the College of Agriculture and Home Economics as freshmen next fall.

Twenty-three in agriculture and 10 in home economics, they range from $150 to $500. Donors are the Houston Endowment, Kroger Company and Sears Roebuck Foundation. Interested boys and girls should write Prof. L. J. Horlacher, assistant dean, College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

In Hancock county the sale of Ky. 35 tobacco seed by the Farm Bureau outlast all other varieties combined.

A Poor Racket

C. W. Beach of Sugar Camp Road, a new convert, said that he heard over the radio that scientists now have concluded that the Bible is OK and the preacher OK, too, but that heretofore preaching was considered by them as a racket. Mr. Beach remarked, "Knowing of so many preachers about half paid and half starved, it certainly was a poor racket!"

Albert Jump has purchased a large farm on Hogrefe Road.

Cocco-Lawson

Last Saturday afternoon, Walter Lawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Lawson and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Johnson, was married to Miss Joyce Cocco at Latonia Lakes, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cocco. Those present were the bride's parents, the groom's parents and grandparents and several friends. Junior Lawson, brother of the groom, and Miss Anna Ayres stood up with this young couple. Rev. Simeon Webster, pastor of the New Banklick Baptist Church performed the ceremony. The community wishes the bride and groom much happiness.

Fire Department Makes Run

The Independence Fire Department made a run last Tuesday to the apartment house of H. E. For-nash, the big brick formerly owned by Rev. H. C. Wayman. The occasion was an over-heated stove, but no damage was done.

Ernest Huff and family are the new tenants on the ohn Kalb place of 120 acres. Mr. Huff came from near Piner and succeeds Harold Hopper and family, who moved to Covington.

Robert X. West has purchased the residence of Mrs. Nell Morgan, the present site of the Independence Post Office, of which Mr. West is postmaster.

Deal Completed

The Independence Baptist Church executed final papers at the Bank of Independence winding up the deal for the William H. Schoberg residence at the south edge of town. This is to be used for the parsonage. The house is modern with seven rooms, bath and enclosed back porch. The pastor says he plans to move in gradually and to be in the new home in about one month.

On the Sick List

The following have been on the sick list: Mrs. J. D. Baldwin, Ethelbert Carlisle, who had a backset from the flu; John Maners, who lost two days of school work in Georgetown; Mike Wagner, who suffered from blood poisoning in the finger; Miss Jean Carter, Miss Margaret Houston and Mrs. "Dodo" Williams, Mrs. John Murry, who since the death of her husband has been at home with her son-in-law, George Nicely on Maher Road; L. M. Stith, the local barber, who had the flu; Billy Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Warren of Bullock Pen Road, who had double pneumonia; Henry Doan, who is suffering from heart trouble and weakness, is confined to his bed; Mrs. Randal Wagner, one of our elementary grade school teachers; Miss Carrie Schoberg, who has the flu, and Mrs. Agnes Dorsey.

Dr. Maier's "Problem Letters"

Christian Victory reports that Dr. Walter Maier of the Lutheran Hour, used to have a tremendous ministry in his weekly broadcast over 600 stations in 28 countries. "I try to quote at least one Scripture verse for each minute on the air," he said. "Always it is the Gospel that brings the best response." It required a staff of fifty-five girls to open the 25,000 letters that came in weekly. One in twelve of the letters were "problem" letters, which Dr. Maier answered personally, half of them from Christians who had married unbelievers, and whose lives had been wrecked as a consequence.

God's word is clear. Christians are to marry "only in the Lord," that is, only to another Christian (1 Corinthians 7:39). The entire verse reads, "The wife is bound by the law (of her husband) as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord." Many thousands of miserable married men and women wish now when it is too late, they had obeyed the Lord's command in 2nd Corinthians 6:14, "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers; for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness, and what communion hath light with darkness?"

Fire at Fiskburg

A two-story frame residence near Fiskburg, on Madison Pike, burned early last Thursday morning. The fire was discovered by a passer-by who shouted and aroused the mother and infant, who probably otherwise would have burned to death. The home and all contents were lost. Witnesses reported that the flames spread so quickly that there was no time to call any help to fight the blaze. Chief Ted Free of the Taylor Mill Volunteer Fire Department, and Chief T. Merzhon of the Independence Volunteer Fire Department, said that they received no report of the fire. The chiefs are contacting the family to make a report.

Mrs. Ben Stahl owned the property and it is located in Pendleton county, just across the line from Kenton. The origin of the fire was undetermined. Gene Stahl, the father and husband, had left the home a short time before the blaze was noticed, to visit his brother in Fiskburg, it was reported.

Ben Harney sold a large farm of about 200 acres on Moffet Road to John and Fanny Points.

Mrs. Raymond Perry sold several lots in the Oak Ridge Subdivision to Mr. and Mrs. William McFarland.

George Riley, sales manager for Kenton County Motors, reports that he sold and delivered eight new Chevrolets last week.

Marriage license has been issued in Independence to Ralph J. Murphy of Morning View and Ruby F. Hyatt of Covington.

Mrs. Catherine M. Dwyer sold 90 acres at Morning View to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Murphy.

Mrs. Lilly V. Carpenter sold 13 acres on Bristol Pike to Mr. and Mrs. Omer Blackaby.

Directors of the Artificial Breeding Association met last Monday night in Independence.

A new soil testing laboratory has been installed at the Court House and is about ready for operation. Bobby Northcutt will do the chemical testing.

Cliff Coleman was jerked off the fire truck as it swung around a corner and suffered an injured knee, which sent him for treatment from the doctor.

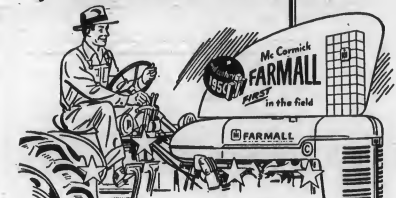

The Independence Fire Department cooperated with Walton and Florence Departments in fighting the Walton Hotel fire early last Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewett Arnsperger recently moved in the home of Mrs. Walter Stephenson.

The following were baptized last Sunday afternoon into the fellowship of the Baptist Church: C. W. Beach, Jake Neldich, John Esters, Wanda McVey and Mrs. John Tarvin. James Reed, superintendent of the Independence Baptist Sunday school, has set a goal for attendance Easter with the slogan, "Break the record by Easter." Our average attendance recently has been around 150 and the record attendance was 188.

INDEPENDENCE R. 1

We are sorry to learn of Mrs. Caroline Armstrong being confined in Booth Hospital for a few days, for an operation for blood clots on her limb. We wish her a speedy recovery.

We were glad to see several of our members back in Sunday school, on Sunday, who have been kept away due to illness. We also had a fine attendance at preaching services Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Wheary, pastor. Try to come out to our Wednesday night prayer service each Wednesday at 8:00 p. m. All are welcome.

The Staffordburg Homemakers Club will meet with Mrs. H. L. Faulkner, at her home in Independence, March 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney and son spent a very pleasant day Sunday in helping celebrate Mrs. Kenney's aunt's birthday at the home of Mrs. W. M. Baker of Grants Lick, Campbell county.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Summey entertained her sister, Mrs. Charles Losey and family, her daughter, Mrs. Lee Flynn, and family for dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Thornton and family had as guests Sunday, several of their children and grandchildren.

The first regular meeting of the Staffordburg Methodist Youth Fellowship was held March 5th at the church. Officers are as follows: President, Lee Giles; Vice President, Sandra Hoffman; Secretary, J. B. Losey; Treasurer, Louis Bowman. We hope and pray that all the youth of our community will come out and stand by and help this little society. Our churches are depending a great deal on our youth of today, for they will have to be the ones to take over for the future. So, let's all, old and young, pray for their leader, that she by the help of God and the church, that this little society will be the help of leading the boys and girls to Christ.

The Staffordburg church is to begin a revival here April 11. We hope you all will plan to attend this series of meetings. Bring your relatives, friends and neighbors. Come praying for lost souls.

$175,000 Is Goal For Easter Seal Sale, Now On

Forty-four cases in Boone county were aided by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, last year, whose Easter Seal Drive toward a goal of $175,000 for 1950 was opened this week.

Easter Seals have been mailed to over 1,000 Boone county families, according to Chairman Clarence West. The drive, which started on March 25, will continue through Easter.

The Kentucky Society for Crippled Children is the parent agency for all aid to crippled children in the state. County chapters of the society are formed for the purpose of coordinating all interests in the crippled children at this time.

County chapters help locate crippled children and see that their various needs are brought to the attention of the proper departments. The society holds clinics throughout the state to diagnose cases and to schedule corrective treatment.

Educational, vocational and recreational facilities and training for crippled children are also cared for by the society.

Support of the society's program has brought new life and hope to many hopelessly crippled. Through constant attention and aid to Kentucky's crippled children, the society today is looking to expansion of its field services for all types of handicapped. To complete its present program and initiate new methods of treatment, the Easter Seal Drive must have the support of every family in Boone county, whose share and responsibility in its success is great.

Piner P. T. A. Meets

On Thursday night, March 16, the Piner P. T. A. met in the school auditorium. The association was entertained by two well-played basketball games. The first game was between the sixth grade boys of Piner and the seventh grade boys of Simon Kenton. The sixth graders won. In the second game, a team of Fiskburg boys were matched against a team of Piner boys. The Fiskburg boys were the victors.

The 4-H Club girls sold refreshments at the games. These girls were trying to earn enough money to buy a sewing machine to use in their club projects. Their efforts were successful. A new electric Singer machine has been purchased, and in addition, an electric iron. We are proud of these hard-working girls, so ably led in their work by Mrs. Irene Cross.

The next Piner P. T. A. meeting will be held April 23 at 8 o'clock.

Limestone and Superphosphate Available Farmers

The Boone County P. M. A. Committee has announced that farmers can now place their orders at the County Office for grant of aid limestone and superphosphate under the 1950 Agricultural Conservation Program. This material is available to all farmers who have signed a 1950 Farm Worksheet.

Both limestone and phosphate will be handled by local dealers under the purchase order plan this year. Under this plan, an order is obtained from the county office showing the amount of material to which a farm is entitled and this order is given to the dealer who is furnishing the material. The farmer's payment will be made to the dealer at the time the material is furnished, rather than to the county office.

The farmer's payment on farmyard delivery of lime is $1.25 per ton and the warehouse delivery price on 20% superphosphate is $11.80 per ton. Some dealers are also handling 18% superphosphate and the farmer's payment on this material is $10.60 per ton.

Returns to Her Home

Mrs. Jimmy Vest returned home last week from St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she had been confined for several days for a heart ailment and diagnosis. Her condition is much improved.

The Eastern Kentucky State College Choir (above) of 75 voices, under the direction of Prof. James E. Van Peuren, presented concerts in Northern Kentucky, March 28 and 29. On Tuesday at 12:30, the choir was at the Walton-Verona High School, and on Wednesday at 2:25, the choir was at Simon Kenton High School. The choir presented a program of coral music, including an arrangement of sacred and secular selections.

County Citizens Health Committee Formed Recently

Representatives from thirteen different organizations were present at a meeting held in Burlington, recently for the purpose of organizing a Citizens Health Committee in this county.

The purpose of a County Citizens Health Committee was explained by County Judge C. L. Cropper and Mrs. Roy C. Lutes, temporary chairman. The twenty-five citizens in attendance expressed approval of a health committee. They also seemed anxious to work toward securing a county health department.

Judge Cropper explained that there is a possibility that Carroll and Gallatin counties would go with Boone to form a department of health. If the three counties adopt this set-up, one health officer and one sanitary inspector would be supplied for the three counties; while each county would have a public health nurse and office clerk.

Mrs. Lutes told that the purpose of a Citizens Health Committee is to serve as a representative of the people in public health problems which are related to the work of the County Health Department. The function of the committee in a county without a health department, is to help the people secure a County Health Department.

The following four citizens were elected by the group to serve on the county committee: Edwin Walton, Principal of Burlington School, Burlington; Frank M. DeMolsey, President of the Lions Club, Walton; John Conner, Cashier of the Hebron Bank, Hebron; and Mrs. Roy C. Lutes, Homemaker, Florence. These will serve with a member of the Fiscal Court, a dentist and a physician of the county.

The role of Claudia in the "One Man's Family" program Sunday at 3 p. m., EST, over WLW-NBC is played by Barbara Fuller.

GOAL FOR FASTER

The Walton Baptist Church has set 310 as their goal for Easter Sunday. Every member of the church and Sunday school is urged to make every effort to be present. Those who do not attend Sunday school anywhere are urged to attend. You are assured a cordial welcome.

Sunday morning the pastor's topic will be, "The Two Great Confessions—What Does It Mean to Confess Christ?" Rev. Garrett invites you to hear this message.

The Sunrise Easter service this year will be held in the Christian Church, and everyone is urged to be present for this service.

Girls' Basketball Game

A basketball game, between girls' teams from Williamstown and New Haven, will be played at the Williamstown High school gym on Tuesday, April 4, beginning at 7:30 p. m., EST. The game is being staged for the benefit of the Crippled Children's fund. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Home from Hospital

Mrs. Maryalice Conrad, wife of Powers Conrad, is home from St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she underwent an operation on her face. The operation was necessary due to a fall received during the burning of the Phoenix Hotel. Her cheek bone was fractured in three places and had to be set. Her condition is very good at present.

Red Cross Drive To End Friday; Reports Good

According to Roy Johnson, Chairman, the Red Cross Fund Drive is going along in a great way, as you can see by the report below. All are urged to remember that Friday, March 31st, is the end of the drive, and everyone is urged to do their bit, if possible.

The report is as follows:

Legion County-Wide Magazine Campaign Explained by Officers

Due to the many inquiries received by the Walton Legion Post, regarding the present Magazine Campaign, we feel that some explanation of the circumstances is necessary.

There is no need of our repeating the stories which have reached us; needless to say they were derived from a series of misunderstandings. We will simply state the facts as they are and clear up this matter.

Johnson-McElroy Post, 277, American Legion, Walton, Ky., has contracted with a large and reputable magazine agency, to allow the use of the Legion Post's name in conjunction with this sales campaign. The magazines these men sell are well known publications of long standing, and are widely read throughout the entire county.

This agency has its own crew of salesmen. These men will not represent themselves as Legationaires, although some of them are, and belong to various Posts throughout the State, but will carry a letter stating that they are representatives of Johnson-McElroy Post, 277, American Legion, Walton, working in conjunction with the Post on this current magazine sales campaign.

Under no circumstances will these men be allowed to solicit or accept a donation for the Legion Post or the Magazine Agency. Their only purpose is to sell magazines. For every magazine sold, Johnson-McElroy Post will receive a commission, which will be paid to the Post in hospital and sick room equipment. This equipment is to be loaned out to anyone in the county who has need of it.

From this present sales campaign the Legion Post will receive two standard hospital beds (in fact we have already received them). This equipment, plus what we received from the same agency last year, makes a total of two pairs of crutches, one folding type wheelchair, two regular type wheelchairs, and two standard hospital beds.

All this equipment is for the use of the people in Boone county—free of charge. If you have need of any of the equipment we have on hand, contact our Post and we will be glad to be of service to you.

The home of Johnson-McElroy American Legion Post is located approximately 100 yards off the Dixie Highway, on Beaver Road, in Walton, Ky. On April 1 and on April 29, we will hold open house square dances at the home. The Ralph Scott Trio will furnish the music. We will also hold a popular dance on May 13. Jack Cahill and his orchestra will play for this occasion. So, if you care to stop in at any time, you will be welcome, and we will be more than glad to see you.

Golden Life Membership Cards Presented to John L. Vest and W. O. Rouse

On the evening of March 24, a great District Meeting of Walton Lodge, 719, F. & A. M. took place at the schoolhouse, under the auspices of Brother W. O. Rouse, District Deputy for the Worshipful Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, which was presided over by acting Master, Brother Arthur Northcutt, Past Master of Golden Rule Lodge, 345, F. & A. M.

Neither words nor pen can describe the scene as officers and past officers of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky entered in their regalia, together with other distinguished Masons—Brethren who had labored long and efficiently in the vineyards of Masonry—such as Edwin E. Freshney, Deputy Grand Master; Robert Circle, Grand Junior Warden; Albie E. Orton, Secretary; Orie S. Ware, Past Grand Master; Arthur Riggs, Junior Deacon; L. T. Goheen, Superintendent of the Widows and Orphans Home; L. P. Morgan, Superintendent of the Old Mansions Home, and W. O. Rouse, Deputy for the Grand Master for District 27. Then as the great throng of Brethren rose, Brother Nat S. King, Most Worshipful Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, entered and received the tribute which his high office deserves.

Another highlight of the proceedings was the report of representatives of the various lodges in the District, as to their activities during the past year and their hopes for the future, all of which was most heartening and spoke well for the advance of Masonry.

Trial and Triumph

Lesson for April 2, 1950

IF YOU HAD BEEN on the top of the city wall on that first Palm Sunday, watching the crowds roaring into Jerusalem, and some one had told you that all the shouting was for Jesus of Nazareth, you would certainly have thought that his success was assured. Here he was, a King who had arrived! But before the week was over you would have seen this same Jesus on trial for his life, Dr. Foreman and not a voice raised in his defense. The same dusty-throated mob on that Sunday shouted "Hosanna! Blessed is He!" was shrieking on Friday morning, "Crucify him!"

Flowerly Beds or Bloody Seas? There is a popular notion floating around to the effect that God gives good people an easy time. But when a man who has been good (or thinks he has, or has tried to be), runs into trouble, he asks right away, "Why must this happen to me?" The truth of the matter is better expressed in the lines of an old hymn: "Must I be carried to the skies On flowerly beds of ease, While others fought to win the prize, Or sailed through bloody seas?"

Jesus was incomparably the best who ever lived; yet his moments of popularity were short, and he was finally tortured and killed by the leaders of church and state, amid the jeering approval of masses of the people. He himself said that any follower of his must be willing to take up his own cross. "In the world you will have tribulation," he said to his disciples.

All Tyrants Hate the Church THE MORE GENUINELY Christian the church is, the more it is likely to run into opposition. There are several reasons for this. For one thing, the church stands for love, and the generosity and unselfishness, the sympathy and even the sacrifice that go with love and are produced by it. But "what makes the world go round,"—the world of the politician, the money-maker, the social climber, the war-maker, the world of the power-thirsty in every sphere—what makes that world go round is pride, selfishness, shoving-ahead, Me-firstness. The selfish and the proud do not take kindly to love of the Christian sort, indeed they despise it as a weakness. But the church, when it is a true church, stands up for humanity even when it has to stand against profits; and the man for whom Profit is the first law of life never understands the attitude of the church. Then the church (when it is a real one) always stands for the people against the Tyrant, whoever and wherever he may be, even when he is in some church himself. And consequently all tyrants hate the church. The Roman emperors hated it and persecuted it till they found they could use it (which, by the way, was a bad day for the church). Mohammed, a tyrant of sorts, hated the Christian church and would have totally destroyed it if he could.

Victory—When? IF WE SUFFER with him we shall also reign with him," said St. Paul. But when and how? The end of the church's struggles could come in either of two ways. One way would be for the church to give up struggling against the world. Let the church become a club for the sociable, let the church raise no voice of protest against injustice in society, against untruth, violence and greed; let the church give in to the world, in short, and she will have no further trouble from the world. But in that case she would be dead. Another way is for the church finally to overcome the world. The triumph of the true church is the same as the triumph of divine Love. That is the future to which the Bible bids us look. When? We do not know. But the Kingdom comes "one heart at a time," and with every soul the church wins from the world-way to the Christ-way, the victory of Love draws nearer.

The story of the PALMS

There were hundreds of trees along the Bethany Road. But no one noticed them. People were hastening over those last few miles, bound for Jerusalem to celebrate the feast.

Then the King passed by! A gentle Galilean with kind, sorrowful eyes—riding to His coronation.

People cheered and shouted Hosanna. Some laid their cloaks on the dusty roadway. And then, someone discovered the trees... beautiful palms that had stood unnoticed. Their graceful branches became the carpet of the King!

And when men sought a name for that triumphal Sunday, they named it for the palms. It is a day for discovering the spiritual beauty God has planted along the road of life—a day to worship Our King.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a atmosphere of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the community and nation. (4) Which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Masonic Meeting

Then rose Brother John L. Vest of Walton Lodge, and in a most interesting address demonstrated how a lodge during the early 30's, when depression was rampant, may nevertheless hold its own, all of which pertained to his dear Lodge; and the climax was reached when he presented a golden life membership card of the Lodge to Brother W. O. Rouse, who had stood with him and one other esteemed Brother through all the travail of those terrible years when their membership had dwindled and all seemed lost; and Brother Vest straightened up as he proudly announced that as of today Walton Lodge enjoyed the roll of some 125 members.

But Brother Rouse also had something to say, in the course of which was that one good turn deserved another; and approaching Brother Vest, he handed him a like golden life membership card in Walton Lodge, which caused Brother Vest to gasp somewhat and then say, "Thank you, Brother Rouse. We went through the old days together. I surely do not know that I deserve this golden card, but be assured that I deeply appreciate it."

Our Brother Rouse had not completed his task by any means. He turned to Grand Master King and spoke of how letters had gone out to all the lodges of the District for help to the two Masonic homes, and presented, on behalf of Walton Lodge, a check for $102.00 to the Grand Master; after which Brother M. L. Watson was invested by the Grand Master with the 25-year button and declared to have rendered faithful and loyal service, which has caused Masonry to stand out.

Then followed a fine address by Brother L. T. Goheen, Superintendent of the Masonic Widows and Orphans Home. He spoke at length of conditions at the institution; the many departments comprising it; the assistance it has been able to render; the enlargement of its operations through the kindness of the Board of Directors; set forth many appealing propositions with respect to its maintenance—the duty of the Brethren to continually interest themselves in its welfare; and he asked all not to forget their individual financial assistance, because without this obligation being performed the home could not continue to operate; and he now implored the Brethren to come forward in the matter so that some of the highest traditions of Masonry could be maintained. In closing he let it be known that on the evening of the 14th of April, at Holmes High School in Covington, Ky., an orchestra composed of children of the home would give a concert—that Masons and their families were invited to attend—all of which would give them inspiration and knowledge of how youngsters may be trained and enabled to look toward the finest things in life.

Of course the Brethren listened most attentively to the concluding address of our Most Worshipful Grand Master King, as he spoke most beautifully of the two Masonic homes and their inmates; how it stimulates the heart and mind to realize that a Mason is part and parcel of such God-like work.

This is neither the time nor the place to write of the Worshipful Grand Master's most intimate remarks with respect to what must be done ever to hold Masonry on the very high plane which it enjoys. The honour of his Office together with his wide knowledge of Masonic affairs has placed him in a position that we should appreciate and be thankful for it is because of such leaders, past and present, that Kentucky stands out boldly as a leader of the Masonic Fraternity—the beginning of which are often stated to have been at a time beyond which the memory of man runneth not.

And thus as we close, let us pay our profound respects to Brother Henderson G. Hightower, 33-degree, Deputy for the Sovereign Grand Commander and Inspector General in the State of Kentucky for the Valley of Covington, who was with us early in the evening, but was called away—no doubt in connection with the building of the great Masonic Temple at Covington, which will be enjoyed by all of us, and whose committees are now raising the sum of $300,000 to go forward with the building. Masonry may well be proud of the great work and exclaim: "Build it, O Lord! Build it! Build it! Build it in our Day!—MFL."

Homemakers Meet

The Independence Homemakers had their March meeting with Mrs. J. C. Reynolds. Mrs. G. H. Houston opened the meeting by repeating the Club Collect. Mrs. C. W. Carter had the devotion. Mrs. J. C. Reynolds gave My Tapestry. Roll call by all members giving the Executive quiz. Mrs. Wm. House gave garden-lesson on sowing seeds, planting and beautification of farm entrance. Miss Zelma Byerly gave some good rules on food saving. Mrs. J. C. Reynolds and Mrs. G. H. Houston gave the first lesson on Italian hemstitching. Several were reported sick. Those attending were Miss Zelma Byerly, Mrs. Hubert Baldi, Mrs. Wm. House, Mrs. W. H. Summey, Mrs. T. C. Pergem, Mrs. G. H. Houston, Mrs. C. W. Carter, Mrs. F. H. Shanklin, and Mrs. J. C. Reynolds.

Hold Jail Service

About twenty young people from the Baptist Church and their pastor, W. E. Maners, held a religious service last Sunday afternoon for those in the Covington jail.

Farm Notes

The Agricultural Extension Service, with headquarters over the Independence bank, reports that there will be an all day dairy school at the Independence Court House next Friday, the 31st. John Foster and Carl Clifton from the Dairy Department at Lexington, will speak on "Dairy Management," including feeding, breeding and related dairy topics of interest to dairymen.

C. A. Wicklund of the Agricultural Extension Service says that grape vines should be pruned now.

The Extension Service suggests that every farm should have a vegetable garden for fresh vegetables and a good surplus for canning and storing. Plenty of good garden produce and a well-stocked cellar, along with home-produced fruit, meats, milk, butter, cheese and eggs mean a healthful diet for the farm family and money saved for needs other than food.

Circular 376, "Your Vegetable Garden, Month by Month," is in the office of C. A. Wicklund and a copy may be had for the asking. This circular tells one what to do each month in the garden. For example—in March, set asparagus, cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, rhubarb, onions and lettuce; plant parsnips, radishes, turnips, mustard, spinach, rape, peas, lettuce and white potatoes.

State Income Tax

April 15 is the deadline for filing State Income Tax. Some have been fined for not reporting. Married folk with a net income of $2,500 must file, and single folk with a net income of $1,000 must file. This information was given out at the Bank of Independence.

Cottage Prayer Meet

Last Thursday night some of the men and women of the Independence Baptist Church held a cottage prayer meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hoffman, who are aged and in poor health; not being able to attend services regularly.

Real Estate Transfers

Mr. and Mrs. Will B. Wren sold a farm on Grassy Creek recently to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zelle. Mrs. Virginia Cline, chief operator of the Independence Telephone Exchange, purchased a lot on the LLL Highway from Mr. and Mrs. William Plunkett.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wills sold a house in Tilford Hills addition on McMillan Drive, Independence, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Johnson, who are moving to our community. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Binder sold a home in Latonia Lakes, on Road 16, to Alvie Cummins.

Mrs. Emma Ellis sold 137 acres to John and Mabel Winterling.

APRIL FOOL!

Saturday is April Fool's Day... You never hear much about it in this fast age in which we're living. Don't be April fooled and lose your last key to your house—come in and let us make you several extra keys with our new Key Machine—25c a key, and I expect you would have given a dollar or two for an extra key several times.

The month of March is about out but there were a lot of happenings... Walton lost the basketball game in Newport... Louis and Virginia Schwab lost the hotel with a very bad fire, which was a severe blow to them—I believe the whole community mourns their loss. With our A-1 Fire Department and also our good neighbors from Florence and Independence, that old fire got drowned every time it even licked out its tongue. Our very able fire chief and all his men deserve more praise than anyone can express. They have the ambition and equipment, but no building to keep it in. Let's build them a new building, so they can be proud of us, as we are of them.

We have had a lot of losers and plenty of customers this week... Mrs. Lessie Hoffman of Bracht-Piner Road and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Merrill of Verona bought a Jamesway Electric Hover for their baby chicks—Mrs. Dixon of Devon, Fraser Rusk, over on Taylor Mill, and Raymond Conner of Morning View, bought Jamesway Oil Brooder—Harvey Hughes from over in Gallatin bought a new Benita Tobacco Setter—Cleve Marsh came up and got one of those 3-ton Wagon's on rubber. This is a very fine wagon, low, runs easy and it's cheap in price—Orin Britt, another of our good farmers from Gallatin brought his old sled soles in and Brewster made him a new pair, drilled and countersunk, ready to put on.

I believe Marvin Darlington or Mrs. Darlington have been here every day after fence or barb wire—we have a good supply. We caught that fox hunter, fisherman and farmer, Omar Kite, again—he is a good customer and also a short-time loser. This time he had to have 125-ft. of hay rope and 100-rds. of fence, which is a very good sale. If you have a place for your loaders, they are bound to be customers some time. Clay Karns sure caught some nice fish out of the Reservoir this week—they sure are biting—why don't you try? John Shaw from over Whites Tower way was in, looked at that Cobey power take-off manure spreader—he liked it very much. Ed Elmore flew in like a whirlwind, after Tobacco Canvas, he had layed away in January—this is planted time and we have nearly every kind of Tobacco Seed. Ross Allen from Verona came in for fence and barb wire, to fence off his tobacco patch.

Gentry Coyle bought one of those 3-wire single wire stretchers—he was in a hurry and did not have time to loaf. Claude Adams was having brooder stove trouble—Chick fixed him up in a hurry. Melvin Platt needed gate bolts, fence, pliers and wire, I cannot remember all the customers we have from day to day, but we have a fine lot of them. Elsie Allen from Beaver just came in—I thought he would stop at the fishing tackle case, but he fooled me and bought a quart of turpentine. Another fisherman from Beaver Lick, Edward Kennedy, was just here and bought a couple of fishing lines and a new disc harrow—what a combination.

To top the week off, here comes Hotdog from Verona, to buy a new Maytag washer, and then Mr. Russell and Lester Wilson from Crittenden, for a new sink trap. I. V. Walton, also of Crittenden, who always comes in, bought a Mossberg shot gun with the new Polychrome on it. To finish up the week, here comes Gentry McElroy with oil heater trouble—we listen to everyone's troubles and try to satisfy them, if possible.

Come to CONRAD and we will try not to April Fool YOU!

Local Workers Named In Cancer Soc'y Drive

With your assistance the American Cancer Society and your local Boone County Cancer Society can save the lives of many men, women and children—protect yourself, your family and your friends.

Your dollars strike back at cancer. They support research—this must go on in order to find the secret of this killer, cancer; education—learn the truths that can save lives today. Read how to protect your own life. Service—for those suffering from cancer.

The goal for Boone County is $1500—this is a part of the $250,000 goal for Kentucky. Increased Research, Educational and Service Programs are needed. Help support the Cancer Clinic nearest us—Booth Hospital, in Covington.

Let everyone join in the 1950 Cancer Crusade. Co-Chairmen for this county are Noel Walton, Jr., of Lexington, and Mrs. Walter D. West, of Walton. The chairmen asked to serve in the communities are as follows:

Florence, Mrs. J. M. Shouse; Burlington, Mrs. Alice Davis; Bellevue, Hazel Williamson; Constance, Mrs. Charles Herbstreit; Petersburg, Mrs. Dorothy Christy; Walton, Mrs. Clayton Jones; Verona, Mrs. William Scroggin; Union, Mrs. Ralph Barlow; Hebron and Bullittville, Mrs. Sterling Dickey, Mrs. S. B. Nunneley, Mrs. Omer Dolwick; Richmond and Beaver, Mrs. Jake Cleeck; Idlewild, Mrs. A. L. Pfaltzgraff; Colored Division, Alice Slet and Anna Pearl Ross.

There will be a worker call at your door sometime during the month of April—give her at least $1.00, more if you possibly can, to help fight cancer.

You may be guarding the life of someone very dear to you. Guard Those You Love—Give Generously—Today!

Five Million Tourists Visited Kentucky In 1949, Says Report

Seventy-one percent of the 36,866 vacationers who requested travel literature in 1949 accepted the Kentucky invitation and visited the state, according to the report of a questionnaire sent out by the Department of Highways. An added 8.9 percent of those questioned, "did not get to make the trip" but plan to come to Kentucky in 1950. Of the 7.1% who came, 29% plan another visit.

The questionnaire asked a number of pertinent questions and invited comments as to impressions gained on the trip. John A. Keck, Commissioner of Highways said today, "Thirty-six percent came as a result of our national advertising campaign last year. Seven percent came twice during the year."

The department estimated that more than five million out of state tourists visited Kentucky in 1949, spent $15,653,000 days and $288,856, 874 in the state. The estimate figures that these out-of-state tourists drove a total of 1,043,579.17 miles on Kentucky highways, bought 86,942,928 gallons of gasoline and paid $6,087,545 in gasoline tax into the state road fund.

Of the total 36,866 inquiries, Ohio led with 13.6 percent; Illinois, 10.6 percent; Michigan, 8.2 percent; New York, 6.1 percent; Pennsylvania, 7.6 percent. Other states in the list included Indiana, Wisconsin, Missouri, New Jersey and California.

Eligibility For Farm Price Supports On Crops Explained

Eligibility for farm price supports on each crop subject to allotments in 1950 will be determined independently without reference to eligibility on other crops, R. C. Wilson, Chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration state committee, said today.

Farm acreage allotments are in effect throughout Kentucky this year for wheat, cotton, tobacco and potatoes, and for corn in the 55 counties included in the commercial producing area.

Eligibility for price supports on any one of the crops will be dependent only on compliance with farm allotments for that particular crop, the State PMA Chairman explained.

Where a farmer owns or has an interest in more than one farm producing a commodity subject to acreage allotments, Wilson pointed out, provisions vary with the different commodities.

For tobacco, a producer who has more than one farm with an acreage allotment may receive price support on the crop produced on each farm where the acreage allotment has not been exceeded even though the tobacco allotment was exceeded on another farm in which the producer has an interest in the tobacco crop.

For potato price support eligibility a producer who has more than one farm must comply with acreage allotments on all farms in which he has an interest. Failure to comply with the allotment for any farm in which the producer is interested will make him ineligible for any potato price support.

For wheat, cotton and corn, a producer will be eligible for price supports only if the sum of his shares of the actual acreage of the commodity on all his farms does not exceed the sum of his shares of the acreage allotments for the commodity on all his farms.

However, even though the total of actual acreages of the commodity does not exceed the total of the commodity allotments for the farms, the producer will be eligible for price supports only on those of his farms where individual farm acreage allotments have not been exceeded.

For each of these three commodities, where the total acreage on two or more farms in which the producer is interested exceeds the total allotments for those farms, the pro-

Kenton County Advisory Council Meets In Covington

Twenty-eight members of the Kenton County Homemakers Advisory Council met Thursday, March 30 at the Federal Building, Covington, with Mrs. Frank Ringenbach, president, presiding; and Mrs. John R. Loomis, secretary-treasurer.

Plans were made for attending the Northern Kentucky District Federation meeting at Dry Ridge, Ky., on May 3.

Mrs. Bluch Rich gave a report on the business meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers, which she attended as a voting delegate from Kenton County.

The membership report, prepared by Mrs. R. P. Matchett, showed that there are 475 members in the Kenton County organization. New clubs will be organized in Park Hills and Highland Avenue communities.

Mrs. George Milner, county citizenship chairman, stated that each club in the county had participated in the civic project, the Kentucky Crippled Children's Society. A check will be presented to this organization in May, when the project closes.

Miss Zelma E. Byerly, home demonstration agent, led the discussion on program-planning for 1950-1951. The program will be completed at the next council meeting, May 26, which will be a luncheon meeting.

Attending the meeting were: Mesdames Frank Ringenbach, John R. Loomis, John Schmidt, Garfield Cooke, Jr., Bluch Rich, Chester Hill, Jesse Kunkel, Sr., Walter Linville, W. A. Damon, Philip Klein, Charles Wood, Lee Norris, G. H. Houston, Jack Dreyer, William Walteman, William Meyer, J. B. Lewis, Robert Vonotte, J. H. Free, C. L. Bobbitt, Herman Dressel, George Beutler, George Faust, E. W. Eggers, Wm. R. Brown, M. R. Hensley, and Zelma E. Byerly.

ducator will not be eligible for price supports for that commodity even though the allotment on one or more of the farms is not exceeded.

These are the general rules governing producer eligibility for price support on 1950 crops for which allotments are established, Wilson said. Questions as to specific cases should be directed to county PMA offices.

Responsibility for determination of a farmer's compliance with acreage allotments rests with county and state PMA committees.

A three-year-old Dayton boy shot and killed himself last Thursday evening when examining a .25 caliber automatic pistol at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiner Losey of Walton.

The victim was Barry Michael Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Roberts, 436 Sixth Ave., Dayton. The little boy had been staying with his grandparents due to the illness of his mother.

According to Coroner R. E. Brugh, the youngster climbed upon a bureau and gained possession of the pistol, and from powder burns on the child's mouth, it seems he was looking down the barrel when the weapon discharged.

The bullet entered the boy's mouth and issued above and behind—causing instant death.

His grandmother, Mrs. Losey, who was in an adjoining room, rushed in at the sound of the shot to find the child dying. Dr. J. M. Huey, Walton, was called, but the lad was beyond help. Coroner Brugh returned a verdict of accidental death.

Besides his parents and maternal grandparents, the child is survived by his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jones, of Elliston.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, with burial in Hillcrest cemetery, near Dry Ridge.

Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Walton, had charge of arrangements.

Corn Allotments Mailed To Boone Co. Farmers

Notices of farm acreage allotments for the 1950 corn crop have been mailed to Boone County corn growers this week by the county Production and Marketing Administration committee. These allotments are primarily based on production data gathered from farmers for the years 1947, 1948 and 1949.

Consideration has been given to the relationship between the usual corn acreage for the county and the number of acres in the county allotment available for distribution to eligible.

Failure to comply with the corn allotment will mean loss of price support on corn production on the farm for which the allotment is established. These allotments are not compulsory and there is no penalty for raising excess corn, except the loss of price support on the corn.

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

About every two weeks or so, you hear a new rumor in Washington about that prominent Kentuckian, Chief Justice Vinson. Invariably those reports say Mr. Vinson is leaving the Supreme Court for another job. And invariably, President Truman denies the report. Last week, those rumors had the Kentucky mountain man taking over as secretary of state.

The writer who brewed that story had an interesting angle to offer. The chief justice, the author said, is just a young man, a mere 56. He's popular with all Democrats. And—so the story goes—he'd make an excellent candidate for the presidency. A job as state secretary would make a good stepping stone.

That story gained credence when the chief justice left Washington for a trip to Florida and a visit with President Truman at Key West. But it was there that Mr. Truman denied he had any other job in mind for his Blue Grass friend.

Folks here in the capital—and Kentuckians in particular—still believe Justice Vinson would make a god presidential candidate.

In God We Trust:
During this past week, the Senate has debated the possibility of minting some new coins, a 2½ cent coin and a 7½ cent coin. Among the witnesses testifying was Leland Howard of Hodgenville, Ky., the assistant director of the Mint.

His testimony on new coins reminds us of the story about how the nation decided to place the motto, "In God We Trust," on all coins.

It all started in 1861. A Pennsylvania minister, disturbed over the Civil War and the bloody fight of brother against brother, wrote to Salmon Chase of Cincinnati, a member of Lincoln's cabinet. He told Secretary Chase that something should be done to re-affirm the nation's belief in God. Nothing happened for several years, but the matter was not forgotten. Finally, in 1864, Secretary Chase proposed the new well-known slogan. And it first appeared on a 2 cent piece.

The simple prayer, "In God We Trust," was in striking contrast to the blunt slogan that appeared on one of the earlier American coins. It was a simple, mundane warning, "Mind Your Business."

Family Fare:

Is your husband grouchy? Is big brother lazy? Is mother always complaining?

Your Kentucky congressman and senator has the answer to the problem. Grouchy father, lazy brother and cranky mother need Vitamin B. At least that's what a new cookbook, put out by Uncle Sam, says. And the Department of Agriculture is getting ready to pass out thousands of such books. They'll be distributed by members of Congress and the Senate.

In addition to the story on vitamins, the book tells what to do with leftovers, how to get the most for your money. And how to best preserve foods. And, of course, there are the usual recipes on everything from broiled steak to peanut butter cookies.

Burley Planter:

The Brannan plan continues to provoke a lot of discussion and this week a tobacco farmer in Pendleton County asked us what effect the plan would have on tobacco if it is approved.

We put the question to Secretary Brannan and he told us that the Brannan plan would not disturb the present price support system on tobacco. He said that the burley farmer apparently likes the present plan and so—regardless of the Brannan program—there would be no change.

Truth About Easter

Lesson for April 9, 1950

"UP THIS WAY," writes a friend in a great city, "the hats and the bunny-rabbits have run away with Easter." The fact is, the world has stolen Easter and made something silly out of it. The world will not believe the truth about Easter, yet the world wants a holiday.

The Man from Mars, visiting our planet at Easter time, would have a hard time guessing what the festival means. Rabbits? New clothes? A Dr. Foreman day? The return of spring? Not at all, nothing of the sort. Bunnies and hats are gay; but the right word for Easter is not Gaiety, it is Glory.

God's Victory
EVEN in churches you will not always hear the whole truth about Easter. You may hear that it is the festival of Returning Hope, or that it symbolizes new life, or that it stands for the triumph of life over despair, or that it expresses our belief in immortality. In a way, all these ideas about Easter are true, but if that is all, then we have missed the truth about Easter.

The fact is—the fact which gives a solid ground for all these other facts—the first Easter was the day when God raised Jesus Christ from the dead. It was the day of God's victory over death, when the gates of death swung backward and the bars of death were broken.

The truth about Easter is that something happened on that day that never happened before and never will happen again. Because never before had the Son of God risen in personal triumph from the grave, and never will that have to be done over again. If it were not for that fact, Jesus might have been remembered as a long-dead Jewish teacher, a hopeful but mistaken and defeated teacher, a name to be found only in encyclopedias. But the truth about Easter is that Jesus, is not dead, his hopes were not mistaken, he was not defeated, his Name is above every man! He is the Christian's living Lord.

His Power in Us
THAT STRANGELY TWISTED man Kierkegaard called Christianity "God's attack on man." You could not get that idea from the New Testament.

Miraculous as it is, Christianity is God offering to man the power to rise out of our dead selves, to do for us what we could never have done for ourselves. What has this to do with Easter? Just this: That when the Apostle Paul wants to explain what the power is which God sets at our disposal, what it is like and what it will do, he tells us it is the same power with which God raised Christ from the dead. (See 1 Cor. 6:14 Eph. 1:19, 20; 2:6; Phil. 3:10.)

You see the truth about Easter is that it is the day when the Christians celebrate the most tremendous act God ever performed on this planet, or rather that day when God brought to a climax the whole mighty action of the coming and the life and death of Christ. And that is the power which is available for the Christian.

A Christian Is Supernatural
IF ALL YOU WANT of God is to have him do something for you, then you are rather like a baby who keeps crying for someone to bring him more toys. . . . but he stays a baby. If your want of God is to have him do something with you, in you and through you, then you are like a child who really wants to grow up.

The Christian is a supernatural being. As C. S. Lewis puts it, we are not God's little toy soldiers, we are intended to be his sons and daughters. But if the Christ is the "first-born among many brethren" then here is this life those who accept him have access to the same power that wrought in him. And at the end of life we shall not be afraid, knowing that we belong to the same God who raised our Lord from the dead. The glory of Easter is not something merely to be remembered or sung about; it is something to be experienced. The same God who conquered death "giveth us victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

VISION OF THE CROSS
A great stone cross rises from the rugged peak of a lofty mountain, and pious people often journey there to pray. As some devout women prayed, the cross suddenly seemed to be transfigured, and a bleeding figure appeared stretched upon its stony surface.
The suppliants stared in wonder, but the drooping figure lifted its head and said softly: "I suffered much for thee."
The vision vanished and the devout women went away strengthened in mind and soul. They had seen a vision of the Christ.
People who suffer for others are too often unappreciated. We do not see them in our visions and dreams. Yet millions of lives have been redeemed or have been blessed and strengthened because somebody loved them and suffered for them.
The Cross—glorified by Jesus—is the symbol of this suffering too. For those who bear the burdens of others, and suffer for their sakes, are His brethren and partakers of His sacrifice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SAYS STRAWBERRIES MIGHT HELP OUT IN TOBACCO REDUCTION

Strawberries might replace a part of the reduced tobacco acreage, thinks W. W. Magill of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. Over a period of 25 years, he says the income from strawberries compares favorably with the income from burley tobacco.

Commercial strawberry production is already established in several areas in Kentucky. Magill says the acreage could be expanded in these areas. Markets are organized and berry growing is a part of the regular farm program.

In many counties where no commercial strawberry production exists it is practically impossible to purchase home-grown berries for family use. Such local markets offer opportunities for farmers to make berries substitute for some of the reduction in the tobacco program, Mr. Magill said.

According to this college fruit specialist, strawberries naturally follow tobacco in a rotation. Tobacco ground is free from cutworms, grubworms, root lice and weed seed, especially seed of crabgrass. This means that land in tobacco last year is ready for strawberry plants this spring. The Blakemore variety represents nearly three-fourths of the commercial strawberries now grown in Kentucky. Other recommended varieties are Tennessee Beauty, Premier and Tennessee Shipper. Magill does not recommend so-called everbearing varieties for commercial production.

The Kentucky State Horticulture Society sponsors a "400-crate an acre strawberry club." Top prize last year went to Charles Cone of Marshall county, who produced 422 crates an acre.

The flood in McLean county did much damage to farm buildings, homes and fences.

Many farmers in Knox county plan to harvest their own fescue this year to have seed for another year.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE BY GRANT FARMERS

Of first importance among several improvements made on Grant county farms last year, according to Farm Agent Robert Hume, was building of eight permanent silos. Six were of metal construction, one of concrete slabs, and the other of wood. The standard type of stanchion dairy stable was built on several farms. Indicating increasing interest in dairying. A forced-air haydrier was installed on the farm of R. D. Pettit, and a milking parlor on the Roy Harrison farm.

About 18 homes were improved with running water, and 100 homes with deep freeze units. At least 50 tobacco stripping-rooms were equipped with fluorescent lighting.

J. C. Bondurant of Fulton county reported his cattle gained twice as fast when they grazed fescue and clover pasture that had been limed and phosphated.

Vaughn Smith of Bullitt county has brought a Brahman bull to his farm, expecting to cross it with grade cows.

Metcalfe county farmers had a loss of approximately $500,000, or one-third their cash income from tobacco due to diseases.

Declining demand for lard is having a bearish influence on the price of hogs weighing 250 pounds and up.

Fertilizer Bought Now Can Be Safely Stored On Farm Until Spring

BUYING fertilizer now and storing it on your farm this winter is one sure way of having on hand all the plant food you need for the 1950 crop season, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out.

Agricultural economists say such a procedure is particularly advisable right now in view of prospects for a bigger demand for fertilizer in 1950. U. S. Department of Agriculture indicates there may be a rise of from 10 to 25 per cent in the 1950 demand for plant food. So it is important to act promptly if you want to be certain of having plant food when you want it.

Good quality fertilizer can be satisfactorily stored on farms during the winter. It can be kept in good condition until spring planting time, if a few simple precautions are followed. Dr. H. B. Cheney, extension agronomist of Iowa State College, offers these suggestions on winter storage:

1—Store fertilizer sacks only in a barn or some other dry building that has flooring of the ground; 2—If you have to use earth or concrete floors, stack fertilizer bags on a crib of blocks and boards; 3—Keep the piles close together, if sacks are of burlap. This will reduce the circulation of air from which fertilizer may soak up moisture; 4—Prevent caking by piling sacks only seven or eight high; 5—Keep broken bags separate from the main pile. Loose fertilizer soaks up moisture faster than that in a bag.

Somewhat Tougher

In the heat of an argument with a judge, a young lawyer lost a little of his temper. The judge was not one to brook any insolence from young whippersnappers, so he pounded his gavel and said sternly, "I fine you ten dollars for contempt of court."

Hardly were the words out of his mouth when the lawyer piped up: "Yes, Your Honor, I was sort of expecting that. I have the money right here in my vest pocket."

"Well," continued the judge, "look through your other pockets and see if you can dig up the rest of the sentence—thirty days in jail."

Teamwork of All Plant Nutrients Needed to Make High Crop Yields

PLANT nutrients have to "play ball" together to make high crop yields possible, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out. Each element has its work to do. Each reinforces the other. None can do the whole crop-feeding job by itself.

"All nutrients must be in balanced supply to give you top yields," the Committee says. "You can't increase crop production by adding only one plant food element when others are short. If your soil has plenty of phosphate and potash, but is short of nitrogen, you won't get good yields unless you supply that nitrogen. And the same is true of phosphate and potash, respectively."

"University of Illinois-agronomists demonstrated that it takes the combined teamwork of lime, nitrogen, phosphate and potash to get maximum corn yields. They made their tests on nutrient-deficient soils at the Brownstown field."

"A plot that had no fertilizer yielded only 14.7 bushels of corn per acre. When nitrogen alone was added, the yield was 14.3 bushels. Adding phosphate brought the yield up to 24.8 bushels because the soil got some nitrogen from clovers in the rotation. When potash alone was added, the corn yield was 11.9 bushels per acre. Liming brought the yield up to 31 bushels. When lime, nitrogen, phosphate and potash all were added in balanced supply, the yield rose to 46 bushels per acre."

CONTROLS LISTED FOR PESTS OF EVERGREENS

Bagworms, one of the common pests of evergreen trees, can be controlled by picking off and burning, says the Experiment Station, University of Kentucky. In the case of tall trees, an arsenate of lead spray should be put on. Spraying should not be done when the temperature is above 85 degrees.

Dusting with fine sulphur is the control for the red spider, another evergreen pest. The under side of the leaves should be thoroughly dusted.

Still another pest, mites, can be washed off with a strong stream of water, applied under pressure to large trees. Young trees, and also old trees where hydrant water is not available, should be sprayed with a nicotine solution.

Tobacco crops in general in Elliott county were good in 1949, the crop bringing farmers an estimated $800,000.

Lamb prices so far this year have been at about the same level as in the first months of 1949.

Frank Dean of Breckinridge county raised 10 pigs per sow from six sows by giving them careful attention at farrowing time.

Seed dealers in Elliott county report selling four times as much Ladino clover and fescue seed as in '49.

SHORT STORY

Like A Fox

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

IT IS ELECTION TIME in our town of Dexter. Al Slater is determined to be elected state representative from the 31st Belknap district. Al has tried for three consecutive terms to win out over Tyler Jenkins. At every election he had the vote sewed up. But Tyler, who is one of the shrewdest politicians a man would want to meet, always contrived to pull a fast one, two or three days before voting day, and succeeded in swinging the vote his way. "Folks think I'm dumb," Al confided to his wife. "It's got to be a joke, me running for office against Jenkins."

Al began his campaign 10 months before election. He knew that folks in Dexter were eager to have the contemplated highway run through town, instead of swinging off to the northward toward Bartlett. And he knew that if he could persuade the highway commissioner to chart the course of the proposed road through Dexter, it would mean a big thing; it would probably mean Al's election.

And so Al went to the capitol, looked up the highway commissioner, whose name was Higgins, and talked the thing over. At first Higgins was obstinate. The highway, he told Al, was scheduled to run through Bartlett.

Well, Al didn't get discouraged. He called on Mr. Higgins a month later and talked things over again. This time he took Mr. Higgins to lunch and bought tickets for the theater afterward. Higgins began to lurch and bought tickets for the theater afterward. Higgins began to weaken. Al talked himself blue in the face, and finally went away with a promise that Mr. Higgins would think the matter over. Al was mighty satisfied with himself. A month before election a story came out in the papers that, through the efforts of Albert T. Slater, the new state highway would run through Dexter.

AL RECEIVED a lot of credit for his work, and a lot of promises of votes.

Tyler disappeared shortly after that. He didn't show up until two weeks before election, and then it was to announce a piece of news that overshadowed Al's great work. Tyler, it seemed, had made a trip to the capitol himself. He had consulted the proper authorities and received a promise that the state would employ local labor in constructing that section of the road.

"Folks think I'm dumb," Al confided to his wife. "It's got to be a joke, me running against Jenks."

The news was something to cheer about. It began to look as if Tyler had pulled another fast one.

Well, Tyler might have been elected if news hadn't drifted back into town that the state, because of adverse business conditions, had decided to abandon the idea of building the road that year.

Al made a hurried trip to the capitol. He didn't return during the next week, and folks began to forget he was even a candidate.

And then on the day before election one of the newspapers from the capitol that claims a fair-sized circulation in Dexter came out with the announcement that the road would definitely be put through. The words were a direct quotation from Commissioner Higgins, whose picture appeared on the front page alongside a picture of Al Slater. It was through Al's efforts, the article read, that the course of the road would pass through Dexter.

Dexter was jubilant. At the polls on the day following, Al was unanimously elected to fill the expired term of Tyler Jenkins.

"Dumb, am I?" Al said to his wife after it was over. "Well, this is one Tyler pulled his fast one too early in the game. He thought the psychological moment was two weeks ago, instead of yesterday. I wonder," he went on, "what Tyler would say if he knew I started that rumor about abandoning the road idea. 'I wonder if the folks would say I was dumb if they knew I just did it so's I could make it appear like I persuaded the state to change its mind on the day before election. Dumb, am I? Dumb—like a fox.'"

Motor-Highway Clubs Seek Improvements

Committee to Meet at Dry Ridge, April 19 for First Of Preliminary Discussions

Methods looking toward the improvement of U. S. 25, between Covington and Lexington, and means by which it can best be made attractive to tourists were discussed Tuesday night at a joint meeting of the Board of Governors of the Northern Kentucky Motor Club and officers of the U. S. 25-42 Club at a dinner in Elsmere.

As a result of the conference a joint committee composed of Robert R. Haglan, chairman; John Jewett, Dr. S. D. Edwards, Judge R. L. Mullins, Grant county, and Ray Green, all representing the U. S. 25-42 Club, and Lou Groene, Werner Berkmeyer, E. E. Curbertson, Thomas Sheridan and Dr. W. W. Bledsoe, president, all representing the motor club, was organized.

The committee is to map out future plans to encourage the improvement of the highway and ways and means by which to attract tourists.

The committee arranged to meet at 2 p. m., April 19, at Dry Ridge, for the first of its preliminary discussions.

Judge Mullins said that one of the main objectives must be to eliminate the hazards on U. S. 25.

John G. Cox, Executive Secretary of the Covington-Kenton County Chamber of Commerce, said that the stretch of highway between Covington and Lexington must be considered as local.

Harlan Sanders, Corbin, president of the U. S. 25 Association, South, voiced the opinion that teamwork was required in making U. S. 25 attractive to tourists.

Loss of business through the routing of tourists over other highways in the state and particularly over U. S. 27 through Campbell County was advanced as a primary reason for need for improvement of U. S. 25.

Walton, Crittenden, Dry Ridge and Independence In Territory Involved

The Union Light, Heat and Power Company, Covington, and the Kentucky Utilities Company, Lexington, filed an application today with the Ridge Service Commission of Kentucky to acquire the properties of the Community Public Service Company, located in the state of Kentucky. The main office of the Community Public Service Company is in Ft. Worth, Texas.

Walter C. Beckford, President of The Union, Light, Heat & Power Company, stated that the Walton Division properties to be acquired by his company are located in Kenton, Boone, Campbell, Grant, and Pendleton counties. Several of the larger communities located in these counties include Walton, Crittenden, Dry Ridge and Independence. The new territory to be served adds the present service areas of The Union Light, Heat and Power Company in Kenton, Campbell and Boone counties. The Union Light, Heat and Power Company now sells the Community Public Service Company its entire power requirements for the new territory to be served.

In announcing the filing of the application with the P. S. C., Mr. Beckford promised to provide persons living in his company's new area, "with the same high quality electric service that your neighborhood communities in Northern Kentucky have enjoyed for nearly 50 years."

"Today, electricity is doing more than twice as much housework, farm work, and factory work as it did 10 years ago. And yet the magic electric age is still just beginning. In the years ahead there will be many new uses for electricity in homes, farms, factories and stores," Mr. Beckford predicted.

Pointing out that his company has boundless faith in the future of the communities it serves, Mr. Beckford said, "We will be constantly planning ahead and building ahead to insure dependable electric service as greater requirements for electricity develop."

First of all, a report on congressional politics.

Although most Kentucky congressmen would swear they face the toughest of competition, it's the belief of political observers that all the incumbents will win renomination and re-election.

Some opposition has developed here and there across the state but so far it doesn't appear too threatening.

Political experts around Washington also figure Governor Clements a winner in both the Democratic Senatorial primary in August and the November regular election. They point out that an anti-administration candidate might find it difficult to get a working organization anywhere in the state.

Pretty Close:
The cherry blossoms around the Tidal Basin in Washington are fading away. The beautiful girls who represented the 48 states in the annual festival have left. And the queen of the big affair, Miss Joan Russell of Connecticut, has also departed.

Now it can be told how close Kentucky came to crowning the queen of the spectacular event. They set giant wheels of fortune. For 30 seconds the big wheel rolled over and over and then, ever so slowly, it drew to a stop. For a moment it hesitated on the spot marked Kentucky. And then, for some mysterious reason, it moved two more inches and came to rest on the state of Connecticut.

And that's how and why pretty Miss Katherine Miller, daughter of the former mayor of Louisville, lost her chance for Cherry Blossom royalty.

Historic Desks:

Senator Withers of Kentucky occupies an historic desk in the Senate chamber.

Before he took over, the desk was used by the blind Senator Gore of Oklahoma. Later it was occupied by Senator Downey of California and also by Senator Kern of Missouri.

Probably the most famous desk in the Senate is the one now used by Senator Langer of North Dakota. Long years ago, Henry Clay of Kentucky was its occupant. Close by is the desk that belonged to Daniel Webster. Senator Bridges of New Hampshire now holds forth at that spot.

Paris Fashions:

If some Kentucky husbands decide to become Republicans this year you can blame it on the latest fashions from Paris.

The Democratic Women's Club, here in the capital put on a style show the other day and about a thousand women paid $10 a head to see the latest expensive Paris creations by Dior.

Kentucky had one of the biggest representations at the combination luncheon and fashion show. Blue Grass "bellies" filled two tables and an overflow Kentucky crowd took up some space at the Indiana table. Mrs. Barkley presided at one Kentucky table. Others from the Blue Grass who were on hand included Mrs. Fred Vinson, Mrs. Paul Porter and the wives of most of the Kentucky Congressmen.

Library Bill:

A reader in Bracken County—evidently a lover of books—wrote to ask about the library demonstration bill. That measure would help provide libraries for the rural areas of Kentucky, as well as other states.

The proposal is just about dead. Recently, the Lower House defeated the bill by three votes. Unless something unforeseen happens and there is a change of heart, the bill is dead until the next session of Congress which convenes next January.

PAINT LICK

Mrs. John Parker, Mrs. Oliver Dean and Mrs. John Barton attended an all-day W. M. U. meeting at the Latorian Baptist Church, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller were visitors in Covington, Tuesday.

Farm Bureau Insurance

There has been an increasing demand on the part of Farm Bureau members in Boone county and all over Kentucky, according to John E. Crigler, for the writing of fire and wind insurance to Farm Bureau members. Late in 1949 the Kentucky Farm Bureau Insurance Co. was licensed to write fire and wind insurance, with a capital of $400,000, which is partly financed by money borrowed from local Farm Bureau members and local Farm Bureau organizations and partly by surplus money of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Insurance Co.

The Farm Bureau is writing fire and wind coverage, also extended coverage which includes explosion and aircraft damage. The Bureau can write up to 80% of the value of a building and they do not have a maximum limit of $5,000. The rates are also conservative.

As much as $4 an hour was earned by many Russell county farmers last year by pruning their tobacco.

Harold Runyan of Boyd county reported that in one month his flock of 456 hens rated better than 76% production.

Bike county homemakers in one month wired 60 lamps for electricity, finished 15 pairs of gloves and etched 280 pieces of glassware.

For the fifth consecutive year, the Louisville 4-H Club in Harlan county was rated the county's champion club.

According to a recent survey, there are more than 400 registered cows in Fulton county.

The Fish and Game Club of Nicholas county has ordered 143 blight resistant cheanut trees to set this spring.

Rugged Prophet

Lesson for April 16, 1950

DON'T MAKE the mistake of thinking that the "minor" prophets of the Old Testament were less important than the "majors." The 12 men whose writings and our Old Testament are in no way less important than Isaiah, Jeremiah or Ezekiel. They are called "minor" only because their writings cover fewer pages. First in point of time came Amos.

Ranch-Hand Preacher
AMOS WAS NO city preacher, in fact not a preacher at all. He would not even call himself a prophet. He was a ranch-hand from the back country, more like what we would call a hired hand than a farmer on his own. He had no prestige, no social or official position, no money, no high education, no national reputation, in fact none of the things that make us "take notice" of a strange speaker. He had no lecture bureau, had no luncheon-club, he could not even hire a hall.

But the Lord had spoken to him and he knew it. He was determined that the wealthy people who crowded the temple yard in Bethel should hear him. No doubt the mere sight of the man would attract attention. In his rough working clothes he would look as out-of-place in that well-polished crowd as a buckeye in a pan of milk. As his voice, trained in the wide open spaces, rang out over the crowd, a few people may have laughed at first. But a circle of respectful silence would grow around him. Indeed they liked what he said, at first.

Roll-Call of Doomsday
FOR three transgressions of Damascus, yea for four... I will not turn away the punishment thereof, saith the Lord. Damascus was capital Syria, for generations their country's bitter and all too successful enemy. So when Amos predicted a crash for Syria, you may imagine the applause would be loud. Then, one after another, as Amos points his finger east, north, south, the lightning of God's curse is called down on every after enemy of the nation of Israel. Fire, hurricane, defeat and disaster are foretold for every one.

Too Close Home
EVERYTHING Amos had said was true, and came true; every nation whose downfall he predicted collapsed just as he said it would. But that was not the main reason he had tramped all the way to Bethel. He had some things to say to the very people before him, something about themselves and their own country. So when he had his audience in the palm of his hand, just as they were gloating over the terrible fate of the nations they hated, Amos dropped his bomb on their complacent heads. "Thus saith the Lord: For three transgressions of ISRAEL, yea for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof." The roll-call of doomsday includes every sinful nation. God has no pets, he plays no favorites. His laws are the same for all men. Naturally, Israelites could well believe that God hated the sins of their enemies. But their own? That was a different story. Amos plunged from being the most popular sidewalk preacher of his day to being the best-hated man in Israel. In fact, because he dared to name the king as sinner number one, he was accused of treason, a capital crime in any country.

"One Man With God Is a Majority"
AMOS WROTE OUT his prophetic utterances at some later time and they have been handed down to us, with all their fire and force, in the book that bears his name. We shall see in later lessons some of his great messages. What stands out here is this: Truth is sometimes popular, sometimes not, but the living power of truth has nothing to do with the number of people who believe it, or whether it is pleasant, or with the prestige of the man who proclaims it. If it is God's truth, it will live even if the only man who believes it is banished, as Amos was, to a silent wilderness.

WHERE THE CHURCH IS THERE'S LIGHT!

If you are living your life and bringing up your family without any Church connection, here is a question worth considering. Have you ever noticed how a Church—no matter how unpretentious—seems to light up the spot on which it stands? Somehow one feels more comfortable, more contented, when looking at a Church. It speaks words of reassurance. Its very presence breathes hope.

You are not religious, you say? Even so, the Church at the side of the road makes the way brighter. It lends dignity and safety. It is a place where everyone is welcome in time of trouble.

No doubt you will admit that this is all true. Then why not go farther? Take an active interest in the institution whose mission it is to carry light into dark corners and bring hope to the shepherds!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in our world for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

No chip on our shoulder!

Despite our occasional "voice of protest" against certain practices in the inter-city commercial transportation field today, the Southern Railway isn't "mad" at anyone.

But we do feel that we have an obligation to you... and to ourselves... to speak out strongly against a situation which is not only strangling America's railroads...but threatening this country's basic, free-enterprise system of which the railroad industry is the keystone.

The self-supporting, tax-paying railroads welcome fair and honest competition. But it is fair to require them to compete for business with air, water and highway carriers who offer their services at less than cost... because your tax dollars... and ours... "make up the difference"? Is it good for America?

We don't think so. America's strength was built... not on tax-dollar handouts... but on fair play and self-reliance. Let's build a strong transportation system... in all its forms... the same way. The American way! The railroad way!

EXPERTS ASSESS EGG PRODUCTION INHERITED

High egg production is inherited, say poultry experts at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. Therefore, they suggest buying hatching eggs or chicks from breeders or hatcheries whose stock produces well. Plan to get at least 60 eggs a pullet from Sept. 1 to Jan. 1.

The two main sources of diseases and parasites are infected grounds and old chickens. Brooder houses should be clean and equipped with sun porches.

If possible, use the same ground for young chicks only one year in a row. This may require movable brooder houses and range shelter. It is not considered good business to have young chicks and pullets with old chickens. Vaccinate growing pullets for fowl pox when they are eight to 12 weeks old.

Sixty-one Guernsey cows and heifers were bought by Barren county farmers in one month.

An unusually large amount of Laido clover is being seeded in Montgomery county this year.

Four-H club members in Calloway county have ordered 40,000 trees for planting project.

GETTING READY

A young inmate, who walked past the psychiatric ward each morning and watched one of the inmates go through the motions of winding up and pitching an imaginary ball, was asked by one of his friends why he stopped daily and watched the act.

"If things keep going the way they are," he answered, "I'll be in there catching for that guy, and I want to get onto his curves."

Overdoing It

"Your impudence forces me to add another $10 fine to the original," snapped the judge angrily. "What do you think of that?" "I think that's extra fine," answered the prisoner cheerily.

How Could He?

The judge looked down at the prisoner. His face seemed familiar but the judge couldn't place it. "Have you ever been up before me?" he asked. "I doubt it," replied the man, "I work nights and don't get up until one in the afternoon."

VACCINATION CHECKS BLACKLEG IN CALVES

Most cattlemen now vaccinate calves to prevent blackleg, says Dr. Ross Brown of the Experiment Station, University of Kentucky. Vaccination is a simple and inexpensive practice that almost insures calves against this disease.

Blackleg is probably more prevalent in the spring than in any other season, although it occurs the year-round, according to Brown. Calves and young cattle develop the disease any time from birth until two and a half to three years old.

The first symptom of blackleg is usually lameness. Also there may be signs of general infection, such as depression, fever and tremors. Swellings nearly always develop in the shoulder, hip, chest, back or flank. In most cases blackleg is fatal in 12 to 48 hours. Nothing can be done for the calf after it develops a full-fledged case of blackleg.

STAFFORDSBURG

Most of the members of the church and community attended the Easter service at Viasala. Rev. Russell Patton brought a wonderful message on the meaning of the resurrection. The church was simply but effectively decorated and the service gave a lift to all. Let us hope and pray that many are inspired to come out more often for there is an opportunity to find a place for each and all to work and worship in the church of the Christ of the resurrection. Come!

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Stephens and family were guests of Mrs. Mary Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hoffman and family.

Our Easter collection for the Orphan's Home amounted to $60. We enjoy helping to care for Christ's little ones.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Deuser were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brooks of Covington, who had also as guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fisher.

Miss Elsie Colvin of Williamstown and Mr. Wayne Richardson of this community were united in marriage in a quiet and impressive ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday afternoon, April 8. The Rev. A. B. Colvin, pastor of Southside Baptist Church, and a brother of the bride, performed the rites, which were attended only by the members of the immediate families of the couple. We wish them a long and happy life, and pray God's blessings attend them through all their days.

The Easter egg hunt held on the church lawn here was very much enjoyed by the young folk. First prize was won by Linden Stephens. After the eggs were found and play was enjoyed, delicious refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wharton of Dayton, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. John Klette, Jr. of Park Hills.

Wayne Patton, son of our District Superintendent, who is now preparing to follow in his father's vocation, was our speaker here on Sunday evening. A nice number were out to hear him and he really is a promising young preacher. Our prayers go with him.

Rev. W. E. Garriott, pastor of the Grace church, Newport, began a series of revival services here Tuesday, April 11. We will meet at 8:00 p. m. and hope you can come. We are expecting a group from Asbury college Saturday evening.

Mrs. Daisy Richardson and Miss Helen Richardson had dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Folmer and son.

The bakery sale held at the Covington market house by the Staffordsborg Homemakers Club was a success. All goods were disposed of at good prices.

Happenings of Easter Week:

Cold and cloudy farmers are trying to work between the rainy days. Beckham Shields made the only fast trip to Walton and back ever recorded—one hour from the time he left home, came up and got some tobacco seed, his lone bed was sowed—no time to loaf on this trip. Dallas Whitton is the fastest milker in Gallatin County since he purchased his new milker—three and one-half hours for five cows, and he finally had to get Stanley Robinson to help him—we made him a new rack for his milk cans, but of those Cole fertilizer drills, which did not take as long as the milking. Ross Atha came over and got one of those Cole fertilizer drills, which spreads your fertilizer eight inches wide. W. B. Stamper and Herbert were here Saturday with barn door troubles—their doors have warped badly, and Chick fixed him up some angle iron and drilled the holes, all he had to do was bolt them on and pull the door back straight. Thomas Gyard had brooder stove troubles, but Brewster took care of that in a hurry. Matthew Sleet sure is smoothing his lawn out with one of those new lawn rollers—makes your lawn easy to mow. Irvin Carter, Elliston, came up and got one of those electric fence chargers—a very easy, cheap and fast way to fence pasture land. John Hetteman from up Crittenden way, came and bought one of those good oil brooders—they sure do the work and are cheap to operate.

I received a letter from my old friend and customer, A. C. Johnson, who now lives in Fredericksburg, Texas—he is doing fine, weighs 270 lbs. (still growing) and all he does is fish, squirrel hunt and trade—bought a home and already started to brag on Texas, like all other Texans I've ever heard—must be some state. Another good customer of mine, Thos. Brooks, sure had tough luck Saturday afternoon when his house burned. Frank Hager and Harry Gully from Union, came up after their fertilizer drill, ordered last winter. If you use a Cole fertilizer drill, you will never do without one. Howard and Edna McCubbin were up—Edna was having pressure cooker trouble—could not keep the steam pressure up—I don't see how she would ever run out of steam, do you? Grandma Gault had to buy a Taylor Tot for her granddaughters—that's one thing you can't buy antique, or can you? We sure sold those Perfection and Aladdin portable oil heaters—very handy and cheap to use. Here came Jerry Maxwell, head man of the Maxwell Construction Co.—bought three of my best nail hammers—the other two must have been for his brothers, Arnold and Luther—they have a barn ready to go up Monday—fine fellows and good workers. Sure had a crowd at the Baptist Sunday School Easter—330. We can go when we want to, can't we?

Have you ever thought about the service you get when you buy in Walton—like we give you on chicken brooders, washers, oil heaters and anything else we sell new? Used merchandise is very bad to fool with—always buy new. Just like my television set when it burns out a tube, I just call old Louis Webster, who sold it to me at retail price, when I could have bought several different sets wholesale—but I thought of the service and he is the best and gives service just as fast as we do. Joe Kennedy had to have a new electric water pump—the old one pumped her last stroke. Joe Neumeister is an early bird—he sold 49 lambs weighing an average of 85 pounds for $29.60 each. Who says Walton farmers are not out in front? Joe uses Dr. Hess Worm Powder in salt; also Dr. Hess PTZ Worm Capsules—keep them healthy and use plenty feed. Most of these lambs were born after Christmas.

You see, in a week's time we have lots of customers and troubles, but we like them all, and I'm sorry I can't name all of my customers.

The state of Virginia and the National Park Service has paid great tribute to Senator Virgil Chapman of Kentucky.

Last Sunday down at Appomattox, Courthouse, in southern Virginia, the Kentucky Senator gave the principal address when the reconstructed McLean House was presented to the nation.

It was in that historic home that Robert E. Lee surrendered to General Grant. Senator Chapman was asked to make the address in recognition of his research and work on the history of the War Between the States and the life and times of General Lee.

Another Honor:
The state of Virginia also turned to a Kentucky family to obtain a queen for the Apple Blossom festival at Winchester, Virginia, late this month.

Miss Anne Hadley, the young step-daughter of Vice President Barkley will preside when the big event gets underway on April 27.

Last year, before the Vice President married, he crowned the Apple Blossom queen. She was beautiful blond Margaret Thors, daughter of the minister from Island. About 200,000 are expected to take part in this year's party. And Queen Anne will reign supreme.

Football:

If you are planning to come to Washington to visit Kentucky friends next October 21—don't. On that day, the University of Kentucky Wildcats are to be in Philadelphia to tackle the Villanova gridders. And already Kentuckians in Washington are making preparations.

Robert Salyers, one of the most prominent Kentuckians in Washington, has been named chairman of a committee to arrange for a special train to carry Kentuckians to the city of brotherly love for the game itself.

The appointment of Mr. Salyers was the first act of business taken when the new president of the Washington Chapter of the University of Kentucky alumni club, A. M. Edwards, took over his new position last week.

A Change:
A change has been made by the National Capital Sesquicentennial Commission.

The State of Kentucky will be honored this year on Friday, October 20. Originally, the commission had set aside a day in June.

Edward Seiler, who represents Kentucky on the commission, asked for a new day. He explained that he wants more time to set up a program. And tentative plans call for several high schools in the state to send their bands to Washington to show sophisticated capitalities just what kind of bandmen the Blue Grass produces. Incidentally, the U. K. band, the best in Dixie, also is scheduled to participate. So is Governor Clements.

The Langer Bill:
Kentuckians who have been writing to ask about the Langer Bill have received their answer. The Langer Bill, to outlaw the advertising of liquor, has been rejected by the Senate Commerce Committee.

The vote was 6 to 3. Incidentally, there are no Kentuckians on the committee.

That action more than likely represents the death of the measure until next year at the earliest.

Mt. Zion Homemakers

The Mt. Zion Homemakers held their regular meeting April 9th at the home of Mrs. David Volz. The lesson "Serving Lunch and Refreshments for the Social Hour," was given by Mrs. Roger McGuire and Mrs. William Miller.

The club was pleased to welcome Mrs. William Melners as a new member. Those attending were: Mesdames Burney Brown, Romer Burns, Frank Bresser, Frank Dumaschko, A. J. Albers, Henry Holzworth, Roger McGuire, Robert Woods, David Volz, Hubert Winburn and William Miller.

The next meeting will be held on May 11 in the home of Mrs. William Miller.

Gunpowder Homemakers

"Refreshments served at hours between meals or at bedtime should be refreshing but not filling and always be light, dainty, attractive and tasty," explained Mrs. Edgar Uttinger, to the Gunpowder Homemakers Club at the home of Mrs. George Black during the April meeting, in concluding the lesson on "Nutrition in Meal Planning." Following the lesson, pamphlets containing recipes for refreshments for the social hour were distributed.

The appointment of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. Edgar Uttinger, Mrs. Glenn Stevens and Mrs. Chas. Tanner, as well as plans for the District meeting at Dry Ridge, May 3, were reviewed at the business meeting.

A new member, Mrs. Rodgers Knox was welcomed to the club by members Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. Dolpha Seebree, Mrs. Geo. Black, Mrs. Virgil Kelly, Mrs. Edgar Uttinger, Mrs. Clifford Norman, Mrs. Glenn Stevens, Mrs. B. M. Stevens, and Miss Nancy McCluskey.—Pub. Chm.

Soil Testing Undergoes Change

Soil samples brought to the County Agent's Office for testing will be sent to the Experiment Station in Lexington, according to Bill Davis, Boone County Agent. This went into effect April 15. This change was made necessary by the increased demand for testing and due to the fact that the materials for testing are now being charged to the County Agent. Bags for sending samples to Lexington and directions for taking the samples are available at the County Agent's Office.

Tests will be made for soil acidity (Lime), content of available phosphorus and content of available potash. No test is made for nitrogen because the content of nitrogen in the soil changes rapidly. The fee for testing is 85 cents each for the first two samples and 70 cents for additional samples if all are sent at the same time. Accurate taking of samples is extremely important or the report of the tests and the fertilizer recommendation may be misleading. Samples that do not accurately represent a field are worthless.

(1) In choosing the places for the sampling, avoid spots that are not representative of the area to be tested, such as places where straw or hay stacks recently stood, or near a row where fertilizer was applied in the row last year, or near a highway where the soil may be affected by limestone dust blown from the highway.

(2) Fields or areas in fields that differ in productivity, or which have been cropped or fertilized quite differently in the past 3 years should be sampled separately as though they were different fields.

Samples should be taken to plow sole depth. A soil auger or a 3/4" bit are the best tools for taking the samples. If a spade is used, make an opening with one straight side to plow depth, from which remove a thin slice of uniform thickness and width from top to bottom.

From each uniform field or area in a field take an equal amount of soil from 8 to 10 places distributed over the area. Put the soil from the different places together, mix well and remove about 1/2 pint from the sample to be sent for analysis. Now spread this out to air dry. Do not dry over a stove. Place it in a clean container or in a sampling bag obtained from the County Agent and mail to the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky. Send remittances with the samples. Further information on the taking of samples can be obtained from the County Agent.

PRIZE ALFALFA AS A KENTUCKY HAY CROP

Alfalfa is Kentucky's most dependable hay crop, says Circular 312 published by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. It can be grown any place in the state where there is good underground drainage.

Alfalfa is usually cut in Southern Kentucky about May 20, and in the northern part of the state about the first of June. Some farmers determine when to cut by the stage of blooming or the length of the new shoots. Cuttings are usually about six weeks apart throughout the season. To encourage a new crop, much alfalfa now is being put into silos.

Lime often is needed to grow top alfalfa. Old stands can be improved by spreading fertilizer. By top-dressing, the Experiment Station increased yields by more than a ton an acre. Where 200 pounds of potash and 500 pounds of superphosphate were used an acre, yields were 7,370 pounds of hay an acre. To find out whether fertilizer is needed, farmers are advised to top-dress spots here and there in the field.

When the soil is dry, harrowing alfalfa immediately after cutting helps to control crabgrass and other weeds.

Ryland Homemakers

Mrs. O. J. Williams's country home situated high on the hill overlooking Bowman Creek valley, presented a most picturesque scene to members of the Ryland Homemakers Club for their meeting, April 5th. "Evidences of Spring" was the topic for Roll Call.

Highlights of the advisory council meeting, held recently, were given by the president, Mrs. W. A. Damon. She stated there are 3704 members in the Northern District of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers, and that Kenton county had nearly 50 of these members. She urged members to attend the Annual meeting May 3 at Dry Ridge.

The program, which was conducted by Mrs. William Dickman, included Mrs. Shelby Martin reading the One hundredth Psalm, and poems of Edgar A. Guest, given by Mrs. Oliver Gee.

The second lesson on decorative stitches proved most fascinating, leaders being Mrs. W. A. Damon and Mrs. O. J. Williams. A special work shop day for this project will be held April 25 at Mrs. Damon's home.

"What Easter Means to Me," was the topic for the round table discussion during the reading lesson period in charge of Mrs. Williams. She also reported members read 97 books and an exchange of 192 magazines during the year. About 50 magazines a month are sent to the hospitals, for their enjoyment.

Mrs. N. A. Leach will be hostess for the May meeting. Members are asked to please bring their tray. Those in attendance were, Mesdames Oliver Gee, Alice Frakes, F. B. Hermes, W. A. Damon, E. C. Purnash, Shelby Martin, William Dickman and the hostess, Mrs. Williams.

Fifty-five thousand pine seedlings were bought by Calloway county 4-Hers, the orders varying from 200 to 3,000 a member.

John T. Wells of Bath county purchased 11 high-grade calves in Shelby county, all sired by artificial insemination.

Owners of approximately 2,000 beef cattle in a 20-square-mile area in Madison county will cooperate in a project to control cattle grubs.

WANT ACTION? AUCTION IT!—Cash Money for Your Property in 10 Days to Two Weeks!

A contractor went out to look over one of his postwar homes. Walking up to a house in which a carpenter was working, he whispered: "Can you hear me through this wall?"

"Yep!"

"Can you see me?"

"Not very well."

"That," said the contractor jubilantly, "is what I call a darned good wall!"

JUST TWO WAYS

A much married man was trying to chisel some free advice from a lawyer friend. "Isn't there some way in which a man can avoid paying alimony?" he inquired.

"Yes," replied the lawyer. "Two. He can stay single or stay married."

Went Too Far

It was the purpose of the trial to determine if the man at whom the finger of suspicion pointed really stole the plaintiff's overcoat. At last the judge got down to brass tacks.

"Did you steal this man's overcoat?" he demanded.

"No sir," declared the accused with a sickly grin. "I was just playing a joke on him."

"And where did you take this coat to?" demanded the judge.

"I took it off the coat rack in the restaurant and carried it home with me."

"Well," snapped the judge, "that's carrying the joke too far."

Building Up Fertility is Key to Soil Conservation and Protection from Erosion

Heavy-yielding barley crop (left) had full feed of nitrogen, phosphate and potash; plot on right was unfertilized.

BUILDING soil fertility is the key to soil conservation, declared Prof. Emil Truog, chairman of the soils department of the University of Wisconsin.

"Keeping our soils high in mineral nutrients works six ways to conserve our soils and protect them from erosion," he declared:

- 1—High soil fertility produces a heavier plant growth that protects soil from washing and blowing.
- 2—Heavier plant growth uses more water from the land. This allows the soil to absorb more rainfall, thereby reducing soil and water losses caused by runoff.
- 3—Fertile soil is in better physical shape to take in water from rainfall. Thus more is stored up for crops and less runs off.
- 4—Higher soil fertility increases

The Blackstar Coal Company of Harlan county in 1949 planted 36,000 pine trees, 4,000 red oaks and 5,000 white oaks.

Emergency Pasture Keeps Milk Output High When Summer Heat Dries Up Grass

Well-fertilized pastures insure continued high milk production.

NOW is the time to plan for emergency pasture that will keep milk production high next summer when drouthy weather dries up your regular pastures, advises the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. A few acres of Sudan grass seeded in late spring can be a life saver when bluegrass fades in July and August, or if there is not a sufficient acreage of legume-grass mixtures to give dairy cows all the succulent, nutritious forage they need. Agronomists say the best time to seed Sudan grass is about two weeks after corn planting. It should not be grazed until it is 18 inches high. With favorable growing weather, it will reach that height in six to seven weeks. Sudan grass can take plenty of dry weather punishment. It is palatable and productive. As a fast growing, high yielding annual grass, Sudan needs a good supply of readily available plant food. While its requirements for phosphate are high, it needs other nutrients, too. Agronomists at various Midwestern agricultural colleges recommend adding a complete fertilizer, carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash. In some cases they recommend applications of 500 pounds of fertilizer per acre.

A firm, well-prepared seed bed is needed. Some agronomists suggest working up the seed bed just as you would for corn. About 25 pounds of seed is usually enough. Be careful about seeding. Don't put seeds down too deep. Otherwise, you may get a thin stand.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery Beach and family, spent last Sunday in this community visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Clyde Chapman and son, who have been visiting her family in New York, returned home last week. Billy Mac Waller, who attends school at Berea, was here visiting his parents, last weekend. The Light Bearers Sunday school class met with Mrs. Frances McCormick last Thursday.

Mrs. Allie Chandler entertained the W. M. S. last Wednesday. Friends and members of the New Bethel Church will be interested to know that the present building, the old Methodist church, has been razed and as quickly as the ground can be cleared a new building will be started. Anyone interested in helping with the work is invited to come and lend a hand.

Nation Going Soft

Lesson for April 23, 1950

AFTER the fraternity dance one of the "brothers" shot another, for no good reason. Well, there was a reason of a sort. The killer was drunk, on liquor the fraternity had bought and served him. His excuse, when arrested, was that when he was "tight" he was trigger-happy. A prominent motion picture star divorces her husband for cruelty. It comes out at the trial that he was mean anyhow, and that all his meanness got worse when he was drunk. One wonders: Did she know him very well before she married him?

Every day the papers carry reports of cars that "went out of control" with serious or fatal results. Careful reading of the story too often brings out the fact that the boys had been visiting a nightspot or two before the crash. Survivors will tell the police they couldn't have been drunk, they had only had a few beers. Well, you don't have to be drunk to let a car get out from your control. This writer personally has observed a driver who had had exactly one beer run a car right off the pavement in broad daylight.

Gets Monotonous, Doesn't It?

A SEX CRIME is committed by a middle-aged man who sheds tears over it afterward and can hardly remember anything about it. "I never would have done it if I had been sober," he says. A girl is found murdered in a men's rooming-house, a nice girl, too. Nobody was drunk—they had only been taking a few drinks. A 27-year-old woman was shot and killed during an argument with her sister-in-law. The shooting, it was claimed, was accidental. They had been having some friendly beers in a near-by tavern "for a couple of hours" before the shooting.

After they got home, there was an argument. One woman got her husband's revolver out to scare the other woman, and the first thing she knew, she was being arrested for murder. Her husband told the police that when sober his wife was "dreadfully scared" of guns. (Beer, the brewers' ads tell us, is the friendly drink, it is the drink of moderation; "Beer Belongs." It does, indeed, but where? Possibly that unfortunate killer-woman had believed what the ads told her.)

The Truth About Liquor

WELL... this could be strung out to the length of several columns, without half trying. The above items are not from some chamber of horrors conducted by the W.C.T.U., not from a sermon by some Anti-Saloon league preacher, but gathered from newspaper items from a few days' papers in a city which certainly is not prejudiced against liquor.

The truth about liquor can never be learned from the advertising pages, it can be better learned from the news columns. Better yet, if you want to know the truth about it, ask the lawyers, doctors and ministers you know. Ask the lawyers if their business would be brisker or slower if liquor were not in existence.

Ask the doctors whether steady drinkers have stronger or weaker resistance to disease. Ask the ministers if they know of any troubles in their congregations due to liquor. (And if even church people have troubles with it, what about people with no religion?)

Drink and Doom

IT IS NOT TRUE that if liquor were totally abolished from the earth, all the troubles of mankind would vanish. Man has too much meanness in him. A sober scoundrel is one of the worst. But it is true that liquor lends itself all too easily to all sorts of troubles, all sorts of sins. When Amos thunders against the evils of his time, drunkenness is one of the sins prominent on his list.

Remember that in Amos' time there was no whisky, no brandy, no distilled liquors, only "mild" stuff like wine. Every denunciation of drink in the Bible is directed against what would now be called light wine and beers.

One thing is as certain now as it was in Amos' time: A nation that insists on having its liquor is not the nation God will insist on saving when its day of doom arrives.

ROCKY ROAD TO KNOWLEDGE

Education comes much easier today than it did a generation ago. Before the advent of the school bus and other modern facilities, rural children often walked several miles to a little country schoolhouse where they acquired the rudiments of knowledge.

Conditions in the cities and towns were some better, but were far below present standards. Vast strides have been made in the field of education, both urban and rural.

But hard work and diligent application are just as essential in the acquisition of learning today as they were a generation ago. There is no royal road to knowledge. The path to learning is through rugged areas and over crude, rocky roads.

The basis of true education is spiritual, not material. Schools that fail to inculcate a knowledge of God and a spiritual interpretation of life are failing in their highest purpose. The Church and the school are co-workers in the field of human knowledge. We must give them our support.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) Which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Bigger 1950 Fertilizer Demand Spurs Need For Prompt Action in Obtaining Supplies

Buying fertilizer early saves time and insures getting just what you want.

PROSPECTS of a "sizeable increase" in the 1950 demand for fertilizer make it advisable for farmers to act promptly in ordering plant food now and taking delivery as soon as it can be arranged, declared the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in a statement issued here.

More farmers may want more fertilizer than ever before next spring. The demand can be met only if fertilizer manufacturers can keep a steady flow of plant food moving out of their factories this winter. To accomplish this, the cooperation of farmers is essential in ordering early and taking delivery as soon as available.

Unless finished fertilizer continues to move to dealers and farmers, factory storage will become over-loaded and production schedules will have to be cut down. Already some factories report they are running out of storage space. If this trend continues the plant food production may not be sufficient to meet demands next spring.

In prewar days, says the statement, many farmers could wait until the last minute to get their plant food. With the greater demand, the manufacturing, curing and delivery of fertilizer can no longer be crowded into a seasonal rush period. Production operations, shipping and delivery now must be planned on a year-round basis.

The cooperation of farmers in ordering early made possible the big increase in the production and use of fertilizer in recent years. The continuance of that "order early" cooperation is essential today for every farmer to have the plant food he wants when he wants it next spring. This will save costly delays when every hour counts.

Good Seed, Soil Care And Plant Food Give Record Wheat Yield

THE teamwork of good farming practices, plenty of fertilizer and improved seed varieties helped Claude W. Thorp produce 74.5 bushels of wheat per acre on his farm near Clinton, Ill., last summer. This was one of the highest wheat yields ever reported.

Thorp's record crop came from a 25.2 acre field. Altogether this field produced 1,979 bushels of wheat. He seeded Pawnee wheat, a hard red winter variety developed by the Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station. At harvest the wheat was weighed on state-inspected scales and the field carefully re-measured.

At seeding time the autumn before the wheat was drilled at the rate of a bushel and a half an acre, following removal of a soybean crop.

Thorp "poured it on" so far as fertilizer is concerned. He broadcast 500 pounds per acre of 8-8 fertilizer before drilling the wheat. Previously the same year, 400 pounds of 3-12-12 was added ahead of the soybean crop. He uses this heavy fertilizer program to build up the soil under a 4-year rotation of clover, corn, soybeans and wheat.

More Nitrogen Gives Bigger Grain Yields, Extra Pasture and Hay

INCREASED use of nitrogen fertilizer offers big opportunities for producing higher yields of small grains and more pasture and hay crops, declared Prof. C. J. Chapman, extension agronomist of the University of Wisconsin.

Prof. Chapman cautions, however, that nitrogen will give its crop-boosting results only where the soil has a solid foundation of minerals built up by regular additions of phosphate and potash fertilizers and by a crop rotation that includes well-fed, deep-rooted legumes.

Citing examples of small grains' response to nitrogen, where phosphate and potash are in good supply, Prof. Chapman reported that 500 pounds of 8-20-20 made a yield of 54 bushels per acre on one farm. But when 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate was added, yields were pushed up to over 91 bushels per acre.

Chapman said it is profitable to use some nitrogen on small grains at seeding time, but liberal additions of phosphate-potash fertilizers are needed where seedings of clover and alfalfa are made. The seedling legume plants make a vigorous start early in the growing season and thus withstand competition from the heavy growth of straw due to the nitrogen.

Twenty-eight TVA demonstrators in Greenup county have received 28,000 pounds of calcium metaphosphate to use on demonstration fields.

Marriages

Herschel D. Beach and Mary Jean Alexander, both of Covington, were married in the home of the pastor of the Independence Baptist Church, W. E. Maners, April 11. The young couple will make their home at Camp Thorton, Ill., where the groom is stationed in the Army.

Moving Cycle at Independence

Moving was like a game of checkers last week. The first move was made by W. E. Maners, pastor of the Independence Baptist Church, to the William Schoborg property, which was recently purchased for a parsonage; William Elbert occupied the property vacated by the Maners and T. Mershon moved to property vacated by the Elberts; Robert Jackson, formerly of Kenton, moved in the home where Mershons lived.

Johnny of Covington is building a four-room home on Banklick Station Road, north of John Collins.

The F. & A. M. met last Thursday night. Each of the officers were advanced one step, thus filling the Master's chair, vacated by the death of Sandford Lee Roberts. The officers now are: J. A. Rich, Master; Warden, Shirley Moffet; Junior Deacon, George Riley; Junior Deacon, Willis Robinson; Senior Steward, Howard Riley; Junior Steward, Thos. Pinney.

Banklick Neighborhood

Mrs. William Bates has been sick; the Haley family moved from Wright Road to the Charles Wright farm on Banklick Station Road; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bonham moved to the Kenneth Tomlin farm on Banklick Station Road; the New Banklick Baptist Sunday school broke its attendance record Easter with 101 present.

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Snoden is reported improving in Good Samaritan Hospital.

Soil Testing Laboratory

C. A. Wicklund of the Agricultural Extension Service, reports that the soil testing laboratory will be in operation Thursday, April 20, and that from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening there will be a demonstration and sort of open forum on the right and wrong way of testing soils and the process of carrying out the test. Farm and garden folk are invited to be present. Mr. Wicklund says that the testing of soils, especially for lime, phosphate and potash, takes the "guess" out of gardening and farming and that a healthy soil is necessary to a healthy people. In the World War a certain section of the South learned this lesson. This section of very poor soil had an astonishing number of draftees rejected as lacking physical fitness.

The Extension Service says the time has come, due to the depletion of the soil, when farmers need to know more about this soil needs in order to supply the proper kinds and amounts of plant food for adequate crop growth.

The Kenton County Soil Testing Association committee, in cooperation with the Fiscal Court and the Extension Service, have equipped a soil testing laboratory at the Independence Courthouse. Soil testing service will be available to farmers and other citizens of the county, who wish to have their soil tested.

A fee of 75¢ per sample must be paid at the time samples are left for testing for lime, phosphate and potash. This fee will be used to pay technician for testing, testing supplies and operating costs of the laboratory.

The Independence Volunteer Fire Department was called to Highland Pike last week, where a small home was enveloped in flames. It was too late to extinguish the blaze. The family was left homeless.

On the Sick List

Stanley Armstrong, substitute carrier for McKinley Hand, has a virus throat; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doan are sick; the mother of Clifford Cooper is very ill; Mrs. Charles Millbaugh has been on the sick list.

FISHING SEASON

Last Friday W. H. Poe, who owns over 400 acres in the South Fork church neighborhood, told about the droves of fish which came up the creek and looked like droves of hogs, leaving the water muddy for hours—even made me want to go fishing, and I don't like to fish. Mr. Poe came in to look at one of those 8-ft. fertilizer drills in which you can use either fertilizer or grain. Raymond Scott from over Gallatin County way, and the man who lost his overcoat at the Lions Club square dance, was in Saturday for me to make him some eye bolts 24 inches long and 1/2 inch in diameter—we are very good cold iron blacksmiths. Kenneth Connelly, also from Gallatin, came after sled soles and bolts. James Messimer, who was the late buyer Saturday, had to have two calf buckets—these are the thing to feed calf and sell your whole milk. To top Saturday off, here came Jack Stahl and the whole family, from South Fork—sure are a fine lot of people—Jack had to have some nails, staxies and singletrees—his wife bought paint, paint brush and light bulbs.

We are all very sorry to hear about Mrs. Ora Fry falling and breaking her hip while chasing the cat—Mrs. Ora was in the store just a few days ago and I repaired her iron cord—we do all those kind of jobs. C. O. Carlisle is down with back trouble—he does an awful lot of hard work, but they say hard work won't hurt you—do you believe that? Virginia Lou Schwab and Sharon Graff had two flat tires on their bicycle at the same time—we repaired them in a few minutes. Arthur Lintop, one of our local barbers, or some call them butchers, is fixing up at home with new linoleum and that good Belce paint. Mrs. Gordon Phillips and Evelyn came up Monday and bought a large order of that Belce paint and enamel—they have used it for years—wonderful paint and you will like it. We please our customers—H. L. Vest bought a water fountain for his chickens Saturday—it leaked, so Monday we gave him another one—when you buy from us, they always make them good. My good friends, James Simpson and wife, who are now farming up in Grant, stopped in for one of those copper wash boilers, garden hose, water hose and lots of small items.

Thos. Guard sure bought a nice .22 Remington Repeating Rifle—Thomas is one of my best customers—if I sold ice cream, he would be a better one. Chick is now refilling Mrs. Martha Wallace's screen door with new screen—if yours needs refilling with new screen, call us or bring it in. Have you ever tried one of those wonderful Perfection Electric or Gas Ranges—the only range that has a white oven—you know the Perfection Stove Company always made the best oil ranges, and now the electric and gas are in a class by themselves. We also have another high class piece of merchandise, the Maytag Washer—the greatest washer ever made—we give you a good trade-in or a nice discount for cash.

I just sold a pair of those Wolverine gloves—they stay soft and sure do wear. Here comes Andy Jarman, the plumber, who also tries to take care of your plumbing and heating troubles—now he wants a belt for a stoker and some pipe fittings. Herman Rader just bought one of those Cole fertilizer drills—they are the best. Jess William Thornton had to have one of those garden push plows for his wife—you know the women all use these plows—with the high wheel they push so easy. Lawn mower season is about here—we have Reo and Eclipse power mowers, which are two of the best, and also a large selection of hand mowers from $12.50 up. Always buy new farm tools—they are the cheapest—we have Cobey manure spreaders, Judson lime spreaders, Little Giant lime spreaders, Massey-Harris, Tiger and Bemis tobacco setters, disc harrows, drag harrows, and plows of all kinds.

Paper-Morning Drive to Be Continued By Firemen; Phoenix Fire Discussed

From now on the paper and scrap metal drive of the Fire Department will be carried on every two weeks. The next collection will be made on Friday, May 5th and the Department asks that the people of the community save their paper and put it out for the trucks to collect at that time.

The Phoenix Hotel Fire
This week, the Fire Department in conjunction with the Advertiser in the series of articles being published for the purpose of acquainting the people with the work of the department, tells how the department operated during the recent fire in the Phoenix Hotel.

The fire alarm sounded at 4:50 a. m. Friday morning, and at 4:55 the first pumper arrived at the scene. Firemen were ordered by the Chief to take off the ladders the first thing for the purpose of getting guests out of rooms, which may have been trapped (and did get four people out). At this time the entire lobby was ablaze and dense smoke shot through flames was pouring from the upstairs windows. The Chief had called sent out to Independence and Florence for aid and the second pumper of the Walton Department was put into use at 5:00.

The intense heat and dense smoke hampered firemen in getting at the blaze and the asbestos shingles and tin roof confined the fire in the walls and partitions, where it raced all over the building, making it a tough job all the time. However, the Walton Department, with the aid of the Florence and Independence crews fought back stubbornly, and at 8:00 had the fire under control, although the engine removed the fire until 12:00 to put down embers when they blazed up again.

One of the greatest troubles experienced by the Walton Department was in notifying its members of the fire, as a great many of them did not hear the siren, and at the present time we are trying to work out a more efficient method of notification.

The membership of the Walton Department in the Northern Kentucky Fireman's Association enabled them to get the help they needed from Florence and Independence at no cost. Florence had their pumper in operation at the fire and the Independence pumper was ready for any additional calls that may have come in or to replace one of our engines if it broke down.

The first issue of the Kentucky Fireman, a newspaper which is published by the Kentucky Fire Marshal's office, gave a great deal of credit to the fire department for their efficient manner in handling the fire and to Louis Schwab, the owner, for the safety precautions he had installed, which undoubtedly saved some lives. A few of them were, an alarm bell, a fireproof door, and a fireproof safe.

The motto of our Department is "Be Prepared," and last Saturday it paid off again, when the Fire Department was called to Beaver to fight a fire in the home of Mr. Locke. Had it not been for the smoke masks we carry, it would have been impossible to enter the house and find the fire. However, by using them, they quickly extinguished the blaze and saved the property.

Reapers Class Meets

The Reapers Class of New Bethel Baptist Church, Verona, met in the home of Mrs. Stanley Ashcraft for the regular monthly meeting, and after a brief business session, led by Mrs. Hayden, a very interesting program was given by Mrs. Morgan Chandler and Mrs. Gerry Harris.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following members and visitors: Mrs. Iva Vest, Kathryn Hopperton, Leota Mathis, Allice Chandler, Betty Brannum, Kitty Rouse, Mary Porter, Arvilla Hayden, Becky Rush, Gerry Harris, Lillian Stephenson, and the hostess, Berna Ashcraft and sons.

Verona Baseballers Lose Opening Game Last Sunday, 9 to 4

The Verona Community Club lost the opening baseball game in the KAG loop Sunday, when Highway Merchants of Ft. Mitchell, turned them back 9-4 at Verona. The losers were guilty of five errors, which added to the misery of local fans.

The Highwaymen collected 9 runs on 6 hits and Verona's errors. Baute and Joe Steffen hurried for the Merchants and allowed Verona 4 runs on 9 hits, while the victors made only two errors.

Young Mike Ryan pitched three innings for the home team and gave up one fluke hit, no runs, struck out six and walked one batter. He really looked good. Check Ryan and Bill Mumm divided the last six innings, with the former having plenty of trouble finding the plate.

Baumann caught for Verona, and had two for two, he walked twice and was hit by a pitched ball; Wilkerson had a double in the fourth attempt, stroiling once; Hayes and Bowman each had 2 hits for the losers.

It took two hours and 11 minutes to play the game.

On Sunday, April 30th at 2:30 p. m., the Bob & Gene team will be the attraction at the Verona park, and it is said the Edesmen are pretty tough this year—as always. Come out!

REVIVAL IN PROGRESS AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The revival services which began Monday night at the Walton Baptist Church got off to a good start. The attendance has been above the average and those attending have been enthused by the preaching and singing.

Rev. Roy Johnson of the Burlington Baptist Church is doing the preaching and Mike and Rachel Acra are in charge of the music.

A cordial welcome is extended to all to attend and enjoy these services.

MRS. ROSE BURKETT

Funeral services for Mrs. Rose Burkett, 82, resident of Boone County, were held last Friday at 11:00 a. m. at the Hopeful Lutheran Church, Florence, with burial in the church cemetery.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Frances Dixon of near Walton, with whom she lived; a sister, Mrs. Henry Ralser of Dillsboro, Ind., and a grandson, Ben F. Dixon.

Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Walton, had charge of arrangements.

Verona Fishing Lake To Open Officially Saturday Morning

At 10:00 a. m., Saturday, April 29, Bill Scroggin will officially open a new fishing lake to the public. The lake entrance is between the Verona school building and the town of Verona, on Ky. Route 16.

The lake can also be seen from the road and parking facilities are available at the lakeside, which is surrounded by a beautiful woods. The lake fishermen will have an opportunity to try their skill when the lake is opened, sharply at 10:00.

A prize consisting of a whole year's fishing free of charge. Several of the local fishermen have already selected their choice spots and will probably be on hand early to guard their location before the starting signal.

This lake, according to Mr. Scroggin, has been stocked with catfish, bass and bluegill. The heaviest stocking has been catfish, hauled from Canada, a favorite to most lake fishermen. It is planned to add new fish to the lake as they are caught out, thereby keeping a new supply on hand, which should cause them to bite more readily. The popular price of one dollar per person will be charged, which entitles each of the fishermen to catch ten pounds of fish in one day. Any over that limit will cost thirty-five cents per pound. The natural setting of this lake affords a fine place for picnics, as there are shade trees, well located over the entire area. The public is welcome to inspect this new lake during daylight hours.

Baptist W. M. S. Meets

The W. M. S. held their regular monthly meeting at the Walton Baptist Church, Thursday, April 20. A goodly number of members were present, with nine visitors.

The business session was led by the president, Mrs. Bryan Rector. The membership banquet was served at the home of Mrs. Rector.

We were inspired by the presence of our Group Leader, Mrs. Smith of Union. In the afternoon, the devotionals was led by Mrs. Ed Hanlison, reading parts of First Epistle of John, with a comments. A song, "Bless Be The Tie That Binds." A prayer by Mrs. Rector.

The program leader, Mrs. Vevie Webster called on those attending for short talks.

Several responded. Clothing for the mountain people was brought in, and 25 tea towels were donated for the Training School in Louisville. Seven new members were added.

"I Wouldn't Know" To Be Presented At New Haven, Friday

A popular stage hit, "I Wouldn't Know," which is a riotous farce in three acts, will be presented at the New Haven High School auditorium on Friday, April 28, 1950 at 8 p. m.

This performance will be hilarious and exciting because of the entire cast of characters, consisting of: Jayne Scheideman as Diana Sterling, a beautiful young girl of twenty who knows what she wants and is determined to get it.

Eunice Rhodes as Peggy Brent, a very charming and pretty girl in her early twenties who masquerades as a nurse.

Sara Miller as Polly Payne, a bossy old woman who runs a "Rest Cure" in the mountains.

William Alexander as Donald Dippy, a handsome young man in his early twenties who falls in love with Peggy at first sight.

Shirley McNeely as Cobina Knott, a young lady maid who acts and plays unintelligent.

Wilma Huff as Fannie Filbert, an eccentric and temperamental woman who isn't all there.

Robert Kirby as Dr. Lester Loony, a handsome young scientist who had a strong dislike for women until he met and fell in love with Diana.

Pat Winer as Mitzi Meredith, a girl reported who will do anything for a story.

Neil Sparks as Daffy Sterling, a domineering, strong, and aged wife. M. C. Carroll as Grant Sterling, a middle aged, newly wed, hapless husband.

For the best entertainment of the year, don't miss this sensational production, "I Wouldn't Know," presented by the New Haven seniors.

FIFTH MOTHER-DAUGHTER AFFAIR HELD RECENTLY

The Simon Kenton Chapter of Future Homemakers of America recently observed its fifth annual Mother-Daughter banquet. Miss Rosemarie Elliott, chapter president, presided over the banquet and grace was offered by the F. H. A. sponsor, Mrs. Gayle McElroy. A welcome to the mothers was given by the vice president, Miss Rose Heideman, with the response to the welcome by her mother, Mrs. William Heideman. Miss Joan Finnell sang, "Easter Parade," accompanied by Miss Norma Mills, and all chapter members sang the chapter song, led by Miss Finnell and Jo Ann Wilson.

A report of this year's activities was given by Miss Rose Heideman and the report of the treasury was made by Miss Wilda Cross.

Members and guests joined in some community singing, and Mr. Gray and three of his F. H. A. boys, Donald Losey, Russell England and Donald Maus, sang "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

The highlight of the banquet was a talk given by Mrs. Herbert Works, a former F. H. A. chapter and district officer, who is now a young homemaker. She spoke on "How the F. H. A. Has Helped Me to Become a Better Homemaker."

All members presented a rose, the chapter flower, to their mothers, and the program was adjourned with the F. H. A. prayer.

Those who enjoyed the banquet and program were the F. H. A. officers and their mothers—Rosemarie and Mrs. Frank Elliott, Rose and Mrs. William Heideman, Helen and Mrs. Sylvester Stroh, Willa and Mrs. William Cross, Jean and Mrs. Jasper Dunn, Norma and Mrs. Clifford Mills, Katherine and Mrs. Joseph Maus, Waverly and Mrs. Leslie Riley, Jo Ann Wilson and Carol Triplett, and Mr. and Mrs. Gayle McElroy and Mrs. L. KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kneibauer

Recently we reported Kentucky's Senator Virgil Chapman as the principal speaker at the dedication of the eMcLean surrender house at Appomattox Court House, Va. Well, the senior senator continues to be in demand as an orator. He is now preparing for a trip to Delaware as the featured speaker at the Jackson Day Dinner there. And he recently spoke at the same event given by the Democrats of Virginia at Richmond.

Another inner:

The northern part of the Blue Grass state scored another victory recently. Kentuckians in Washington elected Robert K. Salyers to the presidency of the Kentucky Society of Washington.

Bob is a native of Carrollton and is widely known over the commonwealth. He has held many positions with the government and at one time was the executive secretary of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association. High now he's in the capital as the head of the Bureau of Veterans Retraining and Re-employment Rights.

Latest Rumor:

The capital is always filled with rumors and here is the latest involving former Senator John Sherman Cooper. It can't be confirmed. Stories have it that the Somerset Republican is going to continue his work with the State Department on foreign affairs. And then, come the 1952 presidential campaign, he will gain a place on the GOP ticket as the vice presidential running mate to Senator Taft.

There are, of course, a lot of "ifs" involved in that plan, including one that says Senator Taft must win his Ohio senatorial race.

Best Seller:

A best seller on Capitol Hill continues to be that cookbook, Family Fare, published by the Department of Agriculture. Kentucky congressmen tell us that reach mail brings more letters asking for a copy of the publication. If you order from your congressman or senator, the copy is free. But if you don't you'll have to pay for it. The supply is limited, too.

Miss Ruth Bennett of Williams-town, the efficient secretary of Congressman Spence, recommends the recipe for bread or rice pudding. Here it is:

2 cups milk, 1 1/4 cups soft bread crumbs, or 1 cup cooked rice, 1 tablespoon table fat, 1/4 cup sugar (increase to one-third cup when using rice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/3 cup raisins or nuts, 2 eggs, beaten; heat milk, add bread crumbs or rice, and fat; add sugar, salt and raisins or nuts to eggs, then slowly stir in the hot milk mixture; pour into greased baking dish, set in pan of hot water; bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate even) 1 hour, or until set. 4 servings. The Mail:

With Congress debating appropriations for the coming fiscal year, Kentuckians are growing more and more concerned with federal spending. This week's mail contained letters from Bracken, Pendleton and Gallatin County on Uncle Sam's spending habits. And each letter contained a plea to do something.

Practically every congressman in the capital wants to do something, but he is daily confronted with demands from back home for federal funds for this project and that project. Attempts are being made to streamline government and the federal payroll has been trimmed during the past several months. Real economy will come, however, when "penny wise and pound foolish" in the benefits of federal projects and realize that although the money comes out of Washington, it is first collected in Kentucky and elsewhere.

More Efficient Crop Production Is Key to High Profits, Low Costs

FARMERS hear a good deal about the need for cutting costs these days. This is important, with production expenses high and most farm prices slumping.

Where to cut is a problem. It is false economy to reduce costs by cutting down on essential items such as fertilizer, good seed, feed supplements or good heifers.

Missouri University agricultural economists advise farmers not to be "penny wise and pound foolish" in the matter of buying fertilizer. They point out that money spent on plant food is an investment that pays out in a short time. It gets more efficient crop production. And efficient crop production that yields more bushels per acre is the key to cutting costs and building profits.

The Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out that fertilizer does its best job of boosting yields and reducing costs when it is teamed up with other good soil and crop management practices. The heart of such a program is a good rotation built around soil-improving deep-rooted legumes. Among other steps are well-adapted, good quality seed; good cultural methods; returning crop residues and barnyard manure to the soil; and keeping soil and water at home by conservation practices such as cover crops, contour cultivation and strip cropping where needed.

Need Well-Balanced Nutrient Supply to Maintain High Yields

MAINTAINING high crop yields year after year depends on getting and keeping a well-balanced supply of nutrients in a soil well conditioned with organic matter, declared the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in a recent statement.

"No one element is the sole answer to high production over extended periods," says the statement. "It is true that some soil for a time gives startling responses to one element. But the reason for this is that such soil is deficient in that one element, while well stocked with others."

"Take, for instance, a soil lacking in potash. As soon as potash is added, the crop response is tremendous. But continued additions of potash alone will soon pull down the available supply of nitrogen, phosphate and other nutrient elements. When that happens there will be no response from potash until these other elements are added.

"All this emphasizes the fact that an adequate, well-balanced nutrient level is essential to continued high crop production. But for the top in profitable production this high mineral nutrient level must be coupled with practices that give: 1—A plentiful stock of organic matter to give the soil good condition and promote the maximum use of nutrients; 2—Good drainage to save essential moisture and draw off excess water; 3—Adequate soil ventilation to provide crop roots with all the oxygen they need.

"Farmers can condition their soil by the use of time to provide needed calcium and overcome acidity, the use of good rotations and well-fertilized deep-rooted legumes to increase and maintain organic matter supplies."

When Worship Is Wicked

Lesson for April 30, 1950

DON'T THINK for a moment you could stand before some Recording Angel, with a memorandum in your hand showing the number of times you had attended church last year, and expect to see the angel break out into a beaming smile. "Fifty-two trips to church, 52 Good Deeds!" you would smile confidently at him. But he might freeze you with a look of complete contempt. "Fifty-two sins!" he might say. "Next case!"

Can It Be a Sin To Go to Church?

Church-going is not necessarily a good act. Worship may be a quite wicked deed. Most people are slow getting that into their heads. They think that one act of worship on Sunday will somehow make up for a lot of bad behavior Monday through Saturday inclusive. But it is not so. The first person in history to see and to say that worship need not be good and can even be very bad, was none other than the prophet, Amos.

The Israelites to whom he spoke were what we would call a church-going people; they were certainly temple-going. They followed the same ritual that was used in Jerusalem, they offered tithes and sacrifices, they kept the Sabbath, they attended the feasts and they observed the fasts and they sang the sacred hymns.

Yet Amos denounces the whole business, and condemns the worshippers as guilty sinners. What was wrong?
He Looked All Right
READERS of the Old Testament will remember that at Bethel, where the Israelites had one of their principal temples, golden calves had been set up to represent Jehovah their God. Now even though the people worshipped the true God, surely it was wrong to worship him in the form of an animal. The form of their worship was all wrong, much further wrong than any form of Christian worship is today; yet Amos does not condemn them for worshipping in this mistaken way. Never once anywhere does he say a word about the golden calves. And if he does not say anything about a big thing like golden calves, still less does he have anything severe to say about less important departures from "good form" in worship.

He does not condemn the people for having the wrong hymn-book, or for not having a good choir. He hasn't a word of blame for non-attendance at worship; indeed he comes down hardest on those who do attend. Apparently church-attendance in Bethel was excellent—that was not their trouble.

Again, he has no fault to find with the Israelites because their services were uninteresting. Maybe they were; but on the other hand they were probably full of color and of pageantry, something to see as well as to hear. Yet Amos was not impressed. Further, he makes no complaint about poor sermons.

What Was the Trouble?

THE TROUBLE with those people, the thing that made their worship sinful, was not some defect in the act of worship itself. There was nothing they could do, Amos can think of nothing they could do, to "improve the worship program" as we would say.

The trouble with those people was not in church at all. It was on the outside. Almost alone in his time, a voice in the wilderness—for no one paid him any real attention—Amos, speaking for God, told the Sabbath-keeping, church-going, hymn-singing, tithing citizens of Israel an important truth.

Religion, in short, cannot be shut off from the rest of life, as nearly everybody then thought and as too many people now think. Worship is simply no good if it is not lined up with a good life, a life good by intention and effort.

Jesus underscored this same point. If you are at the very altar of God, in the act of offering him a gift, and remember that your brother has something against you, and make matters right with brother before you offer. See your brother before God! Or else God will come to you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a strenuous of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We build pillars of steel in the mud... and we hang a road from them!
Twenty centuries ago a little band of men built some pillars of faith. They built them in the mud of life's sweeping stream, but they pointed them toward heaven. Then they hung a road from their pillars of faith... a road their Master had shown them.
It was a new and different kind of bridge. It carried men from the cold, angry shores of strife and bitterness across to a life of unselfishness and brotherhood. It was more than another religion—it was Christianity!
When a man grows tired of the ugly side of life—when he's ready to see the other side and become a part of it—he need only turn to the Church. That is where the bridge begins.

Ghost Story

It was a peculiar thing, that dream. Every night the owner of a shoe store dreamed that he walked along a street he had never been on before and saw a store located in a perfectly ideal spot. Customers hurried in and out, spending money with free and easy hands. But the dream always ended just before he himself could get in to see if he could purchase it. And the devil of it was that the proprietor always looked out of the dream as if he were not only willing but anxious to sell the store to the shoe-shop owner.

One afternoon, while visiting a strange city on business, the man found himself walking on the street of his dreams. His eyes wide with disbelief, he looked around for the store of his dreams. There it was! Even to the same familiar face of the proprietor. He saw that the proprietor was just closing the doors so he rushed over.

"Quick," he panted, "how much do you want for the store?"

The proprietor shook his head sadly. "I wouldn't advise you to buy it," he warned.

"Why not?" the anxious man demanded.

"It's haunted," was the reply.

"Haunted? By Whom?" wheezed the man in desperation.

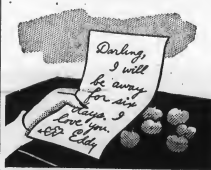

"You," was the soft reply as the door snapped shut in his face.

Rendezvous

Judge—"Did you ever see this prisoner before the bar in your life?"

Witness—"Sure. That's where we always meet."

Hint To The Wise

To economize, a young doctor and a young dentist who had adjoining offices decided to hire one nurse who would work for both of them. Unfortunately both fell in love with her.

The dentist was called away suddenly and left a note for the nurse. The note explained that he would be gone for six days and with the note were six apples.

Logical

Impatient with her husband for talking to himself so much, Mrs. Jones demanded to know why he did it.

"Well, firstly," he replied slowly and deliberately, "I like to hear an intelligent man talk. And secondly," he continued, "I like to speak to an intelligent man."

Tongue-Tied

"What was all that shouting and yelling over at your house last night?" the neighbor wanted to know.

"Oh, my wife and I had words," explained Mr. Glass, "but I didn't get a chance to use mine."

CARRY-ALL KIT GETS PRAISE OF HOUSEWIFE

A kit of supplies to be carried from room to room on cleaning days or as needed was listed by Mrs. James Lyons of Breckinridge county as being "most useful and time saving to have a busy housewife. I no longer have to hunt the hammer and tacks," she explained.

From an apple box she made a container 9 by 18 inches which she painted green and finished with a handle. A smaller box set inside holds jars for tacks, screws, nails and picture hangers, bottles of ammonia, turpentine and linseed oil and scotch tape.

In the larger part of the kit are a hammer, screw driver, scissors, putty knife, wire pliers, steel tape measure, two-inch paint brush for dusting corners, all-purpose glue and a pencil. A wide-mouthed jar with cover holds her treated dusting mits and another, a ball of string which she pulls through a hole in the cover to prevent its tangling.

Making the kit was part of the homemakers club lesson, "Cleaning House the Modern Way," taught to Breckinridge county homemakers by Miss Frances Stallard of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics at the University of Kentucky.

Jodie Buckman of Marion county built a farrowing house with rail-rod ties, with no outlay in cash except for the roof.

The Lacy Creek 4-H Club, with 14 girls as members, has been outstanding in Morgan county for three years.

A campaign of the Spring Hills Homemakers Club in Hickman county resulted in painting and stenciling names on 42 mailboxes.

Fertilizer Called 'Good Buy,' Liberal Use Urged To Beat High Fixed Costs and Lower Crop Prices

COMMERCIAL fertilizer is an "excellent buy" and should be applied liberally to responsive crops to beat the squeeze of high fixed costs and lower farm prices, according to Ed. Longnecker, Michigan State College soil specialist.

Longnecker pointed out that in the present period of declining farm prices increased crop producing efficiency is vital if reasonable farm profits are to be obtained. This can be accomplished, he said, "only if soil productivity is maintained or increased economically."

He recommended several steps to good soil management. First, he advised eliminating crops from land where such crops grow poorly. He advised, too, that a soil test be made of each field at least once during the crop rotation. The results of these tests should be considered in planning the fertilizer program.

Fertilizer should be applied to responsive feed crops such as oats, barley, wheat and alfalfa and to corn when grown on well suited land; also to responsive cash crops, particularly potatoes, sugar beets, and wheat. As cash crop prices decline, such acreage should be reduced and the acreage of productive sod crops increased, he said.

Longnecker recommended adding fertilizer to permanent pastures to increase production. This is particularly important on poorly drained mineral soils and muck soils. He also suggested eliminating excess tillage that adds expense and increases crop production costs per acre. Michigan tests have shown that plowing, leveling and packing will give as good or better crop results as seedbed preparation that includes double disking and spike-tooth harrowing.

Conservation of soil and water are vital, he said. On rolling cropland this may require one or a combination of practices such as cover crops, sod waterways, contour tillage, strip cropping, diversions or terraces. Where wind erosion is a problem, field strip cropping and windbreaks may be necessary.

He recommended further that crop residues be returned to the soil either as surface mulch or by plowing under. Manure should be carefully stored to reduce leaching and decomposition losses. Medium applications of manure to fields at frequent intervals, he said, are preferable to heavy application less frequently.

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1943, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman . . . upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good . . .

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding."

The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT

Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation . . ."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

Dulling Effect

As a reward for chopping part of a cord of wood, the hobo was given a piece of home-made pie. He took it along with him to the woodshed to ease the pangs of hunger. A few minutes later he was knocking on the door again. "Do you have another axe?" he asked. "Why, what do you want another axe for?" the lady of the house demanded. "Well, I accidentally dropped the other one on the piece of pie and really dulled it," he explained.

Accidental

After all the testimony had been received the judge focused his good right eye on the defendant. "Why did you break your cane over the plaintiff's head?" he demanded. "It was an accident, Your Honor," the defendant answered. "I didn't mean to break the cane."

Tired In The Balance

Paddy was hauled before the magistrate for beating up his neighborhood grocer. "Well," asked the magistrate, "can you explain your attack on this man?" "O' certainly can, yer Honor," answered Paddy, "O' was jest tryin' to show him the error o' his weighs."

The Boone County Utopia Club council is planning to hold a horse show in August. H. L. Cockran of Crittenden county said cows turned on rye pasture produced 12 pounds of milk more daily.

SPRING GRASS CAN MAKE GOOD SILAGE

Fearing a possible shortage of feed in middle or late summer, some Kentucky farmers make silage out of surplus spring grass.

The College of Agriculture and Home Economics at Lexington suggests that stock be kept off a part of the pastureland until the bluegrass or other grass is 10 to 15 inches high by late May. Bluegrass mixed with white clover or other legume should make a ton and a half to three tons of silage an acre.

Although now chiefly a pasture grass, Ky 31 fescue may be made into silage, according to a college leaflet on this new grass. Fescue's long life, vigorous leafy growth, high yields and freedom from rust should make it one of the best grasses for silage, it is said.

A good many farmers have more grass than they need in the spring, only to face a feed shortage during summer drought. The silage method saves extra spring grass for later feeding.

FLORENCE NEWS

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Florence Volunteer Fire Department wish to thank the general public for attending their monthly pillow slapping given at the Fire Hall the past week. These socials are given by the Auxiliary on the third Thursday of each month for the benefit of the Fire Hall building fund.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lockwood are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a baby daughter at St. Elizabeth Hospital, recently. The little lady has been named Martha DeVaucourt.

The Florence Volunteer firemen extend a cordial invitation to the people of Boone county to attend their monthly dance given at the Fire Hall on Saturday evening, April 29, 1950. Come and enjoy the evening.

Robert L. Tanner of Ghent, Ky., was the weekend guest of his father, A. G. Tanner, of the Dixie Highway.

A Womanless Wedding is being presented at the Florence High School on Friday evening, April 28, 1950, at 8:00 by the Bristol Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Hopper, and featuring outstanding stage, radio and television stars portrayed by men from Florence, Erlanger and Elsmere. The public is extended a very cordial invitation to attend.

Miss Ruth Marie McDaniel of Cincinnati was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Aylor and daughter on Tuesday evening. She makes her home at the Anna Louise Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Reed have sold their property on Route 42 to Dr. Clarence Shilling of Cincinnati, and will move soon to their apartment on Ft. Mitchell Ave. They will be missed in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Alois Gasser, formerly of Union, have purchased the property of C. A. Duran at the corner of Smith Street and the Dixie Highway. We welcome them back to the community.

Mrs. Rita Elkin and two sons, Billy and Don, of Erlanger, were the Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Aylor and daughter Cynthia.

Overcharged

At a fashionable New York church a man came in to pray and rest before the regular services. He had finished his prayers and was reclining comfortably in a pew when an exceedingly well-dressed member of the "400" entered and sat in the same pew.

The well-dressed man glared at the stranger for a few minutes then motioned to an usher. He gave the usher a note to pass on to the stranger at the other end of the pew. The note read, "I pay $2.00 for the exclusive use of this pew." The word "exclusive" was heavily underlined.

The stranger drew out his own card and sent it back with the following reply, "I think you pay entirely too much."

Keeping Up

At each stop the fast transcontinental train made, a little yellow cart would rush along the platform to pick up the train's mail and other incidentals.

As the train began to pick up speed after the fifth stop, a passenger turned to his companion and said, "That train is really traveling today."

The other man replied, "That little yellow wagon ain't doin' so bad, either."

Cleaned Out

A menu wasn't necessary at a small country boarding-house because the food was the same every day. Corn flakes for breakfast, fried fish for lunch and boiled eggs for dinner. It got so monotonous that the boarders complained.

"Well, what else can I serve?" the landlady inquired.

"How about some meat, maybe sausages, for a change?" suggested one of the boarders.

"But how do you cook sausages?" the landlady wanted to know. "I never cooked them before."

Neither had the boarder, but he felt he knew how they should be done.

"Why don't you cook them the same way you do the fish?" he suggested.

That evening the boarders sat at the table with moist lips as the landlady brought in a steaming and fragrant platter. Their disappointment was intense, though, when the cover was lifted and a shriveled-up mass of brown stuff greeted their eyes.

The landlady couldn't help but see her boarders' long faces.

"They don't look so good, do they?" she murmured. "But after all, you must remember that there isn't much left when these things have been cleaned."

GLENCOE

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Higgins purchased the Grant Boaz property at the court house door last Monday.

Dave Scott is very low at this time. The Glencoe Church of Christ was very happy on Easter Sunday when on Monday they paid all they owed on the parsonage. Thanks to all who had a part and we know the Lord will bless each and every one for their part in this work.

Too many friends of Bro. Roy A. Johnson were sorry to hear he could not hold a meeting in Glencoe this year, as everyone enjoyed the meeting so much last year.

Mrs. Jim Clemmons has returned home here to stay. We missed her while she was away.

Mrs. Cooper is able to be out again after being in so long. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Jean Taylor and family called on Miss Jennie Taylor, Sunday.

Mrs. Clara Bradley spent Sunday with Mrs. Jack Wilson.

CARD OF THANKS—

We desire to express our sincere thanks to relatives and friends for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our dear brother, John Tom O'Hara. Especially do we thank Rev. Henry Busenmeyer for inspiring words of consolation, the

INDEPENDENCE

Scout Fund Drive

The Boy and Girl Scouts, including the Brownies, troops 40, 50 and 60, are entering into a drive for funds with which to build a recreation house or cabin on the Independence Courthouse grounds.

May 1st these boys and girls will be around with small cans for gifts and when one gives they will pin on the donor a twig with a ribbon. April 30th all the parents of the Scouts are strongly urged to attend a special meeting with their children to assist in business matters relating to the drive that follows immediately. The above information was reported by Mrs. Frank Stagman, chairman of the Scouts' publicity.

Woman Lion Tamer Killed

Recently at the Louis Goebel Lion Farm, Mrs. May Schaffer, 45, was in a cage with a lion when it lunged at her and clamped its teeth on her neck. This widely known lion tamer was working with a chain and whip in her hand when this fatal attack occurred.

A trainer of elephants nearby rushed into the cage with a pitchfork and a piece of pipe and beat the lion off and dragged the woman's lifeless body from the cage. The Bible says that every kind of beast and bird can be and has been trained by mankind (James 3:7).

but it nowhere acknowledges that man is able to change the nature of wild beasts. However, there is coming a time when the Lord reigns over the earth that a little child shall lead an entire menagerie (Isaiah 11:6).

The utter hopelessness of animal or man changing his own nature is revealed in the question, "Can the Ethiopian Change His Skin or the Leopard His Spots?" "Then may ye also do good that are accustomed to do evil," (Jeremiah 13:23). A new birth is essential for a new nature. A person may be born again by the gospel, (1 Peter 1:23-25).

Mrs. Henry Knipfer of Ludlow; the sister-in-law of Wm. Knipfer of Independence, passed away last week at her home.

Johnny Breeden is building a new home at the south edge of town.

The St. Cecilia Church began this week building a priests' home on the church lot. According to some of the members, the teachers will occupy the former home of the priest.

Jay Mershon has moved from Richardson Road to McCullum Road, just east of the bank at Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Elam of Horsebranch Road, opened their home this week for a cottage prayer meeting, which was conducted by the Independence Baptist Church.

Soil Testing Laboratory

The soil testing laboratory at the Independence Courthouse is now in operation one day each week. If samples of soil are left at C. A. Wicklund's office the first of the week, the results of the test will be obtainable the following week.

Marriages

Leslie Damon, son of Paul Damon of Rowman Road, and Miss Stella Losley, daughter of Dr. Losey of Taylor Mill Road, were married last week and left to spend a week's honeymoon in Florida.

Ed Knocheiman and Miss Beck, daughter of Joe Beck of the LLL, near Atwood, were married last Saturday.

Artie Johnson Tunnage of Demossville, and Della Christine Bridges of Morning View, were married at Independence last week.

Independence Homemakers

The Independence Homemakers met with Mrs. Hubert Baird. Mrs. G. H. Houston opened the meeting with the Club Collect. Mrs. Logan Wayman, citizenship chairman, gave a quiz reading, and Mrs. William House gave the lesson on Gardening and Flowers. Mrs. J. C. Reynolds and Mrs. G. H. Houston gave the lesson on Decorative Stitches.

Those attending were Mesdames Wm. House, W. H. Summey, F. H. Shanklin, C. W. Carter, J. C. Reynolds, Logan Wayman, G. H. Houston, Charles Davis, A. Ray and Hubert Baird.

Dickie Colclough Injured

Dickie Colclough, son of R. E. Colclough of the Kenton County Motors, while bringing a new motor on rollers down the driveway to the shop, nearly lost two fingers—the index and the one next to it, on his left hand. The motor started to tilt off the roller and he grabbed it and a flange came down without 350 pounds against a brick—only the skin held the index finger. The tendons were also cut and mangled. Dickie was taken to Booth Hospital, where two operations were performed in three days. Doctors say that several more operations will be necessary to save the fingers and try to keep them from becoming stiff.

J. C. Armstrong of Sugar Camp Road, was ordered to bed last week to fight off pneumonia.

W. Haden Ware

W. Haden Ware, secretary of the Kenton County Fire Insurance Co., and brother of Orle S. Ware, U. S. Trial Commissioner for Northern Kentucky, died Sunday morning at his home on Taylor Mill Road, Kenton County. He was 70 years old.

He was a member of the Oak Ridge Baptist Church and of Covington Lodge, 109, F. A. M. For many years he had been active in the affairs of the Kenton County Farm Bureau.

Mr. Ware is survived by his widow, Mrs. Kathryn Spence Ware; a son, H. Spanton Ware, South Ft. Mitchell; two sisters, Mrs. Norbert H. Goinney, Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Belle Melvin, Evanston, Ill., and four brothers, Orle S. Ware, Howard T. Ware, Vestal, N. Y., Elmer P. Ware and A. Eugene Ware, Park Hills. The sympathy of the community is extended to the family.

CONRAD, HARDWARE

April Is Over! . . .

These last few days of April brought about several happenings—the Cincinnati Reds lost five games straight . . . Louis Schwab caught 13 Blue Gills out of the reservoir . . . the Rotary Club had a 100% meeting . . . the Lions Club had a fine meeting at the Gallatin County Club House and . . . the Lions Club have the Street Signs ready to put up!!!

erona customers sure turned out last Saturday—Roy D. Webster, Arthur Brewster and Robert W. Webster bought some of those good Gold Seal Linoleum rugs—they have the best finish and really wear well. Jeannette Madden sure likes that good Boice paint—she bought so much it took two of us to carry it out to the car. Manford Craft from Gallatin county, bought a Rastus plow—he wanted to have it ready when the weeds come. Herman Decker from down Richwood way needed some field fence and barb wire. Mrs. Terry also had to have some fence. Joe Woods was here twice on Monday—first it was repairing a sprayer, then for sulphur for bugs on plant beds. Tobacco plants are growing but the bugs are waiting for them to come up.

Marvin Kendall came in and looked at that fish tackle case—of course he had the fever, but that made it worse, so he bought some. Even Russell Teasley caught the fishing fever and Butch Linton had to have more tackle. It sure must be a terrible disease once you get it, because it comes back on you every spring. Lloyd Yates was trying to work but the weather just about had him and feeling people going fishing was terrible. I believe we will have to start a machine shop because we do more repair work than we do selling. Wm. Breeden, Jr. hurried in about five o'clock after some paint and a lawn broom—Eloise has a job for him. That is the reason men don't live long in Walton.

Leslie and Herbert Hoffman were in after more of those Jamesway poultry equipment. Ed Perrell from Zion Station broke his plow, but we had enough parts to repair it. Jeff Austin and wife from Morning View, who are good Walton customers, were here buying lots of hardware—Jeff was inquiring about a Vulcan Roller Pulverizer—it sure mashes those clods. Maitland and Teresa Baker who now live in Fiskburg, and are good farmers, were here early Tuesday for Blue Stone, sulphur and lime for plant beds—you have to watch that Blue Mold on plant beds. Mrs. Susie Dwyer from Verona, bought some of those nice window shades—we carry the Fiber and Plastic shade. Larry Ryan, one of our good tobacco raisers, bought a new Bemis tobacco setter, Evan Huff, the old lion tamer, bought a hay frame, clamps and bolts.

Elbert (Sop) Moore from Beaver, sure killed those wild onions with 2-4-D Weed-No-More. There is a lot of conversation going on around the old stove as Buck Gross, Jim Wasson, Louis Webster, Bill Parker, Chick and Brown are telling some big tales—these . . . as Mark and Malcolm will not print them. We have fish stories and community gossip every day. To top off the week, Dennie Davis and Roy D. Webster lost one of their pigs they bought over at the Stockyards—they chased it all over town and finally caught it down at the Walton Lumber Co.—Chick helped chase the pig from the Hardware to the Depot and run out of wind—you would think he had more hot air than that. Cecil Sebree and his boy Gene sure are having bicycle trouble—that Chick sure is a bicycle mechanic, though. Chas. Althippen from Crittenden was down and saw that farm sled out on the lot—it was just what he needed. If you have what people want, they will buy it!

Shop in Walton and at Conrad Hardware and you can just about find all your needs. This is the best business town, for it's size, not to be a County Seat, in the state of Kentucky. If you haven't made this town your trading center—try it!

McElroy Honored By Membership In Phi Beta Kappa at UK

Stanley L. McElroy, son of Mrs. Hazel McElroy, a student at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, has been honored by election to membership in America's oldest collegiate fraternity — the scholastic honor, Phi Beta Kappa.

Announcement of McElroy's selection was made last week by Dr. Charles E. Snow, U. K. professor of anthropology and president of the University's Alpha chapter of the honorary society.

A graduate of Walton-Verona High School, McElroy is a senior in the U. K. College of Commerce. He is also a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary society for commerce students, and a former member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary society.

Thought no minimum scholastic average is specified for membership in Phi Beta Kappa, new members usually are selected from the upper ten percent of each year's graduating class — and from a list of outstanding graduate students.

McElroy is one of 20 newly elected students who will be formally initiated into Alpha chapter May 13, Dr. Snow said.

C. W. Thompson To Enter the Real Estate Business Here

Charles W. Thompson, perhaps better known as Uncle Charlie, after many years in the banking business, soon expects to enter the real estate business, in order that this and adjoining territories might be served.

He anticipates a listing of much good and desirable properties and, even before this announcement, has had several inquiries from potential people who are desirous of locating in smaller towns and towns near the metropolitan areas. Therefore, realizing that this community is no near, accessible and available makes Walton an ideal place for consideration.

Mr. Thompson has had various experiences, having been in government work for five or six years before coming to Walton. He started as a bank examiner for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, later served as field agent for the Home Owners Loan Corporation, worked as credit examiner for the Federal Housing Administration, and then as Intermediate Credit Bank, and then as Manager of Financial Relations with the Federal Housing Administration. All of these connections with many years of banking experience have given him much encouragement to enter the real estate field. Much thought has been given to such work by him, and soon he has expects to have a license from the Kentucky Real Estate Commission under whose authority he expects to operate.

Other announcements will be made later, and should service of this sort be desired, Uncle Charlie will exert every effort to cooperate with you.

Dils, Newcomer In Politics, Candidate For Representative

In announcing my candidacy as a Democrat for Representative to the United States Congress for the Fifth District of Kentucky, I wish to state this is my first political aspiration. I am a firm believer of the Jeffersonian Democracy in which the ideal of a popular government was based upon faith in the political power of the common people, who should be relied upon to choose those of ability to vote for them.

One thing also in reference to out-of-town fires that we would like to ask the people of the community to cooperate with us on is the blocking of the pump when we arrive at the fire by automobiles and also during the fire pump may have to be moved to another supply and if the route is blocked, precious minutes are lost in getting everybody out of the way.

God fearing men and women have turned to the Democratic Party for their protection of human rights. The protection of human liberty and freedom must be maintained by our Congress with a constant vigilance lest these great principles shall perish. I am opposed to any hasty or reform legislation that becomes too liberal and too extreme. The doom of Democracy is not at hand. You and I, the average man and woman of today, are the witnesses of American ideal of government by the people, and for the people, as maintained by the long line of our great statesmen.

Armed with the utmost confidence in my own ability to cope with the perplexing problems of today, I offer my services to the people of the Fifth District of Kentucky to represent them in Congress. I shall be an active Congressman and ever alert for your needs or to lessen your burdens.

I received my Bachelor of Commercial Science in 1925, and Bachelor of Law in 1937 from the Y. M. C. A. College of Law, Cincinnati, Ohio. Was admitted to practice in 1938. Served in the United States Supreme Court in 1939. In addition to my active law practice, I have been Secretary and Treasurer of the Dixie Wholesale Grocery of Covington, since 1940. I have owned and operated the "Dixie Farm" on Louisville Highway, at Florence, Boone County, since 1940. My various activities have brought me in contact with problems of the farmer, laborers and business men, and to practice before the courts. I serve you as your Representative when elected, I propose a system of periodic visits to each County seat of the nine Counties for the purpose of meeting you personally and to exchange ideas.

I have been married twenty-five years to the former Miss Della Bentley and have one daughter, Gloria Lee, a commercial artist.

—Frank Lee Dils

Paper and Scrap Metal Collection Friday-Evening

This Friday evening, after 5:30, the Walton Fire Department will again put on their paper and scrap metal drive in Walton. Anyone having anything to donate, please put it out at the curb or notify some of the firemen where it is.

We have a list of members who are charged a small sum each year in return for which the fire department will answer any and all calls for no additional charge. Any person living in the area around Walton is eligible for membership and at the small cost, should become a member.

We, of the Fire Department, would like to make all of the calls for nothing but a small, precious amount of money to buy the equipment needed and as we are self supporting, we cannot do it. For example, the fire department has a portable pump which carries on a can be carried by two men and put down by a pond or cistern which the pump cannot get to, enabling the fire department to get water quickly on the fire. This portable pump, together with the connections and hose for it, cost approximately $600 and that is only one item that we have. For that reason we ask the people of our community outside of the city limits to pay a small sum each year in return for a guarantee of fast, efficient service in case of a fire.

Our territory boundaries are the Froggton Road to the North; Highway 42 to the west; Crittenden to the South, and Green Road to the East. All property inside of these boundaries is included. If a person is not a member of our protection system and we answer a call, the fee is $100.00 for the call, and $25.00 an hour or any part of an hour that we are there. If anyone wishes to become a member, all they have to do is contact any member of the fire department and they will explain the plan in full.

One thing also in reference to out-of-town fires that we would like to ask the people of the community to cooperate with us on is the blocking of the pump when we arrive at the fire by automobiles and also during the fire pump may have to be moved to another supply and if the route is blocked, precious minutes are lost in getting everybody out of the way.

Again we want to thank the advertiser for cooperating with us in the printing of these articles and also we would like to know if any people of Walton and community think we are doing a good job. If you do, please drop us a post card this week, addressed to the Walton Fire Department, telling us what you think of our effort and money to make your community a safer, better place in which to live, and if they think it is appreciated, you will get a better an better fire department.

Poppy Day To Be Observed Here On Saturday, May 27

Making memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the war dead on Poppy Day, May 27, is providing employment for thousands of disabled veterans in hospitals, according to Mrs. Dora Stephenson, Poppy Chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary. The work not only enables the veterans earn much-needed money, but it is valuable as occupational therapy. Poppies will be distributed on the streets here by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary. Contributions received from the little red memorial flowers will go entirely into the rehabilitation and child welfare funds of the Legion and Auxiliary.

The flowers are made of crepe paper with wire stems and are accurate replicas of the wild poppies of France and Belgium, who grew such poppies on the battlefields of both World Wars. This "Flanders Fields" poppy has been the memorial flower since the first World War.

Millions are worn throughout the world each year and, in addition to keeping bright the memory of the war dead, they are an important source of funds for the welfare of the disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

The veterans develop great skill and speed in shaping the flowers and are able to earn substantial amounts without overtaxing their strength. For them, the poppy fills empty hospital hours with interesting, profitable employment.

Young Farm Folk Have Department In Farm Bureau

Young farm folk now have a department in the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation. This "in between" group of young people, ages 18 to 28, has been organized by the 4-H Club work on education, recreation and community service.

The Young People's Department of the Farm Bureau in Kentucky now has an organization set up in which young people from Kentucky's 110 Farm Bureau counties can participate in their own programs, based on education, recreation and community service.

The state program for these young farm folk is based on the activities which have been carried on under the direction of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Rural Youth Bureau leaders will be trained by the Committee for the past four years.

Although Rural Youth work in Kentucky is comparatively new, it is getting off to a fine start. One of the outstanding organizations in Union county, many other counties have plans under way to establish a Young People's Department. It goes without saying that in training and developing these young people, the Farm Bureau will profit in the future, with better trained Farm Bureau-minded leaders. Most of the Farm Bureau programs are based on the future of agriculture, and considering our young folk should be considered in planning for the agriculture of tomorrow.

Carol Miller, Dayton High School Senior, and president of the Covington district F. H. A., presided at the meeting which was opened with invocation by Rev. G. R. Henson, pastor of the Dry Ridge Baptist Church. Group singing was led by Robert Knauft, music director at Highlands. Welcomes were extended by Mrs. Helen Blahn, Dry Ridge advisor, and by Norma Jean Beach, president.

Kentuckians In Washington

By Gil Kingsbury

Kentucky lawmakers here in Washington, Campbell County, Corinth, Crittenden, Dayton, Dixie, Dry Ridge, Highlands, Holmes, Ludlow, Mason, Simon Kenton and Williams-town. Campbell County and Crittenden are new chapters.

The newspapers have been filled with Senator McCarthy's story on charges of Communism in the State Department. Radio commentators have beat the air waves with their versions. Usually that means a flood of mail on the subject. But, strangely enough, there is no mail on the topic. Perhaps citizens at home, like those in Washington, are confused by the claims and counter-claims.

Much of this week's mail is all about rent control. It is pretty evenly divided for and against. And there has been a lot of mail urging tax reductions.

Salary Increase:

Uncle Sam, this past week, decided to reward some of the outstanding employees of government. And to Edward Seiler, former Kentucky treasurer, went a substantial increase in salary.

Mr. Seiler, deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration, was getting $10,300 a year. Now he is to receive about $12,000.

Another Kentuckian due for the same increase is Leland Howard of Hodgenville, who is the assistant director of the mint.

Both were included in a list of 400 top executives in government.

Centre College:

Kentuckians this past week were treated to a presentation by the excellent Cappella Choir from Centre College. Among the distinguished Washingtonians who heard the young college songsters was the school's most famous alumnus, Chief Justice Fred Vinson.

Northern Kentucky was well represented in the choir. There was Molly Andrews of Mayfield; Alice Carran of Covington; Frank Cooley of Ft. Thomas; Ann Hawes of Covington; Jack Keenon of Ludlow; Mary Ruth Morris of Ft. Mitchell; Peggy Udry of Ft. Mitchell, and Virginia Wardup of Berry.

The Centre College organization gave three separate performances while in the nation's capital.

Navy Men:

While we are on the subject of students, the Navy has selected 19 Kentucky boys who will be given Navy, R. O. T. C. scholarships. They may attend any college having a navy officers' training unit and when they graduate they will join the fleet as ranking new ensigns. Among the lucky 19 is William Herndon Rusk of Covington. And an alternate is Edmund Lee Judy of Ft. Thomas.

While in college, the young men will receive pay just like the midshipmen at Annapolis.

Into the File:

Our favorite United States senator, Garrett L. Withers, received a notice this week from the Social Register of Washington and New York. It asked him for his Washington address, his Kentucky address, his summer residence and all sorts of information of use to the world of society.

The senator gingerly placed it in the round file, the waste basket.

SCRIPTURE: Hosea, (especially chapters 1-3)
DEVOTIONAL READINGS: Psalm 121: 1-3

Tragedy to Truth

Lesson for May 7, 1950

GOOD PREACHERS are not all of one kind. In listening to some of them, you have the impression that what this man says would be just as true if another man said it; that he is uttering a universal truth that might as well have been written on the sky; he is a voice, only a voice. In listening to other good preachers you have the impression that no other man could have said this as well as he; what he says is distilled from his own experience; he is not only a voice, he is a heart, and you hear the man's heart-beats all the way through his words. Now Hosea was this kind of a prophet. You might say that his experience was the text of all his sermons.

And so They Were Married

THE STORY of Hosea is in chapters 1-3. (Experts in Old Testament study have never quite agreed as to the meaning of the story. However, the interpretation which is offered here is the one now held by the majority of scholars.) It is the story of Hosea's marriage to a girl named Gomer. If it was a normal marriage, it loved her with all his heart, and his hopes for the future were as bright as any young bridegroom's could be. In time they had a little boy named Jezreel.

Then came the second child, a girl named Lo-Ruhamah. In Hebrew, that name means "No Mercy." What a name for a little girl! But is it possible that Hosea named her for her mother—not for her mother's name but for her mother's character? At all events, things were not well in that home; indeed, it soon ceased to be a home. For when the third child was born, Hosea gave the boy the dreadful name of Lo-Ammi, No-Child-of-Mine.

There was no use in pretending any more. The home had collapsed, happiness had fled. No experience a man can have is more bitter than this, to know that the one great love of his life has been given to the wrong woman. But Gomer vanished, leaving Hosea, as such a woman would, to care for the three motherless children.

Home Again

HOW MANY MONTHS or years later it was we do not know. But one day, in the slave market, Hosea saw a woman for sale. The price was low (as slaves went in those days); evidently few buyers were expected. A half-price slave would not attract attention from most men, but Hosea looked twice. Yes, it was his Gomer! Where she had been, who has abused her, made her a slave, how many times she had been sold and resold, no one knows. But there she was.

Hosea might easily have stood and laughed bitterly in her bedraggled face. It serves her right, he might have thought. The way of the transgressor is hard, she made her bed and now she can lie in it. Justice has been done, I am avenged. And with a parting curse he might have gone his way.

Somewhere beneath all the shame and disillusionment, beneath the bitterness and the pain, still the old love was burning bright. Paying the small price asked, he took Gomer home again. Love had conquered evil.

Long before Christianity, Hosea did that rarely Christian thing, he did good to one who had done him harm. Gomer was unlovely, unlovable; yet he loved her in spite of all.

Sermons From the Heart

THIS BITTER EXPERIENCE God turned into a blessing, for Hosea and for his nation and for us. In our study next week we shall see more of what God taught Hosea through these experiences.

But the first thing Hosea learned was that the experience was a lesson, God's lesson. He could even look back on the tragedy of his marriage and see that God was leading him all along, from the very first. God knew what sort of woman Gomer was and would be, yet he wished Hosea to marry her. God intended that he should go through just those years.

Without the tragedy, he could not have arrived at the truth. His sermons thenceforth came from the depths of his heart. Hosea, like all the prophets, denounced sin; like all the prophets, he could see the fatal effects of sin on his nation.

Mr. and Mrs. Chirp are very very busy these Spring mornings. It takes most of their time to keep their children well supplied with worms and other dainty morsels on which fledglings thrive.

And they must be careful to return shortly lest some enemy disturb the nest. Too often Mr. and Mrs. Chirp have had to defend their children from danger. But always they have fought with all their might, and through their love have saved the babies from calamity.

And so it is that every living thing dwells in danger. Man especially must guard against evils; for in him they threaten body, mind, and soul. He, like the fledglings, must depend on some power greater and stronger than himself—a guardian of love.

"GOD is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." To Him we must look for love and protection. To His Church we must come for salvation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

On The Target

A race for the love of a certain man had ended in victory for the prettier of two women. She had concentrated on physical charm while the other, realizing that she was no match in that department, had had to rely on her superior education.

The successful girl was showing her defeated rival the tricks that she had won the man for her. She revealed all her little secrets in make-up and then showed the other the hair-do she had devised.

"See?" she said, "I start off by parting my hair exactly in the middle."

"Uh-huh," mused the other, "in dead center, eh?"

Always The Cavalier

The old ferry-boat man gazed at the darkening skies apprehensively. "I think I'll be able to take you across," he told the tourist, "but I'll have to get this cow over first."

"Why must I wait for you to take the cow first?" the man demanded.

"Ladies first," said the old man.

One On The Judge

A cook was accused of breaking into a house and stealing a valuable vase. His lawyer, in presenting his side of the case to the judge, contended that the cook didn't break into the house.

"He didn't enter the house at all, Your Honor," he explained. "He stood on the doorstep, put his foot through the open door, hooked it around the vase and pulled it out through the door. Because only his leg actually entered the house I believe that his leg alone should be punished for the crime."

"Since you figure that way," smiled the judge, "I will sentence the leg to one year in prison. It is up to the man to follow along if he chooses."

"But he doesn't," said the lawyer, as he hastened to help the cook remove his wooden leg.

Puzzling

Old Lady—"Mrs. Mowrer says she has never been sick a day in her life."

Another one—"What in the world does she talk about, then?"

Routine

A congressman, back home from Washington, was telling a few of his constituents about the dream he had.

"I was sitting in the House," he said, "and must have dozed off. Soon I began dreaming that I was on the floor, making a speech. And, by golly, I was."

SHORT STORY

The Price

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

THERE was a strangeness about Pancho Ortega that was hard to describe. There was mystery in his eyes, a wildness, a curiously detached look. Yet he had the high forehead of intelligence, the cheekbones and nose of breeding, the erect carriage of pride. He was the type of man that you looked at twice.

I first saw him two summers ago in Cano. It was swelteringly hot outside, but within the dark interior of Cabello's saloon you could forget the heat.

Ortega was sitting alone at a table, an untouched drink at his elbow, an open book in his lap. No one bothered him; the dancing girls veered away; there was respect in the attitude of the waiter who served him that wasn't evidenced for other customers.

"Who is he?" I asked Juan.

"Pancho Ortega, the head hunter."

"Head hunter?" I stared, drink held suspended. Juan's white teeth flashed against his dark skin.

"It surprises you, yes? That business of head hunting. Come, surely you have heard of the head hunting tribes?"

"Who hasn't?" I assented. "But who ever believed them?"

"Come," said Juan. "You Americans must be shown."

I followed Juan down Cano's single street, beneath the blazing sun, and into the cool dark interior of what might pass as a gift shop back home. Juan spoke rapidly in his native tongue to the swarthy gentleman behind the counter. The swarthy gentleman looked at me, shrugged, and disappeared into a back room. In a moment he reappeared carrying in his hand an object that caused my flesh to crawl.

The object was a human head, shrunk symmetrically to about the size of an orange.

The swarthy gentleman offered me the head for $25. When I refused it, he shrugged indifferently and disappeared behind the curtains.

"THE Ecuadorian government will fine you $400 for possessing one of these heads," Juan explained as we left the store. "No one has yet been able to discover how the average tribes remove the bones before the shrinking is done, and little else about the actual shrinking process."

"Pancho Ortega is a scientist. He came down here two years ago, determined to solve the mystery. Naturally he ran into difficulties because of the government rules against head hunting. But this only made him more determined. He visited tribe after tribe. Those who were friendly played innocent, flatly refusing to admit any knowledge about the business. From the other tribes, the hostiles, Pancho barely escaped with his life."

I glanced at Juan quickly. "Do you mean . . . ?"

Again Juan shrugged. "Who knows. One cannot experiment without the proper ingredients. Certain natives have mysteriously disappeared."

"Pancho Ortega!" I exclaimed suddenly.

appeared during the past six months.

Unconsciously I quickened my step, but when we arrived at Cabello's, Pancho Ortega was gone.

I did not see him again for two years. The second meeting left an even more vivid impression than the first. Juan and I were renewing our acquaintance and discussing old times over a bottle of Cabello's fine liquor. Across the room an old man was reading a book.

"Pancho Ortega!" I exclaimed suddenly.

Juan shook his head. "No, that is no one more important than Cabello's old father, who comes here daily to get out of the heat." His face became grave. "You are curious about Pancho Ortega, eh?"

I admitted that I was.

"Come," said Juan. And once more I followed him down the blazing street and into the gloomy interior of the shop we had visited before. The object that the shop owner carried when he reappeared sent a cold wave through my body. There was no mistaking it. It was the shrunken head of Pancho Ortega.

No, Indeed

Indian Representative—"I have come before you gentlemen to plead for the right of my tribe to manage its own lands."

Senator—"I object on the grounds that the average Indian hasn't the intelligence to manage property."

Indian—"Why, Senator, do you think I haven't that much sense?" Senator—"I said the average Indian. You surely can't be average. Your tribe undoubtedly would send the smartest man they had to plead their case."

Indian—"That isn't so, sir. We Indians are just like the people of the United States. We never send our smartest men to congress."

Sure Enough

Student—"How would you describe a miracle, professor?"

Professor—"A miracle, eh? Well, if you were to see a bullfrog, that would not be a miracle. Neither would a thistle be a miracle. Even the melodious song of a bird singing would not constitute a miracle. But if you were to see a bullfrog sitting on a thistle and singing like a bird, that indeed would be a miracle."

Not Too Much

The new dam had diverted much of the water that a community of truck farmers previously had used to keep their crops healthy. They complained to all officialdom about it. Getting no satisfaction from the state officials they brought suit.

Arguing the case before the court one hot, lazy day the farmers through their attorney contended that the water had been vital to their business.

"But we must have water, Your Honor," thundered the defending lawyer in a roaring basso-profundo. The lawyer's sudden vehemence awakened the judge, who had been dozing.

"All right," he muttered hastily, "but only a very little in mine."

Outnumbered

Plaintiff—"I have four men here who are prepared to testify that they saw the defendant steal two overcoats from in front of my shop."

Defendant—"And I, Your Honor, have twelve men who are ready to swear that they never saw me take them."

Judge—"Case dismissed. I am forced to take the testimony of twelve men against that of only four."

Increase In Crime, Etc.

The American Business Men's Research Foundation reports that there are startling increases in crime rate, admission of alcoholics to mental hospitals, women sentenced to Federal prisons, and dependent children throughout the United States since 1934. This statement is based on government data just assembled. The Foundation points out that the latest official data released by the Bureau of Census and the Department of Commerce show:

Among other things in this letter he says, "It is later than you think—time is running out—no one can say how fast. Our scientists would awaken us to the fact that mankind now has power to commit global suicide. We call upon you in our churches of Kentucky to pray for the release of power through intercession on behalf of world peace and security. On Sunday, May 14, please call to the attention of your people the urgency of this hour to join as individuals to work together on the big team (Army, Navy and Air Force) for the purpose of preserving the peace of the world."

CONRAD HARDWARE

MAY IS HERE

Last Saturday was a big day in the South end of Boone County—Bill Scroggin opened his new lake at Verona for fishing. We didn't have to listen to fish stories, because we saw fish and lots of them, with our own eyes. Melvin Wasson had a string about 4 feet long. Ezra Guillion had one larger, and Marie Hughes and Gene McElroy caught 60 lbs. They were sure having fun—some were catching them two at a time. We sold fishing tackle like popcorn at a ball game. If you need any fish tackle, come in, look at our selection—rods, reels, plugs, flies, cane poles any length, everything a fisherman.

Saturday was also lawn mower day—Mabel Webster started the day off with one of the best lawn mowers I had; then Mr. Harvey up at Midway bought a mower and Cora Bethel sent up after another, and Arthur Brewster came in and bought the last Eclipse mower I had in stock. Lawrence Overbey bought one of the Regent mowers—so that was five in one day—not bad, I'll say. Ed Hanlon, who lives in Cincinnati, Ohio, and operates a farm in Owen County, called for a Tiger tobacco setter. He will pick it up next week. If you need a setter, you had better buy—they are scarce.

Prof. Cobb from Newport, stops every Saturday on his way to his farm in Owen County. He has bought a lot of hardware from me in the last few years. These are the kind of sales you make by being on the main highway. If they ever take U. S. 25 out of our town, it will gradually die and move over to the new highway. A salesman from Cincinnati, just passing through Walton, stopped for a power lawn mower, which we have from $89.00 up. He said he always stops in country towns, where he can park, and also save the sales tax by buying in Kentucky.

Had a letter from Hugh and India Arnold from California, telling how much they like the Advertiser. This newspaper covers a lot of states. Hugh and India are fine, and have just moved into their new home.

Those Gold Seal and Armstrong linoleum rugs sell so well—we have all sizes and the prices are low. Fly screen time has arrived, as these big green flies are coming out—we have galvanized, bronze and plastic in most all widths; also sliding screen in all sizes.

Ice cream freezers, thermos jugs and croquet sets are selling. We just received a shipment of new Gibson refrigerators—they are beauties, especially that 11 cu. ft. box for only $299.00, and that 7 cu. ft. box for $199.00—some values—come in and look.

Home Repair Outlays In County To Reach Huge Total In '50

Boone County home owners will spend an estimated $13,500,000 on repair and modernization of non-farm dwellings during 1950, according to estimates just released by the Title Council of America.

"Lower wholesale prices for building products and growing stress on the use of quality materials should greatly benefit Kentucky home owners planning repairs this year," declared A. T. Wintersgill, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee.

Approximately two of every five homes in this region will be redecorated, either inside or out, during the year, the report showed. Roofs will be repaired or replaced on one of every six, and six of every 100 are due for carpentry work.

Seven of every 100 homes will have plumbing repaired, bathrooms tiled or showers installed, the report said. Miscellaneous interior repairs will be made in six of every 100 dwellings.

Home repairs will be easier on the 1950 family budget because of a decline of more than five per cent in wholesale costs of building materials, in comparison with prices at the beginning of 1949, the report stated. Home owners also will be able to insist on such quality materials as clay tile for repair work as a result of the present buyers' market, it pointed out.

Expenditures throughout the U. S. for home repair and modernization this year will total $2,350,000,000, the report estimated.

Simon Kenton FHA Enjoys Field Trip To Cincinnati Firms

The F. H. A. Chapter of Simon Kenton sponsored a field trip to the Proctor and Gamble and other plants on Tuesday, May 2nd. The second and third year home economics girls were invited. The group consisted of about sixty.

The group visited the Ivorydale factory, which is the center of one of the largest soap manufacturing areas in the world and has been a landmark in Cincinnati since 1885. There are 123 buildings spread over an area of 155 acres. Recreational facilities are available for the 2,000 people who work in the plant.

The Kettle House gets the name from the giant three-story kettles in rows extending two blocks. The soap is boiled in the kettles, which can hold as much as 100 tons each, for several days. It is then pumped into pipes which carries it to other parts of the plant for further processing.

The Ivorydale Fire Department consists of volunteers who have regular jobs in the plant.

In the Camay Soap department, Camay starts out as soap pellets, going through processes until it is shaped, cut, stamped, wrapped and packed into containers.

The process of making Ivory soap is very similar to that of making ice cream.

In the quality control laboratory, thousands of tests are run every day to assure the uniformity and top quality of soap and shortening. The samples are tested for each step of production from the raw material stage through to the finished products.

The group next visited the Coca Cola plant.

The bottles are washed, sterilized and filled with syrup and carbonated water, capped and run through the agitating machine. Next the bottles, filled with Coca Cola, go through the line where they are inspected by women, for any foreign materials or chipped bottles. They go from here inspection line directly to where the cases are filled.

The Coca Cola building, located in Cincinnati, is a very modern building, and is one of the largest in this locality. The walls of the upper balcony are hand painted. The painting was done by a local artist, known as Homer.

After the tour through the building refreshments of Coca Cola were served in the recreation room. At the Proctor and Gamble plant every one received a souvenir consisting of soap and shampoo.

Training of Firemen Discussed; Fine Cooperation In Scrap Drive

We wish again to thank the people of Walton and community for the fine cooperation they have given the fire department in the drive for scrap metal and paper. There will be no collection this week, but the drive will be continued on Friday afternoon, May 19.

The Training of Firemen:

This week the department wishes to show the people of the community what is done in the manner of training our firemen to fight fires. The first thing we try to teach a fireman, when he joins our department, is the need to know all the possible can about our equipment and how it can be used to the best advantage. We feel that, like any other type of work, if the workman does not know how to use his tools to the best advantage, he is not doing the job he should.

After a man becomes a member of the fire department we try to put him on the detail for which he is best suited and most interested. Our department is divided into three divisions. The first is the engineers, whose duty it is to see that the engines are kept in condition at all times to operate at the highest efficiency. They are also in charge of driving the pumpers.

Putting them into operation, and seeing that they return from the fire with their full amount of equipment. Our next division is the hose detail, to take care of the hose detail, and at the same time, to see that the hose is properly cleaned after a fire, replace any hose that has been damaged and operate the hose lines at the fire. This detail probably has more hard work to do than any other.

The last division of our department is the ladder detail, whose duty it is to take care of our ladders, see that they are in shape to use at any time and at the same time, to raise, lower and transfer same wherever they are needed.

The department does its best the year around to teach its men how to do these various jobs, because in a Volunteer Fire Department, it is never known just who will be available when a fire breaks out, and for this reason any man may have to work on some other detail and must be able to do what is asked, so he must learn to a certain extent, all the functions of the department.

In working on teaching the men of our department, we try to practice everywhere in the town and community where a problem may arise, and we are sure that most of the people have seen us working out some problem, so that if a fire does occur, we will know what to do at once. In addition to this training, each year the Town of Walton and the Fire Department sends some of the firemen to the Fire School in Lexington, where they are given an intensive three-day training course by the best instructors in the department, and also each year the state to come here and put on a week's vocational training.

All this training comes in very handy when we are fighting a fire, as was shown again last Thursday morning when our department was called to the Red Arrow Tourist Camp at 3:45 in the morning to extinguish a blaze which had consumed three cabins and was threatening the entire camp. In a very short time we put out the blaze by again using our portable pump, and came home a very tired and sleepy group.

BAPTISTAL SERVICE

The revival which closed at the Walton Baptist Church last Friday night, was one of the most successful ever held, according to the pastor, B. C. Garrett. It was a glittering affair the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce staged in Washington the other day during the annual convention of the national organization.

Present at the dinner was the Mexican ambassador, the minister from Iceland, the minister from France and other international personalities.

But the big event of the evening came as a surprise. In the middle of the banquet, two newsmen rushed into the room yelling, "Extra, Extra!" And each diner present was given a red-hot copy of the Louisville Times.

The days edition had been flown to Washington by Eastern Airlines. And for a few minutes, the turkey and trimmings were forgotten as eager Kentuckians read the day's news from home, fresh off the presses in Louisville.

Homecoming:
During the speechmaking at the dinner, a message was read from Governor Clements. He urged Kentuckians in Washington to come home at least once this year, the homecoming year of 1950.

The Governor spoke of the glories of the eastern Kentucky mountains, the natural wonders of Mammoth cave and Carter Caves, the thrill of a ride on Kentucky Lake, and the beauties of the Pennyville, the Blue Grass and the Purchase.

The homecoming campaign is certain to bear fruit as several of our friends, absent for several years, are going back to Kentucky this year.

Derby Note:

The 1950 Derby is over the done but Kentuckians here in the nation's capital are not pleased with the management of Churchill Downs. Several hundred Blue Grass citizens gathered at the Shoreham Hotel to hear the Derby radio broadcast. And they were unhappy over the decision of the jockey club not to permit a television broadcast.

They felt the excuse offered that it might cut down attendance at the track was a pretty poor one. "After all," they said, "who would watch the race by television if they had a chance to be at the track?"

The party at the Shoreham was sponsored by the Kentucky Society of Washington and it was a big success.

Rent Control:
Lots of talk in Washington about rent control. So we decided to see how many counties in Kentucky are still under rent control.

At this date, 17 counties (or parts of counties) are under rent ceilings, including Jefferson, Kenton, Greenup, Franklin and the cities of Newport, Bellevue, Dayton and Fort Thomas in Campbell County.

This week, the House Banking Committee, headed by Congressman Spence, has been considering a compromise rent control bill. Under that measure, city officials would get a lot of authority on retention of control after the first of the year.

It is hard to predict at this time just what the outcome of discussions will be.

The Mail:
What are Kentuckians writing to congress about? Well, this week, it is FEPC. As soon as Senator Lucas, the majority leader, announced that he would call up the measure for debate, the letters started coming in. Much of the mail is in opposition although those who support the FEPC also are being heard from.

The Beech Creek Homemakers Club in Muhlenberg county has announced it will stencil names on all mailboxes.

As a result of lessons in cooking meats, 214 members of homemakers clubs in Oldham county have bought meat thermometers.

FEATHERED HIS NEST
A lawyer came to London to locate a young woman who had fallen heir to a large fortune. The police were called in to aid in the search, and placed the case in the hands of a clever and personable young detective. Several weeks passed by without any information, and the lawyer was beginning to feel concerned over the matter, when the young detective appeared and smilingly informed him he had located the heiress. "Where is she?" asked the lawyer. "At my place," replied the detective, "I married her yesterday."

Circular 353

"The College of Agriculture and Home Economics Extension Division of the University of Kentucky is urging that farmers quickly get Circular 353, 'Sprays for the Home Fruit Garden,' from the County Agent. It will soon be time to use Calyx spray which is within three days after % of the petals fall off apple and pear trees. This circular contains careful spray mixtures, directions and the proper times to spray apples, pears, peaches, plums, grapes, cherries, currants and gooseberries. The County Agent pointed out that it will not do any good to spray at the wrong time or to guess at the proper mixtures and ingredients. Circular 353 is essential for right instructions and effective control.

Girl Kills Her Twin

A blonde, blue-eyed 14-year-old girl of Fresno, Calif., has been formally charged with murder for the slaying of her twin sister.

The girl, Alice, was quoted as saying, "Ever since the sixth grade, I have learned to hate my sister. She was noisy and stupid. She was continually aggravating me."

Authorities said Alice confessed she shot her sister, Sally, to death with a .22 caliber rifle. She did it early on a Sunday morning, while six other children and her parents were asleep in the house.

What seemed so strange to many about the case was the girl was reported dry-eyed and showing no signs of emotion, saying that she was "not sorry," that she killed Sally. She said, "I'd kill her again if I had the chance."

This report brings to mind the words of the Lord Jesus, who, after hearing of a mass murder, said, "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish."—Luke 13:3.

The word of God makes it plain that the atoning sacrifice of Christ is sufficient to cleanse the vilest sinner, but these are no forgiveness for the unrepentant. The fact that Alice hated her twin Sally, for four years and then murdering her, brings to mind inspired words of the Apostle John, "Whoever hateth his brother is a murderer."—1 John 3:15.

Hatred is the seed of murder. If all regarded hatred as murder, as the Bible does, there would be no light talk about hating this, that and the other person.

Last Sunday many Protestant Churches in Kenton County (according to Sharon Florer, Secretary of the Kenton County Protestant Association) discussed from the pulpit the harm of big gambling to a community.

The 13th annual dinner will be given by the Independence and Community Fire Department at the Simon Kenton High School building Saturday, May 13. Serving starts at 5:00 p. m. Ten Commandments

Many people have desired the Ten Commandments in verse, which are as follows:

"Thou shalt have no more gods but Me, Before no idol bow the knee, Take not the name of God in vain, Nor dare the Sabbath day profane, Give both thy parents honor due, Take heed that thou no murder do, Abstain from words and deeds unclean, Nor steal though thou be poor and mean, Nor make a wilful lie nor love it, What is thy neighbor's dare not covet."

What's wrong with this picture?

What's wrong? Plenty! For you won't find a single one of your tax dollars "working" for the Southern Railway System.

That's because railroads are self-supporting. They stand on their own financial feet—not yours. They pay the costs of building and maintaining their "highways" . . . including bridges, tunnels and signals . . . out of their own pockets—not with your tax dollars.

Unfortunately for you . . . and for the tax-paying railroads . . . that isn't true of other forms of commercial inter-city transportation.

Air, water and highway carriers use tremendously expensive transportation facilities paid for and maintained . . . not with their money . . . but with your tax dollars and ours!

It will be a great day for all taxpayers . . . and better for all forms of transportation . . . when the "grown-up" highway, air and waterway carriers are weaned from the public purse and required to "pay their way"—as only railroads now do.

GRASS FOR SILAGE

Putting the first cutting of alfalfa in a silo is a sure way to save the crop in a rainy spring, suggests Dr. W. P. Garrigus of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. Also a good many Kentucky farmers now put surplus bluegrass in a silo. Often there is a big growth of bluegrass in May that goes to waste, unless made into hay or silage. According to Dr. Garrigus, two acres of grass silage are equal in feeding value to three acres of hay cured in the field.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Hosea, especially 11:1-4.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 130.

Forgiving Love

Lesson for May 14, 1950.

ALL RELIGIONS believe in God, but not all religions know the God who loves. Gods that rule, gods that threaten and punish, gods that sit on high and distant thrones—yes, the history of religions shows plenty of these. But it is not every religion that believes in a God capable of love. We Christians say that God is love, but already centuries before Christ the inspired Hebrew prophet Hosea was saying that the high God, the God who love, not only can but does love his creatures on earth.

Love With an IF

BUT HOSEA goes further than this. Even the religions that teach the love of God do not always understand it. That there are "favorites of heaven" is an idea common to many religions, ancient and recent. The notion that God loves those who love him, that his love is a reward for good behavior, that he loves good people but not bad people, in short that he loves only the lovable—this is believed by a great many, but it is not true. To put it in another way: Many religions, and even some persons in the Hebrew and Christian religions, suppose that God loves us with an IF.

Some of the more primitive religious think of God as loving only if he feels like it. If he happens to be in the right mood. There is no telling when he may love and when not; he is as unpredictable as a spring weather. The higher religions know better; God is not capricious and impulsive like a child. But still sometimes even in better religions God is thought of as loving with an IF. If you love me (he is thought of as saying) I will love you. If you are good enough to love, I will love you. If you earn my love, I will pay you by loving you.

No IF in God's Heart
HOSEA HAD LEARNED a deep lesson from God. Through his own bitter experience (see last Sunday's lesson) he knew that his own love for his wife outlived all the shame she had brought to his heart and home. In himself he knew, as a living fact, love for an unloving and unlovable person. So—and so much more—God could, would and did love his unfaithful people Israel.

"God so loved Israel—" said the prophet. "God so loved the world," says the Gospel. God's love is not the bargaining kind. He does not wait till we are "good enough." His love has no IF in it.

Suppose We Say No?

AT THIS POINT something must be said that would seem to go without saying, only there are so many persons who misunderstand the truth just here: God's love: we learned that in Sunday school when we were small, we have seen it in mottoes on the wall, we have grown used to the idea. But sometimes we twist this truth into something else.

We think, "If God is love then it doesn't matter much what we do. He is going to look after us and see that we come out all right. Nothing's going to hurt us because our loving Father is right here to protect us." This is a mistake.

Hosea teaches, and the Bible as a whole teaches, that God's love is not compulsive; that is, his love must be freely received because it is freely offered. We can say "No" if we insist.

And if we do turn our backs and run away, the consequences are terrible and not even God's love will keep us from them.

It is only the person who turns his heart to God who finds that love, like sunlight, casting out the fear and the evil from his mind and heart.

The Cost of Love

THE DEEPEST TRUTH of all is one which Hosea partly sees, but is fully seen only in the New Testament. God's love for sinners is costly. It is not a light thing, easily given.

As Hosea's forgiving of Gomer cost him much, so the love of God for his wandering children costs him more. That this is true, Hosea realizes.

But to know what the love of God really costs, we have to stand in the light of Calvary. Paul speaks of the church of God "which he purchased with his own blood." There can be no higher price than that.

LIGHT OF LIFE

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The light that shines in a proud mother's eyes is more beautiful than the gleam of the rarest jewel or the radiance of the brightest star. It mirrors the mystery and glory of life, the hopes and faith and dreams of parenthood. It suffuses her face with the joy of possession and the consciousness of being part of the great unbroken chain of human existence.

All true parents want their children to make the best of life; to avoid its pitfalls, to master its obstacles, to achieve its successes. They want them to be good citizens and just and honorable men and women.

The little baby boy in the picture will be reared with the tenderest care, and will be taught knowledges and skills as he grows in years and in understanding.

But the great truths of religion and spiritual living must be made the groundwork of his training if he is to attain life's highest possibilities.

So this beautiful mother must turn to God and the Church and the Scriptures, for guidance in training her child to live.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without it strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. (4) For the sake of his own soul.

STAFFORDSBURG

The supper and Gospel magic program at the church Saturday evening was very much enjoyed by all. We also had a good number out to Sunday school and evening worship. We are making the Saturday evening get-together a regular feature on the first Saturday in each month. We are friendly folks—come and join us.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hanna and son Jimmie, and Mrs. Ella Wiggers visited with Clarence Ervin of Middletown, Ohio, Sunday afternoon. They found Mr. Ervin suffering from a crippled knee and anticipating an operation to relieve the trouble. His friends in this neighborhood wish him a speedy recovery.

Howard Barnett, who is a student at Taylor University in Indiana, was an unexpected and very welcome guest of his parents last weekend. We are very sorry to learn of the serious illness of the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Armstrong. Several of the women in our community attended the District meeting of Homemakers at Dry Ridge, last Wednesday. They report a very good program and enjoyable day.

SHORT STORY Thanksgiving Turkey

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

IMOGENE sat at the kitchen table and listened stargazing while Tony read the letter. "Dear Tony and Imogene: I was sorry to hear about Tony's ill luck down there in Carolina, and know you must be having rather a hard pull. But things are bound to straighten out. Under separate cover I am sending you a turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner. Please don't acknowledge its receipt, as your Aunt Sara might read the letter. She doesn't know I'm doing this, and I doubt if she'd approve—you know how she felt when you two got married and started out on your wild venture. My love to you both, Uncle Rufus." Tony pulled off the last wrapper and grinned happily. Within the cardboard box there nestled a handsome, fat turkey; a delicious, palatable turkey. Tony's mouth watered at sight of it.

Accompanying the bird were vegetables galore, nuts and fruit and a real plum pudding ready for heating. It was complete, old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner.

At length Imogene stirred. She turned and looked through the window and there was something queer about the expression on her face. Tony saw the look and he came and sat down on the table and took her hand in his.

Imogene looked at him squarely. "I was thinking, Tony, about the Santrells. I can't help it, with this big turkey here in front of us."

Tony's hand tightened its grip. "Precious," he said gently, "you're a dear."

He was silent, then, staring thoughtfully out into the yard. The Santrells, he reflected, had probably never had a turkey for Thanksgiving. It was doubtful this Thanksgiving if they'd have anything to eat. They were poor, dirt poor, and they were eight children in the family. Mr. Santrell was sick half the time; he couldn't work, even if work were available. Their plight was pitiful. They had been too proud to ask for help; had reached a state of near destitution, when the town discovered their condition.

PRESENTLY TONY turned. "He said: 'Listen, sweet, as far as I'm concerned, I'd like to live through one Thanksgiving without a turkey. I've had to eat one every Thanksgiving since I can remember, and the novelty of not having to will be a welcome relief. Besides, Thanksgiving down here, doesn't seem to call for a turk. And we still have the smoked shoulder we'd planned on.

"Darling," she said, "I've been trying to figure out one good reason for marrying you since our wedding day."

And Imogene smiled in prodigious happiness and began re-wrapping Uncle Rufus's turkey. "Darling," she said, "I've been trying to figure out one good reason for marrying you since our wedding day. And now I've found it." Whereupon she kissed him and Tony held her tight in his arms.

And so they marched over to the Santrells and undid the package on Mrs. Santrell's kitchen table and watched with a curious tugging at their hearts as the eight Santrell children and the two grown-ups stared and stared at the great fat bird. They left very soon after that because Mr. and Mrs. Santrell seemed to have difficulty in finding adequate words to express themselves.

They raced up the walk of their little stucco bungalow—and stopped dead still on the veranda.

A great package reposed before the front door, and a letter lay atop the package.

Tony picked up the letter, stared at the package curiously and tore open the envelope. "Dear Imogene and Tony," he read, "Your Uncle Rufus wouldn't like it a bit if he knew I was doing this. You know how he disapproved when you two got married and went away down South. However, I know you must be lonesome and rather discouraged, and so, under separate cover, I'm sending you a turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner. Please don't acknowledge its receipt, as your Uncle Rufus might read the letter and I'd never hear the end of it. Love to you both, Aunt Sara."

Not Too Much

The new dam had diverted much of the water that a community of truck farmers previously had used to keep their crops healthy. They complained to all officialdom about it. Getting no satisfaction from the state officials they brought suit. Arguing the case before the court one hot, lazy day the farmers through their attorney contended that the water had been vital to their business.

"But we must have water, Your Honor," thundered the defending lawyer in a roaring basso-profundo.

The lawyer's sudden vehemence awakened the judge, who had been dozing.

"All right," he muttered hastily, "but only a very little in mine."

Outnumbered

Plaintiff: "I have four men here who are prepared to testify that they saw the defendant steal two overcoats from in front of my shop."

Defendant: "And I, Your Honor, have twelve men who are ready to swear that they never saw me take them."

Judge: "Case dismissed. I am forced to take the testimony of twelve men against that of only four."

SHORT STORY
Upstream Nemesis

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

JOHN WAS ONLY 23 and already life was bitter. Today, with the rain lashing in his face, wetting the newspapers before he could pass them to customers from beneath the oil slick covering, chilled to the bone, envying those who fled into the subway entrance with their sleek, contented, well fed looks, he hated life. He hated people; hated the world.

"Paypare! Paypare! Wuxtral Wealthy society women slays husband and runs off with suitors!"

Life had been unkind to him. Life hadn't given him the breaks. That's it. It was life's fault. Either you were born into the easy way, or you didn't have a chance. This stupid about fighting your way to the top, overcoming obstacles, being a whooping, self-made success—Nuts! You can't fight when life is against you, when the crowd is way out ahead and throwing dust into your face.

"Rich society woman knocks off her spouse! Buy a paypare, sir."

A thousand smackers! Ha! Fat chance! Not when the breaks were against you. A man was a fool to try and buck the crowds when they were against him. Like that guy in the green hat. Look at him, trying to fight his way up those stairs. Didn't the dumbhead know that it was just after 5 o'clock and the stairs on their way home!

"Hey, gimme a News." There was a man at John's elbow, looking impatient and irritated. John jerked himself back to earth.

"Sure. Evening News. Here you are, mister. Thanks. Paypare! Wuxtral Wux—"

John stopped abruptly. A shot had sounded above the pounding of rain and the rumble of traffic. It came from the direction of the stairs. There was a stir, a wild scrambling, shrieks, curses. The sea of humanity came tumbling down, pausing, shrinking away, horrified, staring at something on the ground. John glimpsed the figure lying there, grotesquely sprawled across the steps. He heard the name of Silas Berry mentioned. Judge Silas Berry.

"Hey, Newsy, how about a paper?"

John turned. It was the man in the green hat. John felt his heart pound, then stand still.

"Nice stand you got here, sonny. Must make a lot of dough. Must see a lot that happens, facing upstream like that. Didn't happen to see what occurred just now on the elevator steps did you?"

JOHN GULPED. "I heard a shot. What happened? Was somebody killed? I didn't see a thing. I was

"Hi, Johnny! Look, you must have seen who did it, standing here like that. You had a view."

selling a paper. Who do yuh suppose done it?"

The cold light dimmed in the eyes of the man with the green hat. He smiled. A siren sounded. The crowd scattered. John saw Officer Mike Clancey elbowing his way towards him.

"Hi, Johnny! Look, you must have seen who did it, standing here like that. You had a view. You were the only one who did, facing upstream like that. See who done it, Johnny?"

Johnny glanced at the man in the green hat. The man's hand was inside his coat. "Sure," he said. "Sure, I saw it all. It was that guy there."

Then he jumped. He heard the muffled explosion of a revolver, saw Clancey leap, heard shouts and swearing and knew that other cops were coming. Then he heard more shots. He felt a stinging pain in his arm. He felt something hot running down inside his sleeve. Things began to reel. He knew he was fainting . . .

Officer Clancey was bending over him when he came to. "You're all right, kid. Just a scratch. And what a break. That was Moe Consoletti. He had threatened to get Old Silas. They're both dead. And you get the reward, kid. One thousand smackers! Is that a break or is that a break?"

Will Begin Mailing Checks To POW's In About 4 Months

Many persons who have filed the necessary forms for benefits from the War Claims Commission have been making inquiries as to when they will receive their checks.

There were 130,000 claims applications received by the Commission in less than ninety days. The policy of the Commission is to pay on a "First Come, First Served" basis. They believe it will take at least another four months before the checks will be moving in a steady flow from that office.

Both the Adjudication Division and the Finance Division, according to the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board, are putting forth every effort to get the checks out at the earliest date possible. All claims will receive proper consideration and will be paid where the claim is allowed but it will take considerable more time to do so.

BETTER MARKETS FOR QUALITY EGGS

Even though they don't produce hatching eggs, some poultry keepers are boosting low prices by finding special markets for top-quality eggs. They gather eggs two to four times daily, cool them promptly, grade them and deliver several times a week. There are eatways families and restaurants and other eating places willing to pay more for good, big eggs.

Poultry experts at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, say top-quality eggs are large but not over-size; normal in shape, not too long nor too round; clean, uniform in color; strong-shelled and from well-fed hens, and are fresh, kept in a cool, moist room and sold frequently.

SHORT STORY

Call A Doctor

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

OGDEN TURNED over in bed, muttered, then sat bolt upright. There was a wild, unholy light in his eyes. Great globules of perspiration stood out on his forehead. His hands felt cold and clammy.

For a moment he sat rigid and tense. Slowly he relaxed. Then he switched on the bedside light. Five a.m. In four and a half hours it would be over. He would have entered Mr. Mitchell's office and said, in effect: "Mr. Mitchell, I have worked for you for three years. I am a valued employee and feel that I deserve more money."

And Mr. Mitchell would reply: "Well, what would Mr. Mitchell reply?"

He got out of bed without waking his wife. It was 5:30 and still dark. He went into the bathroom and turned on the shower. At 6 o'clock, fully dressed, he came downstairs. He put coffee on to boil, set a frying pan over a gas jet, cut open an orange, plugged in the toaster.

Presently he sat down to eat. He ate, amiably. Food was tasteless in his mouth.

He left the house without waking Helen. During the half hour it took him to reach the office he was beset by all sorts of terrifying fancies. He grew hot, then cold. He changed his mind twice about approaching Mr. Mitchell. He thought he'd postpone the ordeal. Then he pictured himself coming home to Helen. Helen was proud of him. What would she think if he had to admit lacking the courage to face a common ordinary man like Mr. Mitchell?

Now, there was something. Mr. Mitchell was, after all, nothing more than a common ordinary man. Like himself. Built the same way. Capable of having toothaches and stomachaches and liking his eggs fried only on one side. Just a man.

Ogden tried to picture himself in Mr. Mitchell's position. What would he do if an employee of three years asked for a raise? What? Why, he'd look at the matter coldly, impersonally. He'd add things up and decide whether or not the employee was worth more to him in dollars and cents. He'd try to figure out in his own mind how little he could get away with paying.

Ah! There was something now. If you asked for a raise, act as though you deserved it. Give the impression that the possibility you weren't worth more never entered your head. It was merely a matter of arriving at a figure.

People spoke to Ogden when he entered the office. Then they looked at him curiously. He didn't like same. He was ill. Or perhaps he had a hangover. He seemed pale. His hands trembled when he hung up his hat. He was sweating. Perhaps he should call a doctor.

AT 9:05 Mr. Mitchell came in, nodding and speaking to everyone as he always did. Ogden opened his mouth to reply, but no sound came.

He wet his lips, started to rise, sat down again weakly. Mr. Mitchell's door opened. Mr. Mitchell came out. "Ogden!" he yelled, and his voice had a rasping sound.

Ogden jumped. What had he done now? Certainly Mr. Mitchell acted as though he was going to ball him out. Perhaps fire him. Good. Firing would be a relief. It would settle the whole problem. He could tell Helen that he had asked for a raise and Mitchell had fired him and it was her fault.

Mr. Mitchell was behind his desk when Ogden entered.

"Ogden, I've been thinking about you. You've proved yourself valuable to the firm. That western deal now. You did a good job. You have the sort of stuff we need in this organization. I'm the sort of man who believes in paying a man what he's worth. Now, I need a junior partner. If you're interested I'd like to groom you for the post. You'd start at double your present salary. Then in a year—Hey! Miss Ryan! Quick, a glass of water. Ogden's fainted! Good Lord, call a doctor!"

The revival will start at the Glencoe Baptist Church, May 22. All are invited to attend.

E. V. Ross was taken to the hospital Saturday. We hope for his early recovery.

CONRAD HARDWARE

STARTED OFF WITH A BANG!

This week really started off with a bang. Levi Pennington bought a new Rec power lawn mower, but it didn't run long, as it locked up tight—all he had to do was call us and Brewster took him a new one—it doesn't make any difference what you buy now, you will get defective merchandise now and then, so be sure to buy where you can get service, and that is one thing we like to give.

Stanley Overbay down at Banklick, bought a new Maytag gasoline washer—it also gave us some trouble, but that Brewster says with them until it is fixed or customer satisfied. You have to be an old bachelor to have the patience he has—no married man has that much patience. These Hamilton and wife were in from Big Bone, after one of those 12x12 Armstrong linoleum rugs—they sure are nice patterns, and really wear well. Mrs. Estella Gibson from Parkers Grove neighborhood, came after poultry medicine for her baby chicks.

V. L. Stephenson from Atwood community, was over after some wire fence and a metal gate—we have a lot of those fine Kenton County customers. Bill Meier came after a pitcher pump and pipe. John Doney bought electric fence post and fence charger. Newell Spigall drove over in his truck and got 80 rods of field fence. Marion Collins, one of our best customers from Fishburg, was here several times. Jeff Austin, also from Morning View route, bought a Vulcan Cultipacker to pulverize those clods this year.

Robt. Bell from Piner-Bracht Road, made two trips to get correct V-belt—these are hard to measure when they have to be exact. Mrs. Virgie Fisher, another of our good friends and customers, came after some screen wire and cream bucket. Tevis Thomas and Jim Messmer, from Fishburg, were here, they say, good fishermen, bought new fishing tackle—that new fishing lake at Verona has sure slowed up fishing in that neighborhood. Basil Lunford's wife brought in a rug to be repaired—we do all this kind of repair work.

Elbert McCormick brought his corn drill over and I put a new chain on it—he trouble, just took a few minutes. Joe Norchutt needed some repairs for his fence stretcher—I didn't know what to tell the factory I needed, so I just drew a picture of them—these little things don't amount to much, but they mean a lot to our customers. The Rouse Bros., who are good doymans from Crittenden, were down after a dozen small galvanized tubs—they use these to feed out of. Price Chaney, one of our new citizens, who has a nice home on Alta Vista, came over after two rolls of oval top lawn fence—they sure are fitting up on Alta Vista—have you seen John L. Vest's lawn with all the tulips and flowers?

Virgil Whaley's new home down by the B-M Garage, is going up fast. Maxwell Bros. have Bill Logg's house well under way—they purchased an extension ladder to paint with on the outside. Louis Schwab and Harold Menke have started to work on remodeling the hotel building for a restaurant—but we are still short on hotels—too many people and no place to sleep.

We took a ride Sunday and went down Highway 42 over to Glencoe and back through Napoleon—that country looks fine. We stopped at the new Gallatin County Fish and Game Club—they have a fine clubhouse and lakes—will be very nice when finished. Come on by Howard Miller's, who always keeps his place looking nice. Stanley Robinson has a fine store he built close to his home. Then we saw Caesar Amett's new house at the old George Lucas farm. Jay Webster sure keeps everything neat. You like to ride around and see what your customers do with all the hardware they buy from us year after year. Goods roads and electricity have helped this country more than anything I know of except good churches—and it looks like Verona will have a real nice Baptist Church. William Colman told me they were fixing to build a new church at Fishburg. Would you like to live where there were no churches?

Floyd Chapman and Pete were in Monday after a tank sprayer and bluestone—Floyd also bought some 22 cartridges, for the crows are waiting for them to plant corn. Floyd Sebree, Amett's new house at the old George Lucas farm, was having water faucet trouble—they will wear out. Dallas Whitson bought 50 fish hooks for 15 cents, but two sinkers cost him 14 cents—he couldn't figure that out—either sinkers too high or hooks too cheap.

Have you seen the new street signs the Lions Club paid for and put up? That Frank DeMoisey, who is president of the Lions Club, sure gets things done—he has a real bunch of working members!

We have added a stock of that Liquid Satin oil base paint for inside woodwork and walls and have been selling it—it makes a very soft finish with no gloss. Russell Acra was in looking at a new bicycle—his old one is about gone. We have all sizes of bicycles for both boys and girls. Arthur Hamilton was in after more of that Gold Seal linoleum—he is surely fixing up at his house. Ed Hamilton from Beaver, came in after tools to work with, but he saw all that fish tackle and stopped right there—he never mentioned work after that. Jess Sebree and Lee Markberry were down after a new tobacco setter. We also have those new Perfection hand setters for only $8.50 this year—I know some of you need one of those Campbell corn and fertilizer drills and they are only $42.50.

This about ends another week, and I can't remember ALL the customers and happenings, but will TRY again next week... remember, ... for HARDWARE AND SERVICE, COME TO CONRAD'S!

Mrs. Mollie Wallace Dies In Her Home Here At 93 Years

Mollie Mottier Wallace, widow of the late D. B. Wallace, died at her home in Walton, Friday, May 12, at the age of 93. She was the eldest daughter of thirteen children.

Mrs. Wallace was born and received her education in the public schools of Patriot, Ind. She began the study of music at the age of 7, and completed her training at the College of Music, Cincinnati. She began teaching music at 17, having pupils from Madison to Aurora, Ind. and with studios in Vevay and Florence, Ind., and later in Ghent, Warsaw, and Walton, Ky. She endeavored herself to her pupils and young friends with her ready wit and genial manner.

Mrs. Wallace came to Walton in December, 1915. She readily adjusted herself to new friends, and soon formed a music class, teaching here for many years. She possessed a strong physique and indomitable will; always frank to assert herself. She had a high sense of honesty and morality, and had a distinctive ability for determining quality in art and beauty.

She claimed no church as her own but was a friend and substantial helper of the Walton Methodist Church. Much help she gave anyone who was silently done, on the principle of scripture, "Let not the left hand know what the right hand doeth."

She leaves to mourn her loss a step-son, Edwin Bruce Wallace, and a daughter-in-law, Llewellyn W. Wallace, who tenderly cared for her through her illness; also a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held in the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Walton, Monday, May 15 at 2:00 p. m., with Rev. G. B. Traynor officiating, assisted by Rev. G. W. Hoffmann and Rev. C. C. Deasing. Interment was in Highland Cemetery.

MARY B. WILLIAMSON

Miss Mary B. Williamson, a former resident of Boone County, died Monday at the home of a sister, Mrs. William Jorg at Bellevue, Ind. She was 55 years old. Miss Williamson formerly lived in Marietta, Ohio, and had been a registered nurse for years.

Besides Mrs. Jorg, she is survived by five other sisters, Mrs. Nellie Ryle, Mrs. Sadie Hightower, Mrs. Ellison Rector, Mrs. Beulah Philson, and Mrs. Marion Hopper, and two brothers, Samuel and Robert Williamson, all of this county.

Services were held at 2:00 p. m., Wednesday at the Chambers and Grubbs funeral home, Florence, with burial in the Bellevue Cemetery.

Boone Historical Society To Meet Friday In Florence

The Boone-co Historical Society will meet on Friday, May 19 at the Florence Town Hall at 8 p. m. Mr. John Ogilvie of Burlington will present a paper on the "History of Burlington." This is the second in a series of papers on the communities in Boone County. It is the hope that these papers will continue to be presented until every community in the county has been covered. Membership is increasing at each meeting and membership cards will be prepared for those who join. Some of the members of the Boone County Society are also members of the Christopher Gist Historical Society and of the Kentucky Historical Society. Some of the members are bringing old books, maps, pictures and clippings to the meetings for others to see. It is hoped that someone will bring in some of the bones from Big Bone. Anyone interested in the history of the community is invited to attend.

Wolterman, president, who presided over the business session.

Fire Department to Collect Paper, Scrap Metal Friday

The Walton Fire Department will continue its scrap metal and paper drive this week, on Friday, May 19, after 5:30 p. m. Anyone having anything to donate, please call Walton 154, if it is too heavy to put out at the curb.

Fire Department Equipment

This week the fire department is going to try to explain what equipment it has and how it is used. Our equipment has two 500-gallon-per-minute pumps, which means of course, that operating at capacity they are capable of delivering on the fire 1,000 gallons of water every minute. However, it might be stated here that it does not often happen that we can operate at capacity due to the shortage of water, long hose lines, etc. One of these pumps is a 1945 Mack and the other a 1937 Ford. We have on these two trucks approximately 3,000 feet of 2½" hose and 600 feet of 1½" hose or feeder lines. In addition to this we have a portable pump which is carried on our Mack pump truck for out-of-town fires. We also have approximately 12 nozzles, different ones being used at different types of fires. For small fires we use spray nozzles which do not have the water dam, and the heavy straight stream nozzles. Also for gasoline and oil fires we have a special foam nozzle, which feeds the foam into the water stream and blankets the fire, putting it out by suffocation. On each truck we carry one roof ladder and one 28' extension ladder. We have 45 heavy duty raincoats and 10 pairs of fireman boots and 15 helmets. Our department also has foam extinguishers, carbon dioxide extinguishers and dry powder extinguishers. Each one of these have special fires where they can be used. On both of the trucks we also carry a special light to aid in fighting fires at night. We also have a rope, hydrant wrenches and hose and all the other supplementary equipment.

Our greatest trouble in having a place to take care of all this equipment, and again we might state that the fire department is very interested in and very badly in need of a new firehouse, to give the Town of Walton and community better fire protection. This matter will be kept before the public and we hope that in the future, through some plan, we will be able to get one. Surely the people of this community will back up this organization, which is doing the very best it can to protect the lives of the people and their property.

ALMA LEE MISKELL

Alma Lee Miskell, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miskell, departed this life May 3 at that beautiful age of eighteen years, when life means so much to a young girl, but God knew best and His will be done, and we know that little Alma Lee will live with her Savior.

She was at the home of her sister, Mrs. Fay Baker, and husband in Covington, when God saw fit to call her home. Alma Lee had been in failing health for the past three years, never complaining, only living in hope that she would get well. She leaves to mourn her loss, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miskell, two sisters, Mrs. Fay Baker and Mrs. Helen Shelton, both of Covington; one brother, Charles Miskell of Norwood, Ohio; one nephew; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clayton of Sugar Creek; a host of aunts and uncles, besides a great many other relatives and friends. Alma Lee was a niece of Mrs. Omer Dudgeon of Walton.

May God comfort and give her parents strength to carry on, and be able to meet her in that Great Home where there is no sorrow or heart-ache.

Services were held at the Sugar Creek Christian Church at 2:00 p. m., Sunday, and she was laid to rest in Hughes Chapel Cemetery, Beaver Lick, Ky.

—Mrs. Omer Dudgeon

KENTUCKIANS IN WASHINGTON

by Gil Kingsburg

We usually don't go in for predictions of things to come. However, we will make this estimate of the coming senatorial campaign in Kentucky.

Every Democratic member of Congress from Kentucky—with one possible exception—will be in the Clements' corner pulling for the Governor to win. The possible exception—and we mention no names—probably will adopt a neutral attitude.

Name Calling:

The other day about six senators ganged up on Senator McCarthy and in blistering parliamentary language they called him a liar for his part in this Communist hunt.

The Scornful Six did it in such an adroit fashion that not a word of it was ordered removed from the Congressional Record. The verbal battle sent congressional observers back to some dusty documents to find when anything just like it had been done before. And they discovered that the late Senator Richard P. Ernst of Covington had accomplished the same thing in a feud with Senator Couzens of Michigan.

It happened on March 14, 1925. Senator Ernst rose and addressed the chair:

"I wish to know," he started, "if there be any way under the rules of the Senate whereby I can, without offending the senators about me, call a fellow member a wilful, malicious and wicked liar. Is there any way of doing that?"

Senator Ernst received no reply. But his point got over and the remarks are in the record to this day.

Airports:
The Civil Aeronautics Administration has released its airport plan for 1950. Kentucky is on the list for a lot of work—if the money is available.

For example, the Greater Cincinnati Airport is recommended as a Class 5 airport. That means that the CAA would like to build longer runways and make other improvements. However, there is always the question of money and Congress appears to be in no mood to dole out funds at this time.

Several other Northern Kentucky cities are down for airport construction work, too. The CAA would like to build a field at Augusta, one at Carrollton, still another at Falmouth, one at Williamstown, Newport, Owenton and La Grange. There are even plans for a seaplane base at Maysville as well as an airport.

All this, of course, sounds good on paper but—as we said—there are financial obstacles that may delay such work for a number of years.

Air Force Academy:
Someone is guilty of an attempt to fool the people of Kentucky. A story has reached Blue Grass lawmakers here in the capital that the Air Force has definitely decided to locate the Air Force Academy in Kentucky—the West Point of the Air.

The truth of the matter is that the air force hasn't even decided to establish such a school—much less select the site.

A commission has been established to look over some proposed locations and ambitious congressmen have recommended no less than 300 cities. Several are in Kentucky—Camp Breckinridge, for example; Lexington, Murray, Campbellsville and Bowling Green.

But the entire project has a long way to go before a decision is made. And once again, there's the question of money.

Twenty-seven 4-H clubs in Bell county have a membership of 441 boys and 556 girls.

SCRIPTURE: Micah, especially 1:1-2
EVANGELICAL READING: Psalm 72:1-4

God and Our Rights

Lesson for May 21, 1950

CIVIL RIGHTS are now a political football in the United States. Every legislator likes to be known as favoring them. Everybody seems to be all out for rights for everybody. Then why isn't everybody satisfied? The truth is, a lot of us just talk. When it comes down to political facts, the people who get their "rights" recognized first are the people with the most votes. The little people, especially if they haven't too many votes, are likely to be stepped on.

Dr. Foreman

Cannibal Country
THIS IS NOT a new problem. Long ago the prophet Micah faced it, said some brave words about it. He was a small-town man living in a village near the Judea-Philistine border line. Judah was at that time mostly rural. The villages were made up of farmers, who did not live on their farms as we do but lived all together for protection, going out into the country by day to work their farms, coming back to the village at night. None of them owned very much land, and few indeed were rich.

There was just one big city in Judah, Jerusalem the capital. Compared with the rest of the country it was immense and enormously rich. Now it does not take two guesses to know how Judah, as a nation, was run. Jerusalem ran it. The big city was growing richer and richer while the country grew poorer and poorer. The small farmers were losing their lands and becoming tenants or hired men (2:1-2). Micah even talks of the princes of Israel, the aristocracy, as cannibals, eating the flesh of the people.

Half Slave, Half Free
NO COUNTRY is a good country, no country is in a healthy condition, if one part of it is tearing the other part down. If the strong are living off the weak, the whole nation grows weak. Micah saw that exactly; indeed, he predicted that because of the kind of country it was, half opposed and half oppressing, it would be destroyed. No enemy of his country, he did not enjoy forecasting its downfall. But he loved people, he loved his country neighbors; he could see what was happening to people who were being crushed down into the dirt, he knew that could not go on and on without a smash. (And it came!)

This has been the story over and over again in the history of nations. When the few grow strong at the expense of the many, when wealth is concentrated in a few cities, or in a few individuals or families, look out!

When this goes on for a long time and becomes a sort of national habit, the nation may not fail at once, but becomes a powder for anybody who wants to take it. Why, for instance, was the downfall of the "Nationalists" in China so swift? It was because the Chinese people had become convinced that the political leaders and their wealthy backers were in it for what they could get out of it. Why did so many Nationalist troops fail to fight, why did they surrender repeatedly without striking a blow? Because armies are made of common men, and the common man has been taking a beating too long. There is very little patriotism in a beaten man.

We Have Our Own Problems
WE ARE FORTUNATE in that we live in more democratic times and lands. It should never be forgotten that democracy is a fruit of the Jewish-Christian tradition which the prophet Micah helped to form. It was the prophets who plowed deeply the soil out of which democracy has grown.

Many of the laws of our land are intended to keep the strong from eating up the weak. The farmer, the man out of work, the man with the small job, the man with the small business—they are protected under our government, whether in Canada or in the United States, as they never were in ancient Judah. To test whether we are treating others right, especially those who are weaker than ourselves, we need first to ask these basic questions: Do these people get their share of justice, and are we helping them get it? Do we treat them with mercy or do we only "use" them for our own benefit?

REDWOOD PEOPLE

The giant Redwoods of California have breasted the storms of many centuries and stand today as marvels of the plant world for their endurance and longevity.

For countless generations the birds have nested in their branches and beasts of the forests have roamed their trunks and shades. They are the patriarchs of the world of trees.

The Redwoods have lived on and on because their roots burrowed deep in the friendly soil and drank from earth's hidden springs the waters of life and health.

People are like trees. Some of them tower above their environment and possess unusual strength and endurance. They defy the storms of adversity and the chill winds of discouragement and sorrow.

These are the Redwood people. Their lives are deep-rooted in the soil of faith and they drink the strength of God from the hidden springs of spiritual experience.

Go to Church on Sunday. Study the Scriptures. Try to be among men what the Redwood is among trees.

WILLING WORKERS MEET AT CHURCH

If you're a member of the Willing Workers and haven't been attending any of the recent meetings, you've really been missing a treat. The church basement offers various types of recreation—ping pong, shuffle board, television, and it's a wonderful place to talk with your friends.

At the last meeting, besides that delicious ham, Ruth Hall's baked beans, and that meat-in-your-mouth Angel Food cake of Mary Scott's, we had an auction sale—John Meador in charge. And John could sell you anything—yours truly broke down and bought two kerosene—shaving soap and a bread basket. And I can tell you that they are both being used. Many interesting items were auctioned—home made hard, cookie jars, antique plates, pretty pitchers, etc.

Besides the food, recreation and auction, we had a short business meeting led by our capable president, Mrs. Louise Rouse. Helen Ruth McElroy gave the devotional, and the class voted to send part of our pledge to our Orphans. Our class does so some worthwhile things as support two orphans, and it donated the rug for our church auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hall and Mr. and Mrs. John Meador were our host and hostesses and before leaving Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Eders and Miss Louise Conrad invited us to join them next month at the church on Friday, May 19th.

Ryland Homemakers

Mrs. N. L. Leach was hostess to members of the Ryland Homemakers Club, which met May 4 in her home at Ryland Lakes.

Mrs. William Damon had charge of the lesson on "Decorative Stitches" and the class used many designs in decorating huck towels. Other interesting stitches were taught.

Miss Zelma E. Byerly, Home Demonstration Agent, reminded members to put into practice the short cuts in housekeeping they had achieved during the past year. The most desired projects for the new year were also discussed.

Mrs. Leach was assisted by her mother, Mrs. C. Masters, in serving luncheon to the following: Mesdames R. B. Frakes, Oliver Gee, Wm. Bagby, Shelby Martin, John Murchison, James Frakes, William Damon, P. B. Hennes, William Mendenhall, and Miss Byerly.

The June meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. William Bagby in Ryland.

SHORT STORY

Benny Wises Up

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

BENNY got a big kick out of eavesdropping on the sheriff. It smacked of adventure and the wild life he loved. He got a bigger kick when he heard Sheriff Conrad mention Slick Dearborn.

Slick Dearborn was the smartest outlaw with whom Conrad had ever had to contend.

He was Benny's idol, for he represented the dangerous freedom of which the boy had always dreamed. One day three weeks ago Benny had seen Slick in the Faraway Saloon, and something about the worshipping look in the youngster's eyes had attracted the outlaw's attention.

Benny had been almost speechless with gratitude when the outlaw spoke to him. They had a long conversation, and when it was over Benny knew a sense of importance that was almost the fulfillment of his dreams.

Ear glued to the side of the building, Benny held his breath while Sheriff Conrad and his deputy, Joe Hicks, carried on their low-voiced conversation.

At 4 o'clock that afternoon Benny drew rein in the secret canyon where Slick was hiding. He gave the secret whistle that he and the outlaw had agreed upon, then waited breathlessly.

Minutes passed and nothing happened. Benny moved down the canyon a ways and whistled again. Suddenly two men emerged from behind a boulder. One of them was Slick Dearborn. Benny shouted at them.

"Slick, I just heard the sheriff and his deputy talkin'. They found out it was you who held up the bank last week, an' they know you're hidin' up here an' they're comin' to get yuh."

"You come with us," said Slick shortly.

"Nemmine keepin' guard," Slick called, and the other outlaw slid back to the ground.

"We gotta get out of here and git fast. Kid, did anyone see you leave town?"

"No, sir. Not a soul. I done jest like you told me."

"Good. You're comin' with us."

The second outlaw came from behind a screen of bushes riding one horse and leading another. Slick swung aboard the extra animal.

There came the sound of a shot. The second outlaw uttered a scream, clutched at his breast and plunged from the saddle. A second shot followed, and Slick's mount went to its knees.

Slick swore violently as Benny crawled up beside him.

"You damned little rat! Thought you said nobody followed you out of town?"

"Honest Slick—"

"Shut up! Suddenly Slick seized him around the middle and leaped out of plain view of the two coming up the canyon. The pair reined in, holding their fire as the outlaw, using Benny as a shield, began shooting rapidly.

Sheriff Conrad and Joe Hicks, sensing the bandit's purpose, flung themselves from the saddle and scurried for shelter.

Benny suddenly understood the purpose he was serving, suddenly knew that Slick was using him as a means of protecting his own hide.

"Slick! Slick! Lemme go. They'll blast me down in cold blood!"

"Shut up, you rat!" Slick brought the barrel of his gun down crushingly on the boy's head. Benny gasped, struggled feebly, then went limp.

When Benny opened his eyes he found Sheriff Conrad and Joe Hicks bending over him.

"Feeling better, kid?"

"Y-e-s-s. I'm all right. Where's Slick?"

"Taken care of," Sheriff Conrad eyed Benny intently. "Listen, Benny, you better get home before your maw begins to worry. You can say you helped us run down Slick Dearborn. Fact is, you did. When we saw you talkin' with him three weeks ago we figured somethin' like this, which is why we did some talkin' so you could lead us to where he was."

"Gosh!" said Benny. There were tears in his eyes. For the first time in his life he realized what a perfectly swell guy Sheriff Conrad was.

SIMON KENTONIAN SKATING PARTY

This year's Simon Kentonian Staff sponsored their last skating party of the year on May 2 at Walton. The rainy weather didn't bother the crowd, so it was very successful.

Two delicious cakes were given as door prizes. They were won by a freshman, Roy Nichol, and Doug Wood, a junior at Dixie Heights.

Variety was added to the party by giving a booby prize to the skater who had to be held up the most. This lucky (or unlucky) winner was none other than Miss Adams, the home economics teacher.

Mr. Schreier played the gentleman by picking up a junior girl, Jo Ann Wilson, and also played the part of a good Samaritan by loaning his skates to an unfortunate senior boy who couldn't find a pair big enough.

Everyone had an enjoyable evening. Thanks to Jean Carter and Margie Justice, who donated the cakes, and to Dena Graves for the booby prize (rattler).

Spring Concert

The Spring Concert was presented Thursday evening, May 11. A special program was planned to include a wide selection of musical numbers from jazz to classics.

Ernie Bernhardt, popular radio singer, appeared again as soloist, and Mr. Roden arranged to have a small jazz band, composed of members of Jimmie James Orchestra appear on the program.

The concert was sponsored by the Music Department, with about 125 members of the band and junior and senior glee clubs.

Gus Tolliver of Knott county grazed nine cows all winter on 14 acres of 2-year-old fescue, saving him two-thirds of his usual feed costs.

Homemakers in Webster county made 159 lampshades in one month, using instructions from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

"Hobgoblin House" Presented by Seniors

"Hobgoblin House" was presented by the senior class of Simon Kenton High School on April 20, 21, 1950 in the school auditorium.

Members of the cast were: Wavlyn Riley, Rosie Elliott, Betty Sue Stephenson, Charlene Mills, Dottie Fuchs, Nellie Jackson, Adrian McMillian, Lawrence Gilvin, Elbert Williams, Reginald Kinman, Ronald Losey, and Billy Dietz.

Those who helped with the lights, sound and properties in production of the play were: Omar Malins, Frank LeMaster, Ronald Losey, Russell Johnson, Helen Wilson, Lula Sharp, and senior Isabel Stahl was the prompter.

Miss Helen Smith was in charge of the makeup. Mr. Neill, Omar Malins and Otis Scott painted and put up the flats.

Miss Truitt was in charge of the ticket selling, publicity and ushers.

GOOD COOKING MAKES VEGETABLES BETTER

Now that fresh vegetables are appearing in gardens, Mrs. Roberta Taylor of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, offers these reminders on how to retain their food value and fresh flavor:

1—Start vegetables in boiling salted water and cook quickly until just tender. Do no overcook.

2—Cook in a small amount of water, with the exception of strong flavored vegetables, such as onions, mature cabbage and the like.

3—Add no water to spinach. Enough will cling to the leaves after washing.

4—Cook green vegetables, such as peas and beans, uncovered for the first few minutes to retain color, then cover to finish cooking. Other vegetables should be covered to speed cooking and retain vitamins.

5—Cook vegetables whole to prevent loss of food value.

6—Use liquid remaining after cooking in white sauce, soups and gravies.

A WORD OF THANKS—

I want to thank each and every one who has been so nice to me in my misfortune. I received over 200 cards. To each and every one I want to say, "Thank you—may God bless you all."

Lawn Mower Season

I believe everyone is too tired or too lazy to push a hand lawn mower. Garfield Hamilton was waiting until I got out of the barber shop about 8:00 p. m. the other night; he had me to open up and took one of those Reo Royale power lawn mowers home with him. Beckman Shields bought the last Eclipse Rocket power mower I had—I believe he bought this for his wife. Don and Wayne Rice bought a Reo Royale, they mow a lot of yards in Walton. You see that when you buy a Reo part with enough money to buy a Reo Royale power mower, times are getting better—he says he is not tight, just a slow spender. Charles Vest of Verona, who still has a lot of energy, bought a hand lawn mower. Bob Morgan also bought a hand mower—he did not say, but I expect Thelma will have to push this one.

Miss Mary Collins of Bracht, who is one of my good customers, was in Saturday after poultry fence, paint and flower pots. Grace Ryan came after wool bags. Luther Barton also bought a hand lawn mower—he is still young and full of pep.

Monday morning here came J. C. Reynolds from Whites Tower, after a lawn roller—he saw that nice new power lawn mower in the warehouse—he was taking the power lawn mower fever, but not sick enough yet—he went home with the roller and in about an hour came back after the power mower. J. C. is a farmer as well as an old L. & N. Railroad man—a very good fellow and customer.

Raymond LaFollette, who is a tenant on Dr. Mann's farm, was here after an axe for Doc, but before he left he bought a Campbell corn and fertilizer drill, also a Rostus plow. You never know what these fellows are going to buy. Leslie and Herbert Hoffman were in—Leslie was in a hurry as usual, bought an electric solder iron and hurried out. Doc Vest is still buying paint—he is always improving. Buck Gross is having lawn mower trouble—Brewster had to make him a new handle.

The Baptist Sunday schools of Boone County had their quarterly meeting Monday night at Believer—we saw let them know that Walton was the best—there were 188 present, and 78 were from Walton. Bryan Rector is a fine superintendent and needs a lot of support. Walton can do, when it is called upon.

Alvin New, formerly of Mt. Zion, but now living in Decoursey, and one of my good paint customers, was in after a lot of that Bolce paint. This is the finest paint anyone ever bought, and no higher than the nationally advertised brands—we have been selling it for 30 years at this store and sell more every year—once you use Bolce paint, you will come back after more the next time you need paint.

I loaded a supply of Reo power lawn mowers—we have already sold more this year than we did the last two years. The lawn chair season is here—we have folding deck chairs, steel lawn chairs and rockers, all colors and reasonably priced.

Mr. Maxwell from Richwood wanted a large fish pole for a dime—we had it, but he bought some better ones. Jack Berkshire, our newly married mail carrier, stopped and looked at our bolt scales—he may be losing weight—he does a lot of walking every day.

Hayes Transfer just left a new supply of Armstrong linoleum rugs—new patterns, and they are nice. Larry Warner had bicycle tire trouble, but Chick put him on a new tire and tube—we take care of our boys and girls bicycles. Forest Stephenson from Green Road, came in after wool bags, screen wire and tacks. Leon Hall, our efficient electric appliance trouble-shooter, needed an air volume control for a Dayton water pump—we had it, as we sell appliances to ask about the service, because they Woyton Water Systems and try to carry repairs for them. Always remember when you buy an will break down now and then. Jack Berkshire, after thinking about those scales, came back and bought them. Zoyda Clore took her store down for the summer and we went down and brought it up to the store and put a new bowl on it—now it is ready for next fall.

Alva Woods and wife were in after linoleum rug and fishing tackle. John Conrad came up after some wool bags and twine. This fine weather is great for shearing sheep and planting corn. This about ends the week and I know I have missed a lot of my customers in this writing, but will try next week again. Come to CONRAD'S for Hardware and Service!

RECENT WEDDING

In a gown of white taffeta, Miss Dorothy Kannady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Kannady of Verona, became the bride of Mr. Elmer Groger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Groger, Walton, in a simple but impressive double ring ceremony performed in the home of Rev. Fred S. Nichols, on Saturday evening, April 29 at 6:30.

The attractive bride's gown was patterned with a fitted bodice, lace yoke and a full ankle-length skirt. A head hat which was covered with lilies of the valley, held her finger tip veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Kannady had as her attendant her only sister, Mrs. Betty Stoffe, who was dressed in a yellow tulle semi-formal and carried a bouquet of crimson roses. Mr. Russell Groger, only brother of the groom, served as best man.

MEMORIAL DAY--MAY 30

The wars of cold steel, bursting shells, shattered nerves and bodies are over. Many of our comrades have returned to their homes, whole and hardy, many have returned broken and shattered, many have not returned.

Memorial Day was created for one purpose—to remind us of the debt we owe to these men and women who did not return. One day each year, set aside to remind us (whether veteran or not) of the misery and slavery we would even now be suffering, were it not for those brave men and women of our armed forces. One day set aside to remind every veteran of the fiendish hell turned loose the day his or her buddy met their Maker; to remind us of the hand of death which was only a scant few inches away.

Yes, we were lucky, they were not, but remember how quickly it could have changed from, "We who are about to die," to "We are the dead, short days ago we lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow." Surely you can carry on through this poem Flanagan Fields. Give it some thought, then pray that Almighty God will give the people of this proud and mighty Kentucky congressmen, all of them up for re-election, are getting a bit jittery these days and with good reason.

With a campaign coming on, Congress is no where near the end of its work. There is a new tax bill to be worked over, the appropriation bill is still to be passed, a new social security measure is in the mill. All of which means that those worried lawmakers will have to travel back and forth between Washington and the Blue Grass, trying all the time to do two jobs at once.

The Senate is to blame for most of the log jam. The House is well up on its work but the Senate has—as usual—engaged in much idle talk.

Busy Lawmakers:
One of the busiest lawmakers is Congressman Gregory of the Fifth District. He's trying to whip together a tax reduction bill. Congressman Spence, chairman of the House Banking Committee, is holding hearings on rent control. Congressman Perkins is still trying to get some action on federal aid to education.

On the Senate side of the hill, Senator Chapman is working on flood control appropriations. Senator Withers is continuing to look into the qualifications of those nominated by President Truman to become federal judges.

Old Age Insurance:

We spoke a moment ago of a new social security program. A lot of Kentuckians have been writing to ask their congressmen about the chances for an increase.

Right now, the chances are good. The Senate Finance Committee which is handling the new recommendations has proposed increases for almost three million who are now getting old age and survivors insurance payments.

The increases vary but they are, in most cases, substantial. For example, the Kentuckian who now gets $26 a month would find that sum increased to about $49.

Just remember this, however. The bill must still win senatorial and congressional approval. And a lot of things can happen.

Tax Reduction:

Other Kentuckians are trying to find out if Uncle Sam will vote a tax reduction this year.

The outlook is obscure. True, the House Ways and Means Committee has voted a billion dollar cut in excise taxes. But the very size of the cut puts the entire program in danger.

There are many, here in the capital, who believe that President Truman will veto such a tax measure if lawmakers don't find some new taxes to make up for the proposed reductions.

Fishing Spot:

Northern Kentucky fishermen can start thinking about a new recreation spot.

Army engineers have closed the gates on the Dewey Dam, in Floyd county and the water is beginning to back up for 17 miles along John's Creek. When the flood pool is filled, there will be a lake of more than three thousand acres and another creosote for anglers from all parts of north, east and central Ky.

The best way to get there is to drive to Winchester, take Federal Road 460 to Paintsville and then ask the folks there the best road to take to the new lake. It's less than ten miles from Paintsville.

Thus far U. S. has not provided sufficient money to fix up the recreational spots but those funds should be forthcoming in the not too distant future.

WATCH INFLATION OF TRATOR TIES

Proper inflation increases the life of tractor tires, say farm engineers at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

Under-inflation causes extra wear of front tires in turning when plowing, planting and cultivating. The treads wear on under-inflated tires and side walls weaken and may break.

Over-inflation of rear tires causes slippage and excessive wear. Furrow tire pressure is often increased when plowing, and rear tires need extra pressure when hauling heavy loads.

Special projects of Union county homemakers include chest X-rays of all members, birth certificates for themselves and family, and a study of tuberculosis and cancer.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Micah, especially 4:1-5
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 117

God Has a Plan

Lesson for May 28, 1950

GOD HANDS DOWN no blue-prints. He never yet has been willing to save any man the trouble of thinking. The Bible is God's guidebook and in it is revealed God's will. But it is not a guide-book of such a sort that you can take it from the shelf and look up in it the answer to every one of your problems in detail. Nevertheless the Bible is a guide, "the inflexible rule of faith and practice" as some churches express it.

God's will is shown there plainly enough so that we can know whether we are building on the right foundation or not.

Sins Into The Sea
NOW THE PLAN of God is so simple, that is, it can be so simply expressed, that one is almost tempted to say, "Oh, that!" as if it were something we knew already. Well, we do know it. But the thing is, we don't do it.

Part of God's plan for mankind, a very important part, in fact indispensable—something the Bible talks about from the beginning to end—is this: The forgiveness and the destruction of sins. (Micah 7:18-20.) Now everybody can see others' sins.

The Romans used to say that every man carries others' sins in a bag in front of him where he can see them very well, but his own sins he carries in a bag hanging down his back where he cannot see them.

We are all in favor of other people's forsaking their sins. But how about you? The world does need to confess its sin; but you need to confess your own. No sins walk by themselves; sins exist only in sinners. Sin does not commit itself. Sin is something a sinner does. We shall never get rid of sins by exhorting other people. We get rid of them by repenting in the presence of God and receiving his forgiveness.

It is always so easy to think: If we only had a good society we could have better people. That is backing into an idea the wrong way. The right idea is: If we have better people we shall be on the way to the good society.

If Not Peace, Then What?
WE ALSO KNOW something about God's plan for society at large. The Bible does not leave us in the dark. One thing that Micah brings out is the ideal of peace. (Micah 4:1-5.)

So long as we are making war, preparing for and expecting war, doing or saying things that make war inevitable or even likely, we are out of line with the will of God. Conversely, whatever we do to foster peace is in line with the plan of God. War was bad enough in the days of Micah; it is incalculably worse today.

War always was the effect and cause of hate. It always brought suffering and death, war seldom settled anything. But this is the atomic age. Dean Rusk of the U.S. state department has said that in all present-day discussions we have to remember one solemn fact: The human race now has in its hands the means of its own total destruction.

Any war nowadays is a war against the whole human race, for any large-scale war with atomic weapons may well make the entire globe uninhabitable by man. A voice for war is a voice for universal death.

Christ The King
SINLESS MAN is a warless world; such is God's plan. Is this possible? Only on one condition; that Christ shall be king. (Micah 5:2-4.) This has two meanings, one far-off, and one near; one complete and one partial. The far-off, completed meaning (which may be nearer than we think) is that after the history of this planet is over and done with, in the "new heavens and the new earth" the final destiny of God's people is to live under the Lord Christ as leader and king.

The nearer, here and - now meaning of Christ's kingship is this: Wherever, in the plans of men, the spirit of Christ, his way and his ideal, are being trampled on or ignored, there God's plan is forgotten and there disaster is certain.

But wherever the spirit of Christ is in control, there God's plan is being carried out and there the Kingdom of God is coming nearer.

Gateway to the World

Someone has said this picture should have been taken from another angle. He wanted to place the camera outside the gate and take a picture of the beautiful garden through the arbor.

But we asked for this view... looking from the garden to the world outside. Why?

Because a man can't spend his life lounging in the garden. To live, he has to face the world.

And to live nobly, he has to carry the beauty of his garden out into the wilderness.

In our Churches we discover the beauty of life when it is cultivated and fruitful. Then we are able to carry something of that beauty into the world.

Attend Church next Sunday! And all week you will want to share what you have gained with others.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. (4) To go to Bible daily.

INDEPENDENCE

"Poppy Day" In Independence

The volunteers for the American Legion Auxiliary, Moon Bros. Post, 275, will give part of all of Saturday, May 27 to the work of distributing memorial poppies to be worn in tribute to the nation's war dead. All will give their time as unpaid volunteers.

Use of a window display will be donated to the Auxiliary by Miss Carrie Schoborg. The display was arranged by Mrs. Joan Schoborg, Mrs. Dolores Williams and Mrs. Ellen Maher.

The enthusiastic response to the Auxiliary's call for Poppy Day volunteers shows that the women of Independence have the same patriotic spirit today that they displayed in the war years.

Distributing poppies on the streets on Poppy Day requires real sacrifice of time and energy, yet, of course, it is nothing compared to the sacrifice made for us all by the men whom the poppy honors, and by those still living whom the poppy aids. Realizing this, members of the Auxiliary and other cooperating organizations are showing genuine eagerness to do their part on Poppy Day. It is certain they will be met by the public with the same spirit of patriotic remembrance.

On Memorial Day there will be a parade in Independence, led by Moon Bros. Post, 275, American Legion. All organizations are invited to march in the parade. One of the Girl Scout Troops, led by Mrs. Carl Moon, will proudly display the American flag, presented by the Legion Auxiliary and donated by the American Legion, Moon Bros. Post, 275.

Softball League
C. E. McGraw reports that the Church Softball League is ready to begin play early in June at the Simon Kenton school grounds, Thursday evenings at about 6:00. The following churches have teams in this league: Independence Baptist, Baptist, and Wilmington Baptist. Plans are being made for the winning team to receive a small trophy at the end of the season, and a general get-together in a big supper.

Bob Cook and Kitty Donahue were married at St. Cecelia Church, last Saturday.

Lawrence Schukler Killed

Lawrence Schukler of Fiskburg, a brother of John Schukler of Independence, was accidentally killed Monday morning, May 22. While driving a State Road truck to the LLL at Morris Station, where a big car barn is being built for the county trucks, it was reported that Mr. Schukler was backing off the LLL toward the construction place and opened the door of his truck to see if he had backed far enough for his machine to be refilled, when at that instant, another truck backed into the door of his truck, smashing his face. The ambulance of the Independence Volunteer Fire Department took him to the hospital and Dr. Kratz was called, who said that he had nearly quit breathing on arrival at the hospital.

Those surviving are his widow, a son, Virgil, at home; three daughters, Mrs. Agnes Williams of Covington, Route 3, Mrs. Evelyn Armistead of Falmouth, and Mrs. Margaret Setters, also of Covington. Two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Osenwell of Ludlow, and Mrs. Tilly Koller of Boone County, and three brothers, John, of Independence, George, of Ludlow, and Frank, of Boone County.

Vacation Bible School

Children from age 4 up are invited to attend the Vacation Bible school to be held at the Independence Baptist Church, May 29 to June 2. A very interesting program of Bible study, songs, stories, games and handwork is being prepared for the children. The businessmen and others are using their cars to gather these children together from the country districts, that they may have the advantage of this school. The school opens at 8:55 a. m. and closes near 11:30. The following have volunteered to assist in transportation: Stephens Grocery, Riley Grocery, Butler Bros., Kenton County Motors. Other cars could be used, according to the pastor, W. E. Maners.

Those teaching or otherwise assisting in the school are: Mrs. Willard Shroshire, Mrs. Packard, Mrs. Verna Riley, Mrs. Bonnie Points, Mrs. Ray Dickson, Mrs. Mary Collins, Mrs. Clyde McVey, Mrs. J. C. Armstrong, Mrs. James Reed, W. E. Maners and wife.

Plans are made for a two weeks revival meeting following the Bible school, June 5-16. Rev. Russell Singleton of the Liberty Baptist Church of Norwood, Ohio, will be the evangelist, and E. A. Palminter of Erlanger, will be the song leader.

Dicky Elbert was forced off the LLL a few days ago by an apparent drunk and wrecked his car. Marriage license were issued at Independence last week to Russell Jacob Messmer of Falmouth, and Ruby Eileen Cross of Morning View.

Married Saturday, May 20

The marriage of Miss Pauline Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Williams of Independence, to Mr. Paul E. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Cooper of Walton, was solemnized May 20 in a candlelight service at the Independence Baptist Church. Rev. A. E. Olvin officiated at the double ring ceremony, with Rev. W. E. Maners offering prayer.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the church. Miss Alma Williams was maid of honor, with Miss Bernadine Atkins and Miss Jean Carter as bridesmaids. Mr. Ernest R. Cooper, Jr., the groom's brother served as best man, and ushers were Mr. Allen Crouch and Mr. Robert Stambaugh. The planist was Mr. Foyles Carr, and Mr. John Atherton was soloist.

C. R. Maners, groceryman and a brother of W. E. Maners, came to Kentucky last week on a business trip, with his wife. Other places visited were Williamstown, where a brother, Jess, lives, also Covington, and Ft. Wayne, Evansville and Spencer, Indiana.

Nicholson-Atwood Homemakers

The Nicholson-Atwood Homemakers Club held its May meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Staggman, with Mrs. John Butler, co-hostess. The meeting was opened by the group reading the Club Collect. The devotion was read by Mrs. O. W. Young, and the Thought for the Month by Mrs. John Cain. Roll call was answered by "the craziest thing I have ever done."

An interesting report of the District Federation meeting, held at Dry Ridge, was given by Mrs. J. C. Mayhugh, Jr.

Election of officers was held in May instead of at the usual June meeting, as the meeting for June will be a tour for the club. The following officers were elected, and will take over their active duties at the September meeting: Mrs. John Cain, president; Mrs. J. C. Mayhugh, Jr., vice president; Mrs. E. C. Hindsdale, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. John Butler, program chairman.

Mrs. S. C. Fisk very capable gave interesting and entertaining lesson on exterior beautification. An interesting lesson on fancy stitches was given by Mrs. H. L. Pitcher, assisted by Mrs. R. C. Hindsdale, and each member participated in the lesson and learned several fancy stitches in sewing, which are very beneficial.

Several games, conducted by Mrs. John Cain, were enjoyed by the group. Among those attending were Mesdames T. L. Bishop, John Cain, F. D. Cooke, Clifford Cornelius, S. W. Durr, R. C. Durr, S. C. Fisk, R. C. Hindsdale, John R. Loomis, J. C. Mayhugh, Jr., H. L. Pitcher, Frank Staggman, Leslie Wagner, Ira Stephenson, O. W. Young, John Butler, Raymond Dickson, and Miss Zelma E. Byerly, Kenton County Home Demonstration Agent.

Loretta Mae Gray purchased lots 10, 11 and 12 in Fairview Subdivision from Charles Garden and Lena Senour.

Augusta Anthony Ames sold 44 acres on Pelly Pike to Ray and Janie Bogwell.

Collier and Marie Payne have sold their home near Nicholson to Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt and have purchased a new home in Erlanger.

Lloyd and Catherine Bridges sold 1 acre near Fiskburg to Ralph and Odell Spaulding.

Baccalaureate Services

Baccalaureate services were held last Sunday night in Simon Kenton High School auditorium. Miss Betty Warren was at the piano. The invocation was by Rev. W. E. Maners. Special solo numbers were rendered by Harold Dean, and the address was made by Rev. Tate Paterson, pastor of the Batavia Presbyterian Church.

In McCracken county, where the income from strawberries last year was $300,000, effective insect control has become very important.

The Eddy Creek Homemakers Club of 12 members in Caldwell county, completed 26 lampshades and have five more underway. Two Elliott county 4-H boys have enrolled in the green pastures program and four have entered the state corn derby.

Can't Keep In Fishing Tackle

I believe there are more fishermen and fishermen around Walton than any other town in this vicinity or we just have a larger stock of fish tackle this year—we sell fish tackle so fast we just can't keep our stock up. Eugene McElroy was cleaning fish Sunday morning at 2:00—he ran out of worms at 12 midnight and had to quit. They are doing fine at the reservoir, also at Verona. Butch Linton was in after more tackle, and even Russell Yealey has gone to fishing, also Chief Allen was in after three new plugs. I believe John Hartman fished every day of his vacation. Denny Cleek was in the rain hunting fish worms. Lee Dixon bought a new silk line—he didn't like nylon.

Harris Moore bought one of those Cole fertilizer drills and Floyd Chapman bought the last one—I am afraid I won't get any more this season, but I'm still trying. Joe Woods and Dr. Craig bought one of those Massey Harris tobacco setters. Onkley Easton's father and brother from over Burlington way came in after two Perfection hand setters—they are the best and only $8.50 each. Geo. W. Baker bought one of those Reo Royale power lawn mowers—they sure do the job and fast. Gayle and Helen McElroy and my wife and I went to Music Hall to the Home Show, Sunday afternoon, and when we walked in, what do you think we saw—two old bachelors Kyle and Raymond Nicholson, watching a very charming young lady demonstrating an electric ironer—now would you think they were watching the ironer—well, we will say they were, and I know they won't mind as they are very good fellows.

John Wood, and family were also there—you know they are building a new home, and they were looking at all the new appliances and gadgets. Monday was a rainy day, but we sure were busy. Paint and more paint—bolts of every size and description, which we carry the largest stock in Northern Kentucky. Mrs. Eva Hall splashed those nice steel lawn chairs and had us to take her one of each color. Roy D. Webster was in after more of that good Bole paint. Dr. Harry Mann was down to the store after a file and a quart of aluminum paint—Doc has used our paint for years. Bob Benton was in for 5 gallons of white creosote and a gallon of white paint. J. C. Benton needed an assortment of bolts.

Beckham Shields lost a spring out of his electric sheep shears—we did not have any repairs like this, so I took a new shearer out of stock and took the spring out of it—any way to keep our customers happy and busy. Mr. Jump from Eliston also needed new brushes for his Shear-master, so I robbed the brushes out of the new shear. Mr. Tomlinson from over Nicholson way was over Saturday and bought enough electric wiring for that new house he is building, and Monday Mrs. Tomlinson was in and picked out the fixtures—have you seen our new display all lighted up—and the fixtures are not expensive.

Ross Howard and Jimmy Burdine wanted to know if their credit was good for 30 cents until tomorrow, and Ross said, "It might rain and we couldn't get up here to pay tomorrow, but we will pay," and they will—they are good boys. Elizabeth Grubbs lost the ball bearings out of her bicycle front wheel, but I put her in a new set—no trouble, all we need is time and energy. O. F. Young busted his lawn mower roller, but we fixed him a new one—they all have to be altered. Mrs. Ethel Sheppard of Alta Vista, who raises those nice frying chickens, called and wanted her lawn mower sharpened—Ed Hankinson, who does her sharpening, sure does a nice job on those old lawn mowers.

Pot Madden went out with a whole armful of tools—hay fork, hoe, handle and bolts—Pot is a real farmer and keeps his tools in A-1 condition. The Home Show had a very nice display of Gibson refrigerators with the same models I have on the floor. Morys washers displayed in price $5.00 each, which makes them $119.95, $139.95 and $174.95. Have you seen our assortment of electric fans, table fans, window fans, floor fans and wall fans—any price and also. Stop in and get one of those picnic baskets with the plastic dishes, forks and spoons for four people—and only $4.95. Don't forget we still make keys every day—let us make some for you.

I believe this will be the buggiest year we have had in many a season, and I have most every kind of bug killer, also Formate for Blumoid on plantbeds. John Sleet just stopped and bought one of those rubber tired wagons—they sure do run light and very handy on the farm. Omar Kite is now telling the biggest fish stories any one ever heard—he lost his fox hounds Saturday night—anyone seeing a yellow dog and white female with Omar's name on the tag, let him know. Joe Bouse just purchased a 100-ft. steel whiteface tape, the best you can buy for measuring your tobacco land. Mrs. John Kennedy from over at Verona picked out one of those 12x15 Armstrong linoleum rugs. Everett Hudson and wife just came in and bought another 12x15 Armstrong linoleum rug—they sure have nice patterns. Don't forget to come to CONRAD'S for Merchandise and Repairs!

Potentate David F. Cocks of Kossar Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, has appointed D. L. Lusby, Walton, as his good will ambassador to Boone County.

As the Potentate's ambassador, Mr. Lusby will represent Kossar Temple and Kossar Crippled Children Hospital in this county.

A total of four children from Boone County have been treated at Kossar Crippled Children Hospital since its foundation in 1926.

Kossar Crippled Children Hospital, Louisville, is the largest charitable institution for the treatment of crippled children in America. Walton Firemen To Attend Fire School June 6-8

Close to 500 municipal and industrial firemen, including Chief J. R. Allen, Jack Rouse, Russell Grofer, Paul Simpson and Robert DeMoisey of the Walton Volunteer Department, are expected to attend the annual Kentucky Fire School at the University of Kentucky, June 6-8. Walton is to be commended in sending five men to this school, in as much as the large departments usually send but two or three men.

For the first time, the program has been tailored to fit five distinct groups ranging from the young beginner in the first service to veterans in command of sizeable forces. John L. Thompson, Louisville, chairman of the arrangements committee, announced. The instruction will be given by nationally-known leaders to men enrolled in the following courses: basic, advanced, fire prevention, industrial, and teacher training.

State Fire Marshal W. L. Martin's office will again identify the services of one man from every city department in Kentucky represented at the three-day session.

The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Industries of Kentucky as well as the sponsoring organizations have assisted in efforts to persuade every municipality and plant fire department to partake of the training.

At the 1949 school, 354 "students" were enrolled. They came from 118 towns, 49 state and federal institutions and 40-odd industrial firms in the state. Mr. Thompson, who is assistant manager of the Kentucky Inspection Bureau, emphasized the fact that a training school and not a convention, and that firemen should bring their work clothes and notebooks.

Other sponsoring organizations are the State Fire Marshal's office, Kentucky Firemen's Association, Kentucky Municipal League, Lexington Fire Department, the Division of Vocational Education and Department of University Extension, U. of K.

BESSIE GILL CONNOR

Mrs. Bessie Gill Connor, 61, died suddenly at her home on Richardson Road, near Independence of a heart attack, according to Mrs. Tresa Riffe, Coroner of Kenton County. Florence Taxpayers Oppose $300,000 Sewage System

The Florence Board of Trustees met in regular session at the Florence Town Hall, Tuesday, May 9, at which time the Florence Citizens and Tax Payers League presented the following petition:

"We, the undersigned property owners in the Town of Florence, do hereby petition you not to pass the proposed ordinance whereby a tax burden of $300,000 will be levied against the property owners of this town, for the reason that there are a large number of home owners, the payment of whose mortgage indebtedness is large and any additional amount which they would be required to pay to the said Town, would be more than they could pay and that it would cause them undue hardship, and further, the payment of the $300,000 would be a great many instances a confiscation of the property against which it was levied."

"We, the undersigned, feel that the Town of Florence as a whole is not in a bad sanitary condition and that a few isolated spots could be corrected at a far less expense than the putting in of a sewer system."

"We trust that you will refrain from attempting to place a burden of $300,000 upon the property owners of this town."

A motion was made that L. W. Kepler, president of the Taxpayers League meet with Clifford Cople, chairman of the Florence Board of Trustees, and Wm. Fitzgerald, City Clerk, for the purpose of counting the signatures and determining the percentage of the property holders in the city opposing the sewer project. This meeting was held on May 17. Wilmer Osborn assisted in the counting.

The signatures were checked against the tax records and it was found that the signers represented 42% of the total number of property holders in the city.

Other fun-loving end men are "Hunkie" Holder and Morgan Campbell.

The ladies department of the program is being upheld by Doris Lindsay, doing "It's So Nice to Have a Man Around the House" and tap dancing; a wonderful sweet-singing trio, Lillian Burdine, Sue Messmer, Doris Glenn Lindsay. One of the big events of the evening will be the singing of "Music, Music, Music" by Alice Fay Works of Piner School, who recently won the Television Talent Show over WCOP-TV.

Have you ever seen Al Morgan on TV, then you will be able to appreciate the special act of Jimmy Spencer, doing "Jealous Heart" on piano and vocal; also that harmonious quartet, the House who also does an excellent job on "Old Man River" Freddie Hamilton (who does a Hula Dance), Guy Carlisle, Mark Meadows, doing Negro spirituals.

All this talent, with much more, will be yours Tuesday night, and the bucks that it costs you to get a reserved seat, will all go the betterment of your own fire department—what could be better!

Questioning God

Lesson for June 4, 1950

HABAKKUK has been called the prophet who dared to ask God questions. If he had not asked these questions he would not have had his answers, so we ought to be thankful for him. If he had meekly "taken it" without (so to speak) talking back to God, he himself might never have become a prophet at all. We might have missed the truth which he was en-

 Dr. Foreman

As for local news, it was all scandal. Murders, judges dispensing justice in the courts, good people having a very hard time of it. Abroad, things looked dark. The giant nation of Babylon was on the march westward, and it did not look as if the nation of Judah had what it would take to stop an invasion. Habakkuk, a deeply sensitive man, could not brush it all off. He could not say, "Oh well, what can you expect?" or "I see the boys are at it again." He could not think of what was going on around him as if it were all a story, a murder-mystery to be enjoyed in an easy chair. He could not say "It is fate" and let it go at that.

He was desperate in his mind about it all. "Under mine eyes outrage and injury go on," he said (1:3, Moffatt's translation). He dared to ask the question, Why? Why does God permit such things?

God's Terrible Answer
GOD HAD AN ANSWER for Habakkuk, but it did not satisfy him at first; indeed it disturbed him deeply, for the answer looked worse than the original problem. The essence of it was this (Chab. 2:5-11): God had indeed seen the wicked ways of the nation of Judah, and was going to punish the whole country by defeat in war. He was bringing up against them the Babylonians (Chaldeans), an aggressive, fighting, ruthless nation. Sooner or later Babylon and Judah would clash, and then—Smash!

The Prophet Still Asks Questions
HABAKKUK KNEW very well what the Babylonian armies were like and what they had been doing. But could it be true that God would actually make use of a wicked nation like Babylon? God was "of purer eyes than to behold evil," how then could a good God use the cruel violence of godless armies, even for a righteous purpose?

The Babylonians were not God's people—they did not worship him or know him. How could God use his enemies to punish his own people? Does God justify the means by the end? Does God do evil that good may come?

Habakkuk, in short, was troubled by exactly the same kind of questions that have always arisen when men who believe in a righteous God ponder the meaning of the power of evil.

Faith Comes Through
HABAKKUK never did get a complete, logical answer to his doubts. What he did get was something more valuable. It was a two-fold answer. First, WAIT AND SEE. (2:1-3.) The crushing of Judah by Babylon would not be the last chapter of history. God has yet to settle his account with Babylon, and "God does settle all his accounts in October."

The other part of the answer is: THE JUST SHALL LIVE BY FAITH. The meaning here (2:4) is that there are two kinds of life, two types of character, two sorts of men. One is the man of pride and unfaith, the other is the man of faith. Unfaith kills, faith makes alive. Unfaith trembles and falls, faith endures.

So it is with men and nations. At that time you might have thought, Babylon will survive, Judah has no chance. But in the light of history, we know it was Babylon that perished, Judah that endured. Godlessness may have terrible power, but since it is godlessness, it has no final power against the real God.

So Habakkuk, who begun by asking questions, came out into glorious faith. The great poem with which his book closes is a bold confession of faith. No longer complaining, he cries out, "The Lord God is my strength!"

ALMA MATER

Two Latin words, rich in sentiment! To some they awaken memories of ivy-covered halls. But to many more they recall happy days in the old country schoolhouse. Literally, they mean fostering parent. And that's what a school becomes, a third parent, preparing her children for life. But all of us need to realize still another "fostering" parent, The Church—the earthly tutor, who reveals to men the love of the Heavenly Father. We never graduate from the Church! Sometimes we play hookey for a while. But sooner or later most of us discover that there is no substitute for the spiritual "upbringing" the Church provides. And that discovery is the most thrilling commencement in life, for with it begins man's achievement of the highest goals in living.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
